EXPLANATIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS

The method of showing descent used in this work is similar to that used by Hayden in his Virginia Genealogies, and will be readily understood by anyone who will examine the illustration that follows. On page 119, the children of (65) ROBERT BRENT, are numbered first by Arabic numerals beginning with 82 and ending with 89: then by Roman numerals I thru VIII. The first child is given thus: + 82 I George. The plus sign indicates the continuation of his record as the head of a family on page 132; the number 82 is his family number, and the letter I is the number of his order of birth. By turning to page 132, he will be found recorded as the head of a family, his record reading thus, paraphrased: (82) GEORGE BRENT, 7th generation, son of Robert, 6th generation, George 5th generation, Robert 4th generation etc. However, the easiest way to find your line is to look in the index and find the name of your known ancestor, and follow his number back to the immigrant. This work is fully indexed.

FOREWORD

In 1936, after twenty years of odd-time research, I published The Descendants of Hugh Brent etc. In collecting this data, I had to study all records where the name BRENT was mentioned. As the Hugh Brent genealogy was a pioneer study with many of my own family registers to draw from, the task was much easier than this present one.

So much has been printed and accepted, some based on fact and some on wishful thinking, over a long period of years, concerning Giles and George Brent, that one who attempts to do a complete job, hesitates to write Finis to his work.

I have accepted the data compiled about 1740 by George Brent (44) and published by George Fitzhugh in De Bow's Review, July 1859; and the later work of William Brent Chilton as published in the Virginia Magazine of History & Biography, as the basis of this genealogy. I have had, thru the generosity of Mr. H. G. Hunt, access to Mr. Chilton's data. The latter notes had been carried on from George (44) by Daniel Carroll Brent (85), and John Carroll Brent (127). To this I have added the records now extant in the counties of Northumberland, Lancaster, Westmoreland, Stafford, Prince William and Fairfax; also some church parish registers, and data from family Bibles from Maryland, Virginia, Florida, Louisiana, New York and Michigan.

A few years ago, Mrs. Duncan Kenner Brent loaned me the data on the Origin of the Brent Family made 1932. This had been thoroughly checked as the notes herewith printed show.

The use of hereditary surnames did not come into general use until the 13th century, and it is always rather difficult to impress upon people the fact that all persons of the same surname do not necessarily descend from a common ancestor of that name. This is rather well illustrated in this case by the entry in the Somerset Plea Rolls relating to Richard de Brent, son of Adam de Thurburn, in 1225. In spite of the fact that at that time there were living in Somerset a Robert de Brente and a Richard de Brent, they were not apparently related. The reason of course is that in neither case in the de Brente—the former as we now know was a grandson of Sauvin de Turre, and the latter son of Adam de Thurburn, was de Brent a surname. But in the case of Robert, the de Brent became an hereditary surname after successive generations had been of Brent—meaning Lords or Owners of Brent, in Somerset.

The first Robert de Brent was a tenant of the Abbey of Glastonbury. The land grants to him in South Brent were made about 1240, and were in the nature of a confirmation of a previous grant made about 1170-80 to his grandfather Sauvin de Turre, who held the office of Porter to the Abbot at that time. Glastonbury Abbey was one of the most ancient Religious Houses in England. In fact, tradition has it that it was founded by Joseph of Aramathea in the first century A. D. However, that may be, there is definite records of the Abbey's existence from the sixth century; and in the thirteenth century it was one of the richest monasteries in England. The Office of Porter to the Abbott, therefore, was a position of some note.

It has been published in some genealogical works without offering any substantiating data whatever, that Anne, younger sister of Giles and Margaret Brent, married Gov. Leonard Calvert of Maryland. Considering the closeness of both business and friendly relations between these two families in Maryland, it appears odd that the Maryland records show nothing relative to this marriage, even though the children of Leonard Calvert came to Maryland after his death and married and died there. Anne Calvert married for her second husband Henry Brent, a nephew of Giles and Margaret Brent. Margaret Brent names several neices and nephews in her will, but not the Calverts.

No authority can be found for these three children given to the first Giles Brent: Katherine, Henry and Margaret. They are not named in the father's will, nor in that of his sister, Margaret. Katherine is given as marrying Richard Marsham. Richard Marsham was the third husband of the much-married Ann Calvert; the first having been Baker Brooke, and the second, as stated above, was Henry Brent (17).

It has been suggested by some members of this family that Martin de Turre was the son of Odo, Prince Bishop of Bayeaux, and later Earl of Kent 1067, and half brother of William the Conqueror. However, no evidence has been proffered to substantiate this claim, nor has a search been made by this compiler.

Much unwarranted criticism has been made of Giles Brent's aggrandisement and land grabbing tactics. But one would have to understand conditions in England and also in Maryland and Virginia, to properly evaluate the situation. His father's large estates in Gloucestershire had been sequestered by the Stuart dynasty, because the Brents were Catholics. After Giles arrived in Maryland he was sorely beset by the vacillating policies of Lord Baltimore, and the frequent raids made by Virginia's jealous Claiborne. Then came the Puritans.

His marriage to the very young Indian empress, it solely for the expected inheritance of her father's lands, was in no wise peculiar to the custom of the times then, or even of today; he, at least, after failing to gain her father's estate, continued to live with her, raised a family, and when he could no longer suffer the conditions in Maryland, moved across the Potomac into the Virginia wilderness, and established a large estate for himself there.

He has never received his proper due for opening up this Chickoun country to the white settlers; and it is very doubtful that anyone else with a less friendly understanding of the Indians could have done it so successfully. His home, first at Peace, and later at Retirement, was a sort of white outpost on the freshes of the Potomac, where all later settlers from the south stopped on their way to patent new lands and build new homes.

It will be noticed that not every person listed in this work has a family number. This was caused by the late reception of data, and a haunting fear that mistakes would crop out by changing and copying. All family lines carried to completion do have numbers, however.

To those who were very gracious with their help, I thank most sincerely: Mr. H. G. Hunt, Washington D. C.; Dr. G. M. G. Stafford, Baton Rouge, La.; Miss Catherine M. Neale, New York; Mr. Clayton Torrence, Virginia Historical Society, Richmond; Mrs. Richard Robbins Kane, Baltimore; Mrs. Hally Carrington Brent, Ruxton, Maryland, and Colonel William Lyster, Washington D. C.

THE ORIGIN OF THE BRENT FAMILY

The descent of Robert de Brent from Martin de Turre, Lord of Kemys in Pembrokeshire, with references to the sources of information.

1. It is recorded in the Chartularies of Bruton and Montacute that Martin de Turre, (Tur, Turres, Tor) was Lord of Kemys in Pembrokeshire 1080. Whether he came from Normandy at the time of the Conquest we have no clue, except that the name Martin would indicate such to be the case. He married Geva, daughter and heiress of Serlo de Burci, a tenant in chief at the time of the Domesday Survey in Somerset and Dorset (a). Martin died before 1086, and his widow married William de Falaise (b)

2. Robert fitz Martin, son and heir, succeeded to his father's lands at Low Ham, Pylle and elsewhere, which lands had been held in 1086 by his grandfather Serlo de Burci of the Abbot of Glastonbury (c). He was benefactor of various monasteries, giving land at Compton to Goldcliffe Priory and the church of Stanley, in Wiltshire, and the manor of Teignton to Montacute Priory, in Somerset, for the good of the souls of Martin his father and Geva his mother. He founded the Abbey of St. Dogmel on his land in Kemys in Pembrokeshire, Wales, in about 1118, and later made several grants to the Abbey (d). At about the same time Robert fitz Martin and Maude Peverell his wife, granted to the Abbey of Savigny in Normandy, land which had belonged to William Peverell (e). In 1135 Robert joined with other Norman lords in South Wales in resisting the sons of Gruffyd (f). His wife Maude (either daughter or widow of William Peverell) predeceased him, and he married secondly Alice, daughter of Roger de Nonant of Broad Clyst, county Devon. This Roger's name appears on the Pipe Rolls of Somerset, Dorset and Wilts down the ninth year of the reign of Henry II

(1150) (g). His widow married again before 1175 without the King's license, for which trespass she forfeited her lands in Dartington and Holne (h). (Dartington had belonged to William de Falaise in 1086, and Holne was part of the estate of Roger de Nonant).

3. William fitz Robert de Turre, son of Robert fitz Martin by Maude his wife, held Dartington, Bladgon and other manors in 1212 (j), and married Angbarad, daughter of Rhees ap Griffith, Prince of South Wales; he married secondly, Avice de Toritan, sister of Fulk de Brent. He died before 15 February 1215-6, when the custody of his lands and of his heir Nicholas was granted to his brother-in-law, Fulk de Brent (k). This William fitz Robert had four sons, Nicholas fitz Martin, his heir, Robert fitz William, William fitz William and Sauvigny fitz William, all of whom were minors at the time of their father's death (l).

4. Nicholas fitz Martin, son and heir of William by Avice his wife was, as stated above, in the wardship of Fulk de Brent during his minority (k). In 1235 he was assessed for lands in Somerset and Dorset, and in about 1225 he confirmed to the burgesses of Newport, Pembrokeshire, all their rights and liberties, to which his brother Sauvinius fitz William was a witness (1). He married a daughter of Guy de Brien and had a son Nicholas who died in his father's lifetime, leaving a son William.

4. Sauvinius fitz William de Turre, younger brother of Nicholas fitz Martin, was granted lands by the Abbot of Glastonbury (m); this grant names three generations and likewise covers the transition of the name from de Turre to de Brent; viz:

Grant by Michael, Abbot of Glastonbury (1235-1252), to Robert de Brente, of lands in South Brent, formerly granted by Henry the Abbott (i.e., Henry de Blois, who was Abbot of Glastonbury 1166 to 1189) to Sauvin de Turre, Grandfather of the said Robert de Brente, as part

6. Robert de Brent, who held by charter from Michael de Ambresbury, Abbot of Glastonbury, his lands in South Brent, at a rent of three shillings and three pence (n). At Wells he is listed as Free Tenant, and holds half a knight's fee, and gives scutage money to the Lord Abbot (n). At South Brent he holds of the Abbott . . . a Knight's Fee. Extracts from Proofs relating to the Ancient Lordship of Kemes in the County of Pembroke, written in 1590 by George Owen of Henllys, and published in 1870 by the Cambrian Archaeological Association.

First the lordship was conquered by some of the Norman or English Lords it appeartth; for it came to the descendants of Martyn de Tours who were many years lords thereof as can be seen by the Charter of Newport and many others. Which family were Devonshiremen and held lands elsewhere in England as well Another proof is that the same was conquered by Englishmen in time past, that Normans and Englishmen in old time inhabited Newport town, as the ancient names as well of men as of places in and about the town declareth: as of the men these were names, Mendus, Roger, Brian, Martyn, Etc.; also these names of places, Lamans Kill, Hickman's Crosse, Brownes Cliffe, Clerkenwell, etc.; the which names are all English names and not Welsh names, although the people have now become Welsh in speech. Also the town being called Newport in English, and Nova Burgum in Latin sheweth it to be a name given by an Englishman or Norman. . . .

And these were the first Lords of Kemys:—

Martin de Tours, a Norman, who making a conquest of Kemys, in Pembrokeshire, founded a monastery at St. Dogmels, which Robert his son endowed with lands in the time of King Henry I (1100-1135). This Robert married Maud Peverell, and had a son William, who married a daughter of Rhees ap Griffith, Prince of South Wales. This William succeeded to his fathers lands in 1210 and died in 1216 leaving an infant son Nicholas who was then in the wardship of Fulk de Brent. Nicholas married Maud, daughter of Guy de Brian (by Eva his wife, daughter of Henry de Tracy, lord of Barnstaple, in Devon) by whom he acquired large possiessions in that county. He was succeeded by his grandson William (son of Nicholas who died in his father's lifetime), who married Elenor daughter of William de Mohun, and had issue."

THE BARONY OF KEMES OR KEMYS.

It may not perhaps be generally known that the barony of Kemes is of a unique character, there being no parallel to it in Great Britain. It was originally acquired by conquest in the time of William the Conqiorer by Martin of Tours, first Lord of Kemes, and was in a great measure independant of the Crown of England. Its extent is great, comprising as it does twenty-two perches, and embracing a circuit upwards of fifty miles. The Lords of Kemys exercised many peculiar and important privileges, and though modern usage has abrogated some, yet there are several valuable ones now exercised by their lineal descendants and representatives. The town of Newport is incorporated by a charter granted by William Martin, Lord of Kemys in the reign of King John (1199-1216), which charter still exists in the archives of the Bronwydd family, and this is the only instance on record of the privileges on incorporation having been created by a subject. The Mayor of Kemys, an ex-officio justice of the peace, is annually appointed by the Lord of Kemys, and is assisted by a certain number of Burgesses in the execution of his duties. It is the opinion of most eminent lawyers of the day that the Barony of Kemys is a virtual sovereignty. (Life of William the Conqueror, p. xii.) by Thomas Roscoe.

THE BRENT FAMILY OF SOMERSET, ENGLAND

Cossington

In the time of Henry I (1100-1135), this manor was in the possession of Gilbert Marshall, of England, and was by him conveyed to Jordan Ridel, a descendant of which Jordon, of the same name, granted it in 1254 to Robert de Brent, to be held of him and his heirs by service of a knight's fee, which service William Ridel, son of this last Jordan, granted over to Sir Baldwin Malet, of Enmore (MS., Palmer).

This Robert de Brent was the first that assumed the surname of Brent, from having his habitation at South Brent, in this county, where he was possessed of considerable estates, which continued in his family till the last age. His grandfather was called Sauvinus de Turre, and was by Henry de Blois, Abbott of Glastonbury, constituted porter of that abbey, with certain lands, and other profit of victuals, clothing and money, annexed to that office; all of which profits, together with the office, were again granted by Michael, the then abbott, to this Robert*, and to his heirs, to be by them held in as ample a manner as Robert the Son of Sauvin his father, or Sauvin his grandfather, ever held them, provisionally, that they and their servants should take the same due care of Strangers, sick people, and others, who came thither for God's Sake. This Robert de Brent died before 46 Henry III (1262) leaving by Millicent his wife (afterwards married to Raymond Malet) a Son of his own name.

Which Robert de Brent 5 Edw. I (1277) attended that King into Gascony, as he did in most of his expeditions into Scotland, being then a Knight. 25 Edw. I (1297) he was a knight of the shire for Somerset at the parliament then held at Westminster. He died about 2 Edw. II (1309), Isabella his wife, daughter of Simon de Montacute, surviving him. He was the first of the family that used a seal of his arms, viz.: a wivern, as it is now borne, and has generally been used by his descendants. He was the father of another Robert, who was also a knight and a great benefactor to the abbey of Glastonbury. He married Claricia daughter and heir of Sir Adam de la Ford, of

*One of the barons who signed the Magna Charta, 1215.

Ford, in the parish of Bawdrip, by whom he had the manor of Ford, and other lands in this county, Wilts, Hants, and Essex. He had by her a son of his own name, who succeeded him at Cossington, and also another son called John, who, settling himself at Charing, in Kent, on some lands which were Sir Adam de la Ford's, became the progenitor of a family which continued there with great dignity for many generations, and at last by some heir female had their possessions in the time of Queen Elizabeth transferred to the family of Deering.

Besides these sons, he had two daughters, Havysia, the wife of Hugh de Popham, and Joan, wife of Thomas Deneband. He was buried on the north side of the choir of the abbey church of Glastonbury.

Robert de Brent, son of the last mentioned Robert, married Elizabeth, daughter of William Deniband, and died 24. Edw. III (1357), being then succeeded by John Brent, who married Joan, daughter and heir of John le Eyre, of Middlezoy, by whom he had a manor in that parish held of the Lady Stury by the service of half a knight's fee, and several other lands in this neighborhood.

John Brent, of Cossington, son of John, 1 Henry V (1413), was twice married; his first wife was Ida, daughter of Sir John Beauchamp, of Lillisdon, knt., by whom he had issue Sir Robert Brent, his successor in the estate of Cossington, and Joan, first married to Thomas Horsey, of Horsey, Esq., and afterwards to Thomas Tretheke, of Tretheke, in the county of Cornwall, Esq. To his second wife he married Joan, the daughter of Sir Robert Latimer, knt., by whom he had a son called John.

Sir Robert Brent, his son by his former wife, and heir to this estate, married Jane, daughter of John Harewell, of Wotton, in the county of Warwick, who survived him and had this manor for her dower, which was, after her death, together with the rest of the estate, entered upon by Joan, his sister and heir by the whole blood, to the exclusion of John, son of John Brent by the second marriage. But this Joan being in a state of insanity, the fines that were levied in her name were not sufficient to bar the heir male, who, after several suits at law, and at length an arbitration by John Hody (afterwards chief justice of the King's Bench) 10 Henry VI (1440), was adjudged the right heir, by virtue of two entails made in the time of Edw. II, and Rich. II (1307; 1377), and soon after this manor was again entailed to this John Brent and the heirs of their body forever.

The eldest son of this John Brent was called Robert, and married Margaret, daughter of Hugh Malet, of Currypool, by whom he had another John, who added to his estate the manors of Goodwin's Bower and West Bagborough, which he purchased of Thomas Godwyn, as also (from his wife Maud, the daughter and co-heir of Sir Walter Pouncefoot) the manor of Compton-Pouncefoot, and Pouncefoot Hill, all which descended to William Brent, their eldest son, under age.

Which William had livery of his lands granted him 15 Henry VIII (1524), although he was not then twenty-one years old. He married a daughter of Lord Stourton, by whom he had one son, Richard, who died 23 Eliz. (1581). and was succeeded by Anne, his only daughter and heir, married to Lord Thomas Poulett, son of the Marquis of Winchester, and was mother of Elizabeth, wife of Giles Hoby, Esq., which two ladies sold and squandered away all the patrimony of this ancient family. The manor of Cossington, with Ford, and part of Godwin's Bower, was purchased by John Brent, the heir male of the family, viz., son of Stephen, son of John, second son of John Brent and Maud Pouncefoot. Which John, by that marriage, was an officer under William Warham, Archbishop of Canterbury, and afterwards under the treasurer of Calais.

It appears by papers found at Cossington that, upon the dissolution of the religious houses, he was employed by the commissioners to take account of the lands and muniments of such of them as were within this county, particularly of the abbey of Clive, to which he seems to have been steward. This John was twice married; his first wife was a daughter and co-heir of Thomas Godwyn; his second was Mary, granddaughter and sole heir of Thomas Culpeper, of the city of London. He died in 1557, and was buried at Bexley, in the county of Kent.

Stephen Brent, son of John,* was a lawyer, and lived at Dorchester, in a house that was his mother's in whose right he had several other lands in that county and in Kent, all which were sold by his son John, upon his purchase of this manor of Cossington, an estate in which he seems to have taken great delight. This John died here in 1610, leaving behind him a son of his own name, who was seventy-eight years in possession of this manor, and died A.D., 1692; but though twice married, left no children. His first wife was Winifred, daughter of Sir John Arundel, of Lanheron, in Cornwall, and his second was Mary, daughter of Sir Henry Ludlow, knt. On his death one Hodges, a poor man, then living near Highgate, was by Virdict found to be grandson of Anne, daughter of Stephen, and real heir to the estate, which he sold soon after to Mr. Robert West, of the Inner Temple, who had assisted him in the discovery of his title to this inheritance. Whence the manor of Cossington came to Sir John Gresham, bart., who sold it to Benjamin Allen, Esq., the present possessor.

The living of Cossington is rectorial, in the deanery of Pawlett, and was in 1292 valued at ten marks. The Rev. Charles Hobbs is patron and incumbent.

The church, which is dedicated to St. Mary, is of one pace, with a tower at the west end, containing a clock and five bells.

In the chancel floor is a brass plate, whereon are engraved the effigies of John Brent, Esq., who died Aug. 22, 1524, and Maud, his wife, with an inscription to their memory; and on the north wall another inscription to John, son of John Brent, Esq., who died Jan. 24, 1691, aged 80 years.

It will be noticed in the foregoing account, that Sir Robert de Brent who married Claricia, daughter and heir of Sir Adam de la Ford, had a second son John, who settled at Charing in Kent, and was the ancestor of a family which continued there for many generations.

The account given of this branch of the family in Hasted's History of Kent, is quoted in full below.

From the History and Antiquities of the County of Somerset, by John Collinson, London, 1791, Vol. III, pp. 434-7.

THE BRENT FAMILY OF KENT, ENGLAND

(Charing, 1367)

Wickins is a manor in the Southern part of this parish, adjoining to Westwell, in which part of the lands of it lie. It was originally the patrimony of the family of Brent, and was their most antient seat. Robert Brent, the first of this name mentioned in their pedigree, lived in the reign of Edward II, and is styled of Charing, as were his several descendants afterwards, one of whom, William, son of Hugh Brent, married Juliana, relict of Thomas Paunsherst, of this parish, by whom he inherited the Manor of Pevington, and other estates near this place. He died anno 27 Henry VI, leaving issue a Son Hugh Brent, who was of Charing, and had issue four Sons, of whom William Brent, Esq., the eldest, inherited this Manor, and resided at it; and Robert, the second Son of Wilsborough, an ancestor of the Brents of that place.

At length his great-grandson Thomas Brent, Esq., succeeding to this Manor, resided at it till the 12th year of Q. Elizabeth (1570), when becoming heir to Wilsborough, by the devise of his kinsman, Robert Brent, of that place, who died without issue, he removed thither, where he died likewise without issue in 1612, and was buried there. By his last will he bequeathed his manor or tenement called Wickins Device and Caprons in Charing and Westwell, and all the lands and appurtenances thereto belonging, to his nephew Christopher Dering, of Charing who then occupied them. He was the fifth and youngest son of John Dering of Surrenden-Dering, Esq., by Margaret, sister of the above-mentioned Thomas Brent, and married Mildred, daughter of Francis Swann, of Wye, gent., by whom he had several children, of whom the eldest, John Dering, was of Wickins, gent., as was his eldest son Christopher Dering, gent.

Weever, in his Funeral Inscriptions, published in 1631, mentions several members of the Brent Family of Kent. He gives the following inscription from a tomb at Kensington:

Orate pro animabus Willemi Brent, arm. & Elizabethe uxoris ejus, filie Rise Madris.

The tomb is ancient but has no date.

Descendants of Coll^o Giles Brent

Concerning Charing, he says:

In the year 1590 this church was with fire consumed . . . The windows and the gravestones (where-in divers of the antient and worthy family of Brent were memorialized) at this time were defaced, yet on the outside of the Belfrey do remain carved in stone the badge of Edward IV (1461-1483), and a wiver (wyvern), being the arms of Hugh Brent, Esquire, who in the reign of Edward IV was the principal founder of that belfry, which before was of wood. From the time of Henry VI (1399-1413), the family of Brent, being branched out of the antient stock of Brent in Somersetshire (of which house Sir Robert de Brent was a baron of the Parliament in the time of Edward I (1272-1307), both flourished as the prime name of this parish until Thomas Brent, Esquire (the last male of the line), did remove to Wilsborough, where he died issueless. On the South side of the chancel here and annexed to the church, is a convenient chapel, founded by Amy Brent, widow of William Brent, Esquire, who died in the reign of Richard III (1483-1485) . . . Mr. Brent Dering of Charing is now the owner of the antient house of the Brents here, which is stored with badges of Edward IV in every quarry of glass in the hall windows, in which house also (as goes by tradition) John Brent, Esquire, feasted King Henry VIII.

Robert Brent, of Wilsborough, had a son Robert, who married Elizabeth, daughter of William Denebould, and they had a son John, who had Hugh (younger sonne), styled "of Charing". This Hugh had a son Hugh, who married Christine, daughter and heir of Henry de Rey, of Cherring, 14 R. 2 (1390). William son of the above Hugh and Christine, married Julia, relict of Thomas Paunsherst, and daughter of John Gobyon of Essex, and his wife Amobilia, who was daughter of John de Pevyn-ton and Katherine his wife, and had two sons, William and Hugh. William married Alice, daughter of John Crekyn, and had a daughter who was a nun. Hugh Brent of Cherring died 1483. He married daughter and heir of — Hunt of Cherring, Ar., and had Robert of Willisborough as his second son, who married Joanna, relict of John Crekyn, Jr., and daughter and heir of Gregory Wenday. He had also John Brent 7H7 (1492), and Thomas and William. This William Brent de Cheryng junior dictus respectu patru et de Kenniston 1 Edward 4 (1462), made his will 14 Edward 4 (1475) and died about 1482-3. He married Ann or Amy, daughter and heir of Rossmandress of Devon.

Robert Brent and his wife Joanna, supra, had John who d.v.p., William who married Mary Diggs, and had Elizabeth, wife of Walter Maynee, of Beddington, and Robert Brent of Willisborough who died 12 Queen Elizabeth (1570); he married Elizabeth, daughter of Tho. Gedding. Ellen, the third child of Robert and Joanna Brent, died a nun.

William Brent de Cheryng, and Ann or Amy, his wife, had first Roger Brent of Poldres; he made his will 17H8 (1525), and giveth his land in Willisborough, Kennington and Hinxhell to his God-sonne Robt. Brent of Willisborough, and his lands in Cheryng to his God-sonne William Brent, sone of his brother John Brent. This Roger gave away as much land in Poldres and in other places and now well is worth 2000p. annum unto Howly that was of no kindred to him. He married Ann Martyn, and does not appear to have had issue.

The second child of William Brent de Cherryng and Ann or Amy, was the wife of Edmund Millys, and had Edward Mary and John.

Ellen, the third child, married — Manning, and had Anne, Christine and Agnes 20H7 (1504).

Isabell (fourth child) m. — Wombell and had Thomas and Jane.

John, the fifth child, called Senior and of Cherring, made his will 20H7 (1504), and had (i) William; (ii) John, married Ann, second daughter and heir of Thos. Berkeley, and had William, who probably d.v.p.; Thomas, heir to his estates; he married Jane, daughter of Thos. Greene, of Bobbing, Gent. Amy. the third child, married Wm. Crips. Lieutenant of Dover Castle. Margaret, the fourth child, married John Dering, of Surrenden Dering, Esq.

Christine (sixth child of William Brent) was the wife of Robt. Naylor 20H7 (1504).

DE BOW'S REVIEW*

This Sir Robert de Brent (son of Sauvin de Turre), had a son Robert, and he had a son Robert who also had a son Robert. So there were four Roberts successively. The son of the last was John, and his son was Robert, and his son was likewise Robert, which Robert married Margaret and had two sons, viz: John and Robert. The said John who married Pontfoot (Pouncefoot) died anno 1524, and had two sons, William and Richard, which William had Richard to his son, who married the daughter of Lord Stirton (Stourton) and had Anne who was married to Thomas Lord Paulet by whom he had a daughter who was married to Hobby (Hoby), and she died without issue; so that the eldest line ended in the life of Queen Elizabeth. Richard, the son of John and brother of William aforesaid, had issue Stephen, Giles and John. Stephen had John to his son, to whom after the death of Hoby the inheritance of Cossington descended as next heir. His son also was John, who possessed the land in 1676. From Giles descended Thomas Brent of Salisbury, but John, the brother of Giles, died without issue. The aforesaid Robert, son of Robert by Margaret, in 1487, came to Stoke near Campden in Gloucestershire and there lived concealed by the name of John Buston, and married (Margery), daughter of George Colchester, Lord of Stoke and Adminton, aforesaid. The said Robert had Richard who died before his father.

*The history of the Brent Family in De Bow's Review begins: It is recorded in the Red Book of Knight Fees in the Exchequer that Odo de Brent, at the time of the Conquest, was Lord of Cossington. The name of Odo's son was not known, but his grandson was Jeffrey, whose son was Nicholas, whose son was Sir Robert Brent . . . In 1932 a search was made among the records listed here proving the Origin of the Brent Family, (supra) and also The Books of the Exchequer, Pipe Rolls, (1199-1220), the Curia Regis Rolls (1200-1230), and numerous books including Dugdales' Monasticon, Polwhele's History of Devon, Collison's History of Somerset: nothing was found to support this data in De Bow.

The son of this Robert was William instead of Richard; this William Brent died 1595, and his son was Richard, who died before his father. Read the inscriptions on the memorial brasses in St. Mary's Church, Ilmington. This church record is accepted as correct, and should eliminate the confusion shown in these records.

Foulke died childless. Richard married the daughter of Sir John Peshael (Peshall) of Horsley* and had many children who lived to be men and women, and the whole of them died but the two youngest, Robert and Margaret. Robert, Lord of Stoke, had one son named Falcatus—to him descended Cossington after the death of John Brent, aforesaid. Giles, the third son of the said Richard, came to Maryland about the year 1637, and was Governor there. But that country being taken, he moved to Virginia about the year 1645. He had many children. Only the oldest son Giles lived, who had Giles and William, Margaret and Mary. Giles married Jane, the daughter of Colonel William Chandler by whom he had a daughter who died soon after it was born. William, who was heir intail to the estate in Virginia and next after his son was heir to Cossington, went to England in 1708 and married there. The fourth son of the said Richard and the fifth died childless, but George, the sixth son, married Marianna, the daughter of Sir John Peyton, of Doddington, in the Isle of Ely. by whom he had George, John, Henry, William, Edward and Robert; Ann, Eliza-

*This baronetcy was created the 25th of November, 1612, and has been dormant since 1712. John Peshall, Esq., of Horsley, Staffordshire, was created a baronet by King James I, the 25th of November, 1612 and four years later was sheriff of the county. He married Anne, daughter of Ralph Sheldon, Esqr., of Beoby in the county of Worcester, and had many children, of whom Jane, the fourth daughter married Richard Calvert, Esqr., of Corkerem, and Margaret, the sixth daughter, married Richard Brent. Sir Thomas Peshall, third Baronet, had a son John who married Charlotte, daughter of Thomas Lord Culpeper.

Sir Robert Peyton, of Isleham, had two sons: 1. Sir Robert, ancestor of the baronets of Isleham and of all the Virginia families of the name. 2. Sir John, of Knowlon, Kent, who married Dorothy, daughter of Sir John Tindall, K. B., and had issue: 1. Sir Thomas; 2. Sir John, of Doddington, Cambridgeshire, Governor of the Tower in the reign of Elizabeth; member of the privy council; Governor of Guernsey and Jersey in the time of James I. He married Dorothy, widow of Sir Robert Bell, and daughter and heir of Edward Beaupre, of Outwell, Norfolk, and was father of Sir John Peyton, of Doddington, who married Alice, daughter of Sir John Peyton, of Isleham, and had with other issue Marianna, who married George Brent.

beth, Dorothy, Mary, Margaret, and Ursula. George came to Virginia and settled at Woodstock in Stafford County. He married the daughter of Captain William Green and niece of Sir William Layton. By her he had George, Nicholas and Robert; Marianne and Elizabeth. She died in childbed of another girl the 26th of March, 1686. The said George the 27th March, 1687, again married the second daughter of Lady Baltimore by her first husband, Henry Sewell, who was widow to Colonel William Chandler, by whom he had many children, but only three lived, Henry, Mary and Martha, of whom she died in child-bed the 12th of March, 1693-4.

The second son of the said George Brent, the son of Richard, died young. The third son of the said George, Henry, married Ann the daughter of Henry Calvert, Esq.,* sometime Governor of Maryland, by whom he had many children all of whom died before himself, who died the — day of January, 1694, and his land descended to George Brent, Esq., of Woodstock.

The fourth son of the said George Brent, Esq., named William, died unmarried, and Edward, the fifth son, died young at the College of Douay in Flanders; but Robert, the sixth son, married Anne, the daughter of Edmond Baugh, of Penton, Worcestershire, and brought her into Virginia in the year 1686, settled in Stafford county, where he had many children by her, all of which died but three—Marianna, who died unmarried, Elizabeth, who married Jesse Doyne, of Charles county, Maryland, by whom he had many children, who are now living and Richard, who died unmarried.

Having now gone through most of the males, I shall go to the females. Richard, the grandfather of George Brent, Esq., of Woodstock, had only one daughter that married, (viz: Jane, who married Thomas Cassie, Esq., of Widefield, in the county of

*This is incorrect. Leonard Calvert was Governor of Maryland, not Henry Calvert. Henry Brent married Ann, the daughter of Leonard, and widow of Baker Brooke. She took as her third husband, Richard Marsham.

This should eliminate the controversy that Ann Brent married Leonard Calvert, Governor of Maryland! There has long been a tradition that Leonard Calvert married a Brent in England circa 1643-4, but the theory that she was Ann, sister of the famous Margaret Brent, can hardly be accepted if she was baptized 7 Aug. 1637, as stated in the Va. Mag. of Hist., Vol. 14, p. 100. The Gloucester, by whom she had William, Jane, Ann, and Elizabeth. She died in France in or about the Plot time - 1680. Where her children are I know not. The next of the females was Margaret, daughter of Richard and sister to Robert, Father of Falcatus, Lord of Stoke, who married Mr. Thomas Bartlett, of Evesham, by whom she had Richard, and what other I know not. The next was Mary, the daughter of Giles, the son of Richard Brent, who married Captain John Fitzherbert, and died childless. The next was Margaret, daughter of Giles Brent, son of aforesaid Giles, who married Mr. George Plowden, by whom she had several children. Her eldest son is named Edmund and is now alive; and Mary, her sister, married Mr. John Nutwell*. in Maryland, by whom she had one son named Brent Nutwell, now alive. These two were the sisters of William Brent, who went to England in 1708 in order to recover the two Lordships of Stoke and Cossington, being heir-in-tail to said estates. He married in London the 12th day of May, 1709, Sarah Gibbons, of Box Parish, the daughter of William Gibbons, of Wiltshire, gentleman. He died soon after his marriage, November 26th the following, and left his wife with child of a son, of whom she was afterwards delivered, March 6th, 1710. His name is also William. and he is heir-in-tail to the estates in England and Virginia. His mother brought him over to Virginia January, 1717, and the 20th day of May thereafter was married herself to the Rev. Alexander Scott, rector of Overwharton parish in Stafford county, Virginia, and died 3d October, 1733 (should be 29 Oct.).

As to the daughters of George, the son of Richard aforesaid, the eldest married James Clifton, Esq., who lived in Lancashire, and had many children, among whom were Cuthbert, Anne and Eliza. The second daughter died a maid. The first and

Brent tradition probably will prove to be correct in some as yet undertermined way, but it is surely premature to make this Ann Brent the mother of Ann and William Calvert. (Maryland Historical Magazine, Vol. 21, p. 321)

The identity of Leonard Calvert's wife (now that it is known that Margaret Brent's sister Ann was a non-juring spinster in 1651, ten years after the birth of Leonard Calvert's children) is undiscovered, although she was quite possibly a member of the prolific Brent family. The sixth, (viz): Ursula, married Charles Umphraville, gentleman, by whom she had many children. They went to France. These are the children and grandchildren of George Brent, Esq., of Defford, by the mother of George Brent, Esq., of Woodstock, but had he two wives afterwards. By the first he left a daughter named Jane, who married Nathaniel Shrine, gentleman, now in London. He had many children by his last wife. He left a son named Richard, who married in Italy.

George, the first son of George Brent, Esq., of Woodstock, died unmarried Sept. 2, 1708*. Nicholas, the second son, married Jane, the daughter of Captain Thomas Mudd, of Charles county, Maryland, in April, 1711, and died childless, December 18th following. Robert, the third son, went to Bermuda, 1701, and married the 8th of May, 1702. Eliza, the second daughter, married Thomas Langman, Esq., of the city of Bristol, in the month of February, 1709, and he carried her home in the March following, and by her he had several children, (viz): Thomas, George, Richard, Anne and Elizabeth. She died November, 1719. Mary, the first daughter of the said George Brent, Esq., by his second wife aforesaid, married Oswald, (Roswell), the second son of Anthony Neale, Esq., by whom she had William, Henry and Anthony, and died in the month of December, anno 1716. Martha, the youngest daughter, died a maid, in April, 1715.

(7) MARGARET² BRENT (Richard¹) was born circa 1601 in Gloucestershire England, and died 1671, at her home Peace in Westmoreland County, Virginia, a spinster. She appears to have been a very capable business woman, not only in the management of her own and her sister Mary's affairs, but as executrix of the deceased governor, Leonard Calvert, and as the agent and representative "on behalfe of her brother Captain Giles Brent,"—her name appearing in the Judicial and Testamentary Business of the Provincial Court alone no less than 124 times from 1642 to

1650*. "In view of subsequent occurrences, one is tempted to think that if he (Leonard Calvert) had reversed his testamentary dispositions and made Green his executor and Mistress Brent governor, it would have been on the whole a better arrangement."

Margaret Brent's troubles began almost immediately upon her arrival at St. Mary's with her sister Mary, and brothers Giles and Foulke, on the ship Elizabeth, 22 Nov. 1638. She had brought with her four maidservants and five male servants, and also two letters from Cecilius Calvert, the second Lord Baltimore, which letters granted her "as much land in and about the towne of St. Maries and elsewhere in that Province in as ample manner and with as large Priviledges as any of the first Adventurers." Yet in spite of these letters she was granted 7 October 1639 but 79 acres of land in the town, which grant became known as the Sisters Freehold. She persistently filed her claims for the additional land, and likewise argued before the Assembly in person so valiantly, it seems, that her name was often written Margaret Brent, Gentlemen, by the clerks.

On 9 June 1647, Governor Leonard Calvert died, and Margaret and Mary Brent having sworn—

. . . that Leonard Calvert by word of mouth on his deathbed, did appoint Thomas Greene, one of the Council, to be his successor.

19 June 1647—This day came Margaret Brent, Gent. & desyred the testimony of the pr^{nt} Governor Mr. Th: Greene concerning the last will & Testam^t of the late Governor Leonard Calvert Esq^r. Letter of administration on the estate of Leonard Calvert were granted to Mrs. Margaret Brent 19 June 1647, and her account was rendered 6 June 1648. Among other curious charges (writes Bozeman) is one for a Beefe, A veale & other necessities for his Buriall.

This act placed in her control, besides her own manor, Sister's Freehold, the manors of Trinity and St. Gabriel, as well as that of Fort Kent, which Giles Brent had deeded to her 10 December 1642. Hence she was probably the largest land owner and by the same reasoning, the most influential person in the colony.

On 3 January 1648, Margaret Brent appeared before the Maryland Council and argued that since Governor Calvert had been Lord Baltimore's sole administrator, she as Leonard Calvert's executrix, should be declared Lord Baltimore's administratrix, and it was decreed that the Executrix of Leonard Calvert aforesaid shall be received as his Lordship's attorney. Less than three weeks later (21 Jan. 1648), she appeared with a still more astounding request, and one that was to make her the first potential woman suffragist in America:

*Mrs. Temperance Pippett lived above the Falls of the Potomac River, in Virginia.

While Bozeman wrote his history a hundred years ago, there is nothing curious even today about holding a wake, even in parts of Maryland.

Came Mistress Margaret Brent and requested to have a vote in the howse for herselfe and voyce also; for that at the last Court, 3 January, it was ordered that the sd Mistress Brent was to be looked upon and received as his Lordship's attorney. The Govr denyed that the sd Mistress Brent should have any vote in the house. And the sd Mistress Brent protested agst all proceedings in this pnt (present) Assembly, unless she be pnt and have vote aforsd. (Maryland Archives, vol. 1, p. 215).

Mistress Brent was not dismayed by this refusal of a vote and a voyce, nor did she shirk her many responsibilities in trying to settle the affairs of the Calverts. In the Proceedings of the Assembly of February 1648, is the following entry:

William Whistle, Stannop Roberts and William Hungerford petition for themselves and several soldiers against the estate of Mistress Margaret Brent for their wages . . . And the sd Mistress Margaret Brent promised to send down to Virginia with all speed ready tobacco to be procured by her, to buy provisions of diet of them, most importuned and desired by them.

In April 1649, Cecilius Calvert wrote to the Maryland Assembly complaining that she had spent his revenues in satisfying the debts of the soldiers. The Assembly testified on her behalf in the following letter of appreciation:

As for Mrs. Brent's undertaking and meddling with your Lordship's estate here (whether she procured with her own or others importunity or not) we do verily Believe and in Conscience report that it was better for the Colony in her hands than in any man's else in the whole Province after your Brother's death, for the soldiers would never have treated any other with that civility and respect, and though they were even ready at several times to run to mutiny, yet she still pacified them until at last things were brought to the Strait that she must be admitted and declared your Lordship's Attorney by an order of the Court (the copy where-of is herewith enclosed) or else all must go to ruin again, and then the second mischief were far greater than the former . . . We do concieve from that time she rather deserved favour and thanks from your Lordship for her so much concurring to the public safety than to be justly liable to those bitter invectives you have been Pleased to express against her.

Three years later, Mary Brent*, who appears in the records as retiring as her sister Margaret is dauntless, moves across the Potomac into Virginia, "northerly upon Capt. Giles Brent." Margaret follows her two years later as the land grants show. However, neither of them gave up their property rights in Maryland; nor did Margaret lose her zest for a good court fight when it came to protecting the interests of the Calvert family. On 8 April 1661, she returned to Maryland to testify for William, son of Leonard Calvert vs. William Stone, son and namesake of the late governor, viz:

. . . that I Margaret Brent, aged 60 or thereabouts . . . never did make conveyance of the house at St. Mary's, which formerly was Leonard Calvert's, to William Stone, and that neither he nor the heirs of the aforesaid William Stone hath any right to the aforesaid house and lands.

This little item shows Margaret Brent's thoroughness in her business dealings, with a ring of finality!

These pr'snts witness that I Margaret Brent, doe acquit and discharge Edward Commins of all debts and demands and damages whatsoever from the beginning of the World

*Mary Brent died—her will was written 23 July 1657; probated 21 June 1658, in Westmoreland County—All of my goods to my sister Mrs. Margaret Brent, and after her death to my brother Mr. Giles Brent. 17 April 1654, Giles Brent of Peace in the County of Westmoreland, Esq., made a deed to his sister Mary Brent of the same place, conveying the whole of his personal estate in Virginia and Maryland, in trust to educate his children decently and Christianly and to allow maintenance to Mary, his wife. . . the said Giles Brent is about to go to England (Va. Mag. xvi, p. 211). All thru the records Giles Brent called his first home in Virginia Peace, but after his sister Margaret came from Maryland, he seems to have built himself a home nearby, which he called Retirement. The records also show this family as living in Westmoreland and Northumberland counties while their homes are actually in Stafford. Stafford was formed in 1664 from Westmoreland; Westmoreland in 1653 from Northumberland.

Following are the grants of land in Virginia issued to Margaret and Mary Brent. It is interesting to note that the first grant to Margaret is the site of the present city of Alexandria; the second that of the city of Fredericksburg. Was this due to her business acumen or to her woman's intuition?

Vandan I give a cow calf. To my niece Mary Brent, daughter of my Brother Giles Brent, I give all my silver spoons, which are six. To my nephew Richard Brent son of my brother Giles Brent, I give my patent of land at the Falls of Rappahannock River, also my lease of Kent Fort Manor in Maryland, saving yet power to his Father my brother Giles Brent that if he should like to do so he may sell said lease and satisfye to his son other where as he shall think fit in lands goods or money, and in case of my said nephew Richard Brent's death under age and without heirs of his body lawfully begotten, his legacy thereto to go to his brother Giles Brent or his sister Mary Brent or to the heirs of my brother Giles Brent or otherwise as my said brother shall dispose it by his Deed or last Will.

(8) *COL. GYLES² BRENT (Richard¹) was born circa 1600 in Gloucestershire, England, and died—his will was written 31 August 1671 and probated 15 February 1671/2—at Retirement in Stafford County, Virginia. He married (1) Kittamaquund, the only daughter of the Tayac or Emporer of the Piscataway Indians, who was adopted by his sister Margaret, and baptized by Father Andrew White, a Catholic missionary, and given the name Mary, viz.:

*Giles Brent is styled in the Maryland and Virginia records as Capt., Lt. Col. & Colonel.

Cap^t George Brent and Robert Brent, ^{Gent}

On the 15 February (1640) we came to Piscataoe (to baptize the Indians) . . . To the emporer who was called Chitomacheu before, was given the name Charles; to his wife (with an infant at her breast) that of Mary . . . the king brought his daughter, seven years old (whom he loves with great affection), to be educated among the English at St. Mary's; and when she shall well understand the christian mysteries, to be washed in the sacred font of baptism . . . (In 1642) the young empress (as they called her at Pis cataway) was baptized in the town of St. Mary's and is being educated there, and now a proficient in the English language. (Relatio Itineris, Father Anderw White, S. J., pps. 74, 76 & 82).

Giles Brent married (II) circa 1655, Mrs. Frances Harrison, relict of Dr. Jeremy Harrison, late of St. Runwald's Parish, Colchester, England, and Westmoreland County, Virginia. She was the daughter of Thomas Whitgreaves of Staffordshire, England. According to Burke's Landed Gentry, this Frances Harrison was the sister of Thomas Whitgreaves, of Moseley in Staffordshire, England, who saved the life of Charles II after the battle of Worcestershire in 1651. (WMQ. vol. 3, July 1903).

Giles Brent was a member of the Virginia Colony twelve years before he appears in the Maryland records, viz:

Maurice Thomosone sworne and Examined, affirmith that ye booke of accompt produced in Courte by Mr. James Carter was the trew booke of Accomp of Mr. Robert Bennett and perfected by his owne hande . . . Gyles Brent fworne and Examined doth affirme the fame in effect.
(MCGC, p. 61, 23 May 1625).

However it is doubtful if he stayed long at Jamestown, as all new settlers were required to take the Oath of Allegiance and Subservience, and he was a Catholic.

Brought into the Province (Maryland) in the year 1637 by Giles Brent, Esq'r., (a list of servants) . . . Came into the Province 22nd November 1638, Mr. Giles Brent and Mr. Fulk Brent, his brother, who returned (to England) in March following . . . Mrs. Margaret Brent, Mrs. Mary Brent, his sisters, who transported several servants and headrights. (Kilty's Landholders Assistants).

By a warrant dated 9th October 1639, signed by Leonard Calvert and certified by John Lewger, Surveyor, granting to Giles Brent:

... a portion of Town Land ... 60 acres or thereabouts, near Smith's Forge, on St. George's River, and adjoining land of his, granted to Giles Brent ... On 7th January 1639 ... I would have you lay out for Giles Brent, Gent., Treasurer of the Council of this Province, one thousand acres of land lying nearest together about Kent Fort and one thousand more where he shall desire it and to certify Mr. Secretary what you doe therein to Robert Clarke, Deputy Surveyor. (Ibid).

That Giles Brent was a man of prominence in the Province of Maryland from its earliest founding, the following records attest:

A special writ calling gentlemen of able judgement and quality to be members of the House of Assembly, viz:—Cecilius, Lord Proprietary, etc. to our dear friend and councilor Thomas Cornwaleys, Esq., greetings, whereas we have appointed to hold a general assembly of the freeman of our Province at our Fort of St. Mary's on the 25th day of February next, we do therefore hereby will and require you, that all excuses and delays set apart, you repair in person to the said assembly at the time and place prefixed, there to advise and consult with us touching the important affairs of our Province. Given at St. Mary's, the 18th of January 1638. The like writs were issued severally to Giles Brent, councillor, Mr. Foulk Brent, Mr. Thomas Greene and Mr. John Boteler, gentlemen. (Bozeman's History of Maryland, vol. 2, p. 101).

... there was chosen for treasurer of the province, Mr. Giles Brent ... at St. Mary's, on 20th of March 1638. (Ibid, p. 140).

Seventy-three inhabitants of the Isle of Kent appointed Mr. Giles Brent their proxy to the Assembly. He was at this time (1642) Lord of the Manor of Kent Fort. (Ibid, p. 237).

Mr. Giles Brent, by commission of the 16th of December 1642, (appointed):

to be Commander of our Isle and County Kent, to be chief captain in all matters of warfare, and to be chief judge in all matters and things civil and criminal happening within the said island, not extending to life or member or freehold.

Cap^t George Brent and Robert Brent, ^{Gent}

In 1643 Gov. Leonard Calvert decided to return to England, and in his absence, appointed Mr. Giles Brent Deputy Governor. To make this appointment known, he issued the following Proclamation:

By the Lieutenant General;—Whereas I am determined to go to England, I do hereby publish and declare to all Inhabitants of this Province, that I have nominated, appointed and elected Mr. Giles Brent, Esq., to be Lieutenant General, Admiral, Chief Captain, Magistrate and Commander, as well by sea as land, of the Province of Maryland and of the Islands to the same belonging, in as large and ample manner as his Lordship by his Commission under the Great Seal, bearing date at St. Mary's the 4th September 1642, hath authorized me, for the present during my intended absence, until further order from his Lordship therein. Given at St. Mary's this 11th April, 1643. (Ibid, p. 252).

As the oath now taken by Giles Brent develops in some measure the nature of his powers at this time as Lieutenant General, it is here inserted as follows:—

You swear that you will be true and faithful to the right honourable Cecilius, Lord Proprietary of this Province of Maryland, and that you will defend and maintain to the utmost of your power all his just rights, interests, royal jurisdictions, and seignory in to and over the said Province, and the islands thereunto belonging; and you will faithfully serve him as his lieutenant of the said Province; and in all other offices committed to your charge you will do equal right and justice to the poor and to the rich within the said Province after your cunning wit and power, according to the laws of the Province*; you shall delay or deny to no man right and justice; you shall not know of any attempt against his Lordship's right and domain in to and over the said Province and the people therein, but you shall resist and oppose to the utmost of your power; and make the same known with convenient speed to his Lordship; and you shall in all things faithfully counsel and advise his Lordship accordingly to your heart and conscience, So help you God.

In presentia (Edward Parker

On 20 January 1643/4, Governor Brent issued a proclamation for the arrest of one Richard Ingle, mariner, and captain of the Reformation for treasonable utterances against the King. His ship was also seized. This arrest was based on testimony of one William Hardidge, Taylor and rather garrulous inhabitant of the Province. Ingle was arrested but at his instigation Hardidge let fall his accusation and went to Virginia. Ingle was freed or was allowed to escape, as Sheriff Packer subsequently recorded, there was then no public jail but his own hands. Ingle then went about his business of loading tobacco for export, in fact was loaned a small pinace by Governor Brent to navigate the shallower streams and even loaded on his ship 8,000 weight belonging to the governor himself, leaving Maryland without any show of discontent or dislike at all.

However, in February of the following year (1645), Ingle was back in Maryland with letters of marque from "King & Parliament" (meaning just Parliament, as King Charles I was holding court in Bristol, and Parliament was in session in London, and their forces were in armed combat). He seized the Dutch ship Spiegel (Looking Glass) in Saint George's River, and with its eleven guns and the twelve guns mounted on the Reformation, proceeded to make a Man of War cruize, plundering the estates of those of the Popish and Romish Religion. He even plundered the house of his good friend Capt. Cornwallis of everything except the bed on which his wife and children were lying, and took back captive to London, Gov. Giles Brent, Secretary Lewger and Thomas Copley. See suit below:—

Cap^t George Brent and Robert Brent, ^{Gent}

Imprimis: that for the last 4, 5, 6, or 7 yrs last Giles & Margaret Brent have resided in Maryland, & the said Giles hath kept a house wife* & famalie at a place called Kent – & Margt. is sister to Giles, & did at divers times come to & reside with Giles Brent at his house at Kent aforesaid, & did keep or leave in her Brothers said house divers goods and chattels and household stuff & Margt. Brent had likewise a house in Md. at a place called St. Maries & Giles did at divers times reside for part of the year with his Sister at her house in St. Maries where he had certain goods &c. In anno Domini 1644 & in months therein respectatively concurring as also in Mch., Apl., & May 1645 G. B. had at his house & farm, divers Cattle and other commodities to the value of £2,000 lawful money a stock which was continually growing.

In the month & year above mentioned Rd Ingle was Captain & Commander & part owner of the Reformacon & the said John Durford was Ingles mate.

Ingle & Durford arr in one of the months aforesaid & after their arrival Ingle & Durford or some of Ingles Compy went aboard a pinace called the Shotlocker & took out of same one chest with clothes in it, two guns linen & other commodities of the value of £200 sterling all which articles did belong to Giles Brent.

In the months afsd G. B. & Marg. B. or one of them was owner of a certain pinnace called the Phoenix & Ingle or Durford or someone by their order seized the Phoenix with a small boat belonging to her and took out of the Phoenix bedding and other commodities to the value of 10 lb.

The said Pinnace & furniture was worth £50 legal money of England. Ingle took out of a boat belonging to Francis Brookes, goods chattels & commodities belonging to Giles Brent & newly bought by him & belonging to G. B. or M. B., or one of them Linen shoes stockings sugar &c to the value of £40—as also a little cabbonett containing Jewels &c belonging to Giles Brent, his wife, or Margaret Brent or one of them to the value of £20.

*Father White states the daughter of Kittamaquund was seven years old in 1640; if that is correct, Giles Brent married the Maryland Pocahontas when she was twelve years old.

Descendants of Coll^o Giles Brent

Ingle or some by his order seized G. B. on the high sea & brought him to England & the said Brent has suffered a loss of £1,000 in the loss to his Estate of his supervision & care.

Brent was detained a Prisoner on Capt. Ingles Ship or the Looking glass which Ingle was de facto possessed of.

Ingle seized the goods in the Schedule belonging to G. B. and M. B., or one of them & which were worth the several sums of money opposite to them (100 head neat cattle, 20 sheep, 100 hogs, 200 bushells wheat barley peas, 6157 lbs Tobacco, household goods, utencells, 8 Apprenticed Servants . . . all valued @ £960). (Thomas Copley's losses amounted to £2,000 . . .)

After Ingle had seized G. B. & T. C. (Thomas Copley) he put them on the Looking Glass which he took from a Dutchman, & when near Plymouth sent to the L. G. for John Durford whom he had made Master of the L. G. and one Been another of his mates to come aboard the Reformacon which they accordingly did. Ingle told them he wd have Brent & Copley thrown overboard but one of his mates would not agree to it, but Ingle would have done it if it had not been for the Mate who prevented him from so doing.

Rd Ingle & his ship were arrested and stayed at Maryland 1643/4 on a charge by one Wm. Hardige of words spoken by Ingle agst the Kings Majesty of England and chgd by said Hardidge to be treason. Hardidge let fall his accusation at instigation of Ingle & went to Va. (Maryland Historical Magazine, Vol. I, P. 125-140).

Giles Brent returned to Maryland to straighten out his affairs, but was not to remain there long. Having married the daughter and only child of the Tyac or Emperor of the Piscataway Indians, in her right, he laid claim to the most part of Maryland, and so fell into contentious*, but futile dispute with Lord Baltimore. For this reason, and perhaps also because he was weary of the bickerings of the Puritans in Maryland, he crossed the Potomac and buried himself with his Indian bride in the wilderness of Virginia, 1646*. He settled on the north shore of Aquia Creek at its mouth, and there he built a house which, with agreeable humor, he called Peace. Giles Brent thus became the first citizen of the freshes and also the northernmost English resident of Virginia. . . . In 1651, when settlers from the south in Virginia patented land above that of Giles Brent, they all stopped by his home for refreshments and information. It was a uniform point of departure. (Landmarks of Old Prince William, p. 43)

When Lord Baltimore issued instructions in 1651 to Governor Stone of Maryland to include the land of Giles Brent, called by him Peace, as part of Maryland, Brent immediately appealed to the Virginia government (not desiring to find himself again a citizen of Maryland), viz.:

This day Capt. Gyles Brent exhibited his peticon to the Court and represented that being seated on the South side of Petomack river under the authority and by patent under the Government of this Colony, Never the less the Lord Baltimore hath given instructions to his surveyor and Secretary, through grants yet to issue out of Maryland, (to issue) Grants for the Land belonging to the peticonr under this Colony, which this Court conceiveth to be contrary to the plain words of the said Lord Baltimore's grant and to the like of Virginia, according to a former act of the Assembly to that part.

In consideration of all of which the county court of Westmoreland, Virginia was ordered to take care to preserve the bounds and Interests (of) the Colony of Virginia . . . and the inhabitants of Westmoreland and Lancaster were authorized if cause be, to afford them assistance therein. (Ibid. p. 603).

ings, Vol. 3, P. 403) At the conference between Col. Talbot & Wm. Penn, at Newcastle, 1684, Talbot said: "I look on an Indian Conquest or purchase to be a sufficient title to barr a weaker Indian pretension, but not to oppose an English Patentee that hath his charter from the crowne of England . . . and the right of Captain Brent who in right of his wife, the Piscataway Emporer's daughter and only child, pretended a right to the most part of Maryland, but could doe noe good on't after a great bustle about it. (Md. Hist. Mag., Vol. III, P. 30).

*Since Giles Brent was a Member of the Maryland Council and swore in Governor Greene after the death of Leonard Calvert on 19 June 1647, he could hardly have had his residence in Virginia in 1646. The item from MCGC, p. 511, 21 Sept. 1668, "having 21 years experience of his fidelity in not feducing any Persons to the Roman Catholic religion" also confirms this date of arrival in Virginia.

Descendants of Coll^o Giles Brent

Apparently Giles Brent lived a quiet and sequestered life in the wilderness country between the Potomac and Aquia creek, trading with the Indians and entertaining the many adventurous settlers from the James and York rivers who soon began viewing the land north of him.

18 April 1654, he and his wife Marie (Mary) of Westmoreland made a deed of gift to their daughter Mary Brent. In August 1658, he made a deed of gift to his son Giles and daughter Mary. He was still intent on holding his estate in Maryland and likewise adding to his Virginia estate, as the following records show:—

In the Bufinefs between Nicholas Seabrill and Capt. Giles Brent by content of both parties it was agreed that an inqueft of the Old Neighbours (vizt) Mr. Nicholas Brook, Ralph Simkin and Mr. Richard Daines fhould to the beft of their Knowledge Lay forth the faid land and after it is laid out that the Sheriff poffeffs the said Seabrill therewith and this to be a final Determination of the Bufinefs the said Brent paying Seabrill fifteen hundred pounds of Tobacco for cofts and Damages (vizt), five hundred pounds of Tobacco this Year and one Thoufand pounds of Tobacco the next Year which is Ordered and Confirmed Accordingly. (JHB 1619-1658-9 p. 103, 1655/6).

23 March 1661-2:

Whereas a charge of high treason and Murder was exhibited to this assembly against Wahanganoche, King of the Potomack Indians by captain Giles Brent, which was referred to a commission appointed to examine the same who by their report find the said charge unjustly lay'd, and no part thereof sufficiently proved against the said Wahanganoche, it is ordered by the grand assembly that the said Wahanganoche shall and is hereby fully acquitted and discharged from the same, and from every part thereof.

It is ordered by this grand assembly upon the report of the committee appointed to enquire into the differences between the English and Indians that in satisfaction of the severall injuries and affronts done Wahanganoche, King of the Potomack Indians by captain Giles Brent, collonel Gerrard ffowke, Mr. John Lord and captain George Mason, that the said captain Brent pay the said

Wahanganoche two hundred armes length of roanoke; and that collonel ffowke, Mr. Lord and captain Mason pay him one hundred armes length a peece, or that they pay and deliver him presently Matchcoates for the said roanoke of two armes length each, at twenty armes length every coate. (Hening, Vol. 2, pps. 149-155).

In addition these four men were fine, placed under bond and declared incapable of holding any office civil or military in this countrey. Their removeall must have done away with all government in Westmoreland County as it was then joined as a part of Northumberland. However, this was a period of extremist action by those both in and out of office. Certainly later records show that their standing in the Colony was not impaired. The trouble appears to have been cause by the murder of an Englishmen by an Indian, a quarrel over land bounds or a dispute concerning wild hogs.

21 September 1668 (MCGC, p. 511):

In cafe of Capt'n Giles Brent order of Stafford County dated 27th May 1668 reverfed, the Court having 21 years experience of his fidelity in not feducing any Persons to the Roman Catholic religion.

27 September 1671 (MCGC., p. 274):

Whereas Capt. Giles Brent appealed from an order of Stafford County in a difference between him and Mr. James Clifton about a p'cell of land given and assigned by Mrs. Margaret Brent to the said Clifton for the Dower of his wife it is after much debate and ferious examinations of their Severall pleas and evidences on both sides ordered that the aforfaid order of Stafford County be confirmed and that the faid Capt. Brent deliver the faid land or the value thereof to the said Clifton as woodland grownd and pay damages and cofts according to Act as in case of appeales als exec. (James Clifton married Anne Brent, sister of Capt. George Brent of "Woodstock").

(15) CAPT. GEORGE³ BRENT (George², Richard¹) was born at Defford, Worcestershire, England circa 1640, and died at Woodstock, Stafford County, Virginia—his will was written 6 April 1694 and probated before 1 Sept. 1700, the date of his eldest son, George Brent's will (the son in his will mentions land given him by his father). He arrived in Virginia circa 1670, and settled above his uncle Giles Brent in Stafford County. He married (1) circa 1670, Elizabeth, daughter of Capt. William Greene and his wife Mary, daughter of Sir William Layton, of Worcestershire, England. She was born 1654/5, and died in childbed, 26 March 1686, and is buried at Aquia cemetery north of Stafford Courthouse. The copper plate has been removed from her tomb but on the stone is carved the following inscription, which is still legible:—

Capt. George Brent married (II), 27 March 1687, Mary*, relict of Col. William Chandler, of Charles County Maryland, whose will was probated 18 May 1685, and daughter of Lady Baltimore (Jane Lowe) by Henry Sewell, Secretary of Maryland. She was born 1658/9 and died 12 March 1693/4. Her tomb is also at Aquia, viz:—

It is probable that Capt. George Brent married before coming to Virginia a sister of William Fitzhugh, his contemporary and very close friend of Stafford County, Virginia. William Fitzhugh, in his letters published in the Va. Mag. of Hist. & Biog., addresses him as "Dear Brother."

*These to Capt. George Brent, in Virginia:

London, 8ber, 1687.

Sr.—I acknowledge my receipt of yr oblinging letter, and do verily, heartily wish you much ioye and happiness with my wife's daughter, whom (I understand) yo have lately married; I assure yo, I should esteem it an advantage to me, and a great credit to Maryld, would affairs in Virga dispense with yr settling in that Province. But this happiness I cannot hope for, tho I will not despair of obtaining my desire in this particular, since we live in an age in which stranger things have happened. I must, indeed, owe there is in this wish of mine, a great mixture of Interest, as well as of respect, and value that I have for you, which, tho I know to be no very good complement, may yet prove a good argument of my desires, of serving you, when the advantage will be much my own. But I will not, any longer, insist on this subject, leaste I appear to be much selfe interested, and so not fitt to be believed at the same time that, I assure you, I am, with respect and kindness,

Your most faithful humble servant,

C. Baltemore

My service to yr Bedfellow.

In spite of the fact that he was a Roman Catholic, George Brent was one of the most useful and important men in the northern part of the colony. He was apparently the most active lawyer also. Below are some of the positions of trust he held:—

Att A Generall Assembly Began att James Citty the 10th day of Nouember 1682 Thefe ffollowing Orders of publique charge and leuy were made . . .

To Mr George Brent & Mr Wm ffitzhugh undertakers for Potomeck Garrison for themselves Commanders officers Soldiers and Indians.

	# Tobacco
According to Law	174832
To ditto for Caske for the said Tobacco	14786
To ditto for arrears of Caske not allowed in 1680—	3695
To Mr Geo: Brent & Mr Wm ffitzhugh for one Month provision for 40 Supernemerary Soldiers att Potomeck Garrison——	8046
	(J. H. B. p. 171)

Genl Ct. deeds No 3. 1682-1689, pp. 57-58: Lord Culpeper's commiffion of the 2d of May. 1683, appointing George Brent receiver general north of the Rappahannock. (M. C. G. C. p. 523).

Saturday May 10th 1684. The Houfe mett and Called ouer . . . And forasmuch as it doth Appeare, That ye Capt. Geo. Brent hath by his prudent Manage & Good Conduct, Pformed Good seruice for ye Country not only with his Soldiers in their proper ftation, but Alsoe upon the Honble prefedents Command (when ye Seneca Indians infested thofe partes) marcht to ye Affitance of Capt. Jones and the Inhabitants of Rappahannock of whose feruices this Houfe hath Receaued Godd Accompt And to the end that fuch merritt & Labour & traile of his foldiers may not be unrewarded, and for ye encouragm't of others to be dilligent & Vigillent in ye Pformance of their Duty. The Houfe of Burgeffes haue Refolued, That the sd. Capt. Brent be paid by the publique the fome of one thousand pounds of tobaccoe, as a Gratuety And his Corporall be paid four hundred pounds of tobaccoe, & to each of his men, Two hundred & fifty pounds of tobaccoe: As a ffree and voluntary Beneuolence from this Houfe. (J. H. B. 1659/60 - 1693, p. 218).

Cap^t George Brent and Robert Brent, ^{Gent}

Xber 4th 1685: As to the Claims of Capt. Brent . . .

It does appear to us, that when he was upon ye Countries service, pursuant to his Excellencies Commands, there was a necessity of giving an account of his proceedings to Mr Secretary, being ye next Councillour, and ye Countries Credit being foe very bad, noe person wharever could be procurred to goe on such a message, unleffe Capt: Brent would oblige himfelfe for payment. It would therefore be thought hard, that he should suffer for serving ye Countrey, therefore wee concieve he ought to be paid twelve hundred paounds of Tobaccoe & Caske. (Legislative Journals of the Council of Colonial Va., Vol. 1, p. 87).

Mr. George Brent took the Oath of a Burgeffe, but not the Oath of Allegiance & Oath of supremacy, 25 April 1688. He represented Stafford County. (J. H. B. 1659/60 - 1693, p. 291).

Mr. George Brent is the King's Attorney General in suit vs. William Fitzhugh, 1 May 1688. (Ibid, p. 300), viz:

That part of the Report of the Committee relating to ye abuse put vpon Stafford County & the whole Country by Lt Coll Wm fitz-Hugh read & confirm'd.

Mr Speaker acquaints the Houfe that he delivered the papers relating to the fame to Capt Geo: Brent the King's Attorney Genll.

Capt. Brent acquaints the Houfe of the receipt of the papers & the reason that he did not persecute was that his Commission determined (ended) before the Generall Court & that the papers should be produced to Mr Edmund Jennings his Majesties Attorney Generall when he comes to town.

This suit against Fitzhugh concerned a tobacco levy, the legality of which appears to have been disputed; as the outcome was not recorded in the Journal the matter must have arisen over political differences. The interesting feature is that George Brent did not persecute his friend and collaborator.

Capt. George Brent was agent with William Fitzhugh for the Proprietors of the Northern Neck, until his death in 1699. He succeeded Col. Ludwell. Fitzhugh carried on alone until his death, when he was succeeded by Robert Carter in 1702.

The following grants of land were made to Capt. George Brent before 1690:—

Mr. George Brent 1391 acres on a branch of the north fork of little Hunting Creek. 6 Nov. 1677. Sims, John Archer, Thomas Lightwood, John Johnson, Elizabeth Cherrington, Elizabeth Wingell, George Brent, James Ashton, Thomas Lewis, Edmund West, John Sallen, Avice Woolen, Thomas Peace, Ralph Deane, John Wilkes, Thomas Dunn. (L. B. 6, p. 226).

Sexty, Thomas Hix, Henry Lindell, John Jones, George Brent, Henry Brent, Henry Mildmay, John Thompson, Anthony Shelton, Richard Hardman, Mary Hardman, George Wilkes, James Clifton, Edmund Fitzherbert, Elizabeth Greene, John Adams, Charles Baker, Mathew Davis, Evan Jones, Ralph Fleet, John Hoskins. (Land Book 6, p. 625).

George Brent, 584 acres in Stafford County on Little Hunting Creek, beginning near the mouth of said Creek and adjoining the said Brents own land and that of Mr. James Clifton - 14 December 1677 - for transportation of George Brent, John Fitzherbert, Anthony Williams, Ann Brent, Dorothy Fitzherbert, George Matlett, Elizabeth Brent, Mary Brent, Edward Barton, Thomas Bird, Roach, Pethenton, Chan'r Veale. (L. B. 6, p. 625.)

Besides this land George Brent was a partner with Hayward, Robert Bristow and Richard Foote, in the Brent Town tract, which follows.

BRENT TOWN OR BRENTON

After the revocation of the Edict of Nantes and upon the arrival in England (1685) of the first batch of Huguenot refugees, Nicholas Hayward, a notary public of London and the son of a merchant in the Virginia trade, conceived the plan of utilizing these desirable emigrants to colonize a tract of land that he had recently acquired on the Potomac, adjoining William Fitzhugh.

Fitzhugh, on learning of Hayward's purpose, seemed impressed by the possibilities of the scheme and in a letter to Hayward, May 20, 1686, offered to seat 150 to 200 of these families on a large tract of his own, and incidentally to take Hayward's land off his hands

Hayward, however, declined this proposal, but realizing from Fitzhugh's representations that the tract he had at first intended to colonize was too small for the purpose, he formed a partnership with Richard Foote, his brother-in-law, and Robert Bristow, both merchants of London, and George Brent of Woodstock, Virginia, to purchase from Lord Culpeper, then proprietor of the Northern Neck, a tract of 30,000 acres 'in the forest' of what was then Stafford county. The grant, dated January 10, 1686/7, described the land as, 'All that tract, Territory or parcel of Land Containing by estimation thirty thousand Acres be the same more or less, Scituate, lying and being in or near the said County of Stafford in Virginia aforesaid, Between the Courses of the said Two Rivers, Rappahannock and Potowmack, backwards, at least six miles Distant from the said Main River and from any Land already seated and inhabited, and upon and Between the Southwest (Cedar Run) and Northeast (Broad Run) Branches of Ocaquan Creek and from thence towards the Mountains'.

Hayward then obtained a dispensation from James II granting to the proposed colonists permission to freely exercise their religion . . . dated February 10, 1686/7, viz:

Whereas our Trusty and well beloved George Brent of Woodstock, in our County of Stafford in that our Collony of Virginia, Richard Foote and Robert Bristow of London, Merchants, & Nicholas Hayward of London, Notary Public, have by their humble Petition informed us that they have purchased of our right trusty and well beloved Thomas Lord Culpeper a certain tract of land in our said Colony between the Rivers of Rappahannock and Potomac containing of estimation Thirty thousand acres lying in or near our said County of Stafford some miles distant from any present settlement or Inhabitants and at or about Twenty Miles from the foot of the mountains, upon part of which Tract of Land the Pet'rs have projected and do speedly designe to build a Towne with convenient fortifications, and doo therefore pray that for the encouragement of Inhabitants to settle in the said Towne and plantation wee would be pleased to grant them the free exercise of their Religion, wee have thought fitt to condescend to their humble request and wee do accordingly give and grant unto the Pet'rs and to all and every the Inhabitants which are now or hereafter shall bee settled in the said Towne and Tract of Land belonging to them as is above mentioned, the free exercise of their Religion without being prosecuted or molested upon any penall laws or other account for the same, which wee do hereby signifie unto you to the end you may take care and give such orders as may be requisite. That they enjoy the full benefit of these our gracious intentions to them.

“Provided they behave themselves in all civill matters so as to become peaceable and Loyall subjects, and for so doing this shall be your warrant and so wee bid you heartuly farewell.

The ‘towne’ so to be established, received the name of Brent Town, and a block house was built on the lower side of Town run in the southeast corner of Fauquier, not far from the modern village of Sowego. This position had the strategic advantage of ‘overlooking’ the Iroquois trail which followed the original ‘plain path’ of the Susquehannocks between their trading posts on Conoy island in the Potomac and Occaneechi island in the Roanoke, and, as a frontier fort, was locally important during the period of the Iroquois occupation of that portion of the Piedmont.

George Brent now lost no time in the development of the property and to provide access to it, cut the ‘Brent Town road’ from the Potomac up the Beaverdam branch of Aquia and across Dorrell’s run to the new town site, where, by June 1, 1688, he had established a few pioneers. Hayward in London, however, was less successtul. In his efforts to secure the Huguenots as colonists he encountered the organized competition of Carolina and other states, and although a few families were planted, in the end his project to settle the tract with French Protestants failed. One of his 'broadsides' written in French and circulated in London in the early summer of 1687, explains the terms under which colonization was invited:

The proprietors of the land * * * make the following propositions for the encouragement of persons who plan to emigrate into that country and there make a permanent establishment, that is to say,

'To the first to present themselves they will sell, for the sum of ten pounds sterling cash, at four 'ecus to the pound sterling, 100 acres of land near enough to the town to build a house upon it. Under this offer the purchasers, and their heirs, will become proprietors of the said land in perpetuity, subject only to a quit rent of four shillings sterling per annum i. e. double the proprietary quit rent. * * *

'For the further encouragement of such families as shall first present themselves, who cannot or do not wish to pay cash, and who desire to be assisted by these proprietors, they offer to lease to such persons 100 acres of land for a farm and one acre in the said town for a house, and to furnish to each family nails and other hardware in sufficient quantity to build a house in size 26 to 28 feet long and 14 to 16 feet wide, and 15 bushels of indian corn for their subsistence the first year, all at an annual rent of 4 'ecus (or one pound sterling).

'If any shall find 100 acres too much or not enough, what they want may be leased on a basis in proportion to that stated above, but upon the same conditions'.

After the failure of Hayward's plan, Brent, who was a Roman Catholic, took occasion, on the succession of William and Mary in 1689, to offer the Brent Town tract as a refuge for his co-religionists in England. (H. C. Groome, Faquier During Proprietorship, p. 22 etc)

It does not appear that this last plan was ever considered seriously, and by 1691 the final failure of all plans to settle the thirty thousand acres of Brent Town was apparent. However, the Town itself did contain some settlers. In the end 'the four interests descended undivided among the heirs of the original proprietors,' the Brent interests passing from George of Woodstock to his grandson George (44), and from him to his grandson George (82), and in 1804 at his death, to Daniel Carroll Brent (112), distant cousin and a great, great, great grandson of Col. Gyles Brent of Maryland and Virginia. (For more interesting details of Brent Town, see Fairfax Harrison's Landmarks of Old Prince William, chapter XIII).

WILL OF GEORGE BRENT, OF WOODSTOCK

In the name of God Amen. I George Brent of Wood Stock in Virginia, contemplating the fate of this mortal life do make and ordain this my last will and testament, in manner and form following:

First, I bequeath my soul to God, my Creator, & to the infinite mercies of my Redeemer my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ by whose passion and merits alone I hope for salvation, through the divine justice, of God the Father and the holy Ghost.

I bequeath my body to the earth to be buried in a Christian manner, & all my worldly estate to be disposed of as follows (viz) to my son and heir, George Brent and to his heirs for ever, I give all my lands & Rights to lands in England.

Also I give to my said son George Brent, & to the heirs of his body all my lands at Wood Stock, viz five hundred acres bought of Giles Brent, Esq. three hundred acres bought of Mr. Henry Peyton, two hundred acres, part of five hundred bought of Mary Rinit—the other sold to Mr. Nicholas Hayward, and nine hundred acres that lies between mine and Mr. John Guin's land. Also I give to my said son and to the heirs of his body . . . (page missing) (Daugh)ter Maria & for default of such heirs to my daughter Martha and the heirs of her body and for default of such heirs to my son Henry and his heirs for ever. To my said son Henry Brent & to the heirs of his body lawfully begotten I give four hundred acres the half of eight hundred acres of land held betwixt Colo. Fitzhugh & me & at Powels Creek, which we have agreed not to take the advantage of survivorship & as I would, so I know he will keep promise & confirm to him my said son—this is the land Harman Salley leased one hundred acres of. Item. I give to my said son Henry Brent and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten, six hundred and six acres, and part of my great tract at Brenton viz-six acres in the town and six hundred in the Country, being three town lots to be laid out together both in town and Country.

To my son Robert Brent and to the heirs of his body, six hundred and six acres of the said Brenton tract in form and manner aforesaid—I bequeath To my son Nicholas Brent and to the heirs of his body I give four hundred and four acres of Brenton tract in manner as afore'd . . . (three pages missing) each their respective bodies.

I give to my daughter Maria Brent and the heirs of her body my plantation at Quanticoe bought of Richard Rechlein, being three hundred acres, and for default of such heirs, to my son Henry Brent, & to the heirs of his body & for default of such heirs, to my daughter Martha Brent, & the heirs of her body.

To my son Henry Brent I give my land at Swanson's Creek on Patuxon River, in the province of Maryland that descended to me from my Brother Henry Brent who was Godfather to my said son Henry, the said plantation and all its Appertenances to him my son Henry and the heirs of his body & for default of such heirs, to my daughter Maria and the heirs of her body & for default of such to my daughter Martha and the heirs of her body, & for default of such, the reversion in my heir at law, in whom by operation & descent in law in all the estates tail in this my will made there is a (page missing) his heirs for ever I give the tract of seventeen hundred acres of Land upon Aquia Run where my Quarter is, having taken the deeds in his name, & also I give to him the said Nicholas one Bull and all the female cattle upon the said plantation together with the brand mark N B used upon the plantation and also six sows & one boar upon that plantation.

And my will is that at the age of sixteen he be possessed of the said Cattle, Hogs, & six Ewes & go to live there.

All the rest of my lands not disposed of in this will, I give to my son & heir George Grent & to his heirs for ever under no other restraint or reservation but only to see my debts faithfully paid and my will full performed.

Which said lands I will here enumerate, viz—one thousand acres at Nomanie where Morgan Williams is tenant which either descends or escheats to me, upon the death of Mr. Arthur Balderoe from whom I have not heard this ten years, & said Williams is now my tenant, but if Balderoe should be living or have disposed of it, or any nearer heir should appear Let not my son meddle with it I charge him upon my Blessing. Next five thousand acres now at Brenton in my great tract not before disposed of. 3ly five hundred acres at the mouth of Quanticoe that I bought of Mr. William Browne on which Gibson is tenant of part. 4ly, five hundred and fifty-five acres called Budgins on which Morie Peake is tenant. 5ly one thousand one hundred and forty three acres on which Robert Williams is tenant. 6ly, one tract not seated of 1391 acres lying near Budgins on which there is yet no tenant. Now you must know that this 1391 acres of land last mentioned was surveyed by one Thomas Osborne who by his will giving me his whole estate, this survey came to me & I obtained a patent in my own name after his death, but have since inderstood that Robert Hanks paid to the said Osborne one thousand pounds of tobacco for some of the said land which never was confirmed to him therefore my will . . . (two pages missing), place put by and under the quit rents of six shillings yearly, to be paid when the said Wm. arrives at full age, & not before. And now I haveing made all the devises I design in my lands I shall only refer those that are concerned in this my will to certain registers in my great Ledger which will show how I acquir'd my lands, how I hold them, the time and place of executing the deeds, Patents and conveyances, what records to repair to and where to find the conveyances in an alphabetical method placed, & marked with respective Letters which method I have taken and now publish in this my will because in this country Children differ for want of being well informed in their rights—given by, or descending from their Parents.

As for my personal estate I dispose it in manner following, first I give to pious uses two thousand pounds of tobacco & casks to be disposed of by my Executors as to them shall seem most convenient, for which they are to be accountable to none but God Almighty.

Cap^t George Brent and Robert Brent, ^{Gent}

God having blessed me with twenty five negroes young and old besides any that I had with my dear last wife, I do dispose of as in manner following: To my son George I give Goliah, Flora, Punch, Sall, Jogo alias Jack, them and increase for ever. To my son Nicholas I give Caesar, Great Pompey, Deborah and Samuel which last five are at his quarter them & their increase for ever. To my son Robert I give Will, Great Jack & Rachael, Will's wife and their increase for ever. To my daughter Elizabeth Brent I give Frank, Charles, Jinney, & Valentine them and their encrease for ever. To my son Henry I give Little Pompey, Bess his wife & Betty their daughter them & their increase for ever. To my two youngest daughters Maria and Martha I give Bridget and her son Will and Daughters Maria & Lucy & George (Maria's Children) & Margaret (Deborah's Daughter) them and their encrease to be equally divided betwixt them—that is to say those six & what encrease shall come until one of them shall arrive at the age of eighteen or be married & then to be divided equally between them, and my will is that if any of my children die under age and unmarried that his or her part shall be divided amongst all my children equally both in negroes and other chattels . . . (two pages missing), before it be twelve years old & my Daughter do not marry to leave more Children, that in such case the said two Negroes shall remain to my three children by my last most dear wife, both them and their encrease, viz to Henry, Maria and Martha or to the survivors of them.

To my son Robert I give all the female cattle at that quarter which I have given him in this my will & the brand RB belonging to that quarter.

To my daughter Elizabeth I give ten cows & a bull, six sows and a boar & my will is that they be paid to her at the day of marriage or age of eighteen which shall first happen.

To my son Henry six cows, six sows and six ewes & my mare Jewell & her last years colt.

To my two daughters Maria and Martha I give twelve Cows, twelve sows & twelve ewes, equally to be divided at the age of eighteen in the eldest & on day of marriage of either which shall first happen.

To my son Robert I give my mare Rose and all her encrease.

Descendants of Coll^o Giles Brent

To my son Nicholas I give the bay mare and her encrease.

To my son Robert six ewes and do will that at the age of seventeen, he go to his plantation & have the management of his estate, but not to sell anything besides his crops until he be of full age & so my meaning is for my son Nicholas altho have not yet before expressed it. All my plate I give to my son George & do order him to pay to his sister Elizabeth and his two Brothers Nicholas and Robert Brent five pounds sterling money to buy each of them a piece of plate, this plate given my son George is all marked with my coat of Arms. I give my wedding ring to my son George Brent it being his Mother's & her diamond ring to her daughter Elizabeth, my great plain (three pages missing).

However I positively will they shall be paid the debts due to me I hope will far over pay mine, but in case there should be any accident, I will and desire that for this two next crops all my servants and slaves be employed about making good tobacco & put under good overseers & a great stock of tobacco that way rais'd to pay my debts speedily in case those due me should not come in well, which if they do & discharge my debts without my crops, then it will be of greater advantage to my children but still for the good of my soul which I must desire my friends and children to be very careful of & not neglect or delay the payment of my debts but in the first place to settle them faithfully.

To my son George I give twelve cows & the remaining part of my sheep & all the breeding sows I have on this plantation where I live: my draught oxen I give four to my son George, to Robert & Nicholas each a yoke as they go to their own plantations, my stock of horses at (two pages missing), these are both tobacco debts, the first is to be found in sa'd Mason's ledger & the other I do not know to whom it is due or the amount of the sum but have heard that it was 8000 pounds or thereabouts & think it is to one Magone & another debt in which Mr. Mason and myself were jointly involved for Indian corn to one Elisha Mellows of Barbados for which he hath our bond & is given credit for it in my great Ledger, but no body has demanded it of me; the debt is about 2000 lbs. tobacco—now the reason that I mention these things in my will is, Because I most earnestly desire they may be paid to those, that they of right belong, and that no act of limitation be pleaded or any pretence of that nature in these or any other debts that are found to stand unpaid, by my books. I confess it is some prejudice they have not been demanded all this time when tobacco has laid so much upon my hands, but . . . (The remainder of the document is missing. It appears from the records of Prince William County that the will was dated April 6, 1694. The last page in the MS. is numbered 25. Pages 2, 4, 5, 6, 8, 12, 15, 16, 19, 20, 21, 24, and an unknown number of pages at the end are missing. The will is apparently an autograph, and has many corrections in the same hand, which would lead to the supposition that it was the original draft of which a fair copy was afterwards made.) (VM 18, p. 96 etc).

By a deed* in Prince William county it is shown that the will of George Brent, of Woodstock, was dated April 6, 1694, and by it he gave 2,020 acres out of Brenton to his eldest son, and directed that the same should be erected into a manor and a whole one quarter of said tract afterwards vested in George Brent, Esq'r., grandson of George Brent, the first named and grandfather to George Brent party to this deed, which is dated 1784. George Brent, grandfather of the present George Brent, and his son Robert, who was father to the present George Brent, sold portions of the land to Wm. Brent of Richland, father of Daniel Carroll Brent. The deed from George Brent (grandfather of the present George Brent), was dated 1778, and that from Robert Brent in 1780. The will of said William Brent is Stated to have been dated Jan. 8, 1782.

*George Brent late of Woodstock, Virginia, Esq., ancestor of George Brent of Aquia, Stafford County, Virginia . . . being seized with $\frac{1}{4}$ of a larger tract of land called Brenton by will dated April 6, 1694, devised 2020 A. to his eldest son and sd $\frac{1}{4}$ did afterwards become invested in George Brent, Esq., his grandson who is the grandfather of George Brent of Stafford County (1785) . . . by a deed dated 1768 George Brent & Robert Brent, his only son & heir in 1768 conveyed to William Brent, Daniel Carroll & Henry Rogers, this sd $\frac{1}{4}$. . . (Book "W", p. 85, Pr. Wm. Co. Va.) There was an earlier deed referring to this same transaction, (B. "Q", p. 472), George Brent, Gent., of Stafford Co. & Robert Brent, merchant of Stafford Co., to John Newman, (lease). Also B. "Q", p. 467, 26 April 1767: George Brent of Stafford Co., Gent., to Robert Brent, land left by will of George Brent, late of Stafford Co. Va. dec'd and devised by him to Robert Brent, father to sd George Brent party to these presents.

Descendants of Coll^o Giles Brent

John Hurst of Stafford County, Carpenter, aged about 72 years, being sworn on the Holy Evangelists deposeth and saith that about fifty years ago he well knew George Brent, Gentleman, who died about two years after. That he then lived in Stafford County afsd at a plantation which was then and still is called Woodstock where this Depont worked for the said George and was well acquainted with his family being employed for sometime on the said Plantation and hath heard the sd George Brent and others say that he came into Virginia from England and the sd George Brent told this depont that he was sent to his uncle Giles Brent to know how to live, and which Giles Brent* this depont heard died and left issue Giles and William which Giles this depont heard died and his brother William whom this depont well knew inherited the Estate, which William went to England to sue for an estate but never returned but one William Brent, since dead, came from England with his mother (whom Alexander Scott, dec'd, late minister of Overwharton Parish in Stafford county afsd, married) and got possession of the family Estate as his son and died some few years since, leaving issue two sons.

That he knew George Brent, the aforsd George Brent's son and heir who died unmarried. and also knew Nicholas Brent the aforsd George Brent's second son who was married but died soon after and this depont near heard the sd. Nicholas ever had any issue and believes he had none because he knows Robert Brent the third son of the sforsd George Brent, lived at the aforsd plantation called Woodstock and enjoyed the rest of his Father's Estate till the time of his death which happened above 25 years ago, but what certain time he can't remember and this depont further saith that George Brent now living at Woodstock aforsd is the said eldest son and heir of the sd Robert Brent, deceased.

That this depont hath lived about 38 years constantly within six miles of Woodstock aforsd and it is upwards of 50 years ago since he first knew and lived near the same, but at times removed to a distance from it.

John Hurst

*John Hurst has confused Giles the son with Giles (8) the father. It was Giles (28) the son of Giles, the immigrant to Maryland and Virginia, who had sons Giles III and William. John Hurst did not know either Giles, but stated he had heard.

Capt George Brent and Robert Brent, Gent

John Simpson of Stafford County, Planter, aged about 69 years, being sworn on the Holy Evangelist deposeth and saith that he hath been informed and believes that he was born within ten miles of Woodstock in the County aforesd and while he was a child this Depont's father and mother removed to live on the sd plantation of Woodstock and continued there till he was about 15 or 16 years of age when he removed about a mile from thence and continued there till he came of full age and married and hath lived ever since till this time within 20 miles of the said plantation.

That this depont perfectly well remembers George Brent, Gent., deceased, who lived at Woodstock when this deponents father & mother removed there and well knew George his eldest son, Nicholas his second son and Robert his third son besides whom he had two daughters Anna Maria and Elizabeth who afterwards married one Longman and went with him to England which children he had by his first wife whom this depont knew but does not remember her name with any certainty but believes it was Elizabeth. That the said George married a second wife named Mary as this depont believes and had by her issue Henry and daughter Mary and another Martha. That this depont knows George Brent the son died unmarried; believes Nicholas married because he told him so but never heard of any issue and believes he left none because he knows Robert his brother enjoyed the family estate till his death and that George his eldest son and heir now living at Woodstock aforesd enjoys the same.

That this depont always understood and was informed by his father in Particular who served his time with the first named George Brent that the sd George was born in England and came from thence to Virginia.

John Simpson

At a Court held for Stafford County, June the 9th 1747

John Hurst and John Simpson made oath to their depositions in Court which on moetion of George Brent, Gent., are admitted to record.

He is mentioned in the early records of this county as a practising attorney with his older brother, Capt. George Brent.

The Patent Rolls in the Public Record Office, London, reveal the fact that a Grant to Robert Brent was made of all wrecks etc. . . in or upon any of the rocks, shelves, seas or banks, on or near the coast of America, between the Bermudas and Porta Rica, or between Categena and Havana . . . 4 James II (1688). (28) COL.* GILES³ BRENT (Giles², Richard¹), was born at Retirement in Stafford Co., Virginia 5 April 1652, and died in Middlesex Co., Virginia, viz.:

Coll: Giles Brent, of Potomack, died September 2, 1679, and was buried in the Great Churchyard ye next day following. (Reg. of Christ Church, Middlesex Co.)

He married his cousin Mary Brent(24). From the item below, she married (II) Francis Hammersley:

Stafford County, 9 October 1691, Mr. Giles Brent, son and heir of Giles Brent, Gent., late of this county, deceased, came into court and chose his father-in-law (step-father) Francis Hammersley his guardian. (Fourteen years was the age at which children could choose guardians). (Va. Mag. Hist. & Biog., vol. 16, p. 212)

*Giles Brent, like his father, is given the rank of captain and colonel in the Virginia records indiscriminately.

Cap^t George Brent and Robert Brent, Gent

In 1691, Francis Hammersley, guardian of Giles Brent, son and heir of Col. Giles Brent, conveyed to the feoffees appointed by law 50 acres in Stafford on Potomack Neck for the rown of Marlborough. (Va. Mag. Hist. & Biog., v. 5, p. 228). George Brent was his guardian, Feb. 10, 1692/3.

The following deed establishes the date of birth of Col. Giles Brent:

KNOW ALL MEN by these presents that I Giles Brent of Retirement in ye County of Stafford, Gent., for several Good Causes and Considerations me thereunto moving but more especially in Compliance with an obligation bearing date 28th September 1671 wherein my Honoured Father Giles Brent since deceased and my Selfe Stand Justly bound to George Brent of Woodstock in the County aforesd., Gent., for a Valuable Consideration then received that I the Sd. Giles Brent make this Sale of Land . . . 500 acres of the Northernmost part of the original 1800 acres of Puscattaway Neck . . . when it shall please God that I should arrive at the age of one & twenty years & being arrived att the aforesaid age . . . IN WITNESS whereof I have hereinto sett my hand and Seal this 5th of April Anno 1673 & in the four and twentieth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Charles ye second by the Grace of God of England Scotland France & Ireland King Defender of the faith. (Va. Mag. v. 16, p. 100).

The fourth and twentieth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Charles ye second stamps Giles Brent as a true Royalist: he does not admit that Oliver Cromwell existed from 1649 to 1660 as ruler of England!

For about two years after becoming of age, Giles Brent was to live a quiet life, as far as the records show; but the next four and final years were to be stormy and tempestuous. TM, writing thirty years after this period, to the Right Hono'ble Robert Harley, Esq'r., Her Mag'ties Principal Secretary of State, and one of her most Hono'ble Privy Council (Queen Anne 1702-1714), gives an on-the-ground picture of the Indian Wars in Virginia, as well as the rebellion led by Bacon. (See Samuel Kerchival's introduction to History of the Valley, pps xiv etc; Kerchival did not know in 1833, the name of TM; later historians have given him the name of Thomas Matthew of Cherry Point, Northumberland County, Virginia, a member of the Assembly at Jamestown).

This is the beginning of TM's report, and the only part that concerns Giles Brent; the entire report is well worth reading to those interested in early Virginia history:

My Dwelling was in Northumberland, the lowest County on Potomack River, Stafford being the upmost; where having also a Plantation, Servants, Cattle etc. My Overseer there had agreed with one Robt. Hen to come thither, and be my Hersdman, who then lived Ten Miles above it. But on a Sabbath day Morning in the summer Anno 1675, People on their Way to Church, Saw this Hen lying th'wart his Threshold, and an Indian without the Door, both Chopt on their Heads, Arms and other Parts, as if done with Indian Hatchetts. The Indian was dead but Hen when ask'd who did that? Answered 'Doegs, Doegs', and soon Died; then a Boy came from under a Bed where he had hid himself and told them Indians had come at break of day and done those Murders.

From this Englishman's bloud did (by Degrees) arise Bacon's Rebellion with the following Mischiefs which Overspread all Virginia and twice endangered Maryland, as by the ensuing Account is Evident.

Of this horrid Action Coll: Mason who commanded the Militia Regiment of Foot and Capt. (Giles) Brent the Troop of Horse in that County, (both dwelling Six or Eight Miles Downwards) having speedy notice raised 30 or more men, and pursu'd those Indians 20 Miles up and 4 Miles over the River into Maryland where landing at Dawn of Day they found two small Paths. Each Leader with his Party took a Separate Path and in less than a furlong, either found a Cabin which they Silently Surrounded. Capt. Brent went to the Doegs Cabin (as it proved to be) Who Speaking the Indian Tongue Called to have a Matchacomicha Weewhip, i. e. a Councill called presently; Such being the usual manner with Indians. The King came trembling forth and would have fled when Capt. Brent, Catching hold of his twisted Lock (which was all the hair he wore) told him he was come for the Murderer of Robt. Hen, the King pleaded Ignorance and Slip't loos, whom Brent shot Dead with his Pistoll. The Indians Shot Two or Three Guns out of the Cabin, th' English into it, th' Indians throng'd out at the Door and fled. The English Shot as many as they cou'd so that they Kill'd Ten, as Capt. Brent told me, and brought away the King's Son of about 8 Years old, Concerning whom is an Observable Passage at the End of this Expedition.

The Noise of this Shooting awaken'd th' Indians in the Cabin which Coll: Mason had Encompassed, who likewise Rush'd out and fled, of whom his Company (supposing from the Noise of Shooting Brent's party to be Engaged) shott (as Coll: Mason Informed me) Fourteen before an Indian Came, who with both hands Shook him (friendly) by one Arme Saying Susquehanougs Netoughs i. e. Susquehanaugh friends, and fled; Whereupon he ran amongst his Men Crying out 'For the Lords sake Shoot no more, these are our friends the Susquehanoughs.'

This unhappy Scene ended, Collo: Mason took the King of the Doegs Son home with him, who lay Ten dayes in Bed as one Dead, with Eyes and Mouth Shutt, no Breath Discern'd, but his body continuing Warm, they believ'd him yett alive: Th' aforementioned Capt. Brent (a Papist) Coming thither on a Visit, and seeing his little Prisoner thus languishing Said 'Perhaps He is pawewawed, i.e. Bewitch'd, and that he had heard Baptism was an Effectuall Remedy against Witchcraft—Wherefore advis'd to Baptize him. Collo: Mason Answered No Minister cou'd be had in many Miles; Brent replied, 'your Clerk Mr. Dobson may do that Office,' which was done by the Church of England Liturgy: Collo: Mason with Capt. Brent Godfathers and Mrs. Mason Godmother, My Overseer Mr. Pimet being present, from whom I first heard it, and which all th' other Persons (afterwards) affirm'd to me. Record. undecimo Die September Ao Dom. 1678.

Giles Brent organized his forces of one thousand or more men and joined Bacon in what proved to be a futile march against the Indians. Bacon proclaimed himself the defender of the inhabitants of the western part of Virginia, and Gov. Berkeley denounced him as a traitor. Bacon then marched against the governor. Brent's men were very loyal to him when they were fighting the Indians but when it came to fighting Bacon, it was a different story. Bacon had burned Jamestown . . . when one Capt. Potter arrives in post haste from Rappahannock with news that Coll: Brent was advancing fast upon him (with a resolution to fight him) at the head of 1000 men, what horse, what foote, if he durst stay the commencement. Hee had no sooner red the Letter but he commands the Drums to beate, for the gathering his soulders under their Collours: which being don he acquaints them with Brent's numbers and resolutions to fight, and then demands here: which was cheerfully answered in the affirmative with showtes and acclamations, while the Drums thunders a March to meet the promised conflict. The soulders with abundance of cherefullness disburthening themselves of all impediments to expeditious order and good decipling, excepting where Oathes and Wenches . . . Bacon had marched above 2 or 3 days Journey (and these but short ones too, as being loth to tire his Laberour before they came to their works) but he meets news in post hast, that Brent's Men (not Soulders) were all run away and left him to shifte for himselfe. For they having heard that Bacon had beate the Governor out o'th Towne they began to be afear'd (if they come within his reach) that he might beat them out of their lives, and so resolved not to come neare him. Collonell Brent was mightily astonish'd at the departure of his followers, saying that they had forsaken the Stowtest man and ruin'd the fairest estate in Virginia: which was, by their cowerdize or disaffections, expos'd to the mercy of the Baconians. But they being (as they thought) more obliged to looke after their owne concerns and lives than to take notes, either of his vallour or estate, or of their owne Credits, were not to be rought upon by any thing that he could say, contrary to their owne fancies. (Landmarks of Old Pr. Wm., p. 124; Mass. Hist. Soc., (1866)p. 299).

Bacon had died in Gloucester from malaria; Berkeley had hung so many of Bacon's followers that King Charles had called him to England, where he died 1677, probably of gout, without making amends to the king . . . So . . .

In May 1679, Mary, the wife of Giles Brent, procured a judicial separation because of cruelty, the second one on record in Virginia. Giles moved down to Middlesex County on land left by his aunt Margaret to his brother Richard, and the latter having died without heirs, the land descended to Giles. So the fierce warrior, half Indian and half English, most probably died an embittered man at the early age of twenty-seven years.

Giles Brent, the elder, from numerous contacts with settlers from southern Virginia:—James Goodwin of York, Walter Broadhurst of Nomini, Peter Ashton of Elizabeth City, Samuel Matthews of Warwick, who was to become governor of the colony 1658 to his death 1660, and many others, soon realized the importance of the future Indian trade on the Potomac; so in 1653, when his son Giles was only one year old, took out a patent of 800 acres, and a year later, one for 1,000 acres, above the mouth of Little Hunting Creek, now the site of the present city of Alexandria. This land was called Puscattaway Neck and lay between Little Hunting Creek and Great Hunting Creek, immediately opposite the Piscataway Indian town on the Piscataway creek in Maryland. Viz:—

He went to Bermuda 1701, and there on 8 May 1702, married Susannah Seymour, daughter of Capt. Daniel Seymour, commander of Paget Fort, the eldest son of Capt. Nothing much is known of the activities of this Robert Brent, although his son began the family register on which the first part of this work is based.

There was considerable trouble about this time between the small tobacco growers and the large plantation owners who usually controlled the tobacco warehouses. It appears that the warehouse on Robert Brent's land was burned by May 1732.

Francis Plowden was disinherited by his father Sir Edmond Plowden, member of a Shropshire Catholic family. George Plowden wrote his will 5 February 1708/9 and it was recorded 26 November 1713:

Sir Edmond Plowden, his grandfather, was granted a charter by Charles I, 1634, to settle New Albion. New Albion included the present state of New Jersey, together with adjacent parts of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland. However, on account of financial troubles, he never succeeded in settling his grant. He arrived in Virginia December 1642. (43) WILLIAM⁴ BRENT (Giles³, Giles², Richard¹) was born circa 1677 at Richland in Stafford County, Virginia, and died probably in the Parish of St. James, Clarksenwell, Middlesex, England, on the 26th November 1709, where he had gone to claim the estate of Stoke and Admington as the eldest living male survivor of his great grandfather, Richard Brent. He married 12 May 1709, Sarah Gibbons, daughter of William Gibbons, of Box Parish, Wiltshire, England, Gent., and sister of Sir John Gibbons, M. P. for Middlesex. She brought her infant son back to Virginia and married (II) 20 May 1717, the Rev. Alexander Scott*, minister of Overwharton Parish, Stafford County, Virginia, from 1711 to his death 1738, and left issue. Her tomb is on the Scott estate Dipple, about two miles from Richland, viz:—

Here lyeth the Body of Sarah the wife of Rev'd Alex'r Scott, A.M., Minister of Overwharton Parish, and Formerly the Wife and Widow of William Brent of Richland, Gent. She exchanged this life for a Better about the 41st year of her age on Monday at one o'clock of Oct'r 29 1733.

(44) GEORGE⁵ BRENT (Robert⁴, George³, George², Richard¹) was born circa 1703 at Woodstock, Stafford County, Virginia, and died 1778/9. His will was recorded in WB W-N, p. 367, 1767-1783 (OGI), but the book has been removed from Stafford Courthouse. He married circa 1730, Catherine Trimmingham, of Bermuda, a relative of his mother's family. She died 21 January 1751(OPR).

*Alexander Scott was the son of the Rev. John Scott, of Dipple Parish, Morayshire, Scotland. He was born 20 July 1686; died 1 April 1738. He was ordained by the Bishop of London, who appointed him minister of Overwharton 1710. In his report to the Bishop 1724, he states there were 650 families in his parish, 80 to 100 communicants, and several chapels . . . finding his glebe inconvenient, he resided at his house on the Potomac which he called Dipple. He acquired a considerable tract of land in what is now Fauquier County, Virginia. (Groome, p. 136).

His wife's name is Mary in the Overwharton Parish Register recording the birth of his two daughters. He was witness to the will of William Brent(63) 1742. (48) ELIZABETH^s BRENT (Robert⁴, George³, George², Richard¹) was born in Stafford County, Virginia circa 1710 and died in Fairfax County, her will was written, the last codicil, 27 March 1773 and probated 17 May 1773. She married circa 1730, William Clifton, and he was dead by October 1771, as his inventory was recorded in that month. He was the son of Cuthbert Clifton and his wife Dorothy, daughter of William Winckler, of Bannister Hall, by Isabelle, daughter of Richard Elston of Higher Brockholes Hall. His grandparents were James Clifton, younger brother of Sir Thomas Clifton, Bart, and Anne Brent(21) of Lark Stoke, County Gloucester, England. There is a deed in Prince William County, 25 November 1739, from George Brent of Stafford, Gent., and Catherine his wife, conveying to William Clifton of Prince William County, Gent., 500 acres in Prince William County, part of a tract of land of 1,000 acres patented by Giles Brent 1654.

THE CLIFTON FAMILY

In Vol. 2, p. 54 &c., Burke's Commoners, is what appears to be quite a full and accurate genealogy of the Cliftons of Clifton, Lytham and Westby. Thomas Clifton, of Westby, who died in 1634, married Ann, daughter and heiress of Sir Cuthbert Halsall, of Halsall and Clifton (who had inherited Clifton, through several descents from Cuthbert Clifton of Clifton, who died in 1512, leaving a daughter and heiress Elizabeth, who married Sir William Molyneux, of Sefton) and had issue: 1. Cuthbert, 2. Thomas, 3. John, who married a daughter of Thos. Blackburn, Esq. of Orford, and had a son Thomas, who succeeded his uncle Sir Thomas Clifton, Bart., 4. William, died Nov. 26, 1695; 5. James, settled in Maryland, married Ann Brent, and had three sons and three daughters, Thomas, William and James, Mary, Bridget and Catherine, all living Jan. 24, 1691; 6. Ann; 7. Bridget, a nun at Dunkirk; 8. Dorothy, a nun at Gravelines; 9. Alice, married Alexander Righty, Esq. of Aspull; 10. Bridget married Thomas Westby, Esq. of Mowbrick, Lancashire; 11. Francis, married — Holgate, Esq.; 12 and 13. Margaret and Anne, nuns at Gravelines.

1. Cuthbert Clifton, married, but dying s. p. was succeeded by his brother Sir Thomas Clifton (2. Thomas Clifton), born July 7, 1628, created a baronet in 1662. He married twice, and died Nov. 13, 1694. He had a son Thomas, born 1668, died before his father and unmarried in 1688 and two daughters, Mary who married Thomas, 6th Lord Petre, and Bridget married Sir Francis Askings.

On the death of Sir Thomas Clifton (who had survived his only son) the baronetry became extinct; but the estates, Clifton, Lytham, etc., passed to his nephew Thomas Clifton, son of 3. John Clifton. This Thomas Clifton, esq., of Clifton, Lytham, etc., married Eleanora Althea daughter of Richard Walmsley, Esq., of Dinkinhalth, Lincolnshire, and died in 1720 having issue: 1. Thomas, born Aug. 30, 1696; 2. Mary, born Nov. 13, 1697, married Sir George Mostyn, of Talacre; 3. Isabel, born May 27, 1699; 4. Ann, born Sept. 7, 1703, married Sir William Gerrard, of Bryn; 5. Cuthbert, born Jan. 3, 1706; 6. Julia born Oct. 4, 1707.

It will be observed that Burke gives James Clifton, who came to Virginia (not Maryland as he states) several sons and daughters. The Brent genealogy prepared about 1740 (see this Magazine XII, 442) says he had "many children," naming especially Cuthbert, Ann and Elizabeth. The notes from the publication of the Catholic Record Society, printed in this Magazine XXII, 424, gives this

James Clifton four sons and three daughters. Attention is called to these statements in view of the will of James Clifton who came to Virginia and married Ann Brent, but names only one daughter Catherine, and no sons. The nephew, Thomas Clifton, Esq. of Lytham, who is sole legatee of the lands was no doubt Thos. Clifton, above, who died in 1720. George Clifton may have been his brother not named in Burke's pedigree, The Latin grant of administration, dated April 5, 1728, is to "Gulielmo Clifton, nepote ex filius, prox consanguineo et creditori principali Jacobi Clifton de Preston in comitatu Lancastri, defuncti," George Clifton the executor named in the will having relinquished.

So, though James Clifton names no sons or grandsons, he had a grandson William Clifton administering on the estate. This was no doubt the William Clifton who also came to Virginia. It may be that the only son of James Preston, who was alive when he made his will in 1714, was a priest. (V. M., vol. 23, pp. 316-7).

Capt. William Brent died at Aquia, 17 August 1742. (OPR).

Cap^t George Brent and Robert Brent, ^{Gent}

He married Jane — circa 1730. Nothing can be found concerning her surname, but it is most probable that she came from Maryland. While the death notice of William Brent records his residence as Aquia, the data showing the births of his children state that he is of Richland.

William Brent vs. William Tasker, October Term, 1737: Ejectment of Tract of Land lying in the Isle of Kent in Queen Anne County, Maryland:—

It appears from the special verdict found in the case, that the land in question was on 7th Sept. 1640, pattented to Giles Brent, and from him descended to his son and heir Giles Brent during all the time of his life an inhabitant and resident in the Colony of Virginia. That after his death the land descended to his son and heir Giles Brent, who always afterward was an inhabitant and resident of the same Colony, and there at about the age of 30 years, died intestate and without issue, whereby the land descended to his heir-at-law, William Brent, an infant of the age of 16 years, who then was and continued to be an inhabitant and resident in the said Colony of Virginia until he attained the age of 25 years, when he departed from thence and went to Great Britain, where he died intestate and without issue born, leaving his wife privily with child of William Brent, the lessor of the plaintiff, who was born three months after the death of his father, to-wit the 6th March 1710. That the same William, from the time of his birth, has always been an inhabitant and resident of the Kingdom of Great Britain and the Colony of Virginia.

Judg't for Plff. Deft. finally appealed to the King in Council. (Va. Mag., 16, p. 100).

See William Brent (80) for further data concerning this suit.

Beginning 16 Sept. 1746, there is a list of rents in Stafford Co. records due the estate of Capt. William Brent, deceased. The figures refer either to rent in pounds of tobacco or acres rented. Among the names mentioned are George Brent 680, Mr. Charles Brent 2100, Charles Carter 950, John Mercer 3000, Mr. George Brent 1800, Peter Hedgeman 1000.

Robert Brent "was sent at a very early age to a Grammar School at Bohemia, in Maryland, under the care of the Jesuits . . . after remaining there a year or two & acquiring the rudiments of education, he was transferred to the College of St. Omer, in the Netherlands, under the exclusive Government of the Fathers of that Society. He continued at this school six or seven years, & I have heard it said by several of his contemporaries that he was eminently distinguished in it for the aptitude of his genius & the rapid progress he made in all studies of that celebrated institution, by intuition, as it were; for he was naturally indolent & adverse to severe application." (So wrote his son Daniel Carroll Brent (85). Did the father spare the rod!?)

Robert Brent, under 6,000 pounds (of tobacco) bond as administrator of the estate of John Sutherland, of St. George's Parish, Spottsylvania County, deceased, 1 July 1765. (Va. County Records, vol. 1). Dr. John Sutherland married Susannah Brent, sister of Robert.

Robert Brent is appointed Commissioner for the Estate of John Southerland lying in the said County (Spottsylvania) agreeable to the Act of Assembly for Sequestering British Property. (Journal of Council of Virginia, Saturday 20 June 1778, p. 151).

Robert Brent appointed one of Commissioners to report on encouragement of Iron Works. (Hening, vol. ix, p. 305, May 1777).

(66) CATHERINE⁶ BRENT (George⁵, Robert⁴, George³, George², Richard¹) was born circa 1736 in Stafford Co., Va., and died 1819, at Rose Hall, near Glasgow, Scotland. She married 1 October 1754, (OPR) James Douglas, a Scotch merchant of Dumfries, Prince William Co. Va., and brother to the last Duchess of Douglas, who took so prominent a part in the celebrated "Douglas Case." James Douglas died Sept.-Dec. 1766, in Prince William Co. Va.

A curious relic left by Mrs. Douglas, and still preserved, is a lock of hair of Mary Queen of Scots found among the papers of George Douglas, who rescued the ill-fated Queen from Loch Leven Castle. It is enclosed in a carved ivory casket surrounded by a wooden case, carved, it is said, by George Douglas from the wood of a tree under which the Queen stood during the battle of Langside.

(67) JEAN⁶ BRENT (George⁵, Robert⁴, George³, George², Richard¹) was born in Stafford County, Virginia, 10 April 1738 (OPR), and died circa 1817. She married 10 February 1757, Richard Graham (OPR), a Scotch merchant of Dumfries, Justice of Prince William County, and Sheriff 1784. He died: his will was written 15 June 1791: probated 6 September 1796, Prince William County, Virginia. In his will:

... to sons John, George & Richard, when Richard shall be of age, 138, 320 acres on Sandy Creek, Kentucky ... 127, 406 acres on Pigot Creek ... 25,000 acres on Cabbin's Creek ... wife Jean ... dear and only daughter Catherine ... mourning rings to Major George Brent, Doctor George Graham, Thomas Montgomery, Richard Brent, Robert Graham and Cumberland Wilson ... and Mrs. Mason, Heslop Dalrymple, and Misses Molly Lee and Molly Ball. (Pr. Wm. County W. B. "H", p. 181).

It is quite probable that being a tobacco merchant from Scotland that Richard Graham had the backing of foreign interests to buy land bounty warrants from the Revolutionary soldiers. The acreage mentioned in his will above approaches that of Gen. George Washington, in Ohio and bordering states. There was much confusion in the land grants in Kentucky, and a great deal of litigation and speculation. Not only were there individual speculators but also several powerful companies which were formed for the purpose of dealing in Kentucky lands. It was quite general to purchase the land warrants, and some speculators took up immense tracts. There is considerable information about such matters in Western Lands and The American Revolution, by Thomas Perkins Abernethy (1937).

1791 and probated 18 December 1798, in Fairfax County. She married circa 1760, Colonel Thomas Slaughter of the family of Cheyney Court, Co. Hereford, England. Neither his will nor inventory is found in Fairfax County, but he died before his wife, as she is styled in her will as widow of Thomas Slaughter. The Exors of her will are Daniel Brent, Roger West and William Herbert.

THE CLIFTON FAMILY

ANNE BRENT⁽²¹⁾, wife of James Clifton of Ward's House in Selwick, was one of the Brents of Lark Stoke, Co. Gloucester, a notable and wealthy Catholic family. Her husband at this time was in Maryland, but he appears to have returned before 1679, in which year he was living a recusant at Ward's House. He was the fifth son of Thomas Clifton, of Clifton Hall, Salwick Hall, and Westley Hall, and younger brother of Sir Thomas Clifton, Bart. He had five sons and three daughters: (1) Cuthbert, who married Dorothy, daughter of William Winckley of Bannister Hall, by Isabelle, daughter of Richard Elston, of Higher Brockholes Hall, and had issue (a) Father James Clifton, S. J., born 1698; died 1750; (b) Father Thomas Clifton, S. J., born 1700, died 1777; (c) William, who married his cousin (Elizabeth-48), one of the Brents, and was the father of Anne, wife of Colonel Slaughter, of the family of Cheyney Court, Co. Hereford; Anne and Eleanor, nuns; Elizabeth wife of Francis Greene, and Mary, wife of her cousin, one of the Brents, by whom she had a son, Henry Brent, who married Ellen, daughter of Laurence Breres, of Walton Hall, and had a son Laurence Brent, and two daughters; (2) Thomas Clifton, born 1675, who entered the Society in 1698, but left it in 1699; (3) Father William Clifton, S. J., born 1678, and died 1749; (4) Francis Clifton, born 1682, who was ordained a priest in the English College at Rome, April 3, 1706, and left for England April 2, 1709; (5) James, born 1683, and died an Ecclesiastical student at Rome, Jan. 2, 1704; (6) Mary, born 1679, became a nun at Gravelines in 1696, and died 1729; (7) Bridget, a spinster of Lytham who was a Catholic non-juror in 1717; and (8) Catherine. (80) WILLIAM⁶ BRENT (William⁵, William⁴, Giles³, Giles², Richard¹) was born at Richland, Stafford County, Virginia, 26 July 1733, and died Jan.-April 1782. He married Eleanor, daughter of Daniel and his wife Eleanor (Darnell) Carroll, of Rock Spring, Maryland, and sister of Anne, the wife of Robert Brent, and also sister of Archbishop John Carroll.

William Brent was one of His Majesties Justices for Stafford County, Member of the House of Burgesses, Member of the Convention 1776, and later of the House of Delegates.

March 1773 William Brent appointed one of the Commissioners with Thomas Ludwell Lee, John Alexander and Bailey Washington to sell damaged tobacco in the Public warehouse at Aquia. (Hening, vol. 5, p. 292).

The father of this William Brent died when the son was nine years old, and left the estate very much involved, as the following suits show:—

Saturday 15 Sept. 1744 . . . A petition of Peter Hedge-man, a Member of this house, setting forth That William Brent, late of the County of Stafford, dec'd, having a Title to great estate in Lands in the Province of Maryland, did commence Suit for the said Lands in the said Province, and recovered the same there; upon which The Parties concerned appeal'd to England, and several Persons in Great Britain advanced large Sums of Money

Descendants of Coll^o Giles Brent

to enable the faid Brent to carry on the faid Appeal. And soon after the Recovery of the faid Lands, he return'd to Virginia, and died, leaving your Petitioner his Executor; and that the Lands and real Estate of the faid Deceased are now vested in his eldest son, William Brent, to whom your Petitioner is Guardian; and that his Debts, particularly thofe in England are left unpaid, and that his perfonal Eftate is exhausted in paying his other Debts; and praying, That he may be enabled to apply the Rents and Profits that arife from thofe Lands, to the Difcharge of his Debts, was prefented to the Houfe, and read. (JHB. 1742-1749).

The above lands descended to William Brent intail by his grandfather's will, Kent Fort Manor etc.

AN ACT, to impower Peter Hedgman, gent. to lay out and apply the rents and profits of certain intailed lands, therein mentioned, whereof William Brent lately died seised, towards paying the debts of the said decedent; and for other purposes therein mentioned.

I. WHEREAS William Brent, late of the county of Stafford, gent. dec'd. was in his life time, seised in fee tail, of and in divers large tracts or parcels of land, lying and being in the said county of Stafford, and of the county of Prince William; and possessed of some slaves and personal estate; and so being seised and possessed, departed this life, in the year one thousand seven hundred and forty two, leaving issue William Brent, his eldest son, and heir at law, to whom the said lands descended; and having first made his last will and testament, and thereof appointed Henry Fitzhugh, esq. and Peter Hedgman, gent. of the same county of Stafford, his executors, and guardians to his said son.

II. And whereas the said testator, in his life time, having a right to a large parcel of lands in the province of Maryland, in the possession of Benjamin Tasker, esq. did commence a suit for the same, in the said province, and obtained a recovery; from which judgment the said Benjamin Tasker appealed to his majesty, in his privy council: And the said testator, in his life time, went to Great Britain to defend the said appeal; where, being entirely destitute of money, John Philpot, and John Buchanan, merchants, in London, upon the credit of his title to the last mentioned lands, did advance the sum of three hundred pounds sterling, to enable him to defend the said appeal, which was determined in his favour: And the said testator in his life time, always expressed himself very desirous, that the said money should be repaid.

III. And whereas the slaves and personal estate of which the said testator died possessed, are exhausted in paying the debts, which he owed at the time of his death, to sundry persons in this colony; and the money so due to the said Philpot and Buchanan, with the interest thereupon, is still unpaid.

IV. And whereas the rents and profits, arising from the said lands, in the counties of Stafford and Prince William, and in the province of Maryland, will be more than sufficient to maintain the said William Brent, the son, to whom the said lands are descended, and to pay the said three hundred pounds sterling, and interest; yet the said Peter Hedgman, the surviving guardian, (the said Henry Fitzhugh being now dead) cannot pay the same out of the said rents and profits, nor lay out the overplus of the said rents and profits, after maintaining the said William Brent the son, in slaves and stocks, to be placed on the said lands, for the benefit of the said orphan, unless he may be impowered so to do, by act of Assembly: Therefore, at the humble suit of the said Peter Hedgman,

V. Be it enacted by the Lieutenant-Governor, Council, and Burgesses, of this present General Assembly, and it is hereby enacted, by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this act, it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Peter Hedgman, and he is hereby authorized and impowered, after maintaining and educating the said William Brent, the son, suitable to his circumstances, to lay out and apply the residue of the rents and profits arising from the lands, descended to the said William Brent, as aforesaid, in the first place, for and towards the payment and discharge of the said three hundred pounds, and interest, or so much thereof as is or shall be due to the said Philpot and Buchanan; and afterwards in purchasing slaves and stocks, to be placed upon the lands aforesaid, of the said William Brent, for his use, in cultivating and improving the said lands; and to no other use whatsoever.

Descendants of Coll^o Giles Brent

VI. Provided always, That this act shall continue and be in force, during the time the said Peter Hedgman shall continue guardian to the said William Brent, the son, and no longer. (Henings Statutes at Large, V. 5, p. 292).

I William Brent, Esq., of Stafford county being of sound mind and in my perfect senses do make and annex the following Codicil to my last will and Testament dated the seventh day of January one thousand seven hundred and eighty two, vizt:

I give and devise to my executors to be by them sold on twelve months credit the following slaves, to wit:

*William Brent is listed as one of the importers of thoroughbred race horses from England to Virginia, and also as a race-track enthusiast, in the early records of Virginia. In 1752, William Byrd, the third, issued a challenge to run his horse Tryall against any for five hundred pistoles—about eighteen hundred dollars. Five horses were entered and the race was run at "Gloucester race ground," and won by Selima, belonging to Colonel Tasker of Maryland. William Brent mentions in his will his lot at Berkley Springs and the sloop which he gives to his three unmarried daughters . . . he was quite an active man in the social whirl of his generation.

Item, Whereas in my will I have directed that any deficiency that may remain due of my debts and legacies after the application of the monies arising from the funds particularly appropriated for that purpose shall be raised out of my Prince William Lands, I do hereby revoke and cancel the said clause and I will and desire to my said executors to be by them sold in fee simple so much of my lands in the counties of Stafford and Prince William such as will be sufficient for that purpose, unless my two sons William and Daniel shall otherwise pay and secure the same in the manner directed by my will; it being my intention that the estate devised to my said sons William and Daniel should be equally burthened with such deficiency.

Item, I do hereby also cancel the devise of two thousand pounds of crop tobacco given to my daughters whilst they remain unmarried. In testimony whereof I do hereby publish and declare this Codicil to my said last will and Testament and have thereunto set my hand and seal this eighth day of January one thousand seven hundred and eighty two.

(From the National Intelligencer of Thursday, Sept. 9, 1819):

On Tuesday evening, after a painful and protracted illness, our worthy fellow citizen, Robert Brent, Esq., late paymaster general of the army and Judge of the Orphan's Court for the county of Washington. No man has enjoyed more esteem than he. His honourable and virtuous character commanded general respect, which his amiable and benignant temper and manners ripened into warm attachment on the part of those who personally knew him.

On 1 June 1802, President Jefferson appointed him the first Mayor of Washington, and he held the position for ten years, viz:

Washington, June 3, 1802.

Dear Sir:

The Act of Congress incorporating the city of Washington has confided to the President of the U. S. the appointment of the Mayor of the city. As the agency of that officer will be immediately requisite, I am desirous to avail the city of your services in it, if you will permit me to send you the commission. I will ask the favor of an answer to this proposition.

Will you also do me that of dining with me the day after tomorrow (Friday) at half after three? Accept my friendly and respectful salutations.

TH: JEFFERSON.

To Robert Brent, Esq.

To which Robert Brent replied:

Washington, June 3, 1802.

Dear Sir:

I have had the honor of receiving your favor of this date, asking my acceptance of the appointment of Mayor under the late act of Congress for incorporating this city.

Although I feel great diffidence in the talents I possess for executing that duty in a manner which may afford general satisfaction, yet feeling it a duty to contribute my feeble aid for the public service, I will venture upon its duties.

Cap^t George Brent and Robert Brent, ^{Gent}

I beg you, sir, to accept my thanks for the honor which you are about to confer on me and for the obliging manner in which you have been pleased to communicate it.

I will, with pleasure, accept your polite invitation to dinner on Friday next. With sentiments of much respect and esteem, I have the honor to be, Sir,

*The following letter was sent me a few years ago, and is printed here to aid anyone interested.

Washington November 3d 1843.

My Dear Friend:

As you were so kind as to make some enquiries on the subject of my Uncle George Brent's claim, I again take the Liberty of intruding further upon your time, and requesting you to get such information as you can on the following points. I wish to know what is required at the proper office in Richmond to establish a claim for Revolutionary Services under the Law of the State or of Congress. 2dly, if it is sufficient to prove that the person claiming served as an officer or soldier without a specification of the time he served, either in the State or Continental Line.

In the case of my uncle George (82), we have proof of his having been a Lieutenant in the Army, but the evidence does not state the length of his service, and that the Representatives of a George Brent of Lancaster County, Virginia, received the Land Bounty as a Lieutenant although, according to proof we possess, he was never above the rank of a private.

As early attention to this as convenient will add to the obligations I am already under to your kindness.

Yours truly,

*William Brent Chilton printed in the Virginia Magazine of History & Biography beginning with the 1907 issues, a rather extended history of this branch of the Brent Family. He left much in his notes which he did not publish; however I have included most of his data in this work. Mr. Chilton's notes, now in the hands of Mr. H. G. Hunt, were generously loaned to this compiler. The family registers concerned were begun by George Brent (44), continued in the Capt. George Brent line by Daniel Carroll Brent(85), and John Carroll Brent (127). Mr. Chilton died in Washington D. C. 3 October 1939. Requiescat in pace!

his wife Sarah Taney and the only brother of the Right Reverend Edward Fenwick, the first Roman Catholic Bishop of Cincinnati. Ignatius Fenwick, Jr. was the son of Ignatius Fenwick, Sr., and his wife Mary Cole. Cuthbert Fenwick was an early immigrant to Maryland and the ancestor of this family (Hanson's Old Kent).

Maria Fenwick Brent was born at Pomonkey 27 February 1792 and died in Washington D. C., 1 January 1836.

William Leigh Brent was a lawyer. He went to Louisiana just after his marriage, being commissioned by President Madison as Deputy Attorney General for the Western District of the Territory of Orleans. He practised law successfully in the Attakapas, and in 1822 was elected as representative of Louisiana in Congress, that territory being then entitled to only one Congressman. He was re-elected in 1824 and 1826. His country residence in Maryland was Pomonkey, just above Indian Head on the Potomac.

On the tomb of William Leigh Brent is the following inscription:

Descendant of the Brent Family that extended such generous and noble hospitality to poor Acadian exiles cast away on the shores of Maryland by British oppressors, who were quietly emigrated to Louisiana. Because of deep gratitude for the kindness of the Brent Family, the name of Brent has always been kept in particular veneration and esteem by their descendants. No wonder that the popularity of William Leigh Brent should have been so great with the Acadian population of Teche Bayou.

(160) WILLIAM⁸ BRENT (Daniel⁷ Carroll, William⁶, William⁵, William⁴, Giles³, Giles², Richard¹) was usually known as *William Brent, Jr. He was born at Richland, Stafford County, Virginia, 13 January 1783, and died 13 May 1848. He married (I) 22 March 1810, Winifred Beale, daughter of Col. She was born 3 February 1790 and died 26 September 1833, and is buried at Coton. William Brent and Winifred Beale Lee were married by the Rev. Mr. Dunn, of Cameron Parish, Loudon County, Virginia. William Brent married (II) Roxanna Sommers, b. 1798; d. 5 Dec. 1882 at Palermo, and is buried by her husband in St. Paul's cemetery, Alexandria, Virginia. No children by second marriage.

William Brent was a Member of the House of Delegates 1810-11, and Charge d'Affaires to Buenos Aires 1844-1846.

*Between 1840 and 1850 the Richland estates passed from William Brent, Junior to the Fitzhughs and afterwards from the Fitzhughs to the Lees. The house with a thousand acres of the original land was sold some years ago by General Fitzhugh Lee to Mr. Alfred J. Pyke, an English gentleman, the present owner (1908), who has improved the house and added a private chapel.

The original house was burned by the British fleet under Lord Dunmore during the Revolution. It has been several times rebuilt, and the present house which stands on the same site as the older ones is a comfortable modern structure. It is quite near the Potomac River, and about a quarter of a mile from Widewater station on the Richmond and Fredericksburg Railroad. (Va. Mag. 16, p. 102).

mont, Genessee County, Michigan between December 1858 - April 1859.

Thomas L. L. Brent was appointed a clerk in the State Department by Secretary Smith 1 January 1811; Secretary to the Legation to Spain, 15 October 1814, by President Madison, and acted as Charge de Affaires there until Washington Irving presented his credentials as Minister, 28 August 1816. On 19 April 1817, he was appointed Agent for Claims of Seamen, an office added to that of Secretary of the Legation. He continued in these offices during the appointment of both Irving, and later that of Forsythe; and on 22 May 1822, was appointed by President Monroe, Secretary to the Legation to Portugal. Upon the departure of Minister Dearborne, he acted as Charge de Affaires ad interim at Lisbon, 30 June 1824 until 25 June 1825, when he was received as full Charge de Affaires, having been commissioned to this office in March 1825 by President Adams.

The diplomatic relations between this nation and Portugal having been ruptured, he requested his passports 25 November 1834.

The career related above must have fitted Thomas L. L. Brent admirably for the diplomatic service, but was not a good preparation for the work of a pioneer in the wilds of Michigan. He must have managed his finances judiciously, for upon his arrival in Michigan he must have had a fortune of ninety or one hundred thousand dollars*. In 1836, he purchased 70,000 acres of land in Genessee and Saginaw counties, which exhausted his wealth to such an extent that he had little left to improve his property or pay the taxes. He cleared part of the land and built a sawmill upon Flint River, above his pioneer log house. However, this expenditure, together with the taxes on his vast holdings, made

*In October 1920, I made a visit to Flushing, and talked to a Mr. Hart, who was ninety-six years old, but possessed of all of his faculties. He said that in his youth he was a Sunday visitor at Rosemenot, and that the Brents had the first piano in this part of Michigan. Several persons related the story about the $100,000 that Thomas L. L. Brent brought with him: the only difference in the stories concerned the container—some said he brought it in bags, while others said he brought it in trunks, all in gold! (C.H.B.) it necessary that he sell a part of the land, very much against his will. He soon built a frame house of rather imposing lines and with some fine carving about the eaves and portico. This house was unoccupied except for the kitchen section in 1920, but was in a fair state of preservation.

After his death, the son, Henry, who was old enough to take care of the estate, appeared to take no interest in it, but was more intent on constructing musical instruments; and by 1867, the last of the property seems to have been deeded away or lost in some other financial transaction.

(3) JOHN BRENT of Fairfield County, South Carolina, Planter . . . for Seventy-five Pounds . . . to Thomas McMeekin of the County and State aforesd . . . All the residue of two tracts of land originally granted to Thomas Nelson & John Woodward, containing 225 acres . . . his wife is Ann . . . 12 Feb. 1799 . . . JOHN BRENT of the District of Fairfield South Carolina . . . in consideration of the sum of Two Thousand Dollars to me paid by John Williamson of the District & State aforesd have sold 340 acres situated on Little Cedar Creek of Broad River in the District of Fairfield . . . 13 Oct. 1809 . . . his wife is Nancy.

John Brent must have left South Carolina soon after 1809 for in 1812 we find him in Mississippi, viz:—U. S. Land Grant to John Brent in Marion County, Miss., 1812, 320 acres east of Bogue Chitto River; Lawrence County, 1813, 320 acres east of Topisaw Creek; same county 1814, 320 acres on west side of Topisaw Creek. He was in 1812, charter member of Bogue Chitto Baptist Church, Marion County. A member of the family still has in his possession his Revolutionary rifle, inscribed on the barrel "J. Brent 1775". (There was a John Brent who served in 2nd Va. Reg., Continental Line. Gwathmzy). This John Brent is believed to have served in the War of 1812, from 15 Sept. 1812 to 17 Jan. 1814, in Capt. Wm. Mack's 1st Reg. Mississippi Territorial Volunteers; or maybe it was his son John, Jr.

In 1814 Tax Rolls of Lawrence County, Miss. the names of John Brent, Sr., John Brent, Jr., Meredith and Charnel Brent. appear.

In 1816 Census of Pike Co., Miss., John Brent, Sr. is head of a family, viz:— 3 white males over 21 years, 1 white male under 21 years, 1 white female over 21 years and 1 white female under 21 years, and 1 slave. In the 1820 census records he is shown as having 1 male over 45 years, 2 males 18 to 26 years, 1 female over 45 and 1 female under 10 years. The minutes of the Bogue Chitto Baptist Church show that he died 22 Nov. 1821. His will has not been found, since the courthouse burned in 1880.

His children are believed to have numbered seven sons and at least one daughter; Charnel, James and William are not proven by the records extant.
