PREFACE.

THIS work is the outcome of a paper which I prepared for the Salem Press in 1892, giving the ancestry of Gen. Ethan Allen, which incited so much inquiry that I was induced to undertake the compilation of the descendants of Samuel Allen, the emigrant, who settled in Windsor, Conn., in 1640. Hitherto but little genealogical information had been published of the family, with the exception of the brochure by W. S. Allen in 1876, which was confined to the branch of John, the son of the first Samuel, to which work I beg leave to acknowledge my indebtedness, in some measure, especially in the earlier generations given therein.

My information has been mostly gained through personal research, and through the medium of extensive correspondence with the members of widely separated descendants and other interested parties, who have generously responded to my inquiries, to all of whom my sincere thanks are due. I also especially desire to acknowledge my indebtedness to the following ladies and gentlemen for the valuable material furnished: Frances Olcott Allen of Philadelphia; James Allen Kibbe of Warehouse Point, Conn.; the late Mrs. Mary Jennings of Norfolk, Va., granddaughter of Ethan Allen; the late Judge R. S. Taft, Col. G. G. Benedict and Prof. John E. Goodrich of Burlington, Vt.; Henry W. Allen of East Windsor, Conn.; E. F. Allen of Kansas City; Miss Helen L. Allen of Springfield, Ill.; Miss Elizabeth E. Allen of Florence, Mass.; the late Mrs. Agnes A. Brinegar of Granby, Mo.; and the Misses Alice J. and Anna W. Theobald of Baltimore.

The compiler has employed the leisure of nearly fifteen years in gathering the material for the work, and yet he cannot claim that it is as complete as he could wish or entirely free from errors, but bearing the evidence of abundant labor, he now offers it to the descendants of noble ancestors who wrought well and left a heritage of worthy deeds for an enduring monument.

The compiler would be thankful for the correction of any errors which may be found in the work.

EXPLANATIONS.

THIS genealogy is arranged according to the plan adopted by the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, which has come into general use. Thus on page 17, the figures on the left of the page denote the successive numbers of the heads of the families which will be taken up again; when a number is omitted before a name it indicates that such a name will not be mentioned again. Thus 16, 1, Jonathan etc., we find again on page 22, when he is brought up with full particulars and his full family record given. The small exponent figures on page 22, which follow thus, Dea. Jonathan<sup>1</sup>, Allen, (Dea. Samuel<sup>1</sup>, Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>), show the number of the generations from the common ancestor, Samuel Allen.

ABBREVIATIONS—b. for born; d. for died; m. for married; unm. for unmarried; dau. for daughter.

OLD AND NEW STYLE—All dates prior to 1752 are supposed to conform to the old style then used.

INTRODUCTION.

Were Samuel and Col. Matthew Allen Brothers ?

FOR many years very misleading views have been entertained, claiming kinship between Samuel Allen of Windsor and Col. Matthew Allyn of Hartford and Windsor, Conn.* Also a confusing of the names of Thomas Allyn of Barnstable, Mass., and Dea. Thomas Allyn of Middletown, Conn.

It is only recently that these matters have been sifted and set right. First then, the patient investigations of Mr. Francis Olcott Allen of Philadelphia have conclusively shown that Samuel and Col. Matthew Allyn were not brothers, but that Col. Matthew of Windsor, Conn., and Thomas Allyn of Barnstable, Mass., bore that relationship and were the sons of Richard and Margaret Allen of Braunton, Co. Devon, England, no Samuel Allen being found on the registers there.†

The foregoing relationship of Thomas and Matthew has been further identified by the will of Richard Allen of Braunton, proved May 10, 1652, which fully establishes the fact beyond controversy.‡

Kinship of Samuel and Dea. Thomas Allen.

Secondly, a careful search of the records has established the fact that Samuel Allen of Windsor, and Dea. Thomas Allen of Middletown were brothers, as will be seen in the following, furnished by Mr. James Allen Kibbe of Warehouse Point, Conn., who is a descendant of Samuel Allen :

“In 1673 the General Assembly of Connecticut granted to the town of Middletown a strip of land along its eastern border, west of the Connecticut river.* This strip of land thus became the property in common of the original proprietors of Middletown, of whom Dea. Thomas Allen was one. Dea. Thomas Allen's share in this land, not being provided for in his will, became the property of his legal heirs. These heirs quit-claimed their rights in this land to a few persons, some of whom were also legal heirs. These deeds begin about 1720, and continue to be given for many years, as heirs were found and bargains could be made.

"John<sup>3</sup> Allen, John<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>, of Enfield, was one of these heirs. In his deed he states that his right is one-half of one-fourth of the whole. His brother Samuel of Enfield quit-claims his rights in another deed. These two were the only sons of John<sup>2</sup> Allen, who was one of the four sons of Samuel Allen of Windsor.* These two deeds prove that Samuel<sup>1</sup> Allen's sons were the legal heirs of Dea. Thomas Allen, who died childless. They also show that Dea. Thomas Allen's heirs were in four lines, otherwise the share of John<sup>2</sup> Allen, son of Samuel, would not have been just one-fourth, as these deeds abundantly show. This property being divided into four parts and this John Allen having one, who had the other three parts? The deeds found in Middletown Land Records, quit-claiming rights in this property, are signed by descendants of all the other three sons of Samuel Allen of Windsor, namely: Samuel, Nehemiah and Obadiah. These signers prove also that Deacon Thomas Allen had, at least in this country, no other legal heirs except descendants of the four sons of Samuel Allen. Otherwise this property could not have been divided into four equal parts, as these deeds state. Therefore Samuel Allen of Windsor and Dea. Thomas Allen of Middletown had no brothers or sisters in this country who had descendants living when the land was quit-claimed, otherwise could not have been divided into four parts and one part belonging to John, son of Samuel. This proves conclusively that Matthe Allyn of Windsor and Hartford was not a brother of Samuel Allen of Windsor.

"Again in these deeds, these descendants of Samuel Allen call Dea. Thomas Allen of Middletown "uncle," "great uncle," and in one case "our mother's great uncle." If this was their relationship, to Dea. Thomas Allen, then he must have been Samuel Allen's brother.

"Also it is well to remember that the children of Obadiah Allen of Middletown join in giving these deeds, thus removing all doubt that Obadiah was one of the four sons of Samuel Allen."

The following references are furnished by Mr. Kibbe in proof of the foregoing statements:

"Middletown Conn. Records, book 1, pages 100 and 101, and Proprietor's list at end of the book. Land Records, book 1, pages 189, 190, 216, 227, 197, etc. Also book 5, page 301. Book 6, pages 202, 214, 381. Book 10, pages 19, 201, etc., etc."

The following abstracts of deeds are a sample of all. They are transcribed because of their numerous names. These abstracts are also furnished by the courtesy of Mr. James Allen Kibbe:

"Joseph Strong Jr., Phinneas Strong, Ebenezer Root and his wife Sarah, Jemima Strong, Noah Rust and Keziah his wife, Aaron Strong and Rachel his wife, all of Coventry, Conn., Stephen Fitch and wife Eleanor of Windham, Conn., to Jonathan Allen of Middletown, quit-claims all rights of "our mother Sarah Strong in the estate of her great uncle Deacon Thomas Allen, dec' at Middletown."*

"Joseph Allyn of Cornwall, Conn., to Jonathan Allyn of Middletown, quit-claims of all my rights and the rights of Nehemiah Allyn of Stratford, Conn., Daniel Allyn and Ebenezer Allyn of Litchfield, Benjamin Smalley and Mary his wife of Lebanon, Conn., Selah Murray and Lydia his wife of Guilford, Conn. and the heirs of Mary Root, late of Coventry, dec'd., quit-claims," etc.†

Other deeds show that the grantor, Joseph Allen of Cornwall, was brother to most, if not all of the persons named in this paragraph:

"Samuel Allen and John Allen, both of Middletown, quit-claim Thomas Allen of Middletown, all rights in lot 89, last division town for and on account of "our uncle" Deacon Thomas Allen dec'd; the whole being  $71\frac{1}{2}$  acres and  $\frac{1}{2}$  rood.‡" This is the land referred to in all the deeds. These Allens in this paragraph are the children of Dea. Obadiah Allen of Middletown.

Mr. Kibbe is entitled to great credit for discovering the foregoing proofs, which so clearly prove the kinship of Samuel and Deacor Thomas Allen.

Search for English Ancestry of Samuel Allen.

Inspired by the laudable purpose of penetrating the mystery which has long enshrouded the origin of his English ancestors, Mr. Francis Olcott Allen of Philadelphia has prosecuted careful research in England at considerable expense.

At one time the realization of his fondest hopes seemed on the point of consummation, so many favorable evidences had been unearthed. But finally they were abandoned because of the lack of a few links necessary to complete the chain, and because Mr. Allen is too conscientious to put forth any claims which could not bear the full blaze of critical inspection, and in that decision, no doubt, all thoughtful members of the Allen family will justify him. So for the present at least, the parentage and birthplace of Samuel Allen must remain an unsolved problem.

Allen Coats of Arms.

Allen, first spelled Alan, comes from the root word Al, meaning mountainous, high and bright. As a personal name it was first borne by the Bard of Britain, an uncle of Caractacus, who had a long line of kings for ancestors. The name came into prominence after the Conquest, from the fact that the chief general of Williams' army at the battle of Hastings was Alan, Duke of Brittany, who made England his future home and became the third richest man in the kingdom. From that time on the name grew in number and importance.*

The Allen family has been especially honored in England and Scotland by the bestowment of armorial bearings; no less than sixty-two families have been thus honored.

There is little doubt that our Samuel Allen was descended from a knighted family, yet until his ancestry has been fully traced beyond a doubt, it would not be good form for his posterity to assume the right to appropriate a crest, as some other families have done with slight evidence to fortify the claim.

Descendants of Samuel Allen

Of Windsor, Conn.

WE were given to understand by the early genealogical writers that Samuel Allen, who settled in Windsor, Conn., in 1640, came from Braintree Co., Essex, England, where he was born in 1588, and came to Cambridge, Mass., in 1632, and that he was a brother of Col. Matthew Allen, etc.

In the introduction to this work it has been clearly shown that he was not a brother of Col. Matthew Allen, and later investigations have shown that the Samuel who came to Cambridge in 1632 was the one who later settled at Braintree, Mass.

As yet no records have been found which clearly point out the ancestry of our Samuel Allen, where or when he was born, or just when he migrated to this country, yet from all the known circumstances connected with him, I am inclined to adopt the theory of Mr. Francis Olcott Allen, who has given the subject much thought, that he came over with the Dauchester Company in 1630, and settled primarily at Dorchester. The reason that the present Dorchester records do not mention his name is probably due to the fact that the first leaves of said record are missing; and allusion is also made to a missing book containing names of the grantees from the beginning.

This belief was shared by William Allen, D. D., of Northampton, who says in a note to Christian Sonnets, published in 1860, that his ancestor, Samuel Allen, "Is supposed to have come from the west of England with the Dorchester people in the ship Mary and John in '630." Dr. Allen was greatly interested in the ancestry of his family, and gave the subject much thought, so his testimony is the more valuable.

Windsor was largely settled by Dorchester people, which fact strengthens our belief that Samuel Allen was from that source. However, the first undoubted official record of Samuel Allen is found in the Windsor land records as follows :

"January 27, 1640, Samuel Allen hath granted from the plantation at Windsor, Conn., 1st An house lot, being six acres, three rods, ten poles, bounded from the rivulet to the west by Rodger Ludlow on the south, by Thomas Marshall on the north, and runs in length to the west into a highway laid out into some part of the lot of said Rodger Ludlow and his, the said Samuel Allen.

2d In Plymouth meadow, four acres, bounded by Bray Rossiter on the north and a rivulet that runs into the great river on the south. 3d Toward Hartford, nineteen acres, more or less, and runs in length to the Great River to the west one hundred and thirty and four rods, and is bounded by John Witchfield on the north and by Thomas Marshfield on the south. 4th Over the Great River next to the same, fifteen rods in breadth, in the length to the east three miles ; bounded by Joseph Lumus on the south, John Hurd on the north."

The best view of the homestead site of Samuel Allen has been procured at the suggestion of Mr. James Allen Kibbe, who says it is now occupied by the Windsor Public Library, a very old house which stands on the second house lot bought by Samuel Allen in 1641 of James Marshall, as shown in the accompanying illustration. This will serve to fix the exact location where Samuel Allen lived.

— But little has come down to us of Samuel Allen save that he was a farmer, was a man of public spirit, and was chosen a juryman March 5, 1644. He was buried in Windsor April 28, 1648, and is said to have been 60 years of age, but no proof is given for the statement, and from the fact that his widow survived him 39 years ; it may well be inferred that from 35 to 40 years would be nearer his correct age. His property inventoried Sept. 8, 1648, at £7 18s. 8p. The widow, Ann Allen, (maiden name unknown) married (date not given) William Hurlbut, who also had settled in Windsor and was from Dorchester. They removed to Northampton, Mass. in 1657, taking the Allen children with them. Ann (Allen) Hurlbut d. Nov. 13, 1687 ; William Hurlbut d. Apr. 17, 1694 ; their ages not given. It is doubtful if children were born to them after second marriage.

Children of Samuel and Ann Allen.

The order of their birth is uncertain, but using the dates of their marriages as a basis, the following is probably the order :

- 2. I. Samuel, b. 1634, as given by various writers.
- 3. II. Nehemiah.
- 4. III. John.
  - IV. Rebecca, unm; d. May 8, 1697, at Northampton.
  - V. Mary, said to have died young.
  - VI. Obadiah.*
- VII. Child, d. as noted in Matthew Grant's report of persons who died in Windsor in 1648 or before.

2. SAMUEL<sup>2</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. 1634; m. Nov. 29, 1659, Hannah, dau. of Thomas and Mary (Blott) Woodford of Northampton. Mary Blott was a dau. of Robert. "Samuel Allen came to Northampton in 1657. A public meeting of the settlers held Dec. 19, 1657, assigned him a home lot on King Street. The house soon reared upon it, having received at intervals many additions and improvements, stood on the left hand corner of what is now called Edwards street, but formerly by name less historic, viz: Back Lane. In 1659, the house being in readiness, he married the daughter of his next neighbor on the south. This homestead remained in the line of his descendants till 1805, a period of 150 years.† He was made freeman 1683. He died in Northampton Oct. 18, 1719.

Children b. in Northampton :

- 5. I. Hannah, b. Feb. 12, 1660-1.
  - II. Child, d. Mar. 22, 1665.
  - III. Thankful, b. Mar. 3, 1664; unm; d. Oct. 14, 1711.
  - IV. Sarah, b. July 28, 1668.
  - V. Son, b. Feb. 24, 1670; d. Feb. 27, 1670.
- 6. VI. Joseph, b. Sept. 11, 1672.
- VII. Chloe, b. 1674.
- 7. VIII. Samuel, b. July 6, 1675.
- IX. Ebenezer, b. July 31, 1678.
- 8. X. Thomas, b. Feb. 1680-1.
- 9. XI. Mindwell, b. Feb. 11, 1683.

3. NEHEMIAH<sup>2</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>1</sup>), m. Sept. 21, 1664, Sarah, dau. of Thomas and Mary (Blott) Woodford; she was b. in Hartford Sept. 2, 1649. He was some time of Salisbury, Conn., but returned to Northampton, where he d. June 27, 1684. He was a constable in Northampton in 1672. His estate inventoried July 23, 1684, at £420-8. His widow m. (2) Sept. 1, 1687, Richard Burke. She m. (3) July 11, 1706, Judah Wright, and d. Mar. 31, 1712-13.

Children of Nehemiah and Sarah Allen:

- 10. I. Samuel, b. Jan. 3, 1665-6.
- II. Nehemiah, b. Oct. 8, 1667; d. June 2, 1668.
- 11. III. Nehemiah, b. Nov. 6, 1669.
- 12. IV. Sarah, b. May 2, 1672.
- V. Thomas, b. Jan. 17, 1675; d. July 6, 1676.
- VI. Hannah, bapt. May 6, 1677; m. probably Dec. 29, 1696, Nathan Dumbleton.
- VII. Ruth, b. Jan. 5, 1679; m. Dec. 16, 1702, Josiah Leonard.
- VIII. Child, b. Aug. 13, 1683; d. soon.
- IX. Silence, b. Aug. 20, 1684; d. 1689.

✓ 4. JOHN<sup>2</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>1</sup>), m. Dec. 16, 1669, Mary, dau. of William and Hannah Hannum of Northampton, b. Apr. 5, 1650. He was an early settler in Deerfield, and was killed by the Indians in the battle of Bloody Brook Sept. 18, 1675.

Children b. in Northampton, Mass.:

- * 13. I. John, b. Sept. 30, 1670, according to his own statement.
- ✓ 14. II. Samuel, b. Feb. 5, 1673.
- 15. III. Hannah, bapt. June 20, 1675, in Northampton.

5. HANNAH<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Feb. 12, 1660-1; m. June 20, 1679, Nathaniel Alexander. He d. in Hadley Oct. 29, 1742. He was engaged in the Falls fight, 1676, and lived to receive a share in the township of Falltown in 1736.

Children:

- I. Hannah Alexander, b. Oct. —; d. Oct. 27, 1680.
- II. Hannah Alexander, b. Sept. 26, 1681; m. May 10, 1703, Samuel Boltwood.
- III. Abigail Alexander, m. July 24, 1718, Jonathan Smith of Hadley.
- IV. Ruth Alexander, b. Feb. 22, 1691.
- V. Thankful Alexander, b. Jan. 9, 1683-4.
- VI. Thomas Alexander, b. Apr. 9, 1696; drowned April 25, 1725, in the mouth of Miller's river.
- VII. Daniel Alexander, b. Jan. 14, 1699; d. Jan. 15, 1701-2.

6. JOSEPH<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Sept. 11, 1672; m. Sept. 27, 1695, Elizabeth, dau. of Micah Mudge. He d. at Northampton Dec. 27, 1703. Power of administration on his estate was granted his widow Elizabeth Feb. 6, 1704; property inventoried at £194-3-6.

Children:

- I. Joseph, b. May —, 1696; d. Mar. 4, 1707.
- II. Ebenezer, b. May 13, 1698.
- III. Elizabeth, b. Oct. 24, 1700; m. probably Jan. 2, 1727, Nehemiah Lee.
- IV. Noah, b. Oct. —, 1703; drowned in Conn. river, Apr. 24, 1725.

7. DEA. SAMUEL<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. July 6, 1675; m. Feb. 20, 1699, Sarah, daughter of Israel and Rebecca (Clark) Rust, b. May 29, 1675. He d. in Northampton Mar. 29, 1739; she d. Sept. 8, 1746. His will, made Oct. 8, 1736, was probated Apr. 10, 1739. He was a deacon in Rev. Jonathan Edwards's church and resided next door to him on King street, Northampton.

Children:

16. I. Jonathan, b. 1700.
- II. Sarah, b. Dec. 5, 1701; m. Jan. 2, 1727, Jonathan Miller.
- III. Samuel, b. Oct. 6, 1703; d. Oct. 18, 1703.
17. IV. Samuel, b. Aug. 4, 1706.
18. V. Joseph, b. Apr. 5, 1712.
- 18½. VI. Hannah, b. Dec. 1, 1714.
19. VII. Experience.

8. THOMAS<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Feb., 1680-1. Have been unable to find any record of his marriage, but in his will, made June 28, 1754, he alludes to first wife and to children of second wife deceased, from which we may infer that he had no living children at that time. He probably died soon after 1754. In his will he devised certain amounts to the following, viz: "To my nephew Jonathan Allen of Middletown; nephew Samuel Allen of New Marlboro; niece Thankful Alexander; Thomas Holton of Farmington; Samuel Fairfield and Patience Severence, wife of Martin Severance; Mary, wife of Joseph Stebbins of Northfield, and dau. of my wife late deceased; Ebenezer Williams of Hadley, son of my late dear wife; my niece Mary, wife of Daniel King of Northampton, for care of my first wife; Thomas Allen, son of my nephew Joseph Allen,  $\text{£}133-6-8$ , to assist him in obtaining a liberal education at one of the colleges." (This alludes to the future Rev. Thomas Allen of Pittsfield). Joseph Allen, his nephew, was made executor of his will (see book 8, page 96, Probate Records at Northampton).

With the aid of the above will and published genealogies it seems that Thomas Allen's second wife was Sarah, dau. of William Arms, b. Nov. 21, 1681, who had m. May 2, 1700, Zebediah Williams; she m. (2) Jan. 28, 1707-8, Samuel Jones of Northfield, and m. (3) Thomas Allen, date not given.

9. MUNDWELL<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Feb. 11, 1683; m. Thomas Holton of Northfield, b. Oct. 23, 1681. He was killed by the Indians Aug. 23, 1723. She m. (2) after 1726 Daniel Chapin. She d. Oct. 21, 1758.

Children:

- I. Joshua Holton, b. about 1703; killed by Indians Apr. 26, 1746.
- II. Thomas Holton, b. about 1705; settled in Dummerston, Vt.
- III. Hannah Holton, b. about 1707.
- IV. Mundwell Holton, b. about 1712; m. Dec. 19, 1734, Josiah Chapin; d. Oct. 8, 1746.
- V. Ithama Holton, d. Dec. 4, 1713 (vide Hist. Northfield).

10. SAMUEL<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Jan. 3, 1665-6; m. Mercy Wright, b. Mar. 14, 1669, dau. of Judah and Mercy Wright of Northampton.* Mercy, wife of Judah Wright, was the daughter of Henry and Eulalia Burt, the English emigrants to Springfield, Mass.† Samuel Allen was first of Northampton; he removed thence to Deerfield, where on Dec. 8, 1705, he bought of Samuel Carter the lot later known as the Dr. Willard place, now opposite the Unitarian church. Carter had bought the place in 1694 with a house on it. The present Dr. Willard house was built in 1768 by Joseph Barnard. In the rear of this house is a small ell, *Dea. Samuel Wright, the emigrant, was descended from John Wright of Kelvedon Co., Essex, Eng., and is found in Springfield, Mass., Dec. 12, 1639, where he soon became deacon of the first church there. He removed to Northampton in 1655, and died there in 1665, survived by widow Margaret; had eight children, of whom Judah, b. May 30, 1642, was the father of Mercy, wife of Samuel Allen (N. E. Gen. Register, vol. 4, p. 355).

DESCENDANTS OF SAMUEL ALLEN.

very ancient in appearance and construction, which is probably the same house bought by Samuel Allen, and in which Joseph Allen, father of Gen. Ethen Allen, was born. Hon. George Sheldon writes me that while there is no direct evidence of this, yet it is highly probable, for he was certainly born on this place, if not in the old house now standing. Samuel Allen sold this place in 1711 to Samuel Barnard and bought the Hawks place in Wapping, which in turn he sold in 1713 and soon removed to Coventry, Conn.,* where he d. Oct. 14, 1718. In 1720 his widow, with her children, removed to Litchfield, Conn., where she d. Feb. 5, 1728, ae. 59. She inherited some property from her father's estate, for we find years afterward that her children sold their several interests to their uncles, Judah and Ebenezer Wright of Northampton. She purchased quite a large tract of land in Litchfield, for on her death her son Daniel, as executor, conveyed March 1, 1729, one-third of the same to his brother Joseph, who in 1732 sold one hundred acres to his sister, Lydia, and the same amount to Paul Peak Jr. The will of Mercy Allen was made in Litchfield Jan. 28, 1727-8, and probated Apr. 24, 1728, in Woodbury. She gives her son Daniel quite liberally, and makes him sole executor. Her remaining estate she divides among her children and mentions dau. Mercy, wife of Eliakim Root of Coventry; dau. Mary Smalley of Lebanon; dau. Lydia Allen at home; sons Joseph and Ebenezer of Litchfield; no mention is made of Lucy, who was doubtless deceased but alive when the removal was made to Litchfield. The eldest son, Nehemiah of Guilford, was appointed guardian to brother Joseph, and Daniel to brother Ebenezer. The final settlement has not been found on record.

She was a dau. of Noah and Mindwell Edwards Parsons of Northampton. Joseph Allen d. Dec. 30, 1779; his wife Elizabeth d. June 10, 1800. Joseph Allen and his wife were grand types of the old New England stock of Christian men and women, who gave character and nobility to the community in which they moved. They were the parents of fourteen children, ten of whom lived to marry and have families. Six sons were patriots and had notable service in the Revolutionary War, and left records worthy of fame. Joseph Allen was a staunch friend of Jonathan Edwards, and was one of the nineteen who stood by him during all his difficulties with his church.

Betty Allen was truly a mother in Israel, a woman of service and general usefulness, for the church records show that she assisted at the births of three thousand infants. She was also a woman of faith and believed in the efficacy of prayer. Her husband's uncle, Thomas Allen, had devised in his will money to defray the expenses of a college education for their son Thomas, which bequest was to be contested at Boston, where her husband had gone to plead the case for his son. Betty and her daughter spent the day in prayer when the case came on, and it was decided in their favor, and the son Thomas was given the liberal education which meant so much to his after life and that of his noble family.

With the knowledge of the long and noble life of Betty Allen and of the six patriot sons she gave to the service of her country, it is a worthy tribute to her memory that the Northampton Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution has adopted her name.*

Joseph Allen took his young bride to his home on King street, first owned by his grandfather, Samuel Allen, where he lived till his death, and where his wife continued to live sixty-six years in all; so it came to be known as the "Betty Allen house;" it stood quite near the home of Jonathan Edwards. Their son Elisha continued to live in this house till his death in 1796. His widow, Merab Allen, lived there till 1805, when she married Oliver Root of Conway. Jonathan, son of Elisha, the last of the line associated with the house, sold soon after 1800 and removed to Pittsfield after being in the Allen family 150 years. It was enlarged several times during this period, but is remembered as a pleasant home shaded by hemlock trees.

Dr. Benjamin Barrett lived there after his marriage. Mrs. Rhoda Dwight lived there later, and her daughter Margarette opened there her boarding school, afterward famous as Gothic Seminary; later

*For many of the incidents connected with the family of Joseph and Betty Allen the writer is indebted to the address of Mrs. M. A. H. Emerson, delivered before the charter meeting of the Betty Allen Chapter, D. A. R., 1896.

Col. A. E. Watson owned the house. The next owner was John W. Wilson, who sold it in 1858 to Oscar Edwards, now president of the Northampton National Bank, who lived there five years. The house was torn down about 1900.*

Children of Joseph and Betty Allen, b. in Northampton, Mass., as given in Judd's mss.:

35. I. Joseph, b. Oct. 12, 1735.
- II. Maj. Jonathan, b. Dec. 15, 1737. Judd relates of him at the first signal of war, "He and his hands were at work on Joel Hunt's barn, which had been burnt and was rebuilding, when bells rang and guns fired for Lexington battle. They came down in a moment and were over the fence like deer, and were soon ready to march to Boston." He had the rank of Major in the Revolutionary War, and escaping its perils came back to Northampton, where he was accidentally shot by his friend, Seth Lyman, while hunting in the woods, from the effects of which he died June 7, 1780. He was survived by wife Sarah and son Jonathan, to whom he devised his property.

It seems by the records that this son Jonathan m. Elizabeth and (2) Thora. The deaths of two children are recorded: (1) Elisha d. Nov. 22, 1796; (2) child, name not legible, d. June 23, 1797. Their graves are beside the grave of Jonathan, son, in the Bridge street cemetery at Northampton.

"He was christened by Rev. Jonathan Edwards, the famous divine. In childhood he removed with his parents to New Marlboro, Berkshire Co., Mass. In his youth he served an apprenticeship to a blacksmith, and was engaged in farming in his early manhood. In 1762 he married Miss Lydia Richards. In 1768 he moved to Bennington, Vt. Three years later, in 1771, he moved to and commenced the first settlement in Poultney, Vt.; one of his children, a son, was the first white child born in Poultney. He removed thence to Tinmouth, Vt. In 1775 he was a lieutenant in Col. Warner's regiment of Green Mountain Boys, and was also captain of a company of Minute Men, and was with Ethan Allen at the taking of Ticonderoga, May 10, 1775. He was a member of the Convention held at Dorset, Vt., Sept. 25, 1776, which declared the New Hampshire Grants to be a free and separate district. He was a delegate to the convention held at Windsor July 25, 1777, which formed the first constitution of Vermont. He was a captain in Herrick's battalion of Rangers, and took a conspicuous part in the Battle of Bennington. In the operations against Ticonderoga in Sept., 1777, Capt. Allen, with forty men, surprised and captured the fortified post on Mount Defence, occupied by a superior force of British regulars. During the retreat of the British from Ticonderoga Capt. Allen, with 50 Green Mountain Rangers, captured 49 men of the rear guard of the enemy and over 100 horses. At that same time he captured a negro woman named Dinah Mattis, who was in a British camp with her infant child. Allen gave to her a certificate of emancipation, which he caused to be recorded in the town clerk's office at Bennington. In this he recites that under a resolve of the Continental Congress all prizes belong to the captors, but "being conscientious that it is not right in the sight of God to keep slaves," he gives to Dinah and her child their freedom. Allen was subsequently promoted to be a major of the Rangers and colonel of a militia regiment. He was in command of the post at Vergenas, Vt., in 1778, and rendered other important service during the war of the Revolution. Soon after the grant of the two islands in Lake Champlain, called the "Two Heroes," was made by the Vermont Legislature to him and others in 1779, Col. Allen removed with his family to South Hero, Vt., in which township he was the first settler and where he was town clerk from 1784 to 1794. In time he established a ferry to the mainland, opened a public house on the island, engaged in the lumber business and prospered. About 1800 he removed to Burlington and opened a public house there. He died Mar. 26, 1806, at the age of 63, and was buried with Masonic honors in Burlington. His wife returned to South Hero and died there at the age of 88."

I am indebted to Col. G. G. Benedict of the Burlington Free Press, who kindly copied the foregoing from Dr. Melvin Barnes' Biography of Col. Ebenezer Allen.

The foregoing account impresses us that Col. Ebenezer Allen was a self-made man, and a man of remarkable energy and ability, filling well every position to which he was called and thus deserves full recognition by posterity. It is to be regretted that so little has come down to us of this generation regarding his descendants. He had a son born in Poultney, Vt., name not given, who is said to have lived to an advanced age in the state of New York. He had a son, Ebenezer by name, and is said to have had a son Timothy, whose daughter, Fanny Allen, married William Campbell, whose daughter Sophie married Almon Bates, whose daughter Carrie married J. C. Wilson of Cherokee, Iowa, and living there in 1907.

The following abstracts from the town records of South Hero, Vt., sent me in Nov., 1906, by the town clerk, are of interest in this connection: Referring to Col. Ebenezer Allen, the clerk writes, "His wife, Lydia Allen, died in 1834. Her dower was a part of "Lot No. 1," which was Col. E. Allen's "land grant." In Feb., 1835, the heirs of the Col. deeded their right in the dower for $100 to Ebenezer, son of the Col. Their names were Zeno Campbell, Sophronia Campbell his wife, Fanny Campbell, James M. Allen, Guy Meigs, Drucella Meigs his wife, Juliet Allen, Chloe Allen, Ammey Allen Fletcher, Vashte Allen, Melvin B. Allen, John C. Ingalls, Laura Ingalls his wife, David Page and Mary Page his wife. I find no records of births of the children."

35. LIEUT. JOSEPH<sup>5</sup> ALLEN (Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Dea. Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. 36. REV. THOMAS<sup>5</sup> ALLEN (Joseph<sup>4</sup> Dea. Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. in Northampton Jan. 17, 1743; m. 1768, Elizabeth, dau. of Rev. Jonathan Lee of Salisbury, Conn., a descendant of Gov. Bradford of Plymouth Colony. He d. at Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 11, 1810; she d. Mar. 31, 1830.

He was left a legacy by his great uncle, Thomas Allen, which enabled him to pursue his studies at Harvard, where he graduated in 1762 with an enviable reputation for scholarship. He later studied theology under Rev. Dr. Hooker. He was ordained the first minister at Pittsfield, Mass., Apr. 18, 1764. Like nearly all who bore the Allen name, he was an ardent patriot in the Revolution. He was the chaplain of the regiment which served at Ticonderoga in 1776, and with the one which served in Westchester Co. in 1777. He also hurried to the onset at Bennington, and there, after offering a fervent prayer which inspired all with courage, was the first one to fire a gun, telling his brother Joseph to load and he would fire. He richly earned the title of the "Fighting Parson."

"Parson Allen was once asked by his son if he supposed he ever killed a man. "My son, I don't know, but I guess I did. I remember that near the close of the day at Bennington I observed a flash behind a bush at our left which seemed to take effect upon our men. I raised my musket and fired at the bush, and I put out the flash."* After the war he was very prominent in political matters. He left a name long to be remembered in Pittsfield for his noble qualities of heart and mind. He was notably honored in his children, who made an enviable mark in life.

Sprague's Annals of the Am. Pulpit says: "He was of middle height, slender and energetic, and elastic in his movements."

"In 1801, at the age of fifteen, he walked from Northampton to Pittsfield, where he learned the clothier's business as an apprentice of Deacon Eli Maynard, with whom he entered into partnership on attaining his majority in 1807. Dea. Maynard retired in 1810, and the firm became Allen & Knight. Mr. Knight left the business in 1811, after which Mr. Allen carried on the business alone and accumulated a competent fortune. Capt. Jonathan Allen was elected to the Mass. Legislature of 1832, and was prominent in effecting a change in the state law, giving all Christian denominations equal protection of the law. He was a captain of militia in Pittsfield, and a leading citizen there. Besides being a good business man he possessed some literary taste, and was a good writer. Many of the best articles contributed to the Sun in its first half century were from his pen. He held many town offices and was active in town affairs, as well as in national politics."†

June 23, 1762, Mary, dau. of Cornelius Bronson Jr., b. 1732 of Woodbury, Conn.* She was a pious and most excellent woman. She d. at Sunderland, Vt., in the early part of 1783. He m. (2) Feb. 9, 1784, Frances, widow of Capt. John Buchanan of the British navy. She was b. Apr. 4, 1770, probably in New York City. She was the daughter of Captain Montresor, who was an officer in the British army and is said to have lost his life in one of the battles of the period when his daughter was an infant.

The maiden name of Mrs. Allen has long been a puzzle to anti-quarians. Hall in his history of Eastern Vermont gives it as Montuzon; while on her gravestone in the cemetery at Burlington it is Montezuma. The careful researches of Col. Benedict of Burlington indicate quite conclusively that the name is Montresor. He found that the record in the Annals of the Hotel Dieu, Montreal, is that Fanny Allen was the daughter of Ethan Allen and "Francoise Montresor." Further it has been found in the archives at Albany that a John Montresor was commissioned an officer in the British army in 1755 and served in America. Also that a John Montresor was wounded in Braddock's defeat and received a grant of land in Willsboro, N. Y., across the lake from Burlington. May he not have been the father of Mrs. Allen? Capt. Montresor was a Frenchman, and his wife was a German lady of accomplishments. Soon after his death his widow Margaret married Col. Crean Brush, a lawyer and a native of Dublin, who came to New York in 1762 and was appointed assistant secretary of the colony. He removed with his family to Westminster, Vt., in 1771, where he practiced law for several years. But he became involved in many difficulties and left the state under a cloud, tragically ending his life in 1778. His large as a decent respect for the opinion of mankind seems to require it, you will proceed."

"General, this is an important matter, and have you given it serious consideration?"

"Certainly! but"—here the General glanced proudly at his handsome and accomplished bride, twenty-three years younger than himself, perhaps also conscious of his own mature, stalwart symmetry—"I do not think it requires much consideration in this particular case."

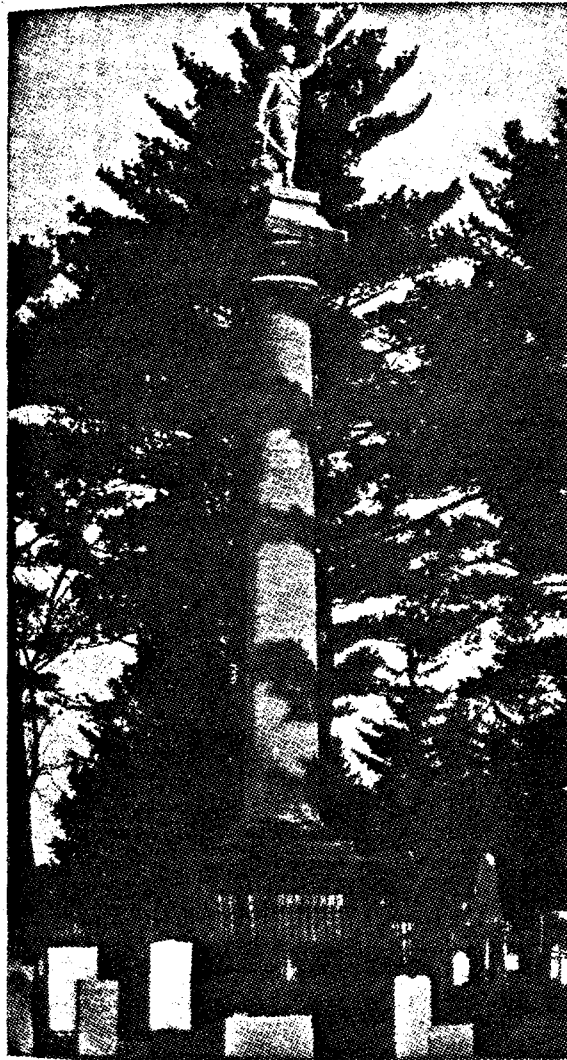

"Do you promise to live with Frances agreeably to the laws of God?"

"Stop! stop!" cried Allen looking out of the window. "Yes, according to the law of God as written in the great book of Nature! Go on, go on! my team is at the door."

"Soon the bride's guitar and trunk were in the sleigh and the bells jingled merrily as they disappeared westward."

Ethan Allen commenced his married life at Salisbury, Conn., where he had an interest in an iron mine, then removed to Sheffield, a border town in Massachusetts. It was probably in 1769 when he first went to Vermont to spy out the land of his future exploits. He seems to have made Bennington his headquarters for some years, where his house at the old center remained till a few years ago. His family remained for a time in Sheffield. The story of his gallant leadership of the Green Mountain Boys in their conflict with the authorities of New York, his romantic capture of Fort Ticonderoga and his life as a military prisoner of the British, is too well known to be recounted here.

He was exchanged May 6, 1778, for Col. Campbell, and Congress, mindful of his services, sent him a commission as Colonel in the Continental army, and the Legislature appointed him Major General and Commander of the Vermont Militia. On his return from captivity he rejoined his family at Sunderland, Vt., where they had removed in 1777 from Sheffield, and soon after removed to Arlington, which town he represented in the Vermont Legislature in 1779. He was also sent as a special delegate to the Continental Congress. He removed to Burlington in July, 1787, and bought a farm once belonging to his brother Ira, on the Burlington side of the Winooski river, about one and one-half miles from the city of Burlington. This has since been known as the Van Ness estate, where he lived at the time of his death, which occurred suddenly Feb. 12, 1789. His funeral was held at the house of his brother Ira in Colchester, and he was interred with the honors of war in the cemetery at Burlington, where a grateful state has erected a suitable monument to his memory. This monument consists of a shaft crowned by a statue of the hero in the act of demanding the surrender of Fort Ticonderoga. It was designed by Stephenson and dedicated in 1873.

The inscriptions are as follows :

In September, 1895, the Daughters of the American Revolution honored his memory by placing a memorial bronze tablet on Prospect Rock, located on his old farm in Burlington.

W. J. Patten, the present owner of the Ethan Allen farm near Burlington, having devoted a portion of the farm for a park, the Vermont Society Sons of the American Revolution erected a massive battlemented observatory tower of Vermont granite on a high elevation in the park, known as Indian Rock, which was dedicated August 17, 1906, with impressive ceremonies. The United States was represented by Vice-President Fairbanks, the President by the Secretary of the Interior, Ethan Allen Hitchcock, a great-grandson of the Vermont hero, Vermont by Governor Bell and others, the Sons by Dr. Holton, and the literati by Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr, who contributed a noble poem, "The Voice of the Tower," the concluding stanza of which is given here :

"I shall stand on my rock as the years come and go,
And whether the ages pass swiftly or slow
They shall hear the proud story of chivalrous youth,
Of honor unsullied, of courage and truth,
Of patriot ardor, of valor sublime,
That soars like a bird o'er the wreckage of time ; —
Of all souls that undaunted face danger and death,
Counting all that life holds as the gossamer's breath ;
Save the love of the highest — the love that looks up
In the face of the Highest — and draineth the cup."

The state of Vermont has placed his statue in the Capitol at Montpelier and sent another to forever commemorate his fame at the National Capitol, and the hero deserves all this and more at the hands of a state for which he accomplished so much.

Ethan Allen was a unique character in our history ; he was a terror to his foes, an uncompromising patriot whose love of justice and his country outweighed all other considerations ; but combined with his sternness he possessed a heart as tender as a woman's for those deserving sympathy, which noble characteristic was often exemplified in his varied career. In the mellowing process of the years his foibles have been forgotten, his virtues remembered, so his fame will be as lasting as the hills of his adopted state.

The widow of Ethan Allen married Oct. 23, 1793, Dr. Jabez Penniman ; for further account of his life see Penniman Family Record in the appendix H.

Ethan Allen's Sword.

The following concerning Ethan Allen's sword will be of interest in this connection. It is copied from the Detroit Tribune :

"The sword which Ethan Allen carried when he demanded the surrender of Fort Ticonderoga in the name of the great Jehovah and the Continental Congress, is by gift and inheritance the personal property of H. Allen Hopkins, a resident of Jackson, Mich. The sword is an old-fashioned blade, nicked and venerable, twenty inches long and slightly curved. The handle measures seven inches, making the total length of the weapon thirty-four inches. The handle is of bone and horn, the mounting is of silver washed with gold, the latter being partially worn off. A dog's head of silver forms the end of a handle, and from this to the guard runs a silver chain. On one of the silver bands of the scabbard the name "Ethan Allen" is engraved in large letters; on another band "E. Brasher," maker, New York;" and on still another in script, "Martin Vosburg, 1775." Why this name appears no one knows. Upon the death of Ethan Allen the sword became the property of his son, Capt. Hannibal M. Allen. This Hopkins family also has the original commissions issued to Captain Allen, one as "first lieutenant in the regiment of artillerists," dated Mar. 14, 1806, signed by Thomas Jefferson, countersigned by H. Dearborn, secretary of war, and the other as captain of artillerists, signed by James Madison, countersigned by W. Eustis, and dated May 26, 1812. Captain Hannibal M. Allen, it seems, died at Fort Nelson, Va., in 1813, and the sword was retained by his widow, Agnes B. Allen. After the death of her husband Mrs. Allen made her home with Hannibal Allen Hopkins, her favorite nephew and heir, until her death in 1863. The sword of Ethan Allen then became the property of Hannibal Allen Hopkins. He died in 1871 and left it to his widow; on her death it became the property of her son, H. Allen Hopkins, and is now in his possession, together with commissions above referred to."

It may be said in addition to the above that this sword is valued by Mr. Hopkins at $5000, for which sum it was offered to the government some years ago, but whether the offer was accepted or not the writer is unable to say.

- III. Lucy Caroline, b. 1768; m. May 26, 1789, Judge Samuel Hitchcock of Burlington. See full account of their descendants in the appendix G.
- IV. Mary Ann; unm.; d. 1791 at Burlington.
- V. Pamela; m. Eleazer W. Keyes of Burlington, and died there before 1810, leaving no children.

Children by second marriage :

81. VI. Fanny, b. in Arlington, Vt., Nov. 13, 1784.
82. VII. Hannibal M., b. in Burlington Nov. 24, 1787.
83. V'II. Ethan Alphonso, b. in Burlington Oct. 24, 1789.

Children:

- I. Heman, b. 1774; d. Sept. 9, 1776.
- II. Beebe, b. 1775; d. Apr. 22, 1776.
- III. Lucinda, b. Dec. 30, 1776; m. Moses Catlin, an early settler of Burlington, Vt., where he d. Aug., 1842. He was b. in Litchfield, Conn., Sept. 18, 1770. She d. in Brattleboro, Vt., July 24, 1852. They are both buried in the Burlington cemetery. They had no children. Abigail, the widow of Heman Allen, m. (2) Apr., 1780, Solomon Wadhams, who was a graduate of Yale College in 1762. They lived and died in Goshen, Conn. He d. Dec., 1821; she d. 1837. Child: Melinda Wadhams, b. Aug. 14, 1787; m. July 25, 1808, Guy Catlin, the youngest brother of Moses Catlin, and had a large family.

46. LYDIA<sup>5</sup> ALLEN (Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Apr. 6, 1742. Cothren, in his history of Woodbury, Conn., states that Lydia, dau. of Joseph Allen, m. a Mr. Finch and lived and died in Easton, Conn. But as an offset to this claim Mrs. James B. Cole of Brandon, Vt., says that Lydia Allen m. Daniel Arms of Suffield, Conn., an Englishman much older than she; that they had three children, viz: Daniel, Ira and Lydia; Daniel died unmarried; Ira m. Betsey Holmes and went to the wilds of Western New York and settled; while Lydia m. John Bush, from whom Mrs. Cole is descended. The records of the Arms and Bush families have been lost in the burning of a house, but so many traditions have been handed down of such definite character which accord so exactly with known facts, that the writer has accepted Mrs. Cole's version.

After the death of her husband Lydia Allen Arms lived with her daughter, Mrs. John Bush, in Greenfield and often visited her Allen relatives in Sheffield, Mass., going there on horseback, and is said to have spent her last days in Sheffield.

John Bush and wife Lydia removed from Greenfield to Bristol, Vt., and lived with son Seth. John Bush died there Apr. 10, 1816, ae. 62; Lydia, his wife, died there Apr. 10, 1826, as per her gravestone in Bristol. Their children, in the order of birth, were: John, Seth, Lydia, Samuel, Betsey, Russell, Mary, Amanda and Jesse. They married as follows: John m. Prudence Pickett; Seth m. Mary Hawkins; Lydia m. Isaac Drake; Samuel m. Abigail Varney; Betsey m. Hervey J. Barton; Russell, m. Mary Stillwell; Mary m. Nathan Hastings; Amanda m. Hervey J. Barton several years after the death of her sister Betsey; Jesse m. Matilda Barnes.

The above Russell Bush removed to Michigan and was survived by a son, Harmon K. Bush, who resided in Hesperia, Mich., where he died in 1906. His daughter, Mrs. William H. Maks, is now (1907) a resident of Sabanaso, Cuba, Prov. Oriente. There are many descendants of John and Lydia Bush still living in Vermont and the West.

Mrs. Ella Barton Cole traces her descent from Lydia Allen, the sister of Gen. Ethan Allen, as follows: Lydia Allen m. Daniel Arms; their daughter, Lydia Allen Arms, m. John Bush; their son, Seth Allen Bush, m. Mary Hawkins; their daughter, Almeda Bush, m. Russell A. Barton, who were cousins. The above Russell A. Barton was the son of Hervey J. Barton, who m. Amanda Bush, and a g. g. grandson of Andrew Barton Sr., a graduate of Harvard College, who with his family were captured in the Revolution and held as prisoners at Whitehall till exchanged, whose brother, Gen. William Barton, was an officer under Washington, and to whom was granted the town of Barton, Vt.

The children of Russell and Almeda Barton were Andrew William, James Harvey, Ella B., Russell Frank, and Mary Amanda.

Russell Frank, the only surviving son, lives in Proctor, Vt. Ella B. was born in New Haven, Vt., Oct. 24, 1849; m. June, 1870, Calvin Curtis Carr; he d. 1877; she m. (2) Feb. 6, 1893, James S. Cole. Reside in Brandon, Vt.

Children by first marriage: (1) Elbert Barton Carr, b. Jan. 25, 1873; m. Nov. 6, 1898, Mary J. Kinney of Westport, N. Y. Reside in Rutland, Vt. (2) Almeda Eliza Carr, b. July 26, 1876; m. Ross H. Wells, descended from the old Wells family of Hadley, Mass. Reside in Brandon, Vt.

Mrs. Cole, who has furnished much of the foregoing data of the descendants of Lydia Allen, may justly take pride not only in her descent from the Allen line, but also in the fact of the patriotic spirit exhibited by her grandfathers Bush and Hawkins, who were both in the battle of Bunker Hill, and the latter in that at Concord also, while both performed valient service later in the war for independence.

47. MAJOR HEBER<sup>5</sup> ALLEN (Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. in Cornwall, Conn., Oct. 4, 1743; m. Mar. 17, 1768, Sarah Owen of Salisbury, Conn. She d. 1788, and is buried at Winoski Falls, Vt.; he d. at Poultney, Vt., Apr. 10, 1782. He removed from Salisbury, Conn., in 1771 to Poultney, Vt., being one of the earliest settlers there and its first town clerk. He was a man of more than ordinary ability and took an active part in public affairs; was assistant judge of the Rutland shire of the Cumberland County court in 1778-9. He assisted his brother Ethan in the capture of Ticonderoga, and was a Major of militia under Gen. St. Clair at the battle of Hubbardston. His health was impaired by exposure in that last military service, from which he never recovered. His remains rest with his kindred in the cemetery at Burlington, where the following inscription is found on his tombstone:

THIS GRAVE CONTAINS THE REMAINS OF MAJOR HEBER ALLEN, WHO WITH HIS BROTHERS ASSISTED IN THE STRUGGLE FOR THE INDEPENDENCE OF THIS AND UNITED STATES. HE WAS ONE OF THE EARLIEST SETTLERS IN THIS STATE (VT.) AND DIED AS HE LIVED, AND AS EXPRESSED BY HIS BROTHER ETHAN, "THE NOBLEST WORK OF GOD."

Children:

- I. Heber, b. in Salisbury, Conn., June 16, 1769. He taught school some time in Georgia, Vt., then went to the near vicinity of Rochester, N. Y., where he is said to have also taught school. He occasionally visited his N. E. relatives, but further knowledge of him I have been unable to obtain.
84. II. Sarah, b. 1771.
- III. Joseph, history unknown.

85. IV. Lucy.
86. V. Heman, b. Feb. 23, 1779.

48. LEVI<sup>5</sup> ALLEN (Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Jan. 16, 1745; m. July 29, 1779, Mrs. Anna Allen of New Milford, Conn. Date of her death not known. He married a second time, for in his will, dated Jan. 11, 1796, having no child he devises the bulk of his estate to his wife Nancy. He had a large unsettled estate, but died insolvent. His death occurred in ~~Bennington~~ Vt., 1801. He was a merchant, in partnership with his brother Heman at Salisbury, Conn., for a few years, which relation was dissolved Feb. 3, 1772. He also had extensive land interests with his brothers in Vermont, owning at one time the township of Swanton, Vt.* He seems to have been the negative member of this family, for while his brothers were intense patriots he espoused the cause of the Tories. He was detected in giving aid to the British on Long Island, for which offense he was imprisoned at New London for six months, and his lands in Vermont were confiscated; after his release he joined the enemy in South Carolina and served there through the war. After the war he went to Canada and England, but returned to Vermont to end his days.

Child:

Anna, b. Dec. 6, 1780; d. May 22, 1795. This daughter was placed in the Moravian Seminary in Bethlehem, Pa., in 1793, where she died and was buried in the Moravian "Gods Acre." This item was obtained from the records of the Moravian Seminary through the courtesy of J. Max Hark, D.D., principal.

49. LUCY<sup>5</sup> ALLEN (Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Apr. 2, 1747; m. Dr. Lewis Beebe, and is said to have lived and died in Sheffield, Mass. In the spring of 1903 I visited Sheffield and made a careful search of the town records; found the name of Dr. Lewis Beebe on the tax rolls of 1777-78-79 and 1780; found nothing further relating to him or his family, from which circumstance it may be inferred that his stay was brief. I also failed to find his name on the land records at Great Barrington or Pittsfield. Quite likely he returned soon to Conn., where it is supposed his relatives resided, as there were many of the Beebe name in the adjoining town of Salisbury.

50. ZIMRI<sup>5</sup> ALLEN (Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Dec. 10, 1748. He early became interested in land transactions in Vermont, and in partnership with his brother Ira purchased 300,000 acres of land between Ferrisburg and Canada, Ira Allen being the chief manager. At a proprietors' meeting held in Salisbury, Conn., Mar. 24, 1774, "voted whereas Ethan Allen, Remember Baker, Heman Allen, Zimry Allen and Ira Allen, known by the name of the Onion River Company who are proprietors in the township of Colchester,"* etc. In a paper served on Ira Allen Apr. 28, 1795, there is mentioned the rights in lands which fell to Heman Allen from his brother Zimri, deceased.† Now as Heman Allen died in 1778 and the last record we have of Zimri is at Salisbury, Conn., in 1774, we may infer that he died about 1775. And further, as I failed to find any record of him at Sheffield, where it is stated by some that he died, I am of the opinion that he died at Salisbury at the home of his brother Heman. As his property fell to his brother it is probable that he was unmarried.

51. MAJOR GENERAL IRA<sup>5</sup> ALLEN (Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Apr. 21, 1751, so says the record at Cornwall, Conn., but Ira Allen in his history of Vermont, (1798) p. 162, alludes to May 1 as the anniversary of his birth; and the Vermont University honors that date as "Founders Day," in remembrance of him. How these conflicting dates occurred does not appear. He m. Jerusha Hayden, dau. of Gen. Roger Enos of Colchester, Vt., b. Feb. 6, 1764. Gen. Roger Enos<sup>4</sup> (David<sup>3</sup>, James<sup>2</sup>, James<sup>1</sup>), was b. in Simsbury, Conn., 1729; d. at Colchester, Vt., Oct. 6, 1808; m. at Windsor, Vt., Mar. 10, 1763, Jerusha Hayden, dau. of Daniel and Esther (Moore) Hayden of Windsor. Her ancestry was Jerusha Hayden<sup>5</sup>, Daniel<sup>4</sup>, Daniel<sup>3</sup>, Daniel<sup>2</sup>, William<sup>1</sup>. Gen. Enos was well educated and a man of ability; served in French and Indian war, and at the siege of Havanna, and with honor in Revolutionary war; was for many years Maj. Gen. of the Vermont regiment. Ira Allen died at Philadelphia Jan. 15, 1814. His wife, Jerusha, d. May 16,

Major General Ira Allen.

1838. Ira Allen went to Vermont about 1771 as a Lieutenant with the Green Mountain Boys. He soon became interested with his brothers in the unoccupied lands, and in 1774 in company with his cousin, Remember Baker, commenced a settlement in the present town of Colchester, Vt., where a block house was erected, but owing to the troubled times he soon abandoned this enterprise for a period. He was with his brother Ethan at the capture of Ticonderoga. "It was due to his alertness that Stark gathered his men at Bennington in season to attack Baum before reinforcements could reach him." In 1783 he returned to Colchester to develop his lands there, and in 1791 became the first town clerk in the new town, which became his home for many years. He continued to add to his land titles from year to year till he had acquired nearly 300,000 acres, ranging over several townships. When he was married he bestowed the title of the town of Irisburgh, containing 23,000 acres, upon his wife, which remained as a source of wealth in his family after his death. He became by his ability and force of character one of the leading spirits in the formation period of the state of Vermont. He was for years the continuous secretary of her conventions, and his ready pen was of great service; he led where others faltered, and his diplomatic foresight kept the enemy away from Vermont in a most critical period. He was the state treasurer from 1775 to 1785, and was the leading factor in the Counsel of Safety for years. He was chosen eight times to represent the town of Colchester in the General Assembly, and was a member of the Constitutional Convention in 1791. He was appointed Surveyor General of the state in 1778, and retained the office till 1787. Up to this point the career of Ira Allen has been a grand success. He has become a very prince of landed estates; has lived to witness the consummation of his labors, the independence of his adapted state and her reception into the sisterhood of the young and sturdy republic. About 1795 he was appointed Maj. General of the Vermont militia, and noting their great lack of arms decided he would not review them again till they were suitably supplied. He soon received authority to go abroad to purchase them. From this point in his life the genius of success seems to desert him; after much trouble he purchased 20,000 stand of arms of the French government, but on his way home his ship was captured by a British cruiser and declared a lawful prize. He fought the matter in the English court till 1804 and won his case, but it nearly beggared him. He returned to Vermont to find that much of his landed estate, valued at nearly one million dollars, had been sold for taxes, and owing to the existence of a most unrighteous law of that time he was subjected to arrest and imprisonment for debt; he pleaded in vain for redress and then became an exile from the state for which he had done so much and sought a home in Philadelphia, where he died and was buried in the Free Quaker burial ground, where his grave remains as yet unmarked. It is due to the patient search of Mr. Francis O. Allen of Philadelphia that the real date of Ira Allen's death has been made known and the precinct of his last resting place ascertained. Vermont has at last become sensible of her neglect, and sooner or later the name of Ira Allen will be honored with a monument suited to perpetuate his fame. He already has one foster child, the Vermont University, which will forever honor him for the £4000 with which he nobly dowered her at the beginning of her career, a feeling of gratitude which was nobly voiced in the "Centennial Oration" delivered before the faculty and alumni of that institution in 1892 by Prof. J. E. Goodrich, and to which the writer is largely indebted for the foregoing facts in Ira Allen's life. Describing his personal appearance, Prof. Goodrich says, "Ira Allen was a man of middle stature, thick set, a ruddy and lively countenance, large black eyes, a fine form, genteel in manners and naturally social."

Children :

87. I. Ira Hayden, b. July 19, 1790.

Feb. 6, 1814; he d. in Enfield, where he had spent his life, Sept. 26, 1826. Moses Allen was prominent in the public affairs of Enfield nearly all his long life; was on the school board many times, one of the listers quite often, selectman in 1781, and constable from 1782 till 1796, an office to which much more importance was then attached than now. During several years of the war he had charge of supplying clothing for the soldiers in service. He also served in the 2d and 5th Regt's. of the Conn. line in the Revolution.* He was for many years a member of the "Separate Congregationalist church," of which he was secretary and clerk many years, but returned to the original church in 1825, one year before his death.

Aug. 26, 1789, Mrs. Abigail Gillett of Richmond, Vt. He d. July 17, 1842, at Brecksville, Ohio. He first moved from Pittsfield to Charlotte, Vt. He was in the war of 1812, and was at the battle of Plattsburg. He had a notice served the night before the battle that his services would be wanted the next day. Not having just such a suit of clothes as he wished to wear, his wife called in some of the neighbors and made a suit from heavy cloth on hand and had it ready by daybreak for his use. His wife and children betook themselves to a nearby mountain and listened to the firing of the guns as the battle progressed. He sold his estate in Charlotte in the 30's and moved to Breckville, a few miles south from Cleveland, O., where he bought a large tract of land and where he spent the remainder of his life. He became a prominent man there, filling nearly all the town offices besides having a seat in the State Legislature, and was a man to whom all went for advice. He kept open house, to whose hospitality all were welcome, and where his stories of New England life were a never-failing source of enjoyment for his neighbors. He was a worthy man, and served well his day and generation.

He graduated from Harvard in 1802; was ordained to take the pastorate made vacant by his father's death at Pittsfield, Oct. 10, 1810, and was dismissed at his request Feb. 25, 1817; became professor at Dartmouth the same year, and President of Bowdoin College in 1820, which position he retained till 1839. He was also noted as the compiler of the American Biographical Dictionary, brought out in 1809, the first of its kind in this country. He removed to Northampton in 1839, where he spent the remainder of his life in literary work. Dr. Allen was widely known as an educator, author and scholar, and highly esteemed for his marked ability.

He served his apprenticeship in the Hampshire Gazette printing office and worked one year as a journeyman in Springfield; he removed to Pittsfield in 1800 and established the Pittsfield Sun in the interests of the Democratic party. The first number of the Sun was issued Sept. 16, 1800. The Sun continued to be published alone by Mr. Allen until 1829, when he admitted his son Phinneas as a partner, which partnership continued till the death of the senior member May 8, 1868. The son continued the paper till May, 1872, when he sold out to his kinsman, Theodore L. Allen, who in turn, after creditable management, sold his interest in August of the same year.* The Sun continued to be published until near the close of the year 1906, after a continuance existence of 106 years.

Hon. Phinneas Allen served in the Mass. Legislature with honor, and was a man of influence in his own town, interested in its prosperity, and had a large share in its public affairs.

She was b. Sept. 19, 1807, and d. Dec. 1, 1866; he d. July 4, 1873; left no children.

Phinneas Allen Jr. began to learn the art of printing at the age of six years. He followed closely in his father's line of policy in conducting the Sun as an unfailing supporter of the Democratic party, and was prominent in its state affairs. In 1845 he was appointed postmaster and held the office most of the time till 1861, ranking as second among the postmasters of the country in point of accuracy. His whole life was above reproach, and he gained the respect and confidence of all parties. He left $50,000 as a most generous endowment for the Pittsfield public library.*

Mrs. Allen was a lady of culture and refinement, well fitted to aid in maintaining the social position which her husband occupied. She was an aunt of Mrs. Allen H. Bragg, wife of the present mayor of Pittsfield.

76. NEHEMIAH<sup>6</sup> ALLEN (Nehemiah<sup>5</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Oct. 28, 1757, the first white male child born in Bridgeport, Conn.; m. Mary Pearsoll, b. June 30, 1755, d. Aug. 24, 1833; he d. Oct. 23, 1826.

A tradition has always existed in the records of his descendants that he served in the Revolutionary war, but the period of his service has not been preserved. The archives of Mass. record quite a number of Nehemiah Allens, but several of them are lacking in particulars, so that it is difficult to place our Nehemiah, but there is little doubt that he had such service.

Oct. 27, 1806, his cousin Amey, dau. of Nehemiah and Mary (Pearsall) Allen, b. Apr. 25, 1787. He d. Apr. 8, 1857; she d. Apr. 1, 1837.

Manifesting a love for a sea-going life, he was placed on his father's ship as cabin boy at the age of seven. His father was engaged in the East and West India trade. In time the boy became an able seaman. He was impressed by the British when they claimed the right of search on the high seas. History shows that more than four thousand American sailors were thus impressed, which was one of the causes which led to the war of 1812. When on the British man-of-war Allen was compelled to fight against the French and Americans; he used to say, "I always aimed too high with my gun to hit anyone." After enduring for many months this life of peril he sought some method of escape; he knew it must be on an American ship, when they should be in the same port; finally, on reaching Calcutta, India, he saw a ship flying the American flag and began to make plans. He was permitted shore leave with other sailors; after wandering around he slipped into a narrow street, leaving his companions, but soon discerned an under officer from his ship coming towards him; fearing an order to return to the ship he began picking up some pebbles in the street, walking slowly along, and began throwing them as if for amusement; the officer said a few words and passed on, greatly to his relief. Soon after dusk, still separated from his companions, he sought the aid of a friendly native, knowing enough of the language to make himself understood, and was rowed out to the American vessel. When on board, he quickly made his way to the cook's galley and told his story of hardships. The cook said he would hide him, so pried up a plank in the floor and pointed out a beam on which he could sit in a stooping posture; this was a hiding place for three days, during which time the ship was being searched. The cook was very faithful, passing him food and water when possible. After a long voyage the ship finally reached New York City. It was Christmas Day when he landed, barefooted and ragged; he always said it was the happiest day of his life. Late in life he used to say how he ran up the street so excited shouting "Freedom, freedom, down with the British." He ever afterward spoke of his experience on the British man-of-war with much bitterness.

In due time he became a captain, promoted for his ability and success in training seamen. During his many voyages to China he brought home valuable articles which are now treasured by his descendants, among them a set of rare china, expressly selected for his bride-to-be. He continued in service as a sea captain till after the War of 1812, when his wife urged him to remain at home. The "call of the sea" was so strong he said he must go far from the shore to be able to resist it. His plans led him to locate in the far West, as Illinois was then considered. After mature investigation he located a settlement and called it Marine, in remembrance of his former life on the ocean wave.*

The following, taken from the New York Daily Advertiser of May, 1818, describes the starting of the company from New York City for Marine, Ill.: "EMIGRATION — A caravan consisting of covered wagons, drawn by two, three or four horses each, two coaches, a number of out-riding horses and about 120 persons, composing the expedition under Captains Blakeman and Allen for the state of Illinois, crossed the Pawles' Hook Ferry on its way to the West. These two gentlemen, having been for a number of years engaged as shipmasters in the Chinese trade and made handsome fortunes, have now turned their attention to the fertile plains of Illinois and have commenced the forming of a settlement there on their extensive purchase. The present caravan forms the first division. In the autumn the second division marches, and in the spring following the third division, which is to complete the establishment, will advance.

"In the company which passed here yesterday there were farmers, carpenters, blacksmiths, wheelwrights, masons, coopers, etc., with their families, mostly natives of the Northern hive; all their equipments were in fine order and the emigrants in fine spirits."

After living in Marine some 18 years Capt. Allen, in 1836, removed to Naples, thence to Columbus, and later to Quincy, Ill., where he died.

81. FANNY<sup>6</sup> ALLEN (Gen. Ethan<sup>5</sup>, Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. in Arlington, Vt., Nov. 13, 1784; unm.; d. at Montreal, Canada, Dec. 10, 1819. After the death of her father she went with her mother to Westminister, Vt., where her mother married Dr. Penniman. She continued in the family of her stepfather. When she was 23 years old she obtained the consent of her parents to enter the convent of the Sisters of the Congregation at Montreal for the purpose of studying French. While at this school she became a convert to Catholicism, the news of which, when it reached her parents, caused her withdrawal from the school. She remained with them at home for a year, during which time they employed every reasonable device to deter her from her purpose of becoming a nun. She possessed something of the determination of her father, and at length overcame the opposition of her parents and was received as a novice at the Hotel Dieu Dec. 29, 1808. In 1810 she was received as a sister of the order. Eleven years after taking the religious habit she contracted a disease of the lungs which made such alarming progress that her life was despaired of. She was as beautiful in death as in life, the admiration of all who beheld her.* We have the following description from a lady whose mother was personally acquainted with Miss Allen, and saw her frequently after she had taken the veil:

"Fanny was the youngest daughter of Gen. Ethan Allen, and inherited much of the energy and decision of his character, controlled by womanly gentleness. In person she was rather above than below the medium height. Her complexion was fair, her eyes dark blue with a singular depth."†

82. CAPT. HANNIBAL MONTRESOR<sup>6</sup> ALLEN (Gen. Ethan<sup>5</sup>, Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. in Burlington, Vt., Nov. 24, 1787; m. Sept. 7, 1808, Agnes Bodine Low, dau. of Cornelius and Catherine Low, b. Mar. 30, 1788. He d. at Norfolk, Va., Apr. 20, 1813; she d. at Lamont, Mich., 1863. They had no children. The widow never remarried, but cherished the memory of her husband to the last. Some account of Capt. Allen has been already given in connection with the notice of his father's sword, which came into his possession, which need not be repeated here. It is said he was buried near Fort Nelson, Va., and that the present hospital was erected over his grave. Young Hannibal, after the death of his father, was placed by his uncle Ira in the Vermont University, where he remained for a while. His military record is given herewith from the report of the war department :

"It appears from the records that Hannibal Montresone Allen entered the U. S. Military Academy June 15, 1803; that he was graduated and appointed 2d Lieutenant of Artillerists June 27, 1804; promoted to 1st Lieutenant Jan. 31, 1806, and to be Captain Jan. 29, 1811; and that he died May 11, 1813, at Norfolk, Va."

It will be observed that the war department record gives the second name as Montresone, while his mother's name was Montresor; it is reasonable to suppose this is an error, for the department also errs in giving the second name of his brother as Augustus, when his real name was Alphonso, as given by his own daughter. Again, the date of his death is given as May 11, 1813, when the Norfolk record is Apr. 20, 1813.

83. CAPT. ETHAN ALPHONSO<sup>6</sup> ALLEN (Gen. Ethan<sup>5</sup>, Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. in Burlington, Vt., Oct. 24, 1789. I give the date as copied by myself from the original record made by Capt. Allen's wife while her husband was living, and furnished by their daughter, Mrs. Jennings of Norfolk, Va., so there is every reason to suppose this date to be correct, although it differs from other accounts which give Feb. 3, 1786, as the date of his birth. Capt. Allen m. Apr. 14, 1817, Mary Susanna, dau. of John and Mary Bayard (Moody) Johnson, b. Sept. 26, 1797, at Norfolk, Va. She d. Nov. 1, 1818. He m. (2) Apr. 4, 1820, Martha Washington Johnson, sister of first wife, b. Feb. 22, 1802. She d. at the family residence, Lebanon, Norfolk, Va., Apr. 20, 1855; Capt. Allen died there Jan. 6, 1855.

Young Ethan was placed by his uncle Ira in a preparatory school for colleges, but was later removed to West Point, as will be seen from the following report from the War Department :

"The other son, Ethan Augustus Allen, (should be Alphonso) entered the U. S. Military Academy Dec. 10, 1804; was graduated and appointed 2d Lieutenant Regiment of Artillerists November 14, 1806; promoted to First Lieutenant October 1, 1809; transposed to the Corps of Artillery May 12, 1814, and promoted to be Captain July 25, 1814. It appears he was honorably discharged upon the reduction of the army June 15, 1815, reinstated May 17, 1816, and finally honorably discharged June 1, 1821."

While connected with the army Capt. Allen was highly esteemed as a disciplinarian, and strongly attached the soldiers under his charge by his uniform kindness to them. After his dismissal he retired to private life and lived on his wife's paternal estate at Lebanon, Norfolk, Va. Capt. Allen was buried on this old estate, where there is a private burial ground, where five generations, descendants of the Johnsons and of Gen. Ethan Allen, now rest. "The Sacred Spot overlooks a beautiful arm of the sea. It is shaded by stately magnolia trees and by the myrtle and ivy, which are in bloom the greater part of the year. There, too, the Virginia creeper and the fragrant honeysuckle are doing their utmost to beautify and adorn."

June 1, 1870, Dorothy Edmonstone Zimmerman, dau. of Reuben and Mary A. E. Zimmerman, b. in Alexandria, Va., Mar. 17, 1846. Pay Inspector Robert Wright Allen, U. S. Navy, was in the service for over thirty years. After leaving Wilbraham Academy (Mass.) he studied law in the office of the late John Hooker of Hartford, Conn., for two years. Failing health obliged him to give up his work there and he joined the Volunteer Navy during the Civil War, first as pay clerk and afterwards as paymaster. At the close of the war, in a competitive examination for entrance as Assistant Paymaster into the regular service, he passed as number one in a list of one hundred applicants. While in the service he made a study of naval laws, and for many years was called upon by different secretaries of the navy to conduct important investigations requiring knowledge of such laws. As Judge Advocate in navy courts martial his services were highly commended. As paymaster the excellence of his work, his zeal and probity gave him a reputation that is still remembered among the older officers of the service. He retired, owing to bad health, as pay inspector in 1894 and died Nov. 6, 1895. His remains lie in Arlington cemetery.

- VI. Adolph Helmuth Sickel, b. Apr. 25, 1899.

The above H. B. Allen Sickel resides in Louise, Wharton Co., Texas, where his father and family settled in 1904 and started a rice farm. Having bought his father's interest in 1906 he now owns one of the finest rice plantations in Texas, and is the youngest rice planter in the entire rice belt. In 1906 he had 140 acres devoted to rice, the product of which sold for $6,453.92, yielding a profit of $2,262.24, the land being worth $25 per acre. This year (1907) he has 140 acres devoted to rice, 40 acres to corn, and 30 acres to cotton. His entire plantation consists of 320 acres of black waxy land, every foot of which is available for rice. The drainage on the farm is especially favored by a small creek which courses through one corner. The pumping plant is said to be one of the finest in the section. Mr. Sickel has had the management of the farm for three years; he certainly has laid the foundation for a grand success, and he deserves it.

THE descendants of Obadiah Allen, the sixth child of Samuel Allen, are given a place in the appendix because of his supposed adoption by his uncle, Dea. Thomas Allen of Middletown, who had no children. The date of Obadiah's birth is not known, but about 1644 is a probable date. His exact relationship to Dea. Thomas Allen is no longer an open question, since the matter has been settled by the research of Mr. James Allen Kibbe, as noted in the introduction to this volume, and received after the bulk of material had been compiled in form.

Dea. Thomas Allen m. Isabella ———, who died about 1678; he m. (2) 1680, Martha Gipson, widow of Roger Gipson or Gibson, of Saybrook. He d. at Middletown, Conn., Feb. 5, 1689; she d. Nov., 1702, having made her will Apr. 30, 1690.

Thomas Allyn is said to have left England in 1632 for Cambridge, Mass., was made freeman in 1635, removed to Hartford, Conn., in 1636. He removed from Hartford in 1650 with the first planters of Mattabeseek (Middletown), where he became a prominent man of the town and was chosen deacon of the first church Mar. 16, 1670. He was a representative to the General Court, a selectman, etc. As before intimated, the patient investigations of Mr. Francis Olcott Allen have clearly proven that this Thomas Allyn was not a brother of Hon. Matthew of Hartford, but a brother of Samuel of Windsor. A few of the descendants of Obadiah Allen spell the name with a "y," but most of them spell it "Allen," which form I use in the following record, and I reckon the descent from Samuel of Windsor, instead of from Thomas of Middletown.

2. OBADIAH<sup>2</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>1</sup>), m. Oct. 23, 1669, Elizabeth Sanford of Milford; m. (2) Mary, dau. of John Savage, wid. of John Whetmore. She d. THE CONNECTION OF ORRIN P. ALLEN WITH SOME OF THE DESCENDANTS OF SAMUEL ALLEN OF WINDSOR.

THE compiler of this volume has been asked so often regarding his connection with the descendants of Samuel Allen, that he has consented to give the information herewith.

First, then, the connection came through the Allen-Burt alliance. O. P. Allen is descended from Henry<sup>1</sup> Burt (of Springfield) through Dea. Jonathan<sup>2</sup>, Henry<sup>3</sup>, Lieut. Jonathan<sup>4</sup>, Ebenezer<sup>5</sup>, Carissa<sup>6</sup>, who m. Roswell Doolittle (grandson of Rev. Benjamin of Northfield). Eliza P. Doolittle, their dau., m. Robert Allen, father of O. P. Allen. The Ethan Allen branch runs thus: Henry<sup>1</sup> Burt, Mercy<sup>2</sup>, m. Judah Wright ; their dau. Mercy, m. Samuel<sup>3</sup> Allen (Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>),

Ebenezer Burt, great-grandfather of O. P. Allen, and Gen. Ethan Allen were third cousins, while O. P. Allen and Ethan<sup>8</sup> Allen, the great-grandson of Gen. Ethan, are sixth cousins. He also bears the same relationship to the grandchildren of Heman, the son of Major Heber, the brother of Gen. Ethan Allen.

He is also connected with Hon. Ethan Allen Hitchcock, the late Secretary of the Interior, as a sixth cousin, he being the great-grandson of Gen. Ethan Allen, whose dau., Lucy Caroline, m. Judge Samuel Hitchcock. In fact, O. P. Allen is doubly connected with the Secretary, as he is also descended, on the maternal side, from Capt. Luke Hitchcock, who was the emigrant ancestor of Secretary Hitchcock.

Another pleasing connection has come through the marriage of Azariah<sup>4</sup> Allen (John<sup>3</sup>, John<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), with Martha Burt, dau. of David<sup>3</sup>, Nathaniel<sup>2</sup>, Henry<sup>1</sup>, which makes Francis Olcott Allen and O. P. Allen sixth cousins, as well as all the other descendants of Azariah of the eighth generation.

Another connection is through the Allen-Doolittle alliances. O. P. Allen is descended from Abraham Doolittle, who came to New Haven about 1640, through John<sup>2</sup>, Rev. Benjamin<sup>3</sup>, Amzi<sup>4</sup>, Roswells, Eliza P.<sup>6</sup>, who m. Robert Allen, father of O. P. Allen.

Joseph<sup>6</sup> Allen (Joseph<sup>5</sup>, Joseph<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, John<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. in East Windsor Mar. 23, 1762, m. Lucy, dau. of Simeon and Lucy (Doolittle) Chapin. She was the granddaughter of Rev. Benjamin Doolittle. The children of Amzi, son of the foregoing Joseph Allen, are the third cousins of O. P. Allen. The following gives the record connecting the wife of Joseph Allen with the Doolittle-Chapin families: Simeon Chapin, son of Japhet, b. Aug. 20, 1739; m. Aug. 20, 1765, Lucy, dau. of Rev. Benjamin Doolittle of Northfield, Mass., b. July 15, 1741. She d. Sept. 2, 1824; he d. May 20, 1799. He was a Lieutenant in the Revolutionary Army, and settled in Chicopee. Mrs. Chapin possessed rare native talent, enhanced by every opportunity for cultivation, so that she became a valuable member of society.

The foregoing illustrations must suffice, although many other connections might be added, such as the alliances with the Roots, Stronges, Lymans, Bartletts, etc., whom O. P. Allen counts among his ancestors.

ORRIN PEER ALLEN

was born in Wallingford, Vt., Sept. 30, 1833, son of Dea. Robert and Eliza Paine (Doolittle) Allen, the line of descent being Orrin P.<sup>o</sup> Allen (Robert<sup>5</sup>, Robert<sup>4</sup>, Joseph<sup>3</sup>, Nathaniel<sup>2</sup>, Edward<sup>1</sup>), of Nantucket, who came from London, Eng., and settled there about 1690.

He points with reasonable pride to the fact of his descent from five Mayflower ancestors, viz: Gov. John Carver and wife, Katherine, son-in-law John Tilley, and granddaughter Elizabeth Tilley, who married John Howland. Besides these he numbers scores of worthy pioneer settlers of New England, too numerous to mention.

He finished his education at Chester Academy, Vermont, after which he taught school for several years in his native state, during which time he was elected superintendent of schools in his resident town, which position he resigned to take charge of a school in Hackensack, New Jersey, resigning which he came to Palmer in October, 1859, where he has since resided. In 1883, mainly through his efforts, a committee was appointed by the town of Palmer, of which he was the chairman, to gather material and have charge of publishing a history of the town, which was successfully accomplished in 1889. It was during this time that he became much interested in local history and in genealogy in general. So it came about that he has since gathered and published a large amount of local history, enough to form a large volume. He has prepared and published the Descendants of John Lee, Abraham Doolittle, John Fairman, William Scott of Hatfield,—including John Scott of Springfield,—and the first and second series of the Allen Memorial, which gives in the first, the descendants of Edward Allen of Nantucket, and in the second, the descendants of Samuel Allen of Windsor. The third of the series will give the Pioneer Allens of America, which is well under way. He also has in hand the Descendants of Nicholas Cady of Watertown. He has also compiled and published a History and Manual of the Second Congregational Church of Palmer, of which he is a member. He also gave the historical address of this church on the occasion of its Jubilee celebration in 1897, and again in 1907 on its sixtieth anniversary. He also gave the historical address on the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of Thomas Lodge of Masons of Palmer in 1896, and compiled the Memorial of the occasion for publication.

He was one of the founders of the Young Men's Library Association in 1878, of which he has since been one of the directors. In May, 1899, was founded the Palmer Historical Society, largely through his efforts, of which society he has since been the curator. Although he has been a member and an officer in various literary and other societies, he has declined to enter the political arena for the sake of office, but rather to quietly pursue the course of his chosen vocation.

Mr. Allen m. Feb. 20, 1860, Harriet Lyndon Maria Garvin of Boston. She d. in Palmer Feb. 25, 1862. He m. (2) June 16, 1863, Lucinda Elmina Scott, dau. of Eleazer Guernsey and Sarah A. (Noyes) Scott, of Vernon, Vt.

Ethan Allen, who with himself and Col. Seth Warner formed the three most earnest supporters of the rights of the early settlers in Vermont. While quite young he was apprenticed to a man who taught him the art of the joiner and mill work, as well as of letters and figures. In 1757 he enlisted as a soldier in our expedition against Canada. He was at the storming of the French lines when Abercrombie was defeated before Ticonderoga, where he displayed great bravery in the retreat of the Colonial forces. He removed to the New Hampshire Grants, now Vermont, in 1763, and soon after settled at Arlington, where he built mills, the first erected north of Bennington.* He was preparing, in connection with his cousin, Ira Allen, for the erection of mills on the Winooski Falls when the War of the Revolution commenced. In August 1775 he enlisted under Gen. Montgomery for the invasion of Canada, and being sent to reconnoiter the enemy's position at St. John's, he was shot by an Indian.† Thus ended the life of a brave and valuable man in the vigor of manhood.

While preparing the sketch of the Baker family a letter was received from Miss Margaret Clark Ripley of Randolph, Vt., claiming that her grandmother, Rachel Baker, was a cousin of Gen. Ethan Allen; if so, she must have been a daughter of one of the sons of John and Sarah Baker, and although I have as yet not been able to verify the statement, it seems quite probable and I gave the record as received from her: Rachel Baker was born about 1765 in Salisbury, Conn., and married about 1785, John Johnson, b. in Woodbury, Conn., Sept. 24, 1757, who was a soldier in the Revolution nearly eight years. Soon after marriage the couple removed from Connecticut to Sandgate, Vt., and later to Highgate, where they resided till death. She d. Feb. 9, 1848; he d. Apr. 17, 1850, in his 92d year. Their children were: Sarah, James, Rhoda, Nathaniel, Oliver, Solomon, John and Reuben. The above Rhoda Johnson, b. in Sandgate, Vt., May 16, 1790, m. Joshua West Ripley and was the mother of Margaret Clark Ripley. Her ancestry in the Ripley line has been so notably patriotic that it is given here in brief: The line begins with William<sup>1</sup> Ripley, who came from Windham, England, and settled in Hingham, Mass., in 1638. John<sup>2</sup> Ripley of Hingham, b. 1621, died 1684; m. Elisabeth, dau. of Rev. Peter Hobart of Hingham; served in King Philips' War. Jeremiah<sup>3</sup> Ripley of Hingham, Mass., and Windham, Conn., b. 1662; d. 1737; m. Mary Gager; served in King Philips' War. Jeremiah<sup>4</sup> Ripley of Windham, Conn., b. 1696; d. 1737; m. Abigail Carrey. Charles<sup>5</sup> Ripley of Windham, Conn., b. 1737; m. Tabitha Abbe. He was a soldier in the French and Indian War; also Lieutenant in the Revolution; was killed while a prisoner for refusing allegiance to the King, in 1778 or '79. John Abbe<sup>6</sup> Ripley of Windham, Conn., b. 1762; d. 1848; m. Margaret Clark; was a soldier in the Revolution. Joshua West<sup>7</sup> Ripley of Rockingham, Vt., b. there Nov. 3, 1794; d. Mar. 20, 1871; m. Rhoda Johnson Feb. 18, 1824. She d. in Randolph, Vt., Nov. 2, 1865; their two children were: Paschal Paola<sup>8</sup> Ripley, b. in Highgate, Vt., 1825, d. 1893, m. B. Scully of Burlington, Vt., served in Rebellion, Co. K, 3d Vt. Vols., musician of Highgate; and Margaret Clark<sup>8</sup> Ripley, b. 1832, unm., resides in Randolph, Vt.

COL. SETH WARNER, one of the members of that grand trio of Green Mountain heroes, was the son of Dr. Benjamin Warner (as noted above) and removed from Connecticut with his father to Bennington in 1665, where he soon took a prominent part in defending the rights of the settlers against the demands of New York. His muscular and commanding presence fitted him for a born leader of men, as well as the counterpart of Col. Warrington, the hero of that interesting romance, "The Green Mountain Boys," by Thompson, which so delighted our boyhood days. Seth Warner was the nephew of Tamar, the daughter of Dr. Ebenezer Warner, who was the mother of Capt. Remember Baker. Thus the three heroes — Allen, Baker and Warner — were bound by the ties of friendship and a sort of relationship. These combined qualities of these sturdy men eminently fitted them for the fierce struggle thrust upon them by fate, and their names will be forever treasured by a grateful posterity. Gen. Ethan Allen has been immortalized in marble; Capt. Remember Baker deserves to be and I trust will be so remembered; Col. Seth Warner has been honored by his native state,—a monument of Quincy granite was erected on the Center Green in Roxbury Apr. 30, 1859, to him, with these inscriptions on the four panels:

ON THE EAST (FRONT) SIDE IS INSCRIBED:

COL. SETH WARNER OF THE ARMY OF THE REVOLUTION, BORN IN ROXBURY, CT., MAY 17, 1743. A RESIDENT OF BENNINGTON, VT., FROM 1765 TO 1784; DIED IN HIS NATIVE PARISH DEC. 26, 1784.

ON THE NORTH SIDE APPEARS:

CAPTOR OF CROWN POINT, COMMANDER OF THE GREEN MOUNTAIN BOYS IN THE REPULSE OF CARLETON AT LONQUILL AND AT THE BATTLE OF HUBBARDSTON, AND THE ASSOCIATE OF STARK IN THE VICTORY AT BENNINGTON.

ON THE SOUTH SIDE IS INSCRIBED:

DISTINGUISHED AS A SUCCESSFUL DEFENDER OF THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GRANTS, AND FOR BRAVERY, SAGACITY, ENERGY AND HUMANITY AS A PARTISAN OFFICER IN THE WAR OF THE REVOLUTION.

ON THE WEST SIDE APPEARS:

HIS REMAINS ARE DEPOSITED UNDER THIS MONUMENT, ERECTED BY THE ORDER OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF CONNECTICUT, A. D. 1859.*

DESCENDANTS OF SAMUEL AND LUCY CAROLINE (ALLEN) HITCHCOCK.

A FAMILY well deserving an honored niche in this volume; sons and daughters are widely known to fame.

Judge Hitchcock was the fourth son of Noah and Mary (Burt) Hitchcock. He fitted for college with Rev. James Bridgman of Brimfield, Mass., and graduated from Harvard in 1777; he then read law with Hon. Jedediah Foster of Brookfield, Mass., and was admitted to the practice of law in Worcester, Mass. He removed to Burlington, Vt., about 1786. He removed to Vergennes in 1794, remaining there till 1806, when he returned to Burlington, where he spent the remainder of his life. He was the first state's attorney appointed in Chittendon County, which office he held from 1787 to 1790. He represented the town of Burlington in the Legislature of 1779-90-91 and 93. He was one of the founders of the University of Vermont in 1791. He was Attorney General of Vermont from 1790 to 1793. He was Judge of the District Court of the U. S. for the District of Vermont, and held the office until the repeal of the judiciary act. Judge Hitchcock was a ripe scholar and a man of rare ability, and was conspicuous at the bar and in the social circle.

and Iron Co., of which he was made president; also president of the Chicago and Texas R. R. Co. of Illinois. He has also been president of the Commercial Club. Mr. Hitchcock was a personal friend of President McKinley, who selected him for minister to Russia in 1897; the appointment was received with much favor by the press as an eminently fitting one, for Mr. Hitchcock was known as a gentleman of extensive experience with the world, possessed of keen, practical business intelligence and having a commanding presence, fitted to shine in any position. The post was considered one of the most important in Europe, and was raised to the rank of an embassy in 1898, when Mr. Hitchcock was reappointed to fill the new position as ambassador. On December 21, 1898, he received the appointment of Secretary of the Interior, which position he accepted, and after maintaining a most honorable record retired by his own wish March 4, 1907. He retired with the well wishes of all those who love honest government.

DESCENDANTS OF DR. JABEZ AND FRANCES (ALLEN) PENNIMAN.

THE compiler has deemed it best to include the history of the descendants of this interesting family because of its intimate connection with the family of Gen. Ethan Allen. The data has been almost wholly derived from the records of the families set forth through personal correspondence, and has not been previously published.

DR. JABEZ<sup>4</sup> PENNIMAN (Jesse<sup>3</sup>, Joseph<sup>2</sup>, James<sup>1</sup>, the emigrant in 1631), b. in Connecticut Sept. 28, 1764; m. Oct. 28, 1793, Mrs. Frances Allen, the widow of Gen. Ethan Allen. She d. Oct. 13, 1834. He m. (2) Mar. 2, 1836, Mrs. Cynthia Marvin. She d. Feb.,

1859; he d. Sept. 8, 1841. Dr. Penniman was a resident of Westminster, Vt., when the young widow of Ethan Allen came back there to reside with her mother; in the course of time he formed her acquaintance, which resulted in their union. In 1801 Dr. Penniman was appointed collector of customs at Swanton, Vt., which office he held until 1809, when he purchased a farm in Colchester near the high bridge which spans the Winooski river some two miles from Burlington, where he spent the remainder of his life. He served the town as clerk and representative; he was also Judge of Probate for the county several years.

Mrs. Penniman retained much of the beauty of youth to the last, as well as the refined air which had so charmed society in other days. She was quite an adept in botany and had the rarest collection of plants known in those days, both in the house and garden, to which she gave much attention. In the latter part of her life she went into society but little, although often urged to do so by her husband. Mrs. Brinegar, a granddaughter of Mrs. Penniman, from whom I have the above, says she always looked upon her grandmother with great reverence in her childhood, when she was permitted to visit her; she also speaks of a fine old portrait painted by Copley of Mrs. Penniman when she was ten years old. It used to hang on the wall in the old Penniman house, and was in the possession of Luther L. Penniman of Colchester, Vt., a few years also, from which the writer has had a copy taken.

DESCENDANTS OF SAMUEL ALLEN.

Children of Samuel and Ann Allen.

The order of their birth is uncertain, but using the dates of their marriages as a basis, the following is probably the order :

2. I. Samuel, b. 1634, as given by various writers.
3. II. Nehemiah.
4. III. John.
- IV. Rebecca, unm; d. May 8, 1697, at Northampton.
- V. Mary, said to have died young.
- VI. Obadiah.*
- VII. Child, d. as noted in Matthew Grant's report of persons who died in Windsor in 1648 or before.

2. SAMUEL<sup>2</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. 1634; m. Nov. 29, 1659, Hannah, dau. of Thomas and Mary (Blott) Woodford of Northampton. Mary Blott was a dau. of Robert. "Samuel Allen came to Northampton in 1657. A public meeting of the settlers held Dec. 19, 1657, assigned him a home lot on King street. The house soon reared upon it, having received at intervals many additions and improvements, stood on the left hand corner of what is now called Edwards street, but formerly by name less historic, viz: Back Lane. In 1659, the house being in readiness, he married the daughter of his next neighbor on the south. This homestead remained in the line of his descendants till 1805, a period of 150 years.† He was made freeman 1683. He died in Northampton Oct. 18, 1719.

DESCENDANTS OF SAMUEL ALLEN.

6. JOSEPH<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Sept. 11, 1672; d. Sept. 27, 1695, Elizabeth, dau. of Micah Mudge. He d. at Northampton Dec. 27, 1703. Power of administration on his estate was granted his widow Elizabeth Feb. 6, 1704; property inventoried at £194-3-6.

Children:

- I. Joseph, b. May —, 1696; d. Mar. 4, 1707.
- II. Ebenezer, b. May 13, 1698.
- III. Elizabeth, b. Oct. 24, 1700; m. probably Jan. 2, 1727, Nehemiah Lee.
- IV. Noah, b. Oct. —, 1703; drowned in Conn. river, Apr. 24, 1725.

7. DEA. SAMUEL<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. July 6, 1675; m. Feb. 20, 1699, Sarah, daughter of Israel and Rebecca (Clark) Rust, b. May 29, 1675. He d. in Northampton Mar. 29, 1739; she d. Sept. 8, 1746. His will, made Oct. 8, 1736, was probated Apr. 10, 1739. He was a deacon in Rev. Jonathan Edwards's church and resided next door to him on King street, Northampton.

Children:

16. I. Jonathan, b. 1700.
- II. Sarah, b. Dec. 5, 1701; m. Jan. 2, 1727, Jonathan Miller.
- III. Samuel, b. Oct. 6, 1703; d. Oct. 18, 1703.
17. IV. Samuel, b. Aug. 4, 1706.
18. V. Joseph, b. Apr. 5, 1712.
- 18½. VI. Hannah, b. Dec. 1, 1714.
19. VII. Experience.

8. THOMAS<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Feb., 1680-1. Have been unable to find any record of his marriage, but in his will, made June 28, 1754, he alludes to first wife and to children of second wife deceased, from which we may infer that he had no living children at that time. He probably died soon after 1754. In his will he devised certain amounts to the following, viz: "To my nephew Jonathan Allen of Middletown; nephew Samuel Allen of New Marlboro; niece Thankful Alexander; Thomas Holton of Farmington; Samuel Fairfield and Patience Severance, wife of Martin Severance; Mary, wife of Joseph Stebbins of Northfield, and dau. of my wife late deceased; Ebenezer Williams of Hadley, son of my late dear wife; my niece Mary, wife of Daniel King of Northampton, for care of my first wife; Thomas Allen, son of my nephew Joseph Allen, £133-6-8, to assist him in obtaining a liberal education at one of the colleges." (This alludes to the future Rev Thomas Allen of Pittsfield). Joseph Allen, his nephew, was made executor of his will (see book 8, page 96, Probate Records at Northampton).

With the aid of the above will and published genealogies it seems that Thomas Allen's second wife was Sarah, dau. of William Arms, b. Nov. 21, 1681, who had m. May 2, 1700, Zebediah Williams; she m. (2) Jan. 28, 1707-8, Samuel Jones of Northfield, and m. (3) Thomas Allen, date not given.

9. MINDWELL<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Feb. 11, 1683 m. Thomas Holton of Northfield, b. Oct. 23, 1681. He was killed by the Indians Aug. 23, 1723. She m. (2) after 1726 Danie Chapin. She d. Oct. 21, 1758.

Children:

- I. Joshua Holton, b. about 1703; killed by Indians Apr 26, 1746.
- II. Thomas Holton, b. about 1705; settled in Dummerston, Vt.
- III. Hannah Holton, b. about 1707.
- IV. Mundwell Holton, b. about 1712; m. Dec. 19, 1734, Josiah Chapin; d. Oct. 8, 1746.
- V. Ithama Holton, d. Dec. 4, 1713 (vide Hist. Northfield).

10. SAMUEL<sup>3</sup> ALLEN (Nehemiah<sup>2</sup>, Samuel<sup>1</sup>), b. Jan. 3, 1665-6 m. Mercy Wright, b. Mar. 14, 1669, dau. of Judah and Mercy Wright of Northampton.* Mercy, wife of Judah Wright, was the daughter of Henry and Eulalia Burt, the English emigrants to Springfield, Mass.† Samuel Allen was first of Northampton; he removed thence to Deerfield, where on Dec. 8, 1705, he bought of Samuel Carter the lot later known as the Dr. Willard place, now opposite the Unitarian church. Carter had bought the place in 1694 with a house on it. The present Dr. Willard house was built in 1768 by Joseph Barnard. In the rear of this house is a small ell, *Dea. Samuel Wright, the emigrant, was descended from John Wright of Kelvedon Co. Essex, Eng., and is found in Springfield, Mass., Dec. 12, 1639, where he soon became deacon of the first church there. He removed to Northampton in 1655, and died there in 1665, survived by widow Margaret; had eight children, of whom Judah, b. May 10, 1642, was the father of Mercy, wife of Samuel Allen (N. E. Gen. Register, vol. 4, p. 355).
