ROBERT SUMNER ALBEE

Robert Sumner Albee, junior administrative assistant in the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, died June 17, 1926. He had been continuously employed in the department for about 20 years except for a short period in 1918. Since September, 1918, he was head of the book-binding work in the section of accounts.

Mr. Albee was born in Oshkosh, Wis., July 19, 1873. He received his early training at Wisconsin State Normal School, of which his father, an educator of distinction, was president. He later entered the University of Michigan and after receiving the degree of B. S. in general sciences entered Cornell University, where he received the degrees of LL. B. and M. A. While secretary to Andrew D. White, former Ambassador to Germany, for two and one-half years, he studied at the University of Berlin and later traveled with Mr. White on the Continent.

Upon his return to the United States Mr. Albee practiced law in Buffalo and later opened an office in Galveston, Tex. He was in Galveston during the great flood and rendered valuable assistance in that crisis.

Mr. Albee's professional training, experience, and services were of an unusual order and his personal characteristics made him esteemed and respected by all.

ALBY FAMILY RECORDS.

The anonymous author of THE NORMAN PEOPLE, published in London 1874, gives a list of Norman names, taken from the official lists of Somerset House, and writes that ALBY and ALBEE are identical, both being derived from Auby, a town near Douay in Normandy. He finds the first mention of the name in England in the 12th century, when Everard d'Albe witnessed a charter of Studley, Oxford. He adds, "This is a different family from that of Dalby, as appears by the arms," and says, "Robert de Albi was of Normandy 1180," quoting Magn. Rotul. Soaccarii Normanniae in the Memoires de la Societe des Antiquaires de la Normandie t. 15-17.

The family is therefore of Norman or French origin, and some of its members were in England within one or two centuries after the Norman Conquest in 1066.

Robertus Albus is recorded as possessor of three hides of land in Northamptonshire in the Domesday Book, 1080. The name Albus appears on the records of 1261. In 1275 the heirs to the estate of Jacobus Albus de Karliolo, Cumberland were his granddaughters Elizabeth, of age, and Johanna, aged eleven. It is not certain that there is any connection between the names Alby and Albus, however.

The Calendar of the Patent Rolls notes that, "April 7 1263--Conway--Commissioner of oyer and terminer to Thomas (de Wayland) and Thomas de Sancto Vigore, touching an appeal which Geoffrey Gilberd of Nottingham brings in the county of Somerset against . . . Walph Albe," and others. "Feb. 21 1334--York--Matilda, late the wife of Robert Banyard, going on pilgrimage to Santiago, has letters nominating Roger de Norton and William de Alby her attorneys in England until Michaelmas." "Nov 5 1380--Northampton. Pardon of outlawry to John Staunford of Tamworth, co. Warwick, for not appearing to answer Thomas Alby, citizen and merchant of London, and Edmund Alderford, mercer of London, touching debts of 6 pounds 6 shillings 8 pence and 15 pounds respectively. London." "May 22 1477, Westminster--Grant to the King's servitor Thomas Howard, one of the esquires of the body, of the office of steward of the manor of Alby, c. Norfolk." Other references to the manor of Alby in Norfolk are found as far back as the reign of Edward I. 1272-1307. It is today a parish in Norfolk.

From the Calendar of Close Rolls: "March 12 1339--Winchester--To William Tressell, escheator this side Trent. Order to deliver the following advowsons to Edward de Monte Acuto and Alice his wife, daughter and heir of Thomas Earl of Norfolk, which the King has assigned to them, to wit: . . . that of Weybrigge priory, co. Norfolk, extended to 40 s. yearly; . . . that of Alby church, in the same county, extended to 10 marks yearly."

The name Roger de Alby (no trade given) appears in the Calendar of the Freeman of Norwich from 1317 to 1603 about 1353.

From the Calendar of Papal Registers: "Papal Letters III., 2 Id. Feb. 1350. Clement de Alby, priest, of the diocese of Norwich," given an indulgence to choose a confessor, to give him, "being penitent, ~~plena~~ plenary remission at the hour of death, with the usual safeguards."

The will of John Lunte, county Suffolk, dated Jan 20 1469/1470, appoints William Alby an executor. The records of Holbrook, the parish where John Lunte died, extend back only to 1560.

Bromfield's HISTORY OF NORFOLK COUNTY says: "The troubles now (1637) increasing in the church, by means of many schismatical and factious persons that were for innovations both in church and State, many of them could not push on their designs to a crisis so early as they wished, as Mr. Peck, Mr. Albee, Mr. Ward, Mr. Bridges, etc., being opposed in their proceedings by Bishop Wren, went voluntarily beyond the sea, some to Holland, some to New England, and others to divers places."

The will of William Fiske of Pakenham, Suffolk, dated March 20 1648, gives to John Alby of Norwich, his cousin, forty shillings yearly during his life.

Henry Alby of George Ally was buried Sep 11 1723 in ground given in the Parish of St. James, Clerkenwell.

Burke's General Armory of England gives two coats-of-arms under the name Alby: (1) a red shield crossed by a horizontal band checkered blue and gold, with two golden fleurs-de-lys above and one below the band; (2) a shield bearing six vertical stripes alternately blue and gold. A reproduction of the first, made into a rug design, illustrates an article on rug making in the American REVIEW OF REVIEWS written by Mrs. Helen R. Albee.

The Albee Family in America.

Benjamin Albee exchanged land in Boston for "three lots on the mount" in 1640. He is probably the same Benjamin Albee who was present at a town meeting in Braintree, Mass. Feb 25 1641, was made a freeman of Braintree on May 18 1642, who inventoried the estate of Moses Paine of Braintree Oct 30 1643, who witnessed a will of Henry Adams of Braintree June 8 1647, who inventoried the estate of John Sheppard of Braintree Sep 22 1650, and who sold to John Hull 280 acres of land in Braintree Nov 25 1657, he and his wife signing the deed "Benjamin Alby" and "Hannah Alby."

John Albee of Braintree, Mass. lost a servant, Francis Brown, by death in 1640, was present at a town meeting in Braintree Dec 19 1640 and at another Dec 19 1641, and was made a freeman of Braintree May 10 1642 or May 10 1643. The John Albee who witnessed a conveyance of land in Charlestown, Mass. in 1654 may be the same man.

All Albees in America whose ancestry can be traced back to 1700 are descendants of Benjamin Albee of Braintree and of his son James. Either he or John Albee of Braintree was probably the "Mr. Albee" referred to above who left Norfolk county in England in 1637.

There is a tradition among his descendants that Eleazer Albee, a soldier in the Revolution born about 1758 who died in Dorset, Vt. Mar 3 1831 was the son of an immigrant from France to Rhode Island.

Otis J. Albee of Lawrence, Cal. wrote in 1895 that he came from England, and was adopted at Wolverhampton by a family named Albee. He left them when he was eight years old, so could tell nothing of that family, and in 1897 there was no family by the name of Albee living in Wolverhampton.

Alexander Albee, who was living in Cambridge, Mass. in 1899 was born in Marseilles, France in 1851 and came to America in 1869.

THE NORMAN PEOPLE, above referred to, says that the name was originally spelled d'Alby, later Alby and Albee. Benjamin Albee of Braintree signed his name Alby in at least one instance. Contemporary records spell his name Alby, Albye, Albee and Allbe. His descendants spelled the name Albee in the late in the eighteenth century. In 1771 Ebenezer Albee of Townsend, Mass., signed his name Allbe to a deed of land, and most of his descendants spelled the name Allbee; but the records of Townsend and the Census of 1790 spell his name Albee. About the same time, an Albee family in Maine began spelling the name Allbee. Elery Allbee who was born in 1787 and died in 1852 changed the spelling of his name of Albee to Allbe, and several of his relatives followed his example. Francis Taft Albee, who was born in 1812 and died in 1896 changed the spelling of his name from Albee to Alba, and Aaron Albee who was born in 1792 and died in 1847 also changed his name from Albee to Alba. A few have changed the spelling to Alby and Albe in recent years.

The name Albee is pronounced with the first syllable like that of Albany except by a few families who have recently begun pronouncing it like the first syllable of Albert.

Early Rhode Island records mention persons named Allebee and Albey, who may or may not be related to Benjamin Albee of Braintree. An Albey family numerous in New Jersey is descended from a German named Michell Albey, whose name is supposed to have been Abbe originally. Another German family in southern Wisconsin spell the name Alby, and another German family with representatives in Valparaiso, Ind. and in Chicago spell the name Albe.

Albee in Saginaw Co., Mich. was named after William Clinton Albee, who was born in 1833 and died in 1878; and Albee, South Dakota was named after William Cram Albee, who was born in 1855. Probably Albee, Oregon was also named after him.

1 BENJAMIN ALBEE, above referred to, was in Boston, Mass. 1640 and lived in Braintree, Mass. from 1641 until about 1650, when he removed to Medfield, Mass., although he did not dispose of all his land in Braintree until 1657. According to Ballou's HISTORY OF MILFORD, MASS., Benjamin Albee agreed in 1664 with the superintending committee of Quinsipaug Plantation to erect and maintain for the plantation a mill on Mill River in the new town of Mendon, Mass., the first waterpower mill for grinding grain in all that region, and they granted him a bounty of fifty acres of land. The HISTORY OF MILFORD says, "He was a very enterprising man, a public land surveyor, and much employed in the laying out of ways, lots and common lands in early times. He was made one of Mendon's first selectmen in 1667, and held other responsible offices. When King Philip's War broke out in 1675, he fled eastward with the Mendon fugitives, and all their buildings were burned by the Indians." He is believed not to have returned farther than Medfield, where he probably died. All his Mendon property passed into the hands of his son James. His wife's name was Hannah, and he had at least seven children, the births of four of whom are recorded:

1 Hannah b. Braintree Aug 16 1641 d. Medfield Apr 24 1723; m. Medfield Mar 25 1663 Samuel Wight b. Dedham, Mass. Feb 5 1639 d. Medfield Dec 21 1716 son of Thomas and Alice Wight.

2 Lydia b. Braintree Apr 14 1642; m. Medfield Oct 30 1658 Alexander Lovell.

3 Prudence m. Medfield May 16 1666 Thomas Barnes of Swansea, Mass. d. June 8 1706.

4 James. See below.

5 John d. Mendon July 14 1675; m. Medfield Oct 18 1671 Jane Holbrooke. Letters of administration were granted to his widow in Suffolk Co., Mass. the 10th day of the 9th month 1675 for herself and two children. No further record of his family has been found, and the HISTORY OF MILFORD gives no authority for listing John as a son of Benjamin. Since he was married in the same town and on the same day as ~~his brother~~ James, it is likely that they were brothers.

6 Sarah b. Medfield Mar 11 1653. No further record.

7 Benjamin b. Medfield 1653. No further record. See below.

14 JAMES ALBEE was probably born in Braintree, Mass. between 1641 and 1650; but no record of his birth has been found. The History of Milford says, "He was undoubtedly a man of large landed possessions and social influence." No record of his death has been found; but he was living as late as Mar 26 1717 when he executed a gift deed of land to his dau. Lydia and her husband. He m. Medfield, Mass. 2 JOHN ALBEE, husbandman, bought land in Townsend, Mass. (then called North Town) in 1731 and d. there Feb 15 1744; m. Groton, Mass. Apr 25 1732 Abigail Searle of North Town. His widow was appointed administrator of his estate, and she was living in 1764. One item in her accounts shows the payment of 17 pounds to James Albee, and in 1763 she was allowed 120 pounds "for bringing up her husband's children till 7 years of age and for the care of her sickly daughter." In 1764 the estate was divided between the widow and her son Ebenezer. It is possible that John Albee may have been the John Albee who was born in Medfield, Mass. Aug 3 1678, whose brother James was born in Mendon, Mass. Mar 11 1681. Children:

- 1 Elizabeth b. Townsend Apr 7 1733; m. Groton May 29 1755 Jonas Sawtelle
- 2 John b. Townsend Feb 14 1734. No further record.

The only Jason Williams whose birth is recorded in Cambridge was b. there Nov 1 1694, son of John and Mary Williams. If he ~~xxxxxx~~ was the Jason Williams who m. Abigail Albee, it is likely that he m. John Albee's widow Abigail, not her daughter Abigail.
- 4 Benjamin b. Townsend Dec 17 1736. No further record.
- 5 Eleazer b. Townsend Feb 20 1740 was living Nov 19 1759, when a guardian was appointed, chosen by himself. No further record.

5 ELEAZER ALBEE was a resident of Uxbridge, Mass. when his intention to marry Mary Shippee of Smithfield, County of Providence" was recorded there July 30 1743. He m. Smithfield (now Lincoln), R.I. Nov 8 1743 Mercy Shippee, and five of their children were baptized at a church in what is now Milford, then Mendon, Mass. It is likely that the Lydia Albee "daughter of Eleazer Albee Jr. of Douglass, Mass." who m. Smithfield Mar 5 1773 Aaron Ballou was a daughter, in which case it is probable that his father's name was also Eleazer Albee; but confirmation of the record is lacking. According to the Ballou Genealogy, Lydia Albee was b. Sep 17 1745 and d. Galway, N.Y. Jan 20 1833. The records of births, marriages and deaths in Douglass make no mention of the family; not have birth records of Eleazer's children been found elsewhere. It is likely that he was the Eleazer Albee who m. Uxbridge Aug 27 1767 Dorcas Daniels. Children:

54 ELEAZER ALBEE, soldier in the Revolution, farmer, was born about 1758 according to the age given in his application for a pension, and was baptized in Mendon, Mass. Sep 3 1758. The tradition that his father was born in France and settled in Rhode Island seems doubtful. He served in the Revolution as a privateer, was taken prisoner, escaped, and then, acting on the advice of an officer, reenlisted under the name John Albee. According to the ~~Ballou~~ Ballou Genealogy, he m. Zerviah Ballou b. Wrentham, Mass. May 3 1764 d. Nov 6 1828 dau of Jesse and Rhoda (Salisbury) Ballou.
