Whose sword or voice has served mankind,
And is he dead, whose glorious mind
Lifts him on high?
To live in hearts we leave behind,
Is not to die."

INTRODUCTION

About 45 years ago some friends and I were talking about things in general, when my friends began to talk about their Ancestry — their grandfathers and great grandfathers. I listened for a while and finally said, "well, I couldn't tell you my grandfather's name on either side if I had to be shot." One of my friends in surprise, exclaimed, "What! Did a buzzard lay you on a stump?" I did not take offense, knowing that he was joking, but I hung my head for a moment and said, "Well, I don't know, but I am going to find out, beginning right now." I began thinking, just how did I come to be here? Who, where and how did I get here and know so little about it?

At that time, my father and mother were dead. I found with some difficulty, that my grandfather died in the Mexican War in 1848, not long after the surrender of the City of Mexico, when my father was only two years old. It seems that in those days but few people kept any records of their ancestry, and did not even talk very much about them. Consequently my father knew very little about his people, to pass on to his posterity.

I finally learned my grandfather's name from older people. My next step was to get my great grandfather's name, but how? This was more difficult; he had died between 1840 and 1843, and no one living in my day knew anything about him. None of my people had heard or remembered his name. One day I was searching through my grandmother's old trunk, full of old papers of every description, all jumbled together, and by accident found this old tax receipt, "Rec'd of William Bailey (son of Samuel) his State and County Tax in full for 1842, 25 cents. (signed) Ja. C. Miller Sheriff."

Now I had learned that my grandfather's name was William and this receipt being with my grandmother's papers, there was little doubt as to my great grandfather's name. Beyond this, I had to rely upon Documental Records found at County seats, State Capitols and libraries scattered over the eastern part of the United States. Hundreds of counties have been visited personally, in Tenn., N. C., S. C., Md., N. J., Ky., Ind., Mo., Ark., and other states. I have had access to most of the larger libraries in State

Capitols and others; Library of Congress; Census Records. Veteran's Records, Pension Records and other history in the National Archives at Washington, D. C. Wills, deeds, marriages and other records in the above mentioned counties and states have contributed liberally to these records and made it possible to connect our lines back to the Immigrants.

Now I have not done all this work alone, much credit must be given to others, who have contributed liberally; but special credit and thanks are due Mrs. James Laningham of Pennington Gap, Va.; Mrs. Alta Tarango of San Pedro, Calif.; Mrs. Lyle O. Waddell, of Las Cruces, N. Mex. who have collected much data on the same lines, and have much information on collateral lines, stemming out of Fauquier County, Va., which has not been included in this volume. There are many others who have helped in a great way, to whom I wish to express my thanks.

I am not a grammarian nor historian, but interested principally in research of genealogical facts pertaining to our Bailey-Britton lines. A few items of history have been drawn from others who are gifted historically, and used as a support to this work.

Of course there are many errors, typographical and otherwise, but there are no deliberate statements that have not been proven at least logically and to the satisfaction of the writer. Some information in regard to the present generations has been given orally by members of the family and no doubt errors will be found. Many dates have been taken from census records which are not always correct, It would be impossible to compile a record like this absolutely perfect. Many Bible records have been taken, which may be considered indisputable.

The Baileys in the early days seemed to find it hard to break away from the old, and many times repeated names, as John, William, James, Thomas, Samuel, Robert, Henry and Joseph; and to break the monotony, one ventured to name his son "Broadbill," and got away with it. Others soon followed suit. Then other names appeared, such as Greenberry, Littlebery, Nimrod, Siman, Callam, Mumford, Hancock, Absalom, Elisha, Golvin and finally parents began to name their children anything they pleased, such as Finis, Above Hope, and Octopus. "Octopus, sir!" exclaimed the astonished divine who was about to baptize a baby, in the good old days, "But you cannot call a child by so extraordinary a name."

"Yes, Sir, if you please, you see it is our eighth child, and we want it called Octopus."

I have given more time and study to the early history and origin of these family names, than to the present families which are now representatives of every state in the Union; many thousand of whom I do not know and cannot find. I have tried to get a background for these families who if they wish may trace back two or three generations and connect.

I have had some criticism from a few of our people who have not given it a thought; even some who have indicated that they thought it little short on sinfulness. But my Bible teaches that we should give an account of our Stewardship, and has as much to say about geneology as anything else. Moses gave the geneology from the beginning to Abraham which covers a period of more than three thousand years. Geneology is found all through the Bible; read it, it is Biblical.

"Our fathers in a wondrous age,
Ere yet the earth was small
Insured to us an heritage,
And doubted not at all
That the children of their heart
Which then did beat so high,
In later time should play like part
For our posterity." —Kipling.

"Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers" —Proverbs 17:6

"Like the leaves on the trees the race of man is found,
Now green in youth now withered on the ground;
Another race the following spring supplies;
They rise successive, and successive fall:
So generations in their course decay;
So flourish these, when those are passed away." —Homer.

Geneology is not easy to compile, and less easy to understand by the laymen who have not made it a study; but must be studied as any text book to get a clear picture of what is meant to be conveyed.

Take a dozen jig saw puzzles
With fragments jumbled together,
Place them in their proper huddle
For they will fit no other.

When each is in its respective place
Then the picture is clearly done.
You've won your geneological race,
And can tell which is your own.

Worthy Ancestors and descendants are those who have bettered the race through serving it as individuals.

Ancestry is not an end, but a beginning.

It is like the old proverbial needle in a haystack; but I contend that a needle in a haystack can be found if every straw is removed one by one.

Every geneologist has a way of his own in studying family history. I have studied many of these histories and have selected what I think the the best points, and most easily understood. Since this work is primarily for the families interested, and not especially for other geneologists, I have refrained from using unfamiliar terms and abbreviations, too often used by specialists. My method may not be the best, but I feel much like the boy whose father, wishing to know how his son was getting along in school, said "Son how do you spell Elephant?" "e-l-e-f-a-n-t" was the prompt reply. "But I'm afraid Mr. Webster would not agree with you an that." "But you didn't ask how Mr. Webster spelled it, you asked how I spelt it." retorted the boy.

I think the boy spelt it rite. Many writers use too many silent words as well as silent letters. If you are inclined to be critical, just remember its the way I do it.

Too many unnecessary references tend to clutter-up the reading, and the inexperienced cannot get a clear understanding. Most members of families interested, will believe what you say, or else discredit the whole thing, references and all. Not many have a chance, or the time to look up references.

I have tried to get all our present families up-to-date but circumstances have prohibited getting some. The younger families have scattered to all parts of the country, and I have not been able to reach several of them. Besides, I have failed to get cooperation from a few. If your name has been left out, it was not intentional. Please forgive me. I love every one of my people.

My motto is: Do all the good you can
To all the people you can While you can.

and

When o'er life's sea you have finished sail
And you retire for final rest,
Tho' ports desired, you seem to fail
You'll be glad you did your best.

"Love is a driving force,
And by this force I have been driven."

I have refrained from eulogies and special praise of any one whose name is presented here, altho there are many who deserve it. Our forefathers were among the hundreds of frontiersmen who gave their lives in making this country a civilized place in which to live. Some of them have not adorned the pages of history as others, but no less deservedly. A beautiful story of bravery and devotion could be written about many of those pioneers whose names the historians have overlooked. They fought the Indians; they fought for their liberation from British rule; they fought in all other wars in which this country has participated; and I for one am ready to recognize their extensive liberalities. I have read histories of France, England and Scotland and find that nine hundred years ago, the Baileys and the Brittons held responsible positions in those countries; many of them had great wealth and during the reign of William the Conqueror and his successors. They were classed among the nobles of those countries. We, their descendants, have inherited principles of righteousness and respectability which is far better. If you are a worthy descendant you will rejoice in worthy ancestors.

Unfortunately, and lamentable as it may be, not all of our people have lived up to the standard set by our forefathers; However, the great majority have retained the principles of honesty and right living laid down for them, for which we are proud and thankful.

This book is not alphabetically indexed, that would be impractical; but a Table of Contents arranged chronologically from the beginning by countries, states and counties so that all connections can easily be found.

I regret that, on account of limited space, that names and records of veterans of late wars cannot be included.

Abbreviations and their meanings:

Sic. — as found

Ibid. — the same.

s.p. — sine progeny. Or without issue.

Asterisk — footnote reference.

b. — is sometimes used for born.

d. — died.

Circ. — around or near that time.

Figures and letters in parenthesis () used at the head of each family, denotes generations.

IN THE BEGINNING— GOD MADE MAN IN HIS OWN IMAGE

Since history and genealogy began with Adam and Eve, and by the will of God, traced far into the long night preceding the dawn of recorded history, we might as well begin in the Garden of Eden. The first five chapters of the Book of Genesis gives the story of the creation of man, and his descendants to the Flood, which covers the first lap of genealogy, or nearly one third the entire scope of time. Ninius, the disciple of St. Ellotus (or Elrod, the Bishop of Banger) writing in 755 A.D., gives the time from the Beginning to the Flood as 2042 years, and from the Flood to Abraham 942 years, and from Abraham to Moses 642 years; so we see that Moses, who wrote this history and genealogy, was covering a period of some 3600 years from the Beginning. How did Moses know? Why did he write?

Moses was educated in the Court of the King of Egypt, which no doubt claimed the greatest educators of that day. Moses knew how to write. God in his infinite wisdom preserved, prepared and inspired Moses as no other man had been inspired, not only to lead the children of Israel out of Egypt, but to collect and record the history and genealogy of man, from the meager data found on clay tablets in many of the ancient cities, such as Ninevah and Babylon. These clay tablets furnished the basis from which much of the ancient history has been deciphered*. Moses was writing more than fifteen hundred years after the Flood and gave the direct lineage from Noah to Abraham, but his genealogy is very inadequate as to collateral lines. However, genealogists and historians have made exhaustive research, and have made many interesting discoveries along other lines.

*ASSURBANIPAL (668-626 B.C.) also called Asphurbanipal, and by the Greeks known as Sardanapallus, is the name of the last king of Assyria, a ruler distinguished for his interest in art and literature. He erected magnificent buildings in Nineveh, the capital city, as well as in other cities of his realm, and in his royal palace he gathered a great collection of Assyrian and Babylonian writings. The remains of this famous library, consisting of more than twenty thousand clay tablets, are now in the British Museum.

GARDEN OF EDEN

"In the Bible is told the story of creation by God of a beautiful garden to be the home of the first human beings. Adam and Eve were put into it and were told that it would be their home as long as they did not disobey God by eating of the "tree of knowledge of good and evil." One day the maker found that they had done what they were told not to do, so he banished them from the garden. The story is told in Genesis. Many scientist have tried to locate the place, but probably the Deluge materially changed the surface of the earth, so it is only guess-work to assume that it was in the valley of the Euphrates River of to-day, as many people assert.

The Garden of Eden meant a place where everything was joy and happiness, and as such is used figuratively in literature to-day." (World Book Encyclopedia).

Gen. 2:8, And the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

10. And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

11. The name of the first is Pison; that is it which compasseth the whole of Havilah, where there is gold.

12. And the gold of that land is good: and there is bdellium and the onyx stone.

13. And the name of the second river is Gihon: and the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia.

14. And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Assyria; and the fourth river is Euphrates.

Note: The country called Eden in the earliest times comprised, for the most part, the lower Euphrates valley, with smaller rivers running into it. The Bible says, "And a river went out (or down) of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted and became into four heads." This means of course they ran down from four heads, the names of these rivers as well as the names of the countries, have been changed. The first river was Pison, now called Kurdistan, a small river running west out of old Persia, into the gulf of Persia. My theory is that in those days the mouth of the Euphrates was several miles south of its present mouth, and the river Pison ran into it before it reached the gulf. The Bible says that God cursed this ground (Gen. 3:17, or garden); perhaps it sank beneath the waters as did the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. Gen. 19:24, 25.

The second river, Gihon, is now Karun, "that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia" Cush, son of Ham settled in this section.

The third river was Hiddekel, now called Tigris, "that goeth toward the east of Assyria. And all these rivers running into the fourth, the Euphrates, which watered the garden.

This my theory, without authority, except my own intuition. Take it or leave it.

Gen. 3:20. And Adam called his wife's name Eve; because she was the mother of all living.

Gen. 4:1. And Adam knew Eve his wife; and she conceived, and bare Cain, and said I have gotten a man from the Lord.

2. And she again bare his brother Abel.

God had respect to the offering of Abel, but unto Cain he had not respect. Cain killed Abel, "and Cain dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden.

In Gen. 4:17 is given the descendants of Cain for six or seven generations.

Gen. 4:25. And Adam knew his wife again; and she bare a son, and called his name Seth: for God, said she, hath appointed me another seed instead of Abel, whom Cain slew.

26. And to Seth, to him also there was born a son; and he called his name Enos: then began men to call upon the name of the Lord.

Gen. 5:1-32. gives the genealogy of Seth to the Flood in a direct line. So genealogy is Biblical.

This is the Bible genealogy of the human race to the flood, and if there is any other record I have not found it. The generations of pre-"Ark-Ages" were fewer in comparison to the present day schedules. For more than two thousand years preceding the flood, most of the old patriarchs lived to the age of eight and nine hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

The names of most of the sons and daughters of these old timers, other than the main line of our ancestors up to the flood, are not given in the Bible. These no doubt, ran into the millions, who were to be swallowed up by the great Deluge; leaving only Noah, his sons, Shem, Ham and Japheth and their wives, to repopulate the earth.

For more than nine hundred years which followed the flood, to Abraham, there is very little reliable history or genealogy of the people of the "New Beginning" of the world, other than what the Bible has recorded. The people of the new era spread out over the lands, and in time, became virtually lost in historical obscurity, save those who, by the will of God, were preserved and recorded in the Bible. Yet thru the persistent efforts of historical and genealogical researchers, we have, uncovered much data of interest. Especially the names of some of the old kings and rulers, in line of their descent, were preserved, for which we are most grateful.

Just how many millions of years had transpired since the earth was formed to the beginning of man, is not known. The genealogy of Adam to Christ has been traced by Biblical authority. If this is correct, and we do not doubt it, many others could, and were traced by the ancient monks, whose business it was to record and preserve these facts. And as we have said, the lines of the ancient kings were preserved; and all our families run into some of these kings some time in the distant past, thru the sons of Noah, who built the Ark and preserved mankind, as well as all animal life.

After floating around for about four months, the old Ark bumped on Mount Ararat, in the eastern part of Turkey. We can only imagine the indescribable feelings of those eight souls when they found they were stranded on the earth alone. But evidently it did not take long to make up their minds what to do, so they turned themselves and the animals loose to re-populate the big round world, and they had plenty of "elbow room."

Gen. 9:1. And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, Be faithful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

If we read Gen. 5, 1-32, we get a clear cut genealogy of man from Adam to Noah. This period covers nearly one-third the time since the beginning of man. After the flood we deal with a new beginning.

From the three sons of Noah, Shem, Ham and Japheth, all the peoples of the earth were descended. We believe that a slight touch of the history of each of these sons would not be out of place, but would be helpful, as an overall picture, in tracing our people. We will begin with the youngest:

"Japheth, the youngest son of Noah, was born when his father was very old. On unusual occasions, Japheth acted very kindly toward his father and in consequence received a blessing, the essential part being that he should occupy large territory and dwell in peace with his brother Shem. Because his descendants moved to the north and west of Canaan, occupying much of Europe, he is the traditional ancestor of the European races.

(World Book Encyclopedia)

In Gen. 20:2-5, we find the sons of Japheth:

1. Gomer, his sons: 1. Ashkenas; 2. Riphath; 3. Togarmah. They lived in all Europe and the vicinity around the Black and Caspian Seas.

2. Magog, some of whose descendants went into Cythia, north central Asia, and also some between the Caspian and Black Seas.

3. Madai, settled in Media Persia. (Now Iran)

4. Javan, his sons: 1. Elisha; 2. Tarshish; 3. Kittim; 4. Dodanim.

By these were the isles of the gentiles in their lands; every one after his tongue, and after their families, in their nations.*

5. Tubal, settled in northern Russia with his brother.

6. Mesheck, and also between the Black and Caspian Seas.

7. Tiras, settled in the vicinity of what is now Bulgaria and Romania, north of the Black Sea.

Of course the descendants of Japheth subsequently scattered over the face of the earth, and were closely associated with Shem, and with whose people they became very much mixed.

"Ham, second son of Noah went out with his father from the Ark after the flood, to establish new nations. Gradually the families of his two brothers moved to distant parts of Asia, while Ham settled in Canaan, and is the reputed father of the African Race. Many of his descendants migrated into southern Arabia, Ethiopia, and Egypt. The entire group is called Hamites, for they still have many characteristics in common, and there is some similarity in their languages."

*Bible map shows the isles of the gentiles as being in Switzerland, Hungary and the northern parts of Italy and Yugoslavia.

(World Book Encyclopedia)

The Negro race was supposed to be the descendants of Ham.

In Gen. 10:6-20, is found the descendants of Ham:

1. Cush, his sons: 1. Sheba; 2. Havilah; 3. Sebtah; 4. Raamah, 5. Sabteah; 6. Nimrod, the mighty hunter, and their cities were: Babel, Erech, Celnah, in Shinar, Babylonia, Euphrates Valley.

2. Mizraim, his sons: 1. Ludim; 2. Anamim; 3. Lehabim; 4. Naphtuhim; 5. Pathrusim; 6. Casluhim out of whom came Phillistim; 7. Caphtorim—most of these settled in Africa.

3. Phut, in north Africa.

4. Canaan, his sons: 1. Sidon; 2. Heth. These two settled in Canaan east of the River Jordan, which land was later given to Abraham and his descendants as the Promised Land. (Gen. 12)

And the Jebusite, and the Amcrite, and the Girgasite, and the Hivite, and the Arkite, and the Sinite, and the Arvadite, and the Zemarite and the Hamathite: and afterward were the families of Canaanites spread abroad. Gen. 10:16-18.

All these were the descendants of Ham. We find some of Ham's descendants going to Babylonia, and eastward along the Persian Gulf and the Arabian Sea into India. (Bible Map).

Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers. —Prov. 17:6.

*We are leaving footprints on the sands of time,
Let's be careful how they are pointed.
Someone may be following us.*

"Shem, the eldest son of Noah, was the traditional ancestor of the Semite peoples (Jews). Shem and his brother Japheth showed a respectful attitude toward their father (Gen. 9:23) in contrast to the irreverence of Ham, and Noah accordingly prophesied that the descendants of Shem would subdue the Canaanites, or the descendants of Ham, and that the Canaanites would serve both them and the descendants of Japheth. (Read Joshua chapters 6-14 for the destruction of the Hamites) The descendants of Shem migrated into Babylonia, Assyria, Phoenicia, Syria, and peopled in time the greater part of Asia."

The descendants of Shem are believed to be that ancient Aryan race which inhabited central Asia east of the Caspian Sea, and north of the Hindu Kush Mountains. (Perhaps what is now Turkestan) They are also called Indo-Europeans and Indo-Germantic race.

Read Gen. chapters 10 and 11 for the children of Shem:

1 Elam, settled in old Persia (now Iran).

2. Assur, "And out of this land went forth Asshur and builded Ninevah and the cities Rehoboth, and Calah, and Rosen. (in the Tigris Valley)

3. Arphaxed, his son Salah, father of Eber. (see presently)

4. Lud, in Asia Minor, western Turkey.

5. Aram, his sons: 1. Uz; 2. Hul; 3. Gether; 4. Mash. Gen. 11:11, And Shem lived after he begat Arphaxad five hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

Asser of St. David's, in a genealogy of Alfred the Great, (King of the Angles and Saxons), says that Bedwig was also a son of Shem, and traces back to Adam, but Bedwig is not given in the Bible record. 39 generations from Adam to the reign of Alfred the Great.

Now back to Eber, son of Salah, son of Arphaxad, son of Shem. Eber had two sons: Peleg and Joktan, and it was from these two sons that the principal nations descended.

1. Peleg was the father of Reu, the father of Serur, the father of Nahar, the father of Terah, and Terah's sons were Abram, Nahar, and Haran. Haran begat Lot and Haran died before his father Terah, in the land of his nativity, in Ur of the Chaldees. And Terah took the rest of his family north-westward up the Euphrates river and settled at a place he called Haran, in what is now the southern part of Turkey, and there died about six years later. It was from Haran that God called Abram (or Abraham) to go to a land that he would show him. And Abraham took his nephew Lot, and all their possessions and removed to the land of Canaan. (Bible record).

Gen. 11:1-2. And the whole earth was of one language, and of one speech. And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar; and they dwelt there.

Shinar is in Ur of the Chaldees, in the southern part of what is now Iraq in the Euphrates Valley. If they journeyed from the east, they must have gone there several hundred years before; and no doubt they were the descendants of Shem. They perhaps dwelt in Assyria and Persia, (now Iran) before coming to Shinar. These were descendants of Peleg, the elder of the two sons of Eber, son of Salah, son of Arphaxad, son Shem, son of Noah, and were the old patriarchs of the Bible.

2. Joktan, second son of Eber, son of Salah, son of Ahphaxad, son of Shem, son of Noah, is believed to be the ancestor of that Aryan race who inhabited central Asia. (read Gen. 11.)

It is now agreed that southern Russia and ancient Poland formed the home of the Aryan language.

"ARYAN, meaning Lord of the soil, is the name given to that branch of the human race whose members are supposed to have lived originally in central Asia, with the exception of the Turks, the Magyars of Hungary, the Bulgarians and the Lapps, and the fins of Lapland, all the generations of Europe sprang from this branch of the human family. Centuries ago the Aryans became the ruling race in India, and their ancient language was Sanskrit. All modern language sprang from the speech of these people."

Gen. 11:30. *And their dwelling was from Mesha as thou goest unto Sephar. a mount of the east.

Gen. 11:26-30 is found the sons of Joktan:

1. Almodad; 2. Sheleph; 3. Hazarmaveth; 4. Jerah, 5. Madoram; 6. Uzal; 7. Diklah; 8. Obal, 9. Abimael, 10. Sheba, 11. Ophir; 12. Havilah; 13. Jobab, and all these were the sons of Joktan.

Joktan was the younger of the two sons of Eber, and the records show that he went into the Far East, and was probably the ancestor of most of the Asiatic peoples. It was no doubt these

*Mount Sephar may have been the Hindu Kush Mountains with the name changed. Mesh-had or Meshed is in the eastern part of what is now Iran, or old Persia.

Aryan people who became the ancient Angles and Saxons of Germany, of which Alfred the Great was one of the greatest of the kings; and he reigned from 849 to 887 A.D. Asser takes up Alfred the Great and traces back to Adam.

History tells us that the German people spread out to the north and west into Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Scotland, England, Ireland and other countries; and it was from these countries that the early settlers in America came, therefore we speak the Anglo-Saxon language, which was originally the Aryan Language, called Sanskrit in central Asia.

Ninnius, the disciple of St. Ellotus, (or Elrod, the Bishop of Banger, A.D. 755) says: That from Adam to the Flood was 2042 years; from the Flood to Abraham 942 years; from Abraham to Moses 642 years; from Moses to Solomon and Durius 612 years; from Durius to Christ and Tiberius 548 years; and from Adam to the ministry of Christ 5228 years. From the incarnation of Christ, being the fifth year of Edmund, king of the Angles, 976 years.

When any of our family names can be traced or connected with an old ruler, as many of them can, it is not incredible to think that we can trace our lines back to the beginning of Man. Of course it is perhaps impossible to trace very many of them thru a direct line from generation to generation thru those more than 3700 years—those prehistoric and dark ages, yet the Bible gives the connection up to Christ.

One genealogist has traced the Britton line back to Charlemagne, and this line connects with Alfred the Great; and Asser, from Alfred to Adam.

From Six Old English Chronicles: Ethelwerd's Annals of the Reign of Alfred the Great, (King of the Angles-Saxons) by Asser of Saint David's:

"In the year of our Lord's incarnation 849, was born Alfred, king of the Anglo-Saxons, at the royal village of Wanating, (Wantage) in Berkshire, England, which country has its name from the wood of Berroc where the box-tree grows most abundantly. His genealogy is traced in the following order.

King Alfred was the son of king Ethelwulf, who was the son of Egbert, who was the son of Edmund, who was the son of Fafa, who was the son of Eoppa, who was the son of Ingild. Ingild and Ina, the famous king of the west-Saxons, were two brothers. Ina went to Rome and there ended his life honorable, entered the heavenly kingdom to reign there forever with Christ. Ingild and Ina were the sons of Coenred, who was the son of Ceolwald, who was the son of Cudain, who was the son of Cynris who was the son of Creoda, who was the son of Cerdic, died in 519 A.D., who was the son of Elesa, who was the son of Gewis, from whom the Britons named all that nation Gewis, who was the son of Brond, who was the son of Beldog, who was the son of Woden, who was the son of Frithuwulf, who was the son of Fenre of Godwulf. who was the son of Geat, which Geat the pagans long worshiped as a god.

Geat was the son of Taetwa, who was the son of Beaw, who was the son of Sceldi, who was the son of Heremod, who was the son of Itermon, who was the son of Halbra, who was the son of Guala, who was the son of Bedwig, who was the son of Shem, who was the son of Noah, who was the son of Lamech, who was the son of Mathusalem, who was the son of Enoch, who was the son of Malaleel, (Bible Mahalaleel) who was the son of Cainiare, who was the son of Enos, who was the son of Seth, who was the son of Adam."

We note that the Bible does not give Bedwig as son of Shem, but that is no definite reason to believe he was not. Gen. 11:11. And Shem lived after he begat Arphaxad five hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

We have no doubt that the above genealogy is correct, and that the BAILEY-BRITTON line comes thru this line. I have a Bailey chart in my possession which shows the Baileys in this line.

FIVE DIFFERENT VIEWS OF BARNARD CASTLE

BARNARD CASTLE

BERNARD'S CASTLE, which gave birth to the town of Barnards Castle and provided its name, stands in ruins amid its numerous progeny. Gone is the pomp and the clatter of arms of long ago; the noise of modern traffic fills the streets outside the walls but deep silence reigns within. The ruined towers still stand high on the craigs above the swiftly flowing Tees and remind us of the pageant of time when, behind the encircling walls, nobles nursed ambitions of royal sovereignty, or beleagured garrisons anxiously their relief by slow-moving men-at-arms.

Much that gives colour to the history of Britain had its germ within the castle's now crumbling walls. How often have the banners of the proud Baliols, founders of the fortress, left its gates leading the men of the town and district to bloody battle. But not for battle alone are the Baliols remembered: they dare large-hearted too. Baliol College, takes its name from John Baliol who first provided endowments in the 13th century and stimulated that thirst for knowledge which is still unquenched. Devorguila, his wife, arranged for its secure establishment after his death and also provided one of those touching episodes which give warmth to history. In devotion to her husband's memory she built Sweetheart Abbey, near Dumfries, and, when she died, was buried there with her husband's heart which she had kept in an ivory casket beside her throughout her widowhood.

To these two was born, probably within the castle, John Baliol II, who was destined to become for a short time Scotland's King. Edward, their grandson, also became King of Scotland as a vassal of Edward III. But Scotland's crown was dearly attained and uneasy to wear. It brought disaster to the house of Baliol and the loss of most of its possessions, including Barnard Castle, though Bernard Baliol's name will, we hope, long survive to remind us of one of the most powerful families that held sway in this land after the Norman Conquest.

In the 15th century yet another possessor of the Castle attained a crown; the crown of England. Richard, Duke of Gloucester, spent much of his time in Middleham and in Barnard Castle. He did much to enrich the town before his wicked deeds sullied the good name he held before ambition for power led him to assume the title of Richard III.

Before this, the castle had come into the possession of Richard Neville, "Warwick, the King-maker" through his wife, Anne, heiress of the Earl of Warwick whose family held Barnard Castle. Their daughter, Anne ultimately married Richard, Duke of Gloucester and through this marriage Richard acquired the former Baliol estate and castle. After Richard's death on Bosworth Field in 1485, Barnard Castle reverted to Anne, widow of the "King-maker" and she conveyed it to Henry VI. From that time until the reign of Charles I the castle remained a royal if neglected possession.

But Barnard Castle's association with the British throne did not cease with Charles I, for as a young girl, Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother, then Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon (Bowlyn), frequently at her ancestral home of Streatham Castle nearby and made frequent visits to the town.

Man's arrival on the scene must have been some time between 5,000 and 2,000 years B.C. At any rate, flint tools and weapons found on the moors have some of the characteristics of the Mesolithic period. Neolithic man, of the period of about 2,000 B.C. must have settled about here as there is evidence that he intermixed with the Beaker folk who arrived in Britain about 1800 B.C. Near Barnard Castle an urn of this latter period was found many years ago and others have been found near Middleton, higher up the valley.

About 1500 B.C. the intermixing of the older Neolithic stock with the Beaker folk was complete and the Bronze Age had begun. In addition to the names of places such as Startforth (Streetford) Marwood (great wood) Harmire (stony common) and others ending in "ton" and "ham" there are some remains of the Anglo-Saxon occupation which followed that of the Romans.

With the Norman Conquest great changes took place and more imposing remains exist. A feudal state of society took the place of the looser organization of the earlier settlements. The motte and bailey castle constructed on the Tees above the Roman ford was its first symbol. This castle was made before A.D. 1100 by Guy de Baliol, lord of Bailleul in Picardy. The castle erected by him was a mound formed by cutting a deep ditch through the rock on the Scar and the excavated material thrown up to form a high mound (the motte) A wooden tower was then constructed on this mound and a palisade of stakes round it. An outer bailey was made by enclosing another area by a similar palisade or a bank and fence.

This area would be used to stable the horses and form a marshalling ground for the knights and retainers who served as the garrison.

In the latter half of the 12th century Guy's nephew or grand-nephew, Bernard, rebuilt the castle in stone and thereby perpetuated his name in Bernard's Castle. To Bernard Baliol the town owes its historic charter of about A.D. 1178, which is still extant with others by succeeding generations of Baliols and of which the community is especially proud. (It is said that the land on which this castle was built was granted by William Rufus, or William II, son of William the Conqueror, to Guy de Baliol. Guy's father was also called William Rufus. Was there a family connection?)

The charters, now in the Council offices, give an indication of the position of the lords of the castle towards the community, the hunting proclivities of the Normans, and the magnanimous spirit which actuated the Baliols. The first charter given by Bernard Baliol II, about 1178, records the grant of privileges which his father had already given. Hugh, Bernard's son, gave to the inhabitants land on the east and the north towards Stainton. John Baliol, in the 13th century, gave to the townsmen a large tract of land in Marwood, later known as Banard Castle Moor in place of land on the Stainton road which he wanted to add to his deer park along the bank of the river. These grants gave the burgeses of the town rights in land covering about 9,700 acres and privileges as to buildings.

THE CASTLE. From the river the castle is magnificent in its setting above a rocky cliff about 80 feet in height and it covers an area of about six and a half acres. Across the grass-grown area is the great round tower built about A.D. 1300. It is called Baliol's Tower and built before the confiscation of John Baliol's estates on his abdication as King of Scotland.

"They are not dead who leave their thoughts
Imprinted on the deathless page;
They pass, but the works the've wrought
Live on from age to age."

David, Earl of Huntington, grandson of David I. His daughter Margaret, married Alan Lord of Galloway. Alan de Galloway and Margaret had a daughter, Helen who married Roger de Quincy. Their second daughter, Devorgild married John Baliol, founder of Baliol College at Oxford, about 1260. He was in the 6th generation from Wido (or William) who gave considerable assistance to William the Conqueror.

John and Devorgild had, among others, John Baliol, who was king of Scotland, 1292-1296. He had two sons, Henry and Edward. Henry died in battle without issue. Edward, in 1332, landed an army in Fife, killed the Regent Marr and had himself crowned King of Scotland, but was driven out within three months. He married, but died without issue.

John Baliol Jr., Robert Bruce, John Cumin, and ten others were claimants to the throne of Scotland when the Maiden of Norway (the rightful heir to the throne) died while on her way to England to marry the Prince of Wales. She was the daughter of King Eric of Norway who had married Margaret, daughter of Alexander III of Scotland. He was the brother of David, Earl of Huntington.

SKETCH FROM
RAMSEY'S ANNALS OF TENNESSEE, p175

"The facility of taking up the choice lands of the country induced great numbers of persons, principally those without means, to emigrate to the frontier. A poor man, without seldom more than a single pack-horse on which the wife and infant were carried, with a few clothes and bed-quilts, a skillet and a small sack of meal, was often seen wending his way along the narrow mountain trace, with a rifle upon his shoulder—the elder sons carrying an axe, a hoe, sometimes an auger and a saw, and the older daughters leading or carrying the smaller children. Without a dollar in his pocket when he arrived at the distant frontier, the emigrant became at once a large land-owner. Such men laid the foundation of Society and government."

As we read the above, and let our minds go back to the cause of this retreat, it is hard to hold back a sympathetic tear. They were thinking of the unscrupulous administration of the British laws imposed upon them; they were thinking of the Battle of the Alamance where hundreds of their comrades were mowed down unmercifully by British guns in the hands of the colonial government, when many of their leaders were hanged, because they were trying to protect themselves from their tyrannical rulers.

So, when they could take it no longer, they determined to cross the mountains into western North Carolina (now Tenn.) where they thought they might be free from distress, and where they might rest in the shade of their own "vine and figtree," unmolested. —Indians! yes, but they did not dread them as much as their Royal Oppressors.

ORIGIN OF THE NAME

B A I L E Y

Somewhere between here and the Ark-ages, thru the descendants of Noah, was born one whose name, thru many Ancient and Medieval transliterations, subsequently became our present name Bailey. It has a variation of spellings, even in modern times. Its origin also is of varied claims. In Normandy, France we find the name first mentioned, as early as 1052 A.D., in the form of Bailleul. At that time Simon, son of Arnoul de Gramines, was the representative of the Bailleuls. His sons, or perhaps his grandsons, Albert and Baudouin de Bailleul are on the list of Flemish knights who took active part in the First Crusade to the Holy Land. The name is probably derived from the French Baille, and originally meant "castle or fortified city."

Bailie or Baillie was a Scotch term, meaning "a superior officer or magistrate" whose duties were High Sheriff, Judge and Jury of very large estates, which were common in the early days. It was also spelled Baliol, as in the person of John Baliol, King of Scotland.

In England, the forms, Baliol, Bayly, Bayley, Baily and Bailey were most commonly used. A famous prison in London was called "The Old Bailey" and the Bailey in Oxford. From the original we have found the name spelled more than forty different ways, some of which are now considered entirely different names, such as Baileu, Balew, Balue, Bales, Bailes, Baylis Bayliss, Bayles, Bayless, Bailor and others; but all have the same origin.

In America to-day the name is most generally spelled Bailey, sometimes Baily or Bayly. We shall use the general spelling, except when quoting from records, which forms will be used as found.

There are many tribes of Baileys, or immigrants who settled all along the Atlantic Sea-board, from Florida to Maine, not directly connected in America, but perhaps in England they were brothers or cousins. There were a few Scotch Baillies who settled in South Carolina and Georgia, but most of them were of English descent.

ROLLO OF NORMANDY

Rollo, Rou, or Horolf was a Nord Chieftain of the Scandinavian Peninsula, from which the Vikings drove their boats over the rough North Sea, and is said to have at one time in the distant past, reached the shores of North America. (Scandinavia is in a restricted sense a name applied to the peninsula of Norway and Sweeden, but historically it includes Denmark and Iceland, with many of the smaller islands of the North Sea.)

In the year 900 A.D. this northman went into Northern France, along the English Channel of Brittany, and including the Cherbourg Peninsula, extending inland about one hundred miles.

In 911, Rollo was granted by King Charles of France the possession of Rouen for his Capital, and the adjacent territory which Rollo had already seized.

From Rollo, baptized under the name Robert, and his wife, Grisela, the daughter of King Charles, sprang the Dukes of Normandy, of whom Richard the I., a grandson of Rollo vigorously maintained his authority against his Liege Lords, Louis the IV. and Lothaire. William, second son of Robert 2nd., and (according to the Bailey Chart) was great, great, great grandson of Rollo, or Robert 1st. became duke of Normandy in 1035, and in 1066 established a Norman Dynasty on the throne of England.

With William, now called "The Conqueror" came, it is said, "Seven hundred and ten men with but one name" and from these names many of our present day families are descended.

This was about 900 years ago. Whether the name came thru the Nord chieftain Rollo, or thru Charlemagne of France who reigned as king from 798 to 814 A.D. or thru Alfred the Great who reigned as king of the Angles-Saxons, beginning 849 A.D., we are not sure. There are some indications, however, that the name Bailey was of Norwegian origin. The name was not found in France prior to the coming of the Normans, but one hundred and fifty years later, 1052, is first found. Since the Sire de Bailleul furnished one ship and twenty men at arms for the invasion, it would seem that he had more interest than the hired soldier. We have reasons to believe this Sire de Bailleul was Wido (Guido or perhaps William) Baliol from Fecamp. He received of the Conqueror Stokesly and Bywell, confiscated English estates not far from where the Duke built his Royal Palace, in northern England. It is also significant that Wido had a son William Rufus, and the eldest son of William I. was William Rufus, or William II. These suggestions are not proof of a family connection, but are indicative.

FALAISE ROLL

Recording Prominent Companions of William, Duke of Normandy, at the conquest of England—by Crispin

“Le SIRE de Bailleul. There seems to be very little on record concerning this sire de Bailleul whose name appears in the RESEARCHES OF THE BAYEAU TAPESTRY of Abbe de la Rue.

Leopold Delisle, mentions Renaud de Bailleul on the Dives roll, and Guillaume Tailleur Chronicles, Pierre de Bailleul, seigneur de Fecamp. Remigius, almoner of Fecamp, afterwards Bishop of London, and one of the itinerant Commissioners for the compilation of the Domesday survey, for the vicinity of Berkshire, Oxfordshire etc., may or may not have been the personage here intended.

This sire de Bailleul contributed, according to Taylor's list, one ship and 20 men-at-arms to Duke William's fleet, and died in 1091. What ever was the Christian name of this de Bailleul however, it appears that he was the Seigneur of Fecamp at the time of the conquest, if the statement of Guillaume Tailleur can be credited.”*

T. C. Banks, in “Old Barons of England” gives Wido de Baliol as living contemporary with the Conqueror, and nearby his Royal Castle in County York, England. The Baliols received estates from the king; and from these Baliols descended many of the Baileys of England. Apparently Wido (Guido or William) Baliol was the one that contributed to the conquest.

The Baliols (Baileys) were first seated in County York, (or Yorkshire) England where they received estates, Stokesley and Bywell, granted to them by the new king, William I. The King built his Royal Castle in County Durham, just north of the River Tees, which separates Durham and York. The Brittons also received estates in Yorkshire near the Baileys, and these two families have been closely associated since that time. They scattered out over most of England, and were prominent in Sheffield, Bristol, Berkshire, Nottingham and Wiltshire.

WIDO, (WILLIAM) ?) BALIOL was no doubt the progenitor of most of the Baileys in England; altho others from Normandy came over later, and helped to increase the Bailey line in the newly acquired country. It is significant that Wido Baliol had a son William Rufus, and the Conqueror's eldest son was also William Rufus. There may have been a family connection, and if so we may assume that the Baliols were originally from Norway.

"Bernard Castle is a town in Darlington Ward, one of the largest of five wards in the County (Durham). The castle from which derives its name, is the principal scene of Sir Walter Scott's Rokely. The ruins extend over an area of six acres. It was built by Guy Baliol (son of William Rufus, and grandson of Wido Baliol). Bernard, son of Guy Baliol, to whom the land, as a part of the Lordship of Gainsford, is said to have been granted by William Rufus, son of William the Conqueror. The Castle and the lordship continued in possession of the Baliols until forfeited by John Baliol, king of Scotland, with his other English estates in 1296 A.D."

(From "The Long Grey Trail"—by Harrison.)

(Old Barons of England, p110).

JOHN BALIOL, king of Scotland was in the 7th generation from WIDO, and was the son of (John 6, Hugh 5, Bernard 4, Bernard 3, William Rufus 2, Wido 1). John Sr. was founder of Baliol College at Oxford, England, about 1268. He had married Dervorgil, daughter of Alan de Galloway, and her mother was Margaret, daughter of David earl of Huntington, who was brother to William the Lion, King of Scotland, and their father was David I. of Scotland. John Junior had brothers, Hugh, (who married in 1280, Agnes de Valence and had Alexander who died s.p.) Alexander, and Alan, who also died s.p. leaving John Jr. to inherit.

John Baliol Jr., then Lord of Galloway, (which was a very large estate in County Wigton, Scotland), resided in England, and was 42 years old when he became king. He was the great grandson of David, Earl of Huntington by his eldest daughter, Margaret who married Alan de Galloway. (From "The Book of Wallace" by Charles Rogers D., L.L.D.)

"The Earl of Surry died on the 27th Sept. 1304. The earl married in his 12th year, Alice, daughter of Hugh de Brun, count of March, and uterine sister of Henry III. She died 9th of Feb. 1291. Of the marriage was born a son, William, who died in his father's lifetime leaving a posthumous son John, who succeeded to the earldom. Of the earl's two daughters, Eleanor the eldest espoused Henry, Lord Percy. Isabella, the younger daughter, married John Baliol, afterwards King of Scotland. On the 18th Nov. 1299, the earl of Surry took the ward, his grandson, Edward Baliol who subsequently became a prisoner in the hands of Earl John, with whom he remained till the 20th Sept. 1310, when he was committed to the keeping of Thomas and Edward, brothers to Edward II. King of England.

John Baliol, the king, was born in England about 1250 A.D., and died in France in April 1314 or 15, leaving by a daughter of Earl Warren, Edward, the heir of his misfortune; and Henry, who fell in supporting the rights of the family. Edward Baliol in 1332 landed in Fife, Scotland with an armed force, and having defeated a large army under the Regent Mar, (who was killed) got himself crowned King at Scone, but was driven out in a short time. He died without issue, in 1363, near Doncaster, (York County, England).

The smaller families of the Baliols in Scotland, seem to have acted throughout the succession war, with spirit, and to have fallen with honour. Thus perished the Baliols who were highly respectable, for their birth and connections, for their vast possessions, and their extensive liberalities."

—Chalmers

Baliol College at Oxford, in England was founded between 1263 and 1268 by John Baliol Sr., father of the king. Dr. John H. Clifford D.D., late of Kingsport, Tenn., our personal friend, and known over a great part of the world as a Baptist minister, and one time pastor of the First Baptist Church of Kingsport, was born in England and educated at Baliol College, and he was positive the name Baliol and Bailey are the same, under different spellings.

Most genealogists are agreed that the early Virginia Baileys were of the old Baliol line, as well as those of Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Since about three hundred years have elapsed since the time of King John Baliol to the first of the line that settled in Virginia or America, we can imagine the millions of descendants in England alone. Thru this period we have not made direct connection. We have, however, some short sketches of several of these later Baillies of Scotland, but since we have not made direct connections, we will not give them here. But if one had the time and money he might go to those countries and complete this enormous task. If we compare their multiplying with the Virginia line we may get some idea:

Stephen Bailey of Westmoreland County, Virginia, had at least four children, a conservative average, and if each of these had four, and each succeeding generation quadrupled, the descendants from this one man in 12 generations would run into Millions. Could we hope to get all these- I am in the tenth generation.

We have given this short synopsis very briefly; just a skip-hop and jump background in order that our people might get an over-all perspective of our ancestry from the beginning. There is little doubt that our people descended from Shem; however, the descendants of Ham and Japheth, in time went into the far east, and doubtless became mixed with the people of Shem: In fact Japheth and Shem were pretty much together in most of their migrations. Historical records show that the kings or rulers were mostly thru Shem's descendants.

I have in my possession a photostat copy of a chart or family tree, compiled in 1907, by Joseph Whitman Bailey of Boston, Mass., in which he shows the Bailey ancestry back thru more than fifty old kings or rulers, even back to 443 B.C. Our ancestry no doubt goes back thru that line, but as yet we have not made direct connection. His ancestry was from the same section of England as ours. He traces back thru the Whitmans, Emersons, Bradbury, Bulkeley, Brown, Fiske, Charlton, Mainwaring, Emp. Constantine, William the Conqueror, Hugh Capet, Charlemagne, Alfred the Great and thousands of others, 89 generations. While we cannot vouch for the correctness of all this, but knowing what we do about genealogy, we do not doubt the authority. Many thousands of dollars were spent on this work.

BAILEYS IN ENGLAND

The following information on the Baileys in England is from two sources, Military and Wills.

Smyth's Survey of Men and Armour in Gloucestershire 1608

This list gives a complete survey of all able-bodied men at the time of its compilation and is over 99% complete for the county. The ages are rough indications only and fall into three categories, namely, men between the ages of 18 and 30, called "bout 20;" between the ages of 30 and 50, called "bout 40," and older men over 50. No doubt there were many other wills in Gloucester Co., earlier and later. And this is only Gloucester County. There were many other counties, as Wiltshire, Oxfordshire and others which perhaps had as many.

Unfortunately we have not made direct connection with these English Baileys, but there is little doubt that our American line came out of this section of England. Anyone studying these Baileys as we have, will agree to this assumption.

HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN SETTLEMENTS

We are not trying to write history, but in a few words a short synopsis gleaned from history, may be helpful in identifying some of our immigrant ancestors.

The Virginia Company in England, founded its first permanent colony in North America in 1607, and for a dozen years it languished under the government of Sir Thomas Smith, Treasurer of the Virginia Company. The colony was ruled during that period by laws written in blood; they suffered a distress too horrible to describe.

Of the thousands of emigrants who had been sent to Virginia at great cost, not one in twenty remained alive in April 1619, when Sir George Yardley arrived. He brought certain commissions and instructions from the company for a "Better establishing of a commonwealth here" and the prosperity of Virginia began from this time, when it recovered the freedom to make laws for itself. The first meeting held July 20, 1619, was more than a year before the Mayflower, with the Pilgrims left the harbor of Southampton.

The first colony established by the Plymouth Company in 1607, on the coast of Maine, was a lamentable failure.

The permanent settlement of new England began with the arrival of a body of Separatists in the Mayflower in 1620. who founded the colony of Plymouth. The Separatists from England was followed in a few years by the Puritans, who planted towns along the coast to the north of Plymouth, and obtained a charter of government and founded the Colony of Massachusetts Bay. The puritan religion was so strict it drove Roger Williams and Anne Hutchison out of Massachusetts and led to the founding of Rhode Island in 1636. Others for the same reason settled in the Connecticut Valley.

Some settlers from England went to Long Island Sound, and there founded towns which joined in the federal union called the New Haven Colony. New Haven was joined to Connecticut; and Plymouth and Maine to Massachusetts. The territory of Massachusetts stretched across the continent to the "South Sea" or Pacific Ocean.

The Maryland Colony was founded by Lord Baltimore, a Roman Catholic, who was influenced in his attempts by a desire to found a refuge for people of his own faith; and the first settlement was made in 1634, at St. Mary's.

Henry Hudson in the employ of the Dutch, discovered the Delaware and Hudson Rivers in 1609; and the Dutch ignoring the claims of England, planted colonies on these rivers and called the country New Netherlands.

A Swedish Company began to colonize the Delaware Bay and the River Coast of Virginia which they called new Sweden. Conflicts between the Dutch and the Swedes followed, and in 1655, New Sweden was made a part of new Netherlands. The English seized new Netherlands in 1664, giving it to the Duke of York; and the Duke, after establishing the province of New York; gave New Jersey to two of his friends, and sold three counties on the Delaware to William Penn. meanwhile the king granted Penn what is now the state of Pennsylvania in 1681.

The Carolinas were first chartered as one proprietary colony, but were sold back to the king, and finally separated in 1729. Georgia is the last of the thirteen English Colonies was granted to Oglethorpe and others; as a refuge for poor debtors, in 1632.

In 1774, General Gage became Governor of Massachusetts; and seeing that the people were gathering stores and cannon, he attempted to destroy the stores and so brought on the Battle of Lexington and Concord, which opened the war for Independence. The English Army was surrounded at Yorktown by Washington and the French fleet and was forced to surrender.

A convention was held in Philadelphia and framed the Constitution of the United States.

BAILEYS IN AMERICA

Many Baileys were among the first settlers in America. By 1655, there were more than eighty land grants to Baileys in Virginia alone. Our line is from Stephen, who settled in Northumberland County, about the middle of the 17th century. We have studied several of the other Virginia lines in order to prove they were not our direct American line. They were perhaps cousins, or possibly brothers, in England, from which most of our Baileys came. Some Scottish Baillies settled early in South Carolina and Georgia. We will make brief mention of some of these first.

Roger Bayley appears to have been the first of the name to set foot on American soil. He was with Sir Walter Raleigh's Lost Colony in 1587.

From the "Travels and Works of Captain John Smith" first written by Smith himself, and rewritten by Arber and Bradley, we find a brief, broken sketch of this colony:

"From 1584 to 1589 Sir Walter Raleigh made several desperate attempts to establish a colony on Roanoke Island, (N. C.) and each time met with failure.

p326. "We came to Hatorask the 22. of July (1587), and with fortie of our best men, intending at Roanoack to find the fiftie men left by Sir Richard Grenuill. (the year before) But we found nothing but the bones of a man and where the Plantation had beene, the hovses vnhrvt* but ouergroune with weeds, and the Fort defaced: which much perplexed us—p329. The names of those (who) were landed in this Plantation were :

John White	Covernor	Diones Haruie	Ananias Dare
Simon Ferdinando		Roger Bayley	Roger Prat
Thomas Stephens		Christopher Couper	George Haw
Thomas Smith		John Samson	Antony Cage

with diuers others to the number of about 115."

* In the old English spellings, there was no letter J. I was used instead. V was U, and U was V. usually, VV equals W.

 We remember that Annias Dare married the daughter of Gov. White, and they were the parents of little Virginia Dare, the first white child born in America. She was lost.

This was Raleigh's fourth attempt to establish the Colony; and it, with previous landings proved a failure. The colonists were lost, and history says they were never found.

In a list of "A Survey of Men and Armour" in Gloucestershire, England, in 1608, we find a Roger Bayly age about 50. It is possible that the above Roger returned with his ship, and could be the same as mentioned here. He would have been about 29, in 1587.

The next to America was William Bailey, born in England 1583, and came to Jamestown with the first supply to the settlers there, in 1608. He came in the Phoenix under Captain Francis Nelson.

And here we quote again from Smith's writings:

Vol. II

p403. "All this time our care was not so much to abandon the Country; but the Treasurer and Councill in England, were diligent and careful to supply us. Two good ships they sent us, with near a hundred men, well furnished with all things could be imagined necessary, both for them and us; The one commanded by Captaine Newport; the other by Captaine Francis Nelson, an honest man, and an expert Mariner. But such was the lewardness of his ship (the Phoenix) (that though he was within the sight of Cape Henry) by stormy contrary winds was he forced so farre to sea, that the West Indies was the next land, for the repair of his Masts, and relief of wood and water.

But Newport got in and arrived at Iames Towne, not long after the redemption of Captaine Smith (or rather in the evening of the 8th Jan. 1608, on which Smith returned)" (After his dramatic rescue by Pochahontas).

Vol. I.

p33. "The twenty April (1608), being at worke, hewing downe Trees, and setting Corne, an alarm caused us with all speede to take our armes, each expecting a new assault of the Saluages: but understanding it (to be) a Boate under saile, our doubts were presently satisfied with the happy sight of Maister Nelson, his many perrills of Extreme stormes and tempests (passed), his ship as well as his company could testifie, his care in sparing our provisions was well—"

p34. "This happy arrival of Master Nelson in the Phoenix having beene then about three monthes missing after Captaine Nuports arriuell, being to all our expectations lost:--"

Our above William Bailey was on this ship. What happened to him is not certain, but William Bailey had a grant in Virginia in 1610, in West Shirley Hundred, in Charles City County. This was one of the first grants to an individual in the new world. This William was probably the same as the above mentioned; and perhaps had gone back to England with Captain John Smith in 1609, securing his grant and returning to Virginia in the Prosperous in 1610. He is referred to as the "Ancient Planter" His wife was Mary, born in England in 1600, came to Virginia in the George in 1617, and they had a son Thomas, born in 1620. This, perhaps was the first Bailey boy born in America. We are not certain what became of this family, as the early records of Eastern Virginia were poorly kept, and thru carelessness many of them were lost or deteriorated and relegated to the scrap heap. But William must have been dead by 1635, as on that date Thomas inherited land belonging to his father, William. We believe that William had other children than Thomas; but we have nothing else definite on this family, except that his home was in what is now Prince George County, about two miles east of Hopewell, on the south bank of the James River, at Bailey's Point, at the mouth of a creek that still bears his name. — Baileys Creek.

Some genealogists seem to think he may have been our immigrant ancestor, and grandfather of Stephen, thru his son Thomas. A Thomas Bailey had a grant in Northumberland County, about the same time as Stephen. But this assumption is perforated with doubt.

There were many other Baileys in Virginia. An old Thomas, who may have been a brother to William. There was a John, Edward, Robert, Joseph, Jacob, Joshua, Nicholas, Lewis, and many others, but most of them have been lost in the shuffle.

Richard Bailey settled in Northampton County, Va. as early as 1651.. made his will in 1661. His descendants populated the counties of Accomack and Northampton. These two counties are east of the Chesapeake Bay which peninsula is known as the Eastern Shore. He was prominent in Civil and Military affairs, especially as an Indian fighter. His descendants migrated up the peninsula into Maryland, Delaware and eastern Pennsylvania. One branch of his family went to Pa, in the person of Edmund Bailey. He had a grandson Edmund who came to Wilkes County, North Carolina, then to Mitchell Co. His son John, known as Yellow Jacket John was an extensive planter there. I have visited this beautiful estate, which is known as Dear Park Farm. He fenced in a thousand acres and raised deer, hence the name. I talked with a descendant, Burgess Bailey who lives on the old place. I shall never forget my visit to this beautiful estate, on the bluff overlooking Toe River; and Bailey's Cemetery high up on the mountain under the shadow of Bailey's peak. This Edmund Bailey died in 1838, and a marble shaft marks his resting place in this cemetery, though he died in Wilkes County.

Samuel Bailey was a prominent planter in Accomack Co. as early as 1640, but we do not know his descendants, unless they were of the Richmond Co. Baileys, as some believe.

Richard Bailey was prominent in Rhode Island, holding many offices. We have not studied his line.

William Bailey, an immigrant came to Newport, Rhode Island, bought property June 14, 1635. He is said to have been a resident of London. He married Grace Parsons and had sons: William, John, Joseph, Hugh, and Stephen. This family may have been related to our line, since the name Stephen is found.

Thomas Bailey, a native of Bristol, which was in his day one of the most important cities of England, came to America in 1682 and bought land in Bucks Co. Pa. He had a son Thomas, a grandson Edward, a great grandson William, a great, great, grandson William, a Great, great, great grandson George Washington Bailey.

Thomas Bailey married Anne in Bromham, Wiltshire, Eng. He was the father of Daniel, Joel, Thomas, Rebecca, and John.

Daniel, eldest son of Thomas moved to Westbrook Parish of Bromham and was the progenitor of one of the New England lines. He was the father by his wife Mary, of Thomas, Daniel, Mary, Dorothy, Ann, Josias, Joel, and Isaac. This last Joel came to Chester Co. Pa. and owned much land, and held many offices there. He married Ann short and had children: Mary, Ann, Daniel, Isaac, Joel, Thomas, John and Josiah.

John Bailey with the Massachusetts Bay Colony, came in 1635. He was from Chippenham, Wiltshire. He left a son Robert and two daughters in England and brought with him another son John, and a daughter Johanna who married William Huntington in 1640.

John, son of immigrant John, married Eleanor Emory and made his home in Newbury. Their children: Rebecca, John, Sarah, Joshua, Joseph, James, Isaac, Rachel, Judith and two others who died young. Thru this line came Brigadier General Jacob Bailey of Vermont. It was also thru this line that Joseph Whitman Bailey came. He was the author of the Bailey Chart or Bailey Pedigree, a photostatic copy of which is in my possession. This chart or Family tree goes back 89 generations, or to 443 B.C.

Commemorative to the life and service of Brigadier General Jacob Bayley (1726-1815) at the 13th gathering of the Bailey-Bayley Family Associations Aug. 19, 1911, in a speech prepared and presented by Edwin A Bailey, Esq. of Lexington, Mass. a descendant in the fifth generation from him, and Secretary of the Association since 1907, says in part:—p 15.

“The history of our country prior to the permanent establishment of our independence, may be divided into three epochs or periods — the first was one of exploration and settlement, extending from the time of its discovery down to the year 1689, which practically marks the ending of the founding of colonies in America by European powers; the second epoch was one of struggle for the mastery of North America between England and France, the principal colonizing powers of Europe; it covered the period from 1689 to 1763, when, by the Treaty of Paris, at the close of the French and Indian War, the supremacy of England was finally established; during this period of history of Europe presents an almost unbroken story of jealousies, animosities, and warfare, which, as might naturally be expected, were reflected in conflicts between their respective colonies in North America; the third epoch covered the successful struggle of the American colonies for their own independence, extending from 1763 to 1783. It thus appears that the last half of the eighteenth century was an epoch-making period on this continent, witnessing not only the final establishment of the supremacy of England over France, but also of the independence of the American Colonies.”

General Jacob Bayley was the eighth child of the family of nine children of Joshua and Sarah (Coffin) Bayley, and was in the fifth generation from John Bayly, Sr. who emigrated from Chippenham, Wiltshire England, in 1635, and settled in Salisbury, Mass.

(General Jacob 5, Joshua 4, Isaac 3, John Jr. 2 John Sr. 1)

In the year 1638, Richard Bailey came in the Benis from Southampton, Eng. to Lynn, Mass. He married Edna Lambert and had a son Joseph, who removed to Salem, and by his wife Abigail, had Abigail, Richard and perhaps others.

Thomas Bailey was residing in Weymouth, Mass. prior to 1640, and was the father of John, Thomas, Samuel and Ester.

John son of Thomas, had children by his wife Hannah, of John and Thomas.

Thomas son of the immigrant Thomas, married Ruth Porter in 1660, and was the father of Christian, Samuel, Mary, Sarah, Ruth, Martha and Thomas.

Samuel youngest son of immigrant Thomas, had issue by his wife Mary, of Samuel, Mary, James, John and Joseph.

James Bailey came from England in 1640 to Salem, Mass. and was the father of John, Lydia, Jonathan, Damaris, James, Thomas and Samuel.

John son of the immigrant James, married Mary Mighill in 1668. They were the parents of Jonathan, Ann, Nathaniel, Thomas, James, Mary, Elizabeth, Lydia and John.

James son of the immigrant James, married Elizabeth Johnson in 1680, made their home in Rawley, Mass. and were the parents of James, Elizabeth, John, Hannah and Samuel.

Guido Bailey made his home in Salem sometime before 1642. He was the father by his wife Elizabeth, of Elizabeth and Joseph. John Bailey came to Scarborough, Mass. in 1650, married first Elizabeth Dearing and second Eleanor Jackson, both widows. Little is known of him or his family.

In 1652 Thomas Bailey was living in New London, Conn., two years later he married Lydia Redfield, by whom he had Mary, Thomas, John, William, James, Joseph and Lydia.

John Bailey an early settler at Scituate, Mass. married Sarah White in 1673. Their offspring were John, Sarah, Mary, Joseph, Benjamin, William, Hannah and Samuel.

Col. Kenneth Baillie of Georgia, was from an old Scottish line of Baillies. The history and genealogy of this family has been written by J. G. B. Bulloch M.D. of Washington, D. C., 1923. A copy of which I have.

In his "Genealogical and Historical Records of The Baillies of Iverness, Scotland, and some of Their Descendants in the United States"

He mentions Alexander de Baliol, Baron of Cavers, Grand Chamberlain of Scotland, in 1292. (This was the date John Baliol became King of Scotland).

He had Sir John de Baliol of Hoprig, Cavers and Penston, who had, Sir William de Baliol, or Sir William Baillie of Hoprig, Penston and Carnbrae, who married Marion Wallace, and had Sir William Baillie of Hoprig and Lamington.

Marion Wallace is said to be the daughter of the famous William Wallace who gave his life fighting for the independence of Scotland over his liege Lords, Edward I and II. He was honored as the hero of Scotland tho he lost against great odds.

Bulloch also mentions several other Baillies of Scotland as: John, Robert, Alexander, James, David and George. He also connects several prominent American families with this line, as Dunwodys, Stobos, Irvines, the Roosevelts and the Bullochs of Georgia.

We have given these various miscellaneous lines to prove they were not directly connected with our line in America, and also to help others if possible, who might be tracing their lines.

We have several other sketches or genealogies of Baileys in England and Scotland, compiled by others, which on account of space, cannot be given here.

Sir Malcolm Wallace of Elderslie, in 1291, when Edward I., of England ordered the Scottish Barons to swear fealty to him, Sir Malcolm absolutely refused. With his eldest son Andrew he took refuge in Lenox, while his wife sought the protection, with her son William, of a powerful relative in Kilspindie. This William was Sir William Wallace of Elderslie, born cir. 1276, the heroic defender of Scottish independence. He married the heiress of Bradfute of Lamington whose brutal murder by Gov. Hazelrig is well known. Sir William died Aug. 23, 1305, leaving an only daughter, who married Sir William Baillie of Hoprig, "A Squire of the Baliol blood."

5V326. Robert Hollam 1000 acres in Henrico County, Va. adjoining the land of Edward Osborne, said land lying right opposite a creek called Fallen Creek, due for the transportation of twenty persons, June 2, 1636. The names of these persons were: James Place, Richard Farris, Kata Profitt, Jon Nicholas, Richard Baley, Edward Holland, Thomas Smith, Uriah Clark, Francis Vissett, Humphrey Grizell, John Read, Richard Dixon, James Ready, Bartholomew Cook, Thomas Morethrope, Mary Allen, Humphrey Cassell, James Hoomer and two negroes.

25W(1)253. Joseph Glaister had issue by Mary Palin of two daughters, Ruth and Sarah. Ruth Glaister married Stephen Scott and left descendents in North Carolina. The other daughter, Sarah Glaister married Wyke Hunnicutt of Surry and Prince George Counties, Virginia, and had children:

1. Sarah Hunnicutt, born May 30, 1730, married Samuel Bailey, Jan. 1753.
2. Glaister Hunnicutt, born April 27, 1732, died April 13, 1781, married Jane, daughter of John Hunnicutt.
3. Mary Hunnicutt, born Nov. 3, 1735, died Sept. 17, 1739.
4. Robert Hunnicutt, born June 11, 1737, died Sept. 1739.
5. Ruth Hunnicutt, born Aug. 11, 1740, married Anslem Bailey Nov. 1761.
6. Robert Hunnicutt, born Feb. 19, 1742/3, married Priscilla Hunnicutt July 17, 1789, widow of his cousin Robert Hunnicutt and daughter of Binford.
7. Wyke Hunnicutt, born Feb. 11, 1745/6, married Ann, daughter of Anslem Bailey of Surry County, and left issue.

It is hoped that in a future issue to include a more complete account of the Hunnicutt family, which has been resident in Surry County since the establishment of the county in 1652.

14W(2)141. Callum Bailey (1749-1848) born in Louisa County, Virginia, served in the American Revolution; married Ann Gilliam, both of the Parish of Goochland, 1776; removed to Bar-ren County, Ky. 1807; died at the home of his son William Bailey in Ky. age 99 years.

17W(1)76. Arthur Bayly Esq, and Company, merchant in London, complained of Davis Givyn, gent. "Mr." Samuel Baily, Justice, June 5, 1700, Richmond County, Va. records.

These miscellaneous items are given that our people may get a general idea of the Baileys in Virginia, and also in the hope that other genealogists or people who might be tracing these lines might be benefitted by our efforts.

27W(1)140. The children of William Cocke of Henrico County.

The Virginia Magazine of History and Biography Vol. IV, p90, in a genealogy of the Cocke Family — by James C. South-all, says that "William Cocke (son of Thomas 2, and grandson of Richard 1, of Bremono, first of the family in Virginia), had issue: William, Temperance, Catherine, Mary and Sarah."

The following record in Goochland County Court, May 1734, (Order Bk 7, p402) shows who these children married.
Jordan vs. Cox, William Cocke in his lifetime was possessed of four negroes as his own, one of which was a slave named in the declaration in this suit; William Cocke (Jr.) died some time about the year 1736, leaving issue of two children, infants; said infants both dying not more than eight years old; at death of said infants, said negro descended to Sarah, wife of Thomas Jordan; Temperance, wife of Abraham Bailey; Mary, wife of John Redford, sisters and Co-heirs of the said William Cocke (Jr.) and John Burton Jr., son and heir of Catherine, then deceased, late wife of John Burton, etc.

The late Robert Gresham Bailey of Lewiston, Idaho, in his recent "The Virginia Bailey Genealogy, together with relatde families," has concluded thus:

"Based of the facts set forth, and the records and patents referred to, fair and logical deductions are: (1) Cicely married one Bailey when she was about 16 years old, and lived at Bailey's Point, Bermuda Hundred, and her husband died about 1618, leaving her with one child, Temperance. (2) Temperance, being the sole heir of her father, was given in 1620, a patent for the land which would have been due him, under the law of 1618. (3) Samuel Jordan married Cicely about 1620, and at the time of the Massacre, (1622) was living at Jordan's Journey, and continued to live at the widow's "in ordinary dyett" until he married her. (4) Richard Cocke married Temperance Bailey when she was about 16 years old, and she was his first wife, whose name has been lost. — contributed by Clifton F. Davis."

It appears that Richard Cocke had a granddaughter Temperance Cocke who married Samuel Harwood, probably daughter of Thomas 2, above, whose son William 3, had a daughter, Temperance, who married Abraham Bailey.

As given by a descendant, Mrs. J. Cloyd Byars: "Abraham Bailey was shipwrecked near the Virginia-North Carolina coast on his way from England to America. He swam ashore and married Temperance Cocke, and had a son Roger Cocke Bailey who married Mary, daughter of Col. Green of North Carolina. Their son Andrew Bailey married Julia Ann Filourney, and their son Joseph Richard Bailey married Julia Ann Womack. Their son David F. Bailey married Sarah Elinor Preston, and they were the parents of Mrs. John Price, Mrs. J. Cloyd Byars and Mrs. William Tillar."

The late David F. Bailey came from Charlotte County, Virginia, and was a prominent lawyer of Bristol, Tennessee.

JULIAN AND GEORGIAN CALENDARS

In the Julian Calendar, which prevailed in continental Europe and Scotland until 1582 and in England and the English colonies until 1752, the years began on March 25th. March being then the first month, September the seventh month, was frequently expressed as 7ber. October as 8ber, November as 9ber, December as 10ber.

Before the adoption of the Georgian, the present calendar dates in January and February and until March 25th were later than dates in December and the other months of the same year. Unless this is borne in mind, many dates prior to 1752 will appear conflicting and confusing.

The Julian Calendar prevailing in England until 1752, long after the Georgian Calendar was in use in Scotland and on the continent of Europe, the years for dates in January, February and until March 25th in English records were frequently hyphenated to indicate both the Julian and Georgian calendar years. This habit, begun long before 1752 when the Georgian calendar was adopted in England, continued for a number of years thereafter until the people became accustomed to the change in Calendar. Meades Old Churches, Ministers and Families Isle of Wight County, Va.

In 1724, Rev. Alexander Forbes was minister of upper parish called Warwicksqueake, and Thomas Bayley of the lower parish, or newport Parish, "I have before me a letter from each of them, in that year to the Bishop of London giving an account of their parishes. Commissary Blair and Governor Spottswood speak of him (Thomas Bayley) as a most notorious wicked man. He had been 10 years in the states, a part of the time he was minister of St. Johns Church at Baltimore. He also had a church in Nausmond Co., Va., and in North Carolina. He was disbanded and silenced by the Government."

At the time the Provincial Assemblys were persecuting the Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and all other churches that did not conform to the established Church of England. They were all very wicked men according to the history of these early churches.

As to Thomas Bayley, I have personally read the Court proceedings of this case; he had many friends and followers who praised him as a preacher and a sincere man. They had no chruch at this place, and when he and his friends were refused the key to the Court House, they proceeded to break open the door and preached in defiance to the law. They said the court house belonged to the people, and the people wanted to use it. He was arrested, tried and condemned, thru prejudice of those in authority, who branded all preaching as wickedness, that did not conform, in every detail, to the established Church. T.H.B.

It is said on one occasion while some of these men were being tried, that Patrick Henry stepped in and sat down. At a break in the trial he arose and said: "Your Honor, do I understand that these men are being tried for preaching the gospel?" A deathly silence prevailed in the court room, no one spoke. He repeated very strongly, "do I understand these men are being tried for preaching the Gospel!" Silence again for a second, then the judge tapped his gavel and said, "Case dismissed, Sheriff turn these men loose."

The first settlement in Virginia was by the London Company in England, at Jamestown in 1607. Many of our old line families were represented in this early settlement. A William Bayley came with the first supply to this settlement in 1608. He came in the Phoenix, under Captain Frances Nelson. It is believed he is the same William as below. By a slight stretch of the imagination, we can see him locating his land and then returning to England in 1609 with Captain John Smith, to put in his claim. After securing his grant from the proper authorities he returned to Jamestown in the Prosperous in 1610, perhaps one of the ships of Lord de La ware who met the colonist at Mulberry Point, June 8, abandoning the settlement. With three ships loaded with supplies, and a hundred new settlers, he persuaded them to return, and they landed at Jamestown June 9, 1610. This became the first permanent English settlement in America.

William Bayley had a grant in West Shirley Hundred, Charles City, County, Va. in 1610.

10(1)108. (Hotten's List) William Bayley of West Shirley Hundred came in the Prosperous, was born 1583, his wife Mary? born in 1600, came to Va. in 1617, in the George, and they had a son Thomas, born in 1620. William was referred to as "The Ancient Planter," having one of the first grants to an individual in America. He probably had other children than Thomas, and he was dead by 1635, when his son Thomas inherited land belonging to him.

Due to the carelessness of clerks in recording and preserving these early grants, much confusion has been encountered by searchers in tracing their ancestry. Only a few of these have been connected with later families of the same name.

So many Baileys poured into Virginia from England, that there were more than 80 grants to Baileys by 1665.

Thomas Bailie, 150 acres in Charles City County, near the mouth of Bayleys Creek — 50 acres due in said William Baylie, as heir of his father, William Baylie, who died possessed thereof, and 100 acres due for the transportation of Mary Welsh and Mary? July 9, 1635. (So William was dead by 1635).

10W(1)26. William Bayly 400 acres situate on Ward's Creek in Charles City County, May 1, 1655, patent of Wm. Clay son of John Clay who was assignee of Francis Hoke who patented 1637.

John Bailey had a grant in Charles City County, Oct. 15, 1641. (by Aston)

3V181-197 and 9W(1)228. Jenkins Osborne, 400 acres in Charles City Co. between the land patented by Capt. Woodly and that of William Bayly due for the transportation of eight persons, July 9, 1635. (by West)

Jenkins Osborne was born 1600, came to Va. 1617, and was living at Shirley Hundred in 1624.

Thomas Bayly held shares in a company 1620 .

John Bayly, land due for transportation of 5 servants, who came in the William and Thomas Aug. 24, 1618. His daughter Mary married Randall Holt of Hog Island.

5V326. Robert Hollam, 1000 acres in Henrico County, Va. adjoining the land of Edward Osborne, said land lying right opposite a creek called Fallen Creek, Due for transportation of 20 persons, June 2, 1636. The names of the persons were: James Place, Richard Farris, Kata Perfit, Jon Nichols, Richard Baly, Edward Holland, Thomas Smith, Uriah Clark, Francis issett, Humphrey Grizell, John Read, Richard Dixon, James Reddy, Bartholomew Cooke, Mary Allen, Humphrey Cassell, James Hoomer, Thomas Morethrop and two negroes.

25V231. Randall Holt, age 18, who came in the George in 1620, was one of Dr. Potts servants, at the Main 1624-25. After the expiration of his indenture, he married Mary, daughter and heiress of John Bayley and acquired, with her a large and valuable tract of land on Hog Island. He had many descendants.

19V236. In 1650, Randall Holt (Jr.) had a grant of land on Hog Island due him as son and heir of Mary Bayly, sole daughter of John Bayly of Hog Island, deceased, who came to Va. in 1618.

A John Bayly died at James City not long after, Feb. 1623.

In a list of land owners of Virginia, 1626, appears the following entries: In Hog Island, Mary Bayly 500 acres by patent, planted, Southampton Hundred.

12W(1)97. Randall Holt, son and lawful heir of Mary Baylye, late of Hog Island, sole daughter and heir of John Baylye of So. Island, called by the name of Hog Island, Aug. 6, 1650, 1022 acres, and 10 acres in James City Island. (This looks like Mary Baylye Holt was dead by 1650).

STEPHEN BAILEY

Our Immigrant Ancestor

We are reasonably sure that Stephen Bailey was our immigrant ancestor, for we find no record or indication that he was born in America. He appeared, with other Bailys — probably brothers or cousins — in Northumberland County, Virginia about the middle of the 17th century. His first record was when he bought 50 acres of land in Northumberland County, 1657. In May 21, 1660*, he married in Northumberland County, Ann, widow of William Walker, and died in Westmoreland County, Va. 1697.

We believe he was born in Gloucestershire, England, from whence he emigrated to America. From an extensive study of more than fifty old Bailey Wills of Gloucestershire, dating back to 1545, we are constrained to believe he was a descendant of some of these. However, we did not make direct connection. The name Stephen was found in these lines. (see wills)

In a list of 10,000 emigrants who left the port of Bristol, England, for American ports, between 1654 and 1679, we find no Stephen Bailey. No doubt he came before that date. There were more than 80 grants to Baileys in Virginia recorded before 1655: So we see that the Baileys were well represented in the early settlement of Virginia. They were also numerous in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and the Carolinas. These have migrated north, south and west until they now have descendants in every country and state in North America.

Stephen Bailey made his Will in Westmoreland County as follows:

In the name of God Amen. I Stephen Bail y of the parish of Cople, being sick and weak in body, but of sound and perfect memory doe make, constitute and appoint this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following, Imprimis I commit my soul to God, that gave it hoping through the Merits and Satisfaction only of my dear Lord & Saviour Jesus Christ to obtain the forgiveness of my sins and a blessed resurrection to everlasting life, and my body to be buried at the discession of my Executors hereafter named & as for what worldly estate, the Lord hath been pleased to Lend me I give & bequath as followeth, after my Debts and

Teste James Westcomb C.W.C

Signed: Albert Stuart

Clerk of the Circuit Court of Westmoreland Co. State of Va.

The following are the children of Stephen (1) Bailely; who married Ann widow of William Walker May 21, 1660. This Stephen must have been born in the 1620's or 1630's, most likely in Gloucestershire, England. (estimated birth dates)

Children:

1. Stephen (2) Bailey, born about 1662, married about 1684, (wife's name not definitely known) and died prior to his father's will 1697, leaving at least one daughter Ann, mentioned in his father's will.
2. John (2) Bailey, born about 1664, married about 1685. Elizabeth (probably Walker) and had children born from 1685 to 1705. Reference is made to John Bayl and his wife Elizaebth Walker, Oct. 21, 1696, Westmoreland Co.
3. Anne (2) Bailey, born about 1666, married Smith, Descendants not followed.
4. Mary (2) Bailey, born about 1668, married Smith, Descendants not followed.
5. William (2) Bailey, born about 1670, married probably in the 1690's, wife's name not known, but who preceded him in death, and he made his will Aug. 28, 1748, (See Will p....).
 1. A daughter, (3) name not given, married Wood, and died before her father's will. He mentioned his granddaughter Ann Wood.
 2. Mary (3) Bailey, who also died prior to her father's will, and probably unmarried.
 3. Elizabeth (3) Bailey, married Hugh Davis, not followed further.

Stephen Bailey Sr. mentioned in his will that in the absence of male heirs to son William the estate willed to him was to revert back to his brother John and his children. William had no male heirs, and his brother John having died in 1736, William "the elder" willed to his nephew James Bailey and his son, William "the younger". William also willed to his cousin James Bailey. (Cousin and nephew were the same man)

(2) John (2) Bailey, Stephen (1) born about 1664, married about 1685, Elizabeth Walker? and had children.

1. Stephen (3) Bailey, son and heir, but not mentioned in his father's will, but shows up at probate Court. (See John Bailey's will 1729-1736 p.....)

Now John mentions only one son James, probably the youngest, with whom the father was perhaps staying in his old age after his wife died. We do not know how many children he had, but in a deed 1733 to his son James, he styles himself as John the elder. We know there was a John Jr. that must come in here, and no doubt was another son of John the elder, so we proceed on this assumption.

2. John Jr. (3) Bailey, (John 2, Stephen 1) was born between 1685 and 1695, and perhaps had received his share of his father's estate before he made his will, and this would account for his not being mentioned. John Jr. died intestate prior to his father's will, and before 1735. He had married Elizabeth, daughter of William and Sarah (Esbridge) Carr, about 1710 to 1713, and had several children. See presently.
3. A daughter (3) Bailey, married Edward Young. (see will)
4. James (3) Bailey, born (in a deposition 1705). We know nothing definite about the family of James. We did not find his will, and it is believed he died intestate. The Inventory of a James Bailey 1759, is found, no children named. This could have been the above James. We have found the following will:

William Bailey, of Cople Parish, Westmoreland Co. April 20, 1779, probate Nov. 26, 1782. Bk 16, pp185-186.

To my wife Mary (said to be the daughter of Leasure Hall) all my estate both real and personal during her natural life in widowhood, but at her death or marriage, I give to my bother Daniel Bailey.

To brother John Bailey Fifty pounds, at death of my wife.

Ex: Brother Dainel and wife Mary Bailey.

Daniel Bailey, of Cople Parish, 1785.

To brother John Forty shillings to dispossess him from any right of property of my estate forever, for his treatment to me by endeavoring to dispossess me and all the other brethren and sisters, from their rights. (They had sisters not mentioned.

To brother Vincent Smith Bailey one negro man.

To brother Samuel Bailey all my lands.

Ex: Brother Samuel Bailey.

Neither of these two brothers mentioned any children but brothers and sisters; sisters not named. So we have five brothers mentioned in these two wills: William, John, Daniel, Samuel and Vincent Smith Bailey. Remember that William (2), brother to John (2) in 1748, willed to his nephew James and his son William (the younger). Perhaps this younger William was the eldest of the above mentioned brothers. Since we do not have a definite record of the children of James Bailey (3), and since we have not found another Bailey who could have been their father, we may assume, with little doubt that the above five brothers were sons of James. A James Bailey died inventory, 1759, but no children mentioned.

We know that William and Daniel died in Westmoreland; we have no other record of John; nor the sisters, but Samuel and Vincent S. moved to Mason County, Kentucky in 1789, where Samuel was killed by Indians. He had married in Westmoreland county, Jane McFarland and had three children born there. He made his will recorded in Mason County, Ky., dated Sept. 8, 1789, proved June 22, 1790, (Bk A, p35), with Vincent S. as one of the executors. He mentions:

To daughter Hannah Mezar Bailey (born 1780 Westmoreland Co.)

To daughter Elizabeth Ann Bailey.

To wife (does not give her name, but she was Jane McFarland)

To son George Daniel Leedwell Bailey.

We have nothing more on this son George, nor his uncle Vincent Smith Bailey.

"Col. Samuel Bailey of Bailey's Station, came to Mason Co. from Westmoreland Co. Va. He founded the town of Limestone, and was murdered by the Indians here. His wife was Jane McFarland of Westmoreland Co. Va. He seems closely related to the Fauqueir Co. Va. Baileys, some of whom also went to Mason County."

Some of these later went to LaFayette County, Missouri.
(From Helen North Waddell Papers)

Court records:

John Rust of Fauquier Co. Va. appointed James Rust of Fleming Co. Ky., his attorney to investigate land office relative to land, and to receive land located by Triplett — and the $\frac{1}{2}$ allotted the heirs of Samuel Bailey, dated Feb, 23, 1798.

Deed Bk 41, p241, Feb. 24, 1835 shows that George Bailey and Martha his wife of White Co. Ill. give power of attorney to James Bailey to sell land in Mason Co. Ky.

Hannah Mezor Bailey married James Wilson Dec. 4, 1799.

We hark back to John (3) Bailey Jr. who married Elizabeth Carr, and who were our immediate ancestors. This John Jr. died between 1730 and 1735, and was doubtless a son of John (2) "the Elder," son of Stephen 1, our Immigrant Ancestor.

A deed, Cople Parish, Westmoreland Co. Bk 8, p437, June 2, 1730, John Bailey Jr. and his wife Elizabeth Baley and Joseph Carr to Richard Coleman, 50 acres devised to Elizabeth Carr by her father, William Carr by will, being land bought of Samuel Earle, land patented by John Earle, July 2, 1661.

Another deed, Cople Parish, Bk 8, p229, 1733, John Bailey "the elder" to James Bailey, land in the forrest of Cople Parish, 50 acres, plantation whereon Edward Young now lives, between Yeocomico and Nominy, part of a tract of 250 acres sold to Eleomas-More, 1679 and his wife Margaret, by deed bearing date 1683 — several exchanges — and made over unto Stephen Bailey 1684. The 50 acres herein mentioned, Stephen Bailey by will of 1697 to his son John Bailey, party of these presents. John "the elder" seems to infer that John Jr. was living at this date; however, he was dead by 1735, when his wife Elizabeth made a deed of gift to her son William Bailey, "eldest son of John Jr."

Elizabeth Carr Bailey had a brothers Joseph, and sisters, Sarah, Hannah, Jane, Ann and Martha who married William Lane (See wills, William Carr, his widow Sarah Carr, their son Joseph Carr and James Coleman).

William Lane born 1693, Northumberland County, Virginia, and died in 1760, Cople Parish, Westmoreland County, Va., married about 1717, Martha, daughter of William and Sarah (Eskridge) Carr. Their children were: Major James Lane, eldest son, born 1718, William Carr Lane, Col. Joseph Lane and Hannah Lane (Will dated Aug. 18, 1758, proved Aug. 26, 1760, Westmoreland County. — William H. Cahoon, Knoxville, Tenn.

Westmoreland County, Va. Bk 12, p483. May 3, 1737.

Elizabeth Bailey, relict of John Bailey Jr. late deceased, to William Bailey, "eldest son," of Prince William County, Va., 70 acres in the branches of Nomini. This may have been the 70 acres willed to her sister Ann Carr, by their father William Carr. Their mother, Sarah Carr willed to her daughters, Elizabeth Baley and Ann Carr.

June 18, 1737, Elizabeth Bailey, wife of John Baly Jr., and her son William of Prince William County, eldest son of John Bailey Jr., Lease to William Lane, Westmoreland County.

If William was their "eldest son", they had other sons, probably not of age to sign official documents with their brother, or according to the law of Primogeniture in these days, the eldest son had the authority over his younger brothers and sisters after his father's death. Perhaps that is the reason the other brothers did not sign this lease.

The names of all the other sons are not definitely known. However, it is conceded by those who are interested, they were John, Carr and others, probably Stephen and James. According to all records of Fauquier Co. Va. these appear to fit into the picture perfectly.

Will of James Bayle (Boyle or Baylis, spelled 3 ways) of Frederick County, Va.

To wife Sarah.

To children: Mary, James, Stephen, Ann, Rachel, William, Henry and an unborn child.

This will dated July 3, 1756, proved 1758.

Judging from the date of the will, and the names of his children, he must have been born in the 1730's or earlier, and could have been a son of John and Elizabeth Carr Bailey. It is possible that he was the son of William 4, the eldest son of John and Elizabeth.

It is believed that the Lancaster Co. Baileys were related to the Westmorelanders.

It seems that Joseph and George may have been brothers. The others no doubt were sons and grandsons of Joseph and Hannah.

To daughter Ann Marshall, wife of Markham Marshall.

Will of George Bannister May 21, 1762, probate June 29, 1762.

To sister Ann Smith and her son Robert.

To sister Elizabeth, wife of John Baley.

Markham Marshall, son of John, was born in Westmoreland Co. Va. about 1740. He was called "Abraham" (or rather misspelled) in his father's will. He came to Fauquier Co. Va. about 1753, with other members of the family; married Ann Bailey, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Bannister) Bailey of Westmoreland Co. Va. (see will of John Bailey 1776 above). They removed to Lincoln Co. Ky. about 1779, where he engaged in surveying lands. He went further south, and we have heard nothing further of him. Markham was a son John and Elizabeth (Markham) Marshall; grandson of Thomas Marshall and great grandson of John Marshall of Ireland. Markham was an Uncle of the famous Chief Justice John Marshall.

Deed: Stephen Bailey (son and heir of John Bailey the eldest deceased) March 26, 1776, and Jane his wife of the parish of Washington of the one part, and James (brother of the said Stephen) of the other part, Where as John Bailey the eldest (or the elder) was in his lifetime, and at the time of his death etc., the word "elder" would have been used. Eldest means more than two, Hence we figure, without positive proof, that John Jr. was also a son of John (the elder as he styles himself in a deed) Baly, son of Stephen, the immigrant. There appears no other John Bailey of record, in Westmoreland County who could have been the father of John Jr.

Deed: Oct. 21, 1693.

John Bayly and his wife Elizabeth of Cople Parish, 203 acre patent, to Wiliam Waker of the same parish, 100 acres of the 203 acre patent. It is said that this John 2, Stephen 1, married Eizabeth Waker.

Bk 15, p205, Oct. 1, 1756.

John Bayly, son of William, and William Bayly Sr., father of the said John Bayly to Peter McClanahan, 75 acres, except a burying ground 30 feet square, bounded on Hon. Robert Carter and the aforesaid Peter McClanahan; the said land the property of Elizabeth Bailey, mother of the said John and heir at law, in Cople Parish.

This John Baily married Elizabeth, sister to George Bannister, (See Bannister will) and had a father William; His mother was Elizabeth; his wife was Elizabeth. He was perhaps none other than the son of William (4) (John 3, John 2, Stephen 1). William (4) married Elizabeth, daughter and only child of John Blowers who owned land in Prince William, Stafford and Westmoreland Counties. There is no other John Baily of record that fits into this picture; therefore he was a brother to our Samuel, of Rowan County, North Carolina. William Bailey (4) had sons, Samuel, John, Carr, William and probably others.

William Baily, son of Elizabeth (and John (3) Jr.) in 1738, paid tax in Prince William Co. on 294 acres; and 249 acres in 1754. He owned several other tracts. We do not know when or where he died. Mrs. Robert M. (Nelly) Bailey said she found his will among some old papers, but could not remember where; and that he named among others, John, Carr, and William; that the writing was almost illegible, and she did not have time to finish it. I have not been able to find this will.

John Bailey "the Elder" of Cople Parish to James Bailey, land in the Forrest of Cople Parish, 50 acres, plantation whereupon Edward Young now lives, between Yeocomoco and Nominy, part of a tract of 250 acres sold to (Eleomas?) More, 1679 and his wife Margaret by deed bearing date 1683 — several exchanges — and made over unto Stephen Bailey 1684. The 50 acres herein mentioned Stephen Bailey by will to his son John Bailey, party of these presents. (John "the elder" seems to infer that John Jr. was living at this date; however was dead by 1735, when his wife Elizabeth made a deed of gift to William Bailey, eldest son of John Jr.

Stephen Baly I. (will 1697) wills to his son William Baley "All that tract of land whereon I now live, with all houses etc." This tract was 92 acres in Kinsale, Westmoreland Co. This land was to go to the children of John Bailey in the absence of male heirs to William. William died, (will 1748) mentions no sons. Since his brother John "the elder" died prior to this date, William wills to William Bailey, son of my nephew James Bailey. William mentions three daughters but no sons.

Our Samuel was probably one of the others.

Other genealogists say there was a Washington, Henry, Samuel, and perhaps Stephen and James. I find no trace of Washington and Henry in this family, but no doubt Samuel was one of them. Several of these names appear in Fauquier Co. records, but as to their parents, it is not safe to state definitely.

Landmarks of Old Prince William, Vol. 1. p283.

Parishes and their Churches.

"It is necessary, then, to begin the study of the political pedigree of Old Prince William with the parishes, for in that territory, in the generations between 1730 and 1760 we shall find the parish of Hamilton developing first into the County of Prince William and again, after Dettingen had been deducted from it, into the County of Fauquier; while the Parish of Truro grew into the County of Fairfax and the parish of Cameron into the County of Loudoun."

I The Parishes above Ocoquan — Truro.

In 1732 the parish of Hamilton was first docked by the erection of a new Parish of Truro to include all Prince William north and east of a line running

"by the River Ocoquan and Bull Run (a branch thereof) and a course from thence to the Indian Thoroughfare of Blue Ridge Mountains.

Truro 1733

The Overwharton Chapel, which was described in the act creating Hamilton Parish as standing above Ocoquan ferry; now became the parish church of Truro. It was designated in the Truro Vestry book at Ocoquan Church until 1733 when the name 'Po-hick' was assumed, indicating that the building was near the ford by which the Potomac Path crossed Pohick Run.

Hamilton was again divided in 1744. During the 12 years which followed the separation from Truro from Hamilton 'the back country' of the latter (now lower Fauquier) was beginning to assume an individual character.—It was then inevitable that there should soon be a proposal to dock Hamilton again.

This was done in 1744 when the parish was divided by a line 'to run from the dividing line of Stafford and Prince William Counties to a straight course to the head of Dorel's Run; thence down the said run to Cedar Run; thence to the fork of Broad Run near the lower line of Colonel Charles Carter's tract called Broad Run tract; thence to the mouth of Bull-Lick Run opposite Jacob Smith's in Fairfax, and it was provided that the upper parish should retain the name Hamilton, while the lower parish should take the name Dettingen in memory of the recent battle at which the eponymous hero of Prince William had had the honor to be wounded.

Hamilton

For a quarter of a century, from 1744 when Dettingen was created until 1769 when Leeds came into existence, the parish of Hamilton consisted of the territory of what is now Fauquier, plus the upper end of Prince William."

If William "the eldest" was 21, in 1737, he was born before 1715. So his parents John Jr. and Elizabeth must have married between 1710 and 1714.

The children of John (3) and Elizabeth Carr Bailey.

- I. William (4) Bailey, (John 3, John 2, Stephen 1)
- II. John (4) Bailey, (John 3, John 2, Stephen 1)
- III. Carr (4) Bailey, (John 3, John 2, Stephen 1)
- IV. Stephen (4) Bailey, (John 3, John 2, Stephen 1)?
- V. James (4) Bailey, (John 3, John 2, Stephen 1)?

There may have been other sons.

There were daughters, but no record of them here.

- (I) William (4) Bailey "the eldest" was born before 1715.

We do not know when or where he died, but perhaps in Prince William or Fauquier Co. Va. From a printed statement in the State Library at Richmond says there were 5 will books and 16 deed books lost or destroyed. There are a great quantity of bits of old books in The courthouse at Manassas, the County seat, but they are so mixed and piled up that it would be an almost impossible task to go thru them all. However Mrs. Robert M. (Nelly) Bailey of Kinsale, Va. claims she found a document giving the names of the children of this William Bailey, but she could read only a part of it. It showed a John, William and Carr, and others. These others she was unable to decipher. She could not give me enough information that I could find these papers. Others say there was a Washington,, Henry and Samuel. I am almost sure there was A Samuel, probably the eldest, but if there were a Washington or a Henry, they must have died before maturity and left no record. There may have been Stephen and a James, and possibly other children in this family. There were several Stephens and James' of record in Fauquier County, but their identity has not been established.

This William Bailey was our direct ancestor and will be taken up and studied later.

- (II) John (4) Bailey (John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born in Westmoreland County, Va. around 1720, married probably Catherine, daughter of Joseph Wright, from Wright will dated Nov. 5, 1759, proved March 27, 1960.

John Jr. (3) and Elizabeth (Carr) Bailey had several children. It is conceded by all genealogists who are interested in this Bailey line, that William, "the eldest", John and Carr were sons of John Jr., and probably Stephen and James, and perhaps others. All these brothers went from Westmoreland County, Va. to Prince William County in the 1730's, or a little later.

When Fauquier County was cut off from Prince William in 1759, this Bailey settlement was in Fauquier Co., about 5 to 10 miles northeast of Warrenton, the County Seat, between Broad Run and Cedar Run, branches of Accoquan Creek. Some of their farms were part in Fauquier and part in Prince William Counties.

The descendants of these brothers multiplied into the hundreds; always duplicating the names: William, John, James, Stephen, Carr and Samuel, until finally, to break the monotony someone called his son "Broadbill". This made an opening for, Green, Moses, Joseph, Wright, Simon, Thomas, Minter, George and Richard. They became so numerous that they had to push out to other parts of the country. Some went to North Carolina, some to West Virginia, some to Kentucky; and descendants of all these subsequently inhabited most of the mid western states. Some of these prospered financially, others multiplied to the limit, and today their descendants run into the millions.

Now back to John (4) of will 1779. He mentions only one son, Wright. We have reason to believe he had several other sons. And what I am about to say here, is "not all Gospel," only my opinion; and I allow others the right to their opinion. There has been so many of the same name, that much confusion has been met in studying all the old wills, marriages, deeds and other court records. None of us can claim infallibility. I doubt if the Lord made any perfect Baileys. If he did, they never got on this side of the River Jordan.

I suppose it would be impossible to get all these Baileys straightened out in their proper relation. I have contributed to John (4), children: 1 John (5), 2 Carr (5), 3 William (5), 4 Joseph (5), 5 Wright (5), and possibly others. Now John Bailey, we have concluded, married Catherine, daughter of Joseph Wright, hence Joseph and Wright Bailey are accounted for. John Jr. who came to Washington County, Va., Sullivan and Hawkins Counties, Tenn., Lee County, Va. and Harlan County, Ky., where he died. He is later referred to as John Sr. generally. Named for his father, grandfather and great grandfather. John (4) named other sons for his brothers William and Carr. Possibly others for other relatives, as Stephen and James.

It would have been a good guess to say that this John had given his other children their part of the estate before he made his will, and they had migrated to different parts. Wright was perhaps the youngest, and living in the old community, and his father and mother were leaning heavily on their youngest son for protection in their old age. Therefore he willed all the remainder of the estate to son Wright. We have Wright Baileys and Joseph Baileys, William Baileys, John Baileys, Carr Baileys, James Baileys, Stephen Baileys, Samuel Baileys and Thomas Baileys all down the different lines. (See further John Jr. later called Sr.)

Carr (4) Bailey carried his mother's maiden name and is perhaps the first of this name. He was a son of John (3) Jr. and Elizabeth (Carr) Bailey, born in the late teens or early 1720's. He no doubt moved in that stream of migration with his brothers and other relatives from Westmoreland to Prince William County, in the 1730's or early 40's. He married in Prince William, later Fauquier County, some say about 1755, Mary, daughter of Joseph Minter Sr. He owned considerable land in Fauquier Co. From his will dated Oct. 6, 1770, proved May 28, 1771, Bk 1, p181. Children:

John Bailey

To son Wright Bailey all my land and personal estate. He did not mention a wife, and only one son, but we feel sure he had other children, but no positive proof. From the will of Joseph Wright dated 1760, Fauquier Co., he mentions his daughter, Catherine Bailey. We believe this John Bailey married Catherine Wright and as conjecture, had the following children:: 1. William, born about 1745 to 1750, 2 John, 3 Carr, 4 Joseph, 5 Wright, probably 6 Stephen and 7 James. William, John, Carr, Stephen and James are mentioned in the early 1770's in Sullivan County, Tenn. There were several Stephens and James' mentioned in Tax Lists of Fauquier Co. All of these could not have been sons of William 4, Stephen ? 4, or James ? 4. We do not have enough information to separate them in their proper families.

Exrs: Charles and Thomas Morehead.

Wit: Charles Turner and Mary Morehead.

Children of Carr (4) and Mary (Minter) Bailey,

1. James (5) Bailey, (Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1), born about 1755, in Fauqueir Co. Va. It is believed that this James married Elizabeth White, daughter of William White in Fauqueir Co., Feb. 28, 1786, or a James Bailey married Sarah Ball March 6, 1786, and about the turn of the century following, went with his relative, William Waddell to Mason County, Ky., where thcy together bought from Bodley and Huges 366 acres on Lee Creek. James died before 1830, probably in Fleming Co. Ky., leaving one son Carr B. Bailey who married Sophia; Nancy, who married James W. Waddell and James G. Bailey who married Eliza Boyd, March 16, 1833. The following deeds will explain further:

Bk 36, p461, Oct. 2, 1830.

Carr B. Bailey and Sophia his wife (married in Fleming Co. Ky. 1811-HNY) James W. Waddell and Nancy his wife and James G. Bailey, sole heirs and representatives of James Bailey, deceased, of the counties of Mason and Fleming, to William Waddell of Mason Co.—Whereas in 1806, said Waddell and said deceased as equal partners purchased of Bodley and Hughes 366 acres on water of Lee Creek — same was never divided between the purchasers during the lifetime of said dec'd—therefore they convey 119 acres as their interest in the land to John T. Waddell; and Larkin Sandridge 68 acres reserving 1/4 acre, including the family burying ground near the late residence of the late dec'd. Soon after this transaction they probably all, moved to Western Missouri, LaFayette County.

Since I do not have a complete record of these families, I will leave off here.

Helen Waddell (Mrs. Lyle O. Waddell) of 1810 Rio Grande, Las Cruces, New Mexico, one of the great helpers in this genealogy, has a more complete record of those who went to Missouri.

2. Carr (5) Bailey, (Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born in Fauquier Co. Va. about 1757. We believe this Carr to be the one who married Catherine, daughter of Charles Martin in Fauquier Co., and died about 1780, leaving his widow and three children: Frances. Charles Martin and Carr Bailey. About 1791, Catherine, his widow and her children moved to Rutherford County, North Carolina. These will be taken up later.
 3. Joseph (5) Bailey, (Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1). This Joseph according to Guy F. Bailey of Lewis Co. W. Va. was born in Fauquier Co. Va. Jan 28, 1761, married 1st. Hannah Fox, and 2nd, Eleanor Foote. He died in Rosemont, W. Va. June 21, 1850. According to my theory, the Joseph Bailey who married Hannah Newby, was son of John (4), and brother to Wright. There has been some confusion between these two Josephs, cousins, and both having married wives, Hannah. They lived in the same community.
- Deed: Bk 16, p240, Oct. 5. 1805, between Joseph Bailey and Hannah (Fox) his wife, Minter Bailey and Nancy his wife, John Tomlin and Elizabeth (Betty Bailey) his wife, John Bailey and Frances (Jones) his wife, as the devisees, and representatives of Carr Bailey dec'd — late of Fauqueir Co. entitle by the will of Carr Bailey dec'd to be equal undivided tract of land, lying in the County of Fauqueir. The will says, after the death of their mother. Note—James and Carr, their older brothers are not mentioned here. James having died probably 1772? Carr having married Catherine Martin and died about 1780.

Bk 10, p296, June 28, 1790, Carr Bailey and Dishes his wife of the one part, and William White of the other part; land in Fauqueir Co. Va. and is the land purchased by James Bailey, father of the said Carr Bailey. This James is not definitely identified. We believe he was the one who with William Waddell bought land on Lee Creek in Mason Co. Ky., 1806, 366 acres.

The above four brothers, Joseph, Minter, William and John, after the division of their father's estate 1805, according to Guy Bailey, a descendant, moved to Lewis Co. W. Va. Some of these have been traced into Western Missouri, by a descendant, Mrs. Hazel (Bailey) Henry, Route 4, 6300 N. Oak St., North Kansas City, Mo. She has done quite a lot of research, and is a Co-worker on this line. She has much more information, not given here.

4. Minter Bailey, born June 19, 1763, married in Fauqueir County, Va. Dec. 10, 1789, Ann Morris. This was probably a first wife, since his wife was Nancy in the division of land, or she could have been Nancy Ann Morris.
5. William Bailey, born Nov. 28, 1786, married Elizabeth, (or Betsy) daughter of John Minter, March 20, 1789, and died in Jane Lew, W. Va. May 28, 1846.
6. John Bailey, born 1768, married Frances Jones, and died May 19, 1848.
7. Elizabeth (Betty) Bailey, born May 10, 1770, married John Tomlin, and died Aug. 11, 1838, in W. Va.

Guy F. Bailey has a more complete record of these families not given here. We have given the above in order to try to clear up the Fauqueir Co. Baileys. Guy's mother was Jo. Frances, daughter of James H., son of William, son of Minter, son of Carr (4). Minter Bailey made his will in Lewis County, W. Va., 1833, names his children: Joseph, William, Minter, James, John, Eunice, married Stuart, Hannah, married Jackson, and Mary Minter.

Since Guy's records are very specific we believe they must have been taken from Bible records, which are not disputable. According to other records, Minter Bailey was a very wealthy man, living in Weston W. Va.

The Minters are an old Colonial family. Richard Minter, perhaps the first of the name in Virginia, settled in James City, County, before 1635.

From Mag. of Hist. and Biog. VII, p306. "Carr Bailey served in the French and Indian Wars, a member of Captain Edmond's Co. of Va. troops." Whether this Carr was Carr (4) or Carr (5) son of William (4) or Carr (5) son of John (4) we cannot say. Stephen Bailey, patrowlman, and James Bailey were in the same company. These may have been brothers.

Wit: Charles Morehead and John Allen, his mark.

Bk 8, p 137, May 16, 1784.

Stephen Bailey to John Tomlin, a bay mare. Wit: William Bailey and Martin Bailey.

Isaac Newhouse and Catherine his wife of Rauqueir Co. on the one part and William Bailey of the same place of the other part. For 50 pounds, 83 acres of land in his (Wm. Bailey) possession, on the south side of Pon Mountain, divided from that part which is now in possession of the said Jonathan Newhouse by a line beginning at a whiteoak in the line of William Hutton, thence up the valley along a line of marked trees to a hickory in Peyton's line, Book and date overlooked.

William Bailey and Anne his wife to William Hunton Jr. for 45 pounds, 83 acres, which she claims as her dower.

Bk 11, p 39, Oct. 22, 1792.

From these deeds, we may assume that William Bailey's wife was daughter of Isaac Newhouse.

Bk 11, p. . . . Oct. . . . , 1792.

William Bailey and Nancy his wife of the County of Fauqueir, Va. to James Booth of the same place, for 4 pounds, land in Fauqueir County, on both sides of the south run of Broad Run, containing four acres and a quarter, it being a part of a larger tract that the said William Bailey purchased of William Garrard, who purchased the same of Valentine Peyton Esq. of Stafford County, bounded as follows:

Beginning at a hickory standing on the south side of the road that leads from the thoroughfare of the Pignut and South Run Mountain to Greenage and is a corner to David W. Nash's land, thence with Nash's line So. 24 and 1/4 E. 47 poles to a redoak fell down on the south side of the said South Run, thence with a line of Thos. Randall dec'd N. 43 1/4 E. 6 poles to the aforesaid road, thence up the road N. 80 W. 14 poles to the beginning.

It is believed that the two William Baileys above were father and son. The elder evidently married Anne Newhouse, and the younger married Nancy Newby, Feb. 11, 1782.

Another William Bailey married Nancy Mays, Dec. 22, 1796.

Still another William Bailey married Abigail Eaton, April 21, 1798. Of course this could have been a second marriage of one of the others.

A William Baylis married Elizabeth Turner, May 22, 1780.

Bk 16, p 141, Dec. 14, 1797.

Daniel Gray and wife Polly to Moses Bailey, for 100 pounds 50 acres, bounded as follows:

Beginning at a whiteoak standing on the north side of Mill Run, four poles to a whiteoak standing on the south side of said run, the beginning corner of Wright Baily's land, thence S. 70 E. 18 poles to a stone by a scrubby whiteoak, corner to John Bailey's, thence with his line S. 25 1/2 E. 185 poles to a corner to Daniel Gray's purchase, thence along his marked line S. 67 1/2 W. 58 poles to the aforementioned run, thence up the said run according to the several corners and meanders thereof to the beginning.

Bk 16, p 805, March 13, 1807.

Samuel Porter and Mary his wife to William Bailey of the same place for 34 pounds, 17 acres, joining lands of said Bailey's, and being a part of the tract where I now live, being a stone marked (P. M.) a corner for Presley Morehead and myself the side of the thoroughfare road turning N 87 E. 117 1/2 poles to said Bailey's and my original corner to Ann Sanders, thence south 66W. 133 poles to the beginning.

Bk 9, p 81, Jan. 28, 1786.

Minter Bailey to John Tomlin Jr. 112 acres, bounded as follows: on Charles Martin, the estate of William Kirk and Joseph Bailey Jr. and the land that Mary Bailey now lives on which said land was divided by the County Surveyor agreeable to an order of Court from the said County and allotted to the said Minter Bailey as part of his father's estate with all and singular-etc.

Wit: Charles Chilton, Joseph Minter, Wm. Bailey, Stephen Robinson and Samuel Steele. Recorded Feb. 27, 1786.

Bk 6, p 4, June 27, 1774.

James Bailey and Hannah his wife, of the parish of Hamilton to Robert Fisher, of the same place 71 pounds and 14 Shillings, 118 acres whercon said Bailey now lives, it being a part of a greater tract belonging to said Bailey, and bounded as follows: Beginning at a white oak on the south side of a branch, thence S. 74 1/2 E. 36 poles to a hickory stump, thence N. 57 E. 39 poles to a Redoak corner, thence N. 47 E. 80 poles to a whiteoak, on the side of a hill, thence N. 57 E. 19 poles to a hickory on the west side of the main branch of Lick Run, thence up the several meanders of the said run to a whiteoak corner on the said west side of the run at the point of a great ridge, thence along the said ridge S. 21 W. 24 poles to a spanish oak saplin, thence S. 6 W. 34 poles to a redoak saplin, thence S. 12 W. 34 poles to a whiteoak saplin thence S. 4 W. 77 poles to a redoak, thence S. 23 1/2 W. 45 poles to a box oak saplin, thence S. 47 W. 9 poles to the beginning.

History of Patrick and Henry Counties, Va.—by Pedigo.—1933

"In the unsettled times antedating the American Revolution, many sturdy colonists with rare vision, seeing the coming storm and hearing the muttering of distant thunder, wishing to place themselves in the most strategic position to successfully meet the inevitable conflict, moved their all to the mountains of Virginia and it was these people who formed Henry County in 1776, and named it in honor of Patrick Henry who lived there in his latter days on a farm six miles east of Martinsville." (on Smith's River).

By John Redd Smith.

Patrick and Henry Counties were cut off Pittsylvania and were originally a part of Halifax County.

Waddell's History of Augusta Co. Va.

"In 1739, many of the more industrious and enterprising inhabitants, from scarcity and oppression in Ireland came to America, landing on the Delaware River in Pennsylvania. Many of these found their way into the wilderness of Augusta County, Virginia.

They first came to Pennsylvania because they had heard of it as a province where civil and religious liberties were enjoyed. But jealousies arose in the minds of the original settlers of Pennsylvania, and restrictive measures were adopted by the proprietary government against the Scotch-Irish and German immigrants, hence many of the former were disposed in 1732, and afterwards to seek homes within the limits of Virginia and run the risk of church establishments here. They were generally farmers and mechanics, with a few merchants. There was not a so-called Cavalier among them, nor a sprig of nobility.

From 1730 to 1740 came a stream of industrious settlers out of Pennsylvania into the Valley of Virginia. Among them were the Allens, Arnolds, Andersons, Armstrongs, Browns, Bakers, Breckenridges, Bells, Barnetts, Bartons, Bowers, Boyds, Bradleys, Brooks, Brittons, Baileys, Caldwells, Calhouns, Campbells, Carrs, Carmacks, Christians, Cavins, Childs, Clarks, Clays, Cleeks, Cliftons, Coats, Colemans, Collins, Cooks, Coopers, Coxes, Craddocks, Crawford, Currys, Davis, Dickersons, Fields, Franciscos, Fraziers, Fries, Fullers, Galloways, Gardners, Gibsons, Gilberts, Gillenwaters, Goodsons, Grays, Greens, Hales, Halls, Harris, Hamiltons, Haynes, Johnsons, Jones, Kings, Kinkeads, Larkins, Logans, Lees, Longs, Loves, Lyons, Marshalls, Mathews, Maxwells, Miles, Millers, McPheters, Mullins, Pattersons, Poages, Richards, Rices, Richardsons, Roberts, Rogers, Scotts, Smiths, Simpsons, Stephensons, Tates, Taylors, Tiptons, Trimble, Tuckers, Wards, Weavers, Webbs, Whites, Williams, Wilsons, Wills, Woods, and many others.

Early in 1740, or shortly before, there was a great influx of population into the Blue Ridge Valley. On 22 May, 1740 fourteen heads of families appeared at Orange Court to prove "their importation." The first order of the series is as follows:

Alexander Breckenridge came into court and made oath that he imported himself, and —, John, George, Robert, — Smith, — and Letitia Breckenridge from Ireland to Philadelphia and from there to this Colony, at his own charges, and this is the first time of proving his and their rights in order to obtain land, which is ordered to be certified.

On the same day the following settlers in the Valley appeared in court and proved their importation in like manner, all having come from Ireland through Philadelphia, viz: James Bell and his children John, Margaret and Elizabeth. John Trimble and his children, Ann, Margaret and Mary. John Hays and his children, Rebecca Charles, Andrew, Barbara, Joan and Robert. Patrick Hays and his children, Francis, Joan, William, Margaret, Catherine and Ruth. William Brown and his children, Mary, Robert, Hugh and Margaret. Robert Patterson, his wife Grace, and his children, Thomas, Mary and Elizabeth. David Logan, his wife Jane, and children, Mary, and William.

All these are familiar names in the Holston Valley, especially in Sullivan and Hawkins Counties, Tennessee.

And these are given in order that our people may have some idea of the migration of their ancestry. Many of these families also came down through Virginia east of the Blue Ridge Mountains into North Carolina, thence to Tennessee.

North Carolina Historical and Geneological Register

Births:

Sarah Bailey, daughter of Patrick Bailey and his wife Margaret, born March 19, 1677.

David Bailey, son of Patrick Bailey and his wife Margaret, born April 15, 1683

Margaret Bailey, daughter of Patrick Bailey and his wife Margaret, born April 17, 1685.

Elizabeth Bailey, daughter of Patrick Bailey and wife Margaret, born January 3, 1687.

John Bailey, son of Patrick Bailey and his wife Margaret, born January 3, 1689(?). (May have been 1687, and twin to Elizabeth).

Elizabeth Bailey, daughter of Patrick Bailey and his wife Margaret, born June 1, 1689(?) (The first Elizabeth may have died in infancy, and her sister named for her.)

Vol. 2, p132. Thomas Bailey was arrested and tried in 1725, for preaching in the Courthouse. He and his friends broke open the door, when authorities refused to give them the keys. Vol. 3, p374, Thomas Bailey was son of Richard and his wife Rebecca Bailey, and was born Sept. 17, 1702.

Henry Bailey was a son of Richard and his wife Deborah Bailey, and was born February 26, 1689.

In the year 1638 Richard Bailey came from Southampton to Lynn, Mass. He married Edna Lambert and had a son Joseph. (M.R.B.) In 1635 Richard Bailey, 15 years of age, came in the Bevis. He settled at Newbury, and removed to Rawley and died in 1647. His son Joseph was mentioned in his will.

(Richard born 1620, died 1647, only 27 years old)

(Not the father of Thomas and Henry above mentioned).

REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS — N. C. LINE

Robert Bailey Pt. Baker's Company July 20, 1778, 9 months.

 John Bailey Pt. Doherty's Co. 12 months, Mustered Jan. 1782.

 Isaac Bailey Pt. Sharp's Company, 1779, 3 years.

It is a tradition that one of our Baileys (name not known) had joined the American Army and was in line of march when he thought of his oath of allegiance to the King. He deliberately stuck his bayonet in the ground, left his gun standing there and walked off, over into Western North Carolina.

There were two William Baileys of the Revolution in Western North Carolina (Tennessee).

One of the William Baileys above was no doubt our William (Flea Buck). The one that served nine months, and Dstd. would fit the above tradition, but we do not know the name of the traditional Bailey. Carr Bailey, brother to Flea Buck, may have been the tory. He entered 640 acres of land in Hawkins County in 1780, but we find no other record of him.

We believe some of our Baileys and Bryans were with the Regulators at Alamance, as they lived in that section at that time. At any rate we do not condemn them under the circumstances.

Taxable list, Revolutionary Soldiers, Jonesboro, Tenn.

William Bailey, Capt. Harris's Company. Six head of horses, $525. five head of cattle, $50. Ready Cash (? torn out), date 1779.

Capt. James Harris entered a great boundary of land on the North Fork of Beech Creek, 1782. William Bailey may have followed him there. William entered 200 acres at the mouth of the North Fork, 1793.

Regulators and Tories

To these my sympathy goes, for they were fighting for a cause, not against the British government, but against the unequal and unfair administration of the British laws by their own Colonial government centered along the coast line two or three hundred miles away. These backwoodsmen, the frontiersmen of American civilization were sadly neglected by their aristocratic leaders, and were considered a front line barrier against the Indians. They could get no redress against bands of thieves and murderers which — far worse than the Indians — infested these inland sections, and who were fugitives from the central government, and the townspeople often encouraged these depredations. They could get no officers of the law, no schools, no churches.

When these conditions became unbearable, a band of men determined to do something about it. A few hundred of them organized and called themselves "Regulators," but they were without arms or weapons with which to protect themselves. They were mowed down at Alamance Creek 1771, by colonial troops, not ordered by the British Government. Several of the leaders were hanged, and the others were forced to swear allegiance to the Crown.

Four or five years later, the Revolution started. The Colonial government at once realized that they had been too harsh on the backwoodsmen, for they knew they would have to depend largely on these slaves to fight for them. But many of these Regulators refused to join the American Army, partly because of the treatment they had received from their own people, and partly because of their allegiance to the Crown, which oath they respected even though they were forced to do it; and also probably because they feared losing another battle, and be caught in the next hanging.

It was these "so called" tories who swarmed from the Yadkin to the Watauga settlements and refused to fight on either side. Most of them, however, later joined the patriot army and made themselves keenly felt.

A Tory was not the meanest man on earth, as we are too often taught in our schools. They were, for the most part, the backbone of our civilization. They were rather victims of circumstances, and "caught between the devil and the deep blue sea."

THE ROWAN STORY 1753-1953

A Narrative History of Rowan County, N. C.

By James S. Brawley

p13 "At the time Granville's survey was run (1746) people were beginning to fill the valley between the Yadkin and Catawba Rivers. The first settlers seemed to have followed the river courses up from South Carolina, principally the PeeDee and Santee, and picked up lands in the southern part of what is now Rowan. Others poured in from Pennsylvania, and traveled down the GREAT WAGON ROAD that led them through the Shenandoah Valley into the North Carolina Piedmont. A record of one German, John Ramsour, showed that he traveled 502 miles from Lancaster, Pennsylvania to Salisbury. His route took him to Frederick, Maryland, Warrenton, Virginia, thence eastward to Amelia Court House, thence southward into North Carolina where he hit the trading path near Granville Court House, thence to the trading Ford.

Another route followed the "Upper Pennsylvania Road" which is found on the map of 1775, and shows that the route instead of turning eastward in Virginia towards Amelia Court House, continued through the Shenandoah Valley to Winchester, Salem, and into North Carolina where it stopped just about ten miles above Reedy Creek, a distance of 435 miles. Both of these routes were used a great deal by the immigrants coming into this section.

"The great bulk of the settlers into the Yadkin Valley came via these two routes. It is unique that settlement in this part of North Carolina took place much faster than it did in counties to the east of Rowan. . . Immigration did not come from the eastern seaboard as was true in practically every other colony, but from north to south. — Some stopped in Virginia, but the greater number continued on their journey until they reached what is now Rowan County."

(Rowan County was formed from Anson 1753, April 12, and the first court was held in June 1753. Squire Boone was appointed one of the magistrates).

p14 Arthur Dobbs reported to the Board of Trade that in 1747 or 1748 there were located on his lands seventy-five Scotch-Irish families and twenty-two families of Germans.

A TRADITIONAL STORY OF WILLIAM BAILEY THE COLONIAL MERCHANT

A write-up in a N. C. Biographical History 1925.

"Thomas Braxton Bailey for forty years upheld the dignity of the profession of law in Davie County, and in character and abilities ranked among the ablest of his profession in the state. Six generations of the Baileys have lived in Davie County.

William Bailey of Halifax County, Virginia was a colonial merchant. On a trip to the Philadelphia market his son Samuel accompanied him. And on the journey Samuel fell in love with the landlord's daughter, Sarah Bryan. After their marriage the young couple walked and carried their possessions with them until they arrived at the forks of the Yadkin River, in what is now Davie County, and there established what became their permanent home. This was before the Revolutionary War. Samuel Bailey acquired extensive tracts of land and owned many slaves.

The late Thomas Braxton Bailey was a great grandson of Samuel and Sarah Bryan Bailey." (See census p. 157).

When I read this story it immediately came to my mind that I had heard my father tell just such a story when I was a very small boy. On investigating, I found the story was generally known among our people. I tried desperately to find documentary proof of this story, but in vain. While I did not find this definite proof, I did find much corroborative evidence and after extensive search I found nothing to discredit the story, therefore we must assume it is correct. Samuel named his daughter Sarah; there was a Morgan Bailey, (See census p. 157) and a Bryan Bailey in the line. These are indicative.

Now Halifax County, at that time extended to the Blue Ridge Mountains and included several later counties. No doubt Martinsville, in what is now Henry County, stationed on the "Great Road" leading from north to south, was the place where the "Colonial Merchant" had his establishment. Yet we find no record of him there. However, we do know that several Baileys from his old home community did live in Henry County. It is believed that he did not tarry long at this place. He sold two tracts of land in Prince William Co., Va. in 1746, and between that time and 1748, when Morgan Bryan moved to N. C. he must have made this trip to the Philadelphia market, which would most likely take them thru Winchester, Va. where Morgan Bryan then lived, and where Samuel Bailey met Sarah Bryan. Some say that Morgan Bryan first stopped on the Yadkin river about eight miles east of Wilkesboro, which is about sixty miles from where he finally settled. It is believed that Samuel and Sarah were married here, and walked to the forks of the Yadkin where they established their permanent home.

We do not have the marriage record of Samuel Bailey and Sarah Bryan. Neither do we have the record of Daniel Boone and Rebecca Bryan. But in a letter dated Sept. 9, 1948, Wm. D. Kizziah, Register of Deeds and Ex-Officio Clerk of Rowan County Board of Commissioners, says: "Daniel Boone and Rebecca Bryan were married in this county, in the Forks of the Yadkin. The record has been lost, but it is a known fact, and many other records were lost in the early days when people were careless about records." (p.136)

It seems that many marriages performed by magistrates, and even unauthorized persons were never turned in for recording. The reason for this was chiefly because of the distance and mode of travel in those days, to the nearest county seat; sometimes hundreds of miles.

For instance, Samuel Bailey and Sarah Bryan were believed to have been married near Wilkesboro, N. C. about 1749 or 1750, which territory was included in Bladen County at that time, with the county seat at Elizabethtown, more than a hundred miles away. Imagine riding horseback or walking this distance with no roads and uninhabited country, infested by savage Indians. Just a bit inconvenient I'd say.

The recording of marriages turned in by ministers did not begin proper, until 1766.

"Hon. Garrett D. Bailey, leader of the bar at Burnsville, formerly solicitor of the 18th Judicial District of N. C., and veteran of the World War 1, belongs to one of the oldest families of the old North State, the founder of which came from Ireland in Colonial days and established his first home on the present site of the capitol city of Raleigh.

Garrett D. Bailey was born at Toledo, Yancy County, North Carolina, July 1, 1869, son of Jacob and Buena (Huskins) Bailey, a grandson of Garrett D. Bailey and a great grandson of John Bailey. The great grandfather was born in Yancey County, spent most of his life in the town of Burnsville, where he owned many slaves and a thousand acres of land."

"William Wesley Bailey was born on Deer Park Farm three miles west of Spruce Pine, Mitchell County, N. C. Dec. 7, 1868, son of James Bailey, grandson of John Bailey. His great great grandfather Edmund Bailey, was of Welsh extraction fought under Gen. Braddock, in the English army July 9, 1755, near Fort Duquesne, now Pittsburgh, Pa. The grandfather was born Jan. 2, 1771, in Wilkes County, N. C. and died July 15, 1838, monument on Deer Park Farm. This large property was established by him, and here he was an extensive planter. He married Ruth Ellis, a native of Maryland, who came to N. C. by wagon with five others in 1806, and was married in 1808, and died in 1843, on Deer Park Farm."

(It was said that John fenced in a thousand acres and raised deer — the name.)

In 1775 Thomas Bailey and his wife Elizabeth came with his brother Cloud from Londonderry, Ireland, to Chapel Hill, N. C. Cloud (or Claudius?) Bailey went to Middle Tennessee, and reared a family and died there. Thomas and Elizabeth moved to Greene County, Tenn., near Baileyton, where he lived and died. His son Thomas Jr. married Henrietta Keel and had nine children, some of whom were Marion, Newton, Ben, Porter, William and George A. the youngest. (See Greene County, Tenn. Baileys).

Colonial and State Records of N. C. I, 184; also XXV, 119, Acts of Assembly.

Marriage by Magistrates held in Edenton, April 4, 1741, continued until 1766, taken by Presbyterians and others after this. 1778 regular ministers of all Denominations was valid — whether by license or Banns.

It is unfortunate that while the 1741 law directed the Clerk of the Court to take a marriage Bond, it did not specify That the Bonds be either requested or filed by the Clerk. The marriage law of 1776 mentioned that marriage by license be performed unless there was a Certificate from "the Clerk of the Court."

SAMUEL AND SARAH BRYAN BAILEY

Samuel and Sarah Bryan Bailey spent their entire married life in the forks of the Yadkin, then Rowan, now Davie County, N. C., and were neighbors of the Boones and Bryans as will be seen in the transfer of decds, marriages and other records.

Their children (probably in order of birth, but dates only estimated) were:

- I. John Bailey born about 1750.
- II. William Bailey born 1752 (tradition)
- III. Samuel Bailey born about 1754.
- IV. Sarah Bailey born about 1757 married Foster.
- V. Mary Bailey born about 1760 married Joseph Halde Nov. 30, 1789. —
- VI. Kerr, Karr, Carr Bailey born about 1763.
- VII. Richmond Bailey born about 1766.
- VIII. Johanna Bailey born about 1770 married John Foster 1797.
- IX. Judy Bailey born about 1775 married Anderson Ellis, 1800.
Sarah Bryan Bailey died, when? and Samuel married Tobitha Pearson, Aug. 11, 1789, and had
- X. Daniel Bailey born 1790.

XI. Nimrod Bailey born 1791.

Samuel died and Tobitha married Nicholas W. Gaither 1792.

- (I) John Bailey was perhaps the eldest son of Samuel and Sarah Bryan Bailey, was in Rowan County 1805, when his father's final estate was settled, but we do not know who he married, where he went or anything definite about his family.
- (II) William Bailey, second son of Samuel and Sarah Bryan Bailey, married 1st Isabell Benson Aug. 10, 1774, and 2nd Lucy Foster, June 11, 1792, both of Rowan County, N. C., moved to Hawkins County, Tenn. in the 1780's or 90's. He is our ancestor, and will be taken up later.
- (III) Samuel Bailey Jr. married Susannah B. Chaffin Mar. 15, 1797 and resided in Davie County where he reared a fine and prominent family of children.
- (IV) Sarah Bailey, probably the eldest daughter of Samuel and Sarah Bryan Bailey, and named for her mother, married Foster. Samuel wills his daughter Sarah Foster, and that is all we know of her.
- (V) Mary Bailey married Joseph Halde, Nov. 30, 1789. Samuel wills to his daughter Mary Haile (or Halde).
- (VI) Carr Bailey, A Karr Bailey married Tempy Powell, Jan. 16, 1802, Rowan County record.

A Karr Bailey married Patsy Degerrett Aug. 9, 1803, of Rowan County. These two may have been the same man.

Deeds: Karr Bailey to John Greers for $215. 27½ acres, one share of 578 acres on Carters Creek, the east end of Martin Sheats. Bk 24, p832, 1813. Karr Bailey to Mack Crump, land on Carter's Creek, joining lands of Samuel Bailey, John Myers and Beck. Bk 25, p640, 1819, Wit: John Wyatt and Wm. Tucker.

A Carr (Kore or Kear Bealley enters 640 acres of land on the north fork of Beech Creek, Hawkins, Co. Tenn. Beginning near the mouth of said fork, No. 246, 2 Mar. 1780. From the Books John Adair, Entry Taker, Sullivan County. (Hawkins Co. after 1786).

This is believed to be the same Carr as above, and brother to William (Flea Buck) Bailey who entered land joining this. There is no other record of this Carr in Hawkins County, and it is believed he assigned this gant to someone else, and went back to Rowan County, N. C. Part of the records of Hawkins County were burned during the Civil War, and it is not clear what became of this land. We know some of the Baileys owned a part of it later.

- (VII) Richmond Bailey married Elizabeth March, July 23, 1806, he died about 1810 leaving two children, John and Sally (or Sarah) who married Giles Foster Nov. 30, 1824.

John Bailey, son of Richmond, (John of Lincoln Co. Tenn) to Giles Foster, power of attorney, land formerly owned by Richmond Bailey, Bk 31, p415, 1833. This land fell to John Bailey in the settlement of the estate of Richmond Bailey, 1813.

Elizabeth, widow of Richmond Bailey married Harrod B. Pruitt, Aug. 28, 1812. Then again James Carverter to Elizabeth Pruitt, May 11, 1815.

- (VIII) Johanna Bailey married John Foster, March 3, 1797.

- (IX) Judy Bailey married Anderson Ellis, 1800.
None of the daughters have been traced further.

- (X) Daniel Bailey, A Daniel Bailey married Elizabeth Felps, Aug 24, 1809.

A Daniel Bailey married Sally Utzman, May 4, 1811. Probably the same man. Nothing else on Daniel.

- (XI) Nimrod Bailey, we believe went with his cousins to Knox Co. (later Harlan) Ky. where a Nimrod Bailey married Coty (or Caty) Moore, Sept. 29, 1809. 1820 census Harlan Co. Ky. shows:

Nimrod as having 3 m under 10, 1 m 26 to 45.
1 fm under 10, 1 un 16, 1 26 to 45.

1830 census males: 1 under 5, 1 un 10, 2 un 15,
1 45 to 50, females 1 un 5, 1 un 10, 1 un 15,
1 un 40.

There were one or two other Nimrod Baileys, but the above seems to be the son of Samuel of N. C.

Deed in 1818 Nimrod Bailey sold 232 acres of land which formerly belonged to his father Samuel Bailey deceased—lower mill seat—to James and Polly Foster, and Robert and William Baley. 1819 Deed: Nimrod Bailey to James, Robert and Polly Foster, Bk 24, p89. Rowan County, N. C.

We have not followed up on all the sons of Samuel and Sarah Bryan Bailey. This probably could be done.

We note that these sons, except William, married rather late in life. An idea might be conjectured that they may have been involved in the Regulator Movement in 1771, and were considered Tories, as were some of their Bryan cousins. None of them seem to be on the pension list. However, two William Baileys of N. C. were in the Revolution. It appears that none of these came to Hawkins Co. Tenn. to live except William, our Tennessee emigrant ancestor.

Samuel Bailey Sr. had married a second wife, Tabitha Pearson, Aug. 11, 1789, and Daniel was born 1790 before he made his will, and Nimrod was born after Samuel's will, therefore his name was not mentioned in the will. The widow, Tabitha 1792 married Nicholas Watkins (or Walter) Gaither who became guardian for Daniel and Nimrod.

Evidently the foregoing will did not stand, for in Jan. 7, 1793, the lands of Samuel Bailey deceased, were divided between the seven sons: Nimrod, Samuel, Daniel William, Richmond, Kerr (Karr or Carr), and John Bailey. (See following)

From all indications the above heads of families seem to be sons of Samuel Jr. and Susannah B. (Chaffin) Bailey, except perhaps George Jr. and William Sr. in the 1830 census. Thomas and Morgan not in the 1850 census; probably moved out of the county.

Morgan, Bryan and Sarah are indicative that they are the grandchildren and great grandchildren of Sarah Bryan who married Samuel Baily Sr. and daughter of Morgan Bryan.

BRYAN

This is primarily a Bailey-Britton Genealogy, but since The Bryans are directly connected with our early ancestry, we thought it prudent to give a brief synopsis of the early history of this family as given by Dr. John Bryan in the Register of the Kentucky Historical Society, Vol. 28, p 249; Edward Bryan's "Brinaiana" Pedigree; T. C. Banks' "Old Barons of England" Vol 1, p 138.

The name has been spelled in many different ways, as Bryen, Brien, Brion, etc. but the wrong spelling most often met with in public records and prints is Brian, Briant, Bryant. Many branches of the original family are disposed to consider themselves different people because of a variation of the vowels in the name, or because of the final "t". But convincing evidence shows they are all of one people sprung from the same source, viz, Bryan, King of Munster and all Ireland.

Bryan was born about 927; consequently was fifty-one years old when he became king of Munster. As general of his father's army in Kennedy's wars with the Danes, Bryan had already become one of the most noted princes of all Ireland. Now that he was king, his people rallied to his own standard until he was able to prosecute the war against the Danes with such vigor as to drive them from his own kingdom, when his fame became so great that he was crowned at Tara (1002) "Ard-Righ," or supreme monarch of all Ireland, with his increased power he was soon able to drive the Danes from the entire island, or confine them to specified locations and compel them to pay tribute, from which he was called "Bryan-Boru" or "Boroihme," interpreted "Bryan of the Tribure." This has led many to make the mistake of taking "Boru" or "Boroihme" as his surname; it is only the designating "suffix." Bryan proved himself an able man of broad intellect, and instituted reforms that made him the most noted monarch of Ireland. Under his reign schools and colleges were revived, roads were built. He also built a navy and organized an efficient army. Among other reforms, he issued a decree that every man should take the name of his father as a surname; thus surnames became permanent and families were established, the family of Bryan, he in his own sons also established the family of "O'Bryan" and under its various spellings his descendants have figured as leaders in Irish history down to our own time. Bryan had Morrogh (Anglicized Morgan), who in turn became a great general. Both were finally killed in a battle with the Danes, though the Danes were routed and their force of influence in Ireland forever broken.

Soon after their deaths rival princes got into wars with one another until a state of disorder reigned until 1115, when Pope Adrian IV issued a "bull" conferring the sovereignty of Ireland on Henry II of England. This is England's title to Ireland.

During the wars of conquest, which now began, the native princes were killed in battle, forced to flee the country, or were executed. Many went to Wales, Scotland or France, some with their old enemies, the Danes, now their friends, to Denmark. Many were taken to England as prisoners or as hostages, where they were executed, or after a period were allowed to settle as citizens. Being exiles without a country, these princes soon lost their royal prerogatives and became merged into the citizenship about them.

Religious persecution for conscience sake was now in full sway all over Europe. Meanwhile, the "New World," America, had been discovered, which, by the distance across the great ocean, promised an asylum of safety and peace to the over-persecuted peoples of the world, where every free man might hope to sit beneath his own "vine and fig tree" and enjoy the fruits thereof "with none to molest or make afraid," and where they might rest from the "man hunt" of the world. Among the thousands who came, the colonial records of Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania show that the Bryans came to those colonies among the early settlers in great numbers. They came from all over Europe, but principally from England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland. At what time our ancestors left Ireland I have not been able to ascertain; but from what I have at hand, they must have left during some of Elizabeth's devastations and went with friendly Danes to Denmark, where I find Bryan (given name not known, but believed to be William) was born in 1630, and his name spelled "Bryan;" this being so far back, his spelling of the names was taken as correct. He continued to live in Denmark until he married (name of the girl he married is not known, but believed to be Sarah Bringer), and had a son born (about 1671) whom he called "Morgan" after which said Bryan moved or returned to Ireland. After he came to years of maturity, Morgan Bryan left his parents in Ireland and came to Pennsylvania. You will remember Pennsylvania at this time was divided into three counties. The records show that Morgan Bryan lived in Chester County, where in 1719, he married Martha Strode. I have information showing she was a direct descendant of Sir William Strode, one of the five members who condemned Charles I and signed his death warrant. Morgan Bryan continued to live in Chester County until four or five of his eldest children were born. About 1728 or 1730, Morgan Bryan and Alexander Ross and "other friends" (Quakers) obtained a grant of 100,000 acres of land on the Potomac and Opequan rivers in the colony of Virginia. He moved to this land and settled near the present site of Winchester about 1730. Here the rest of his children were born. The children of Morgan and Martha Strode Bryan were: Joseph, Samuel, James, Morgan, John, Elinor, Mary, William, Thomas, Sarah and Rebecca.

Martha Strode Bryan died about 1747 and was buried at the home near the present site of Winchester, Va. After her death Morgan Bryan sold his interest in Virginia, and the fall of 1748 moved his family to North Carolina and settled in the forks of the Yadkin river, which was then Anson County, but in 1753 Rowan county was set off from Anson; thus they were in Rowan County. (They lived in what is now Davie County, cut from Rowan in 1838.) Thus we see Morgan Bryan had been living on the Yadkin river about two years when Squire Boone came from Pennsylvania and settled upon the river and became a neighbor to him. Here Daniel Boone and Rebecca Bryan became acquainted, and in 1775 were married. William Bryan(son of Morgan and brother of Rebecca) also married Mary Boone (sister of Daniel) the same year.

These marriages of the young people produced a bond of friendship between the two families that led them, and the next generation to share each others hardships as well as pleasures, and that has not been broken to this day.

Morgan Bryan Sr., died in 1763, age ninety-two and was buried in what was then Rowan County, N. C. (Now DavieCo.)

September 25, 1773, Daniel Boone, Squire Boone (brothers), James, Morgan Jr. and William Bryan (brothers), and James Sparks, all with large families of children approaching maturity, started from North Carolina to settle on the Kentucky River.

Dr. J. D. Bryan.

Dr. Bryan goes on and gives a more complete history of these families in Kentucky, which can be found in most any Library, but we will stop here.

Sarah Bryan, sister to Rebecca, married about 1750, Samuel Bailey and became our ancestor, as has been noted.

BRYANS continued—by Banks.

The early part of the genealogy of this family is very contradictorily given in the several pedigrees relating to it; but as no parliamentary barony was acquired by it before the reign of Edward III, it is not necessary to endeavour to reconcile the discordant statement.

Guy de Brian, son and heir of a preceding Guy, was first summoned to parliament the 24 Edward III. (1350 or 51) and from thence to the 13 Richard II., (1390) the year after which he died. During his life he was a very eminent and distinguished person and military commander, was created a knight of the garter by king Edward III., and was in great favour with the warlike monarch. He had issue a son Sir Guy de Bryan, Jr., who died in his lifetime, leaving two daughters his co-heirs to their grandfather the baron at the time of his death, the 14 Richard II. (1391). Of these daughters, Philippa the eldest married first, John, son of Sir John Devereux, knight; and secondly, Sir Henry le Scrope, knight, but had no issue. Elizabeth, the youngest daughter, married Robert, son of Sir John Lovel, knight, between which daughters the estates were divided.

Here it is to be observed, that, Sir Guy de Bryan the baron had two sisters, viz, Elizabeth, who married Robert Fits-Pain; and Philippa, who wedded Sir John Chandos, neither of whom could have any pretention to barony, as not being descended from the baron; as such, the attributing the barony, of Bryan to the Percy family is erroneous; and consequently it cannot be vested in the duke of Northumberland, though flatteringly ascribed to him by various peerage writers; but even had the barony been one descendable to the house of Percy, it would have been forfeited by the attainer of Thomas the seventh earl of Northumberland; and if not forfeited, would with the barony of Percy and other baronies, have fallen into abeyance between his five daughters and Co-heiresses, from none of which the present duke is descended.

BRYANS continued by Edward Bryan

Sir Francis Bryan was the son of Sir Thomas Bryan and Margaret, daughter of Sir Humphrey Bourchier, and sister of John Bouchier-Lord Berners. Sir Thomas Bryan was knighted by Henry VII. in 1497, was "knight of the body" at the opening of Henry VIII's reign, and served repeatedly on the commission of peace for Buckinghamshire where the family property settled.

Sir Francis's grandfather, Sir Thomas Bryan, Chief Justice of Common Pleas from 1471 until his death in 1500, is believed to have been a descendant of Sir Guy de Bryan of Walwyn's Castle, County Pembroke and Tor Brian Devon. Sir Guy was summoned to Parliament in 1350 by Edward III, whereby he was held to have become Lord Bryon. On Dec. 31, 1369 he was made a Knight of the Garter. He married in 1349, Elizabeth, daughter of William Montagu, first earl of Salisbury. He died in 1390 and was entombed at Tewkesbury.

Sir Francis Bryan was twice married: firstly, to Phillippa Montgomery, by whom he had Edmund Bryan, Esq. of Tor Brian. By lady Jotn he had a son, Francis Bryan II. He was born in 1549, and held large estates in County Clare. He married Ann, daughter of Sir William Smith.

His son William Smith Bryan was called "Prince William of Ireland" by his followers. During the Puritan rebellion he attempted to gain the throne of Ireland, and was deported by Cromwell in 1650. Together with his family and a ship-load of household goods, he was dropped off on Gloucester Beach, Va. He had eleven sons.

The eldest of these, Francis Bryan III, returned to Ireland and attempted to regain his hereditary estates under the Stuarts. Being persecuted by the English government he sought refuge in Denmark, where he married Sarah Brinker, a cousin of Prince of Orange. He was permitted to return to Ireland after the bloodless revolution of 1683, died at Belfast in 1694. He had two sons, William and Morgan, both of whom migrated to America.

His son William was born in Ireland in 1685, and came to the colonies in 1718. This branch of the family is presently represented in America by the children and grandchildren of the late William Jennings Bryan.

Morgan Bryan was born in Denmark in 1671, and came to America in 1695. In 1719 he married Martha Strode, a descendant of Sir William Strode, one of the signers of the death warrant of Charles I. He settled in Pennsylvania, but in 1730 obtained a grant of land on the Potomac, near the present site of Winchester, Va. His wife died in 1747, after which in 1748, he moved to the forks of the Yadkin River in N. C., some eight miles from the present town of Wilkesboro.

Morgan Bryan was the great stem of the Bryan families of Virginia, North Carolina and Kentucky. His wife was a Hollander, whose parents had migrated from France to escape religious persecution. Her mother died at sea, leaving three children who were provided for by their shipmates until they came of age.

The children of Morgan and Martha Strode Bryan were: Joseph, Eleanor, Mary, Samuel, Morgan, John, William, James, Thomas, Sarah and Rebecca. The brothers, William, James, and Morgan joined Daniel Boone in one of his expeditions into what is now the state of Kentucky.—“Brianiana” by Edward Bryan.

Many books have been written on the Boones and Bryans of Kentucky, which may be found in most libraries, many interesting facts and stories which would be impractical to repeat here. For Bailey connection see Samuel Bailey, p ? ? ?.

BOONE GENEALOGY

So much has been written about Daniel Boone that we find it difficult to add anything here, except in the way of genealogy. Many historians have writtten elaborately, and I might add. confusingly of him. Many statements made of him are perhaps imaginary. I wonder if “Uncle Dan’l” as thousands called him. were here today and hear some of the wild stories about him, would not blush, and, as he once said, “I wouldn’t believe that story if I told it myself.” But all agree that he was the most celebrated frontiersman in America. One authoritative historian said, “Daniel Boone has transcended in fame every American but Washington.” As I am not trying to write history, let it rest here.

Just a short Pedigree of the Boone Family as gleaned from many writers:

The family of Boone apparently begins with one George Boone I, who was born in England about 1625 or earlier, married and died there. He had a son George II, born about 1646 or earlier. He was a blacksmith by trade. He married in England about 1665, Sarah Uppen, and died there, age sixty years. They had at least one son George III, who was born 1666 at Stoak, near Exeter, Devonshire, England, a weaver by trade who went to a neighboring town to pursue his calling.

There he married Mary Maugridge (they were Quakers) and nine children, all born in England, and all emigrated to America where George III died in 1744, in Pennsylvania. His wife, Mary, born 1669, in Brandnich, (Bardnich or Bradwich), England, married there about 1668, and died in Pennsylvania Feb. 2, 1740. They had nine children:

1. George Boone IV.
2. Sarah Boone, married Jacob Stover, a German.
3. Squire Boone, born Nov. 25, 1696, married Sarah Morgan (1720) at Gwynedd Meeting House with a Quaker ceremony.
4. Mary Boone, married James Webb.
5. John Boone, died unmarried.
6. Joseph Boone.
7. Benjamin Boone, married Susannah.....
8. James Boone, married Mary Foulks.
9. Samuel Boone.

All except John married and raised families.

The three oldest children had come to America earlier, about 1712-1713, to see if it was a place suitable for the whole family to live. One of them went back to England with a good report, and the rest of the family came over in August, 1717.

George Boone IV. was born in Bradnich, England, July 3, 1690, died in America Nov. 20, 1753. He was one of the nine children landing at Philadelphia, Oct. 10, 1717, and was one of the three who had visited Pennsylvania earlier. He married Deborah, daughter of William Howell, 1713. She was born Aug. 1691, died Jan. 26, 1759.

Their children were:

1. George Boone V. (Fifth in a direct line) born 1713 or 1714, died unmarried in 1730.
2. Mary Boone, born 1716, married Isaac Lee.
3. Hannah Boone, born 1718, died 1753, married George Hughes and had children: Boone, Jen, Samuel Boone Hughes, and perhaps others.
4. Deborah Boone, born 1720.
5. Dinah Boone, born 1722, married Williams, and had Abner Williams, and married second, ... Coates and had Solomon Cotes.
6. William Boone, born 1724, married Sarah Lincoln and had eight children: Jeremiah, William, George, Thomas, Hezekiah, Abigail, Mary and Mordicai.

7. Joseph Boone, born 1726, married and had at least one son, George, and possibly others.
8. Jeremiah Boone, born 1728.
10. Hezekiah Boone, born 1743?
11. Sarah Boone, married David Wilcoxon.
12. Nathan Boone.

Squire Boone, son of George and Mary Maugridge Boone was born in Bradnich, England, Nov. 26, 1696. He was one of the three oldest of the family who were sent to America preceding the family emigration in 1717. He married Sarah, daughter of John Morgan, July 23, 1720, at the Gwynedd Meeting House, according to the Quaker ceremony. The name "Squire" is not a title, as Esquire, but it seems to become a family name. Squire Boone was dismissed from the Quaker Church in 1748 because he gave his approval to his son Isreal Boone, for marrying "out of the church." It is believed for this reason he left Exeter, Berks County, Pennsylvania and moved in 1750, to North Carolina, and settled at Holman's Ford, later Boone's Ford, on the Yadkin River. This was the same community where Morgan Bryan then lived. It is to this circumstance that his son Daniel Boone, the most famous of the name, became a pioneer of North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky mountains. Squire and Sarah (Morgan) Boone died in North Carolina, and are buried in Joppa Cemetery near the present site of Mocksville, now Davie County.

Their children, 12 in all, perhaps born in Pa.; they were:

1. Sarah Boone, born April 7, 1724, died 1824, married John Wilcoxon.
2. Isreal Boone, born March 9, 1726, married about 1748, "out of the church" which for Squire's approval, was dismissed.
3. Samuel Boone, born March 22, 1728, married Sarah Day.
4. Jonathan Boone, born Oct. 6, 1730.
5. Elizabeth Boone, born Dec. 5, 1732, married William Grant, born 1720.
6. Daniel Boone, born Sept. 22, 1734.
7. Mary Boone, born Sept. 3, 1736, married first, William Bryan, and second, General Charles Smith.
8. George Boone, born Nov. 2, 1739.
9. Edward Boone, born Sept. 1740.

10. Nathan Boone.
11. Squire Boone.
12. Hannah Boone, born Aug. 1, 1746, died 1820, married 1st John Stuart, who died 1770. They had four children. She married 2nd, Richard Pennington and had Richard Pennington and perhaps others.

Daniel Boone was the 6th child of Squire and Sarah (Morgan) Boone. He was born 1734 in that part of Philadelphia County, Pa. which became Berks County in (1745). He came with his parents to, what was later called Boone's Ford, on the Yadkin River, North Carolina during the year 1750. Morgan Bryan had moved from near Winchester, Va. to the Yadkin two years earlier, 1748.

Daniel Boone married Rebecca, daughter of Morgan Bryan 1755, his father Squire Boone, then a Justice of the Peace in Rowan County, officiating. They both died in Missouri, she in 1813, and he in 1820, in St. Charles, at the home of his grandson, Nathan Boone. Their bodies were reinterred in Frankfort, Kentucky.

There were born to Daniel and Rebecca (Bryan) Boone 10 children:

1. James Boone, born May 5, 1757, killed by Indians.
2. Isreal Boone, born 1759, killed by Indians.
3. Susannah Boone, born Nov. 2, 1760, married William Hays.
4. Jemima Boone, born Oct. 4, 1762, married Flanders Callo-way and had 10 children.
5. Lavina Boone, born March 13, 1776, married Joseph Echoll.
6. Daniel Morgan Boone, born 1768, married Sarah Lewis, and is said to be the first settler in Kansas.
7. Rebecca Boone, born 1770, married Phillip Goe. or Coe.
8. Jesse Bryan Boone, born 1773, married Chloe Van Bibber, daughter of Capt. John Van Bibber.
9. William Boone, born June 1775, died young.
10. Nathan Boone, born 1781, married Olive Van Bebbber, buried at Ash Grove, Missouri.

We cannot vouch for correctness of all the dates above. They were taken from several different authors, which in some cases conflicts.

Many books have been written about Daniel Boone, and many of the stories conflicting, especially some dates and places. We

BAILEYS IN GREENE COUNTY, TENN.

Deeds:

John Parks to James Bailey, 60 acres south side of Chucky River, Nov. 26, 1812.

John Lescalleet to John Bailey, south side of Chucky River, April 27, 1812.

Marriages:

James Bailey to Elizabeth Kennedy, Jan. 18, 1804, daughter of Daniel Kennedy. Elizabeth had a brother, Allen Kennedy.

Allen Bailey married Nancy Baker, Oct. 19, 1819.

John Bailey married Elizabeth Fann, July 16, 1894.

Other deeds:

James Bailey to John Allison, 138½ acres, So. Chucky River 1832.

James Bailey to Stephen Johnson, April 20, 1818. Wit: Martin Waddle.

Martin Bailey from John Stimpson, 80 acres, Lick Creek, Feb. 28, 1809.

Martin Bailey from Samuel Stanfield, 150 acres Sinking Creek, Feb. 28, 1809.

Martin Bailey from Thomas Thompson, 2 tracts 226 acres Feb. 28, 1809. (note the three last deeds on the same day.) Martin to John Bailey on Lick Creek.

Martin Bailey to Wm. K. Vance, June 25, 1842.

Martin Bailey (probably Jr.) to Henry Crabtree, Jan. 8, 1870.

Samuel and John Martin were living in Greene Co. in 1830.

Deed: Allen Bailey to Peter Missimer, Nov. 5, 1814.

Allen Bailey to Peter Missimer, 200 acres south side of Nolichucky River, 1824.

James Bailey to George Reaves, 100 acres Nolichucky River, on Camp Creek, part of the land granted by N. C. to John Sevier, 640 acres, Aug. 24, 1830.

James Bailey to William B. Jones, 500 acres on Camp Creek South of Nollichucky, bounded by James Kelly Wm. B. Jones and others (date not ascertained).

James Bailey to Thomas Johnson, 37 acres, Camp Creek, 1836.

Bk 8, p 497, Jan. 25, 1810.

Court Record: Hopkins Lacy, Thomas Buckingham, Nathaniel B. Buckingham, Executors of the last will of Thomas Buckingham, deceased of the County of Sevier of the one part and John Kennedy, Thomas Kennedy, Daniel Kennedy, Allen Kennedy, Washington Kennedy, Daniel Rawlings, Stephen Alexander, James Bailey, Margaret Kennedy and ? Rawlings, heirs of the estate of Daniel Kennedy, deceased, of Greene County, Tenn. $600. north side of Nolichucky River; it being the plantation whereon the said Thomas Buckingham formerly lived.

John Bailey married Phebe Small, Dec. 26, 1812, by V. Sevier. Probably the same John who married Elizabeth Fann, 1804.

John Baley to John Parson, Bk 11, p 70, Jan. 29, 1817, 200 acres south side of Chucky River, waters of Cane Creek.

John Bailey to William George, Bk 11, p 389, Jan. 15, 1819, north side of Chucky River.

Martin Baley to William R. Bayles, of Washington Co., 340 acres on the head of Mill fork of Big Limestone, $2000. Reg. June 20, 1839.

Martin Baley to Michael Maltsbarger 76 acres, $450. Reg. June 20, 1839. Martin Baley to John Bailey, 150 acres, $900. on Lick Creek, Reg. June 20, 1839. Total 566 acres $3350. Same date. He was not listed in the 1840 census, so he must have left Greene County about this time for parts unknown.

We cannot definitely identify the above Baileys, but since the Martins, Waddles and Baileys were related by marriage in Fauquier County, Va., and we know some of them came to Greene County, we are assuming without proof, that they were all from Virginia. James, John and Martin may have been brothers.

Ephraim Bailey married Margaret Johnson in Greene County July 1, 1790.

Will: Margaret Baley of Greene County, July 5, 1805, To only daughter, Sarah Baley.

Signed, Margaret (her mark)
Baley.

Ex: David Moore.

Nothing more is known of this family.

have tried to confine this data to genealogy, and a final word of our own.

In 1953, I rode on the bus from Boone to N. Wilkesboro, North Carolina with Prof. Dougherty, President of North Carolina State College at Boone. The Prof. was a very old, but distinguished and interesting gentleman, who knew his history. I listened with great interest to him talk about the early settlement of Western North Carolina and East Tennessee.

He said Daniel Boone lived at Boone for 9 years, 1761 to 1769. He said that his father had later bought the Boone place, and that he, himself had sold or given away as souvenirs the last chips of stone out of the old Boone chimney. This is not generally known.

The Beech Tree on which "D. Boon CILLED A, BAR On Tree in THE YEAR 1760," has long since fallen, and every sprig of it has been carried away as souvenirs to all parts of the United States; and a stone monument and plaque has been raised in its place. It is about one and a half miles above where the Kingsport-Johnson City highway crosses Boone's Creek, the first creek west of Boone's Creek School.

I was in New Brunswick, New Jersey, about 20 miles this side of New York and met a lady (foreign born) in the clerks office, who had not long been in the States, and when I told her I was from Kingsport, Tenn., she exclaimed: "O, you are from the Daniel Boone country," and began to ask many questions, most of which I could not answer. I explained that most of the people of this section knew very little about Boone, and some of them had scarcely heard of him. She was greatly surprised, and I quoted a passage in the Bible: "A Prophet is not without honor save in his own country and among his own people."

But when I told her he was my uncle by marriage, several times removed, she was very attentive to show me how to find the information I was looking for, just as tho I was important.

Wit.: William Bailey and Nat Austin. The land exchange was the site of the Battle of Long Island Flats in 1776. (The Tennessee Eastman Co., now covers part of this land).

Oct. 10, 1796, Commission issued to officers of Hawkins Co. militia: William Bailey, Captain.

March 7, 1797, William Bailey to Ephraim Andrews, $500. 100 acres, south side of Holston River adjoining Joseph Rogers.

Oct. 10. 1800, Thomas Bailey commissioned Captain of Hawkins Co. Militia.

Nov. 19, 1816, James Lee to Jones Griffin, land south of Holston River, Wit.: William Lee and Thomas Bailey.

Aug. 19, 1818, Will of Mary Lee names daughters Winifred Baily and Zilpha Baily.

May 23, 1823, Lawsuit in Hawkins County shows that Thomas Bailey of Shelby County, Ala. was the husband of Zilpha Lee, and William Bailey was the husband of Winifred Lee, then a widow in Alabama.

Sarah Bailey, widow of Thomas Bailey, who, it is said was killed in the War of the Revolution, and her three children: William, Thomas and Susan all married in the same Lee family. Their brother, Britton Bailey went to Texas.

Letter of Will F. Franks of Birmingham, Ala. to Prentice Price of Rogersville, Tenn., June 29, 1949.

"The Sarah Bailey, mother of Susan Bailey who married Needham Lee, and who married Micajah Lee, would be my great great, great grandmother.—I presume she is the Sarah Baley, granddaughter of Jonathan Osborn, deeded 640 acres in Sullivan County, N. C. 15 July, 1782.—The records that I have seem to indicate that her first husband was Thomas Bailey by whom she was the mother of William Bailey, Thomas Bailey, Brittain Bailey and Susan Bailey who married Needham Lee. Thomas Bailey, husband of Sarah Bailey, was said to have been killed in the Revolutionary War. The son William was killed in a raid on some horse thieves prior to 1816, or at least just prior to the removal of his widow and five sons and two daughters to Shelby County, Ala., who came about 1817, possibly 1818, Thomas Bailey, the son came to Shelby about the same time Needham Lee did. Brittain also came here, but early removed to Texas and settled on the Brasos River in that state. Thomas and William each named a son Brittain. Brittain, son of Thomas Bailey and Zilpha Lee, married Nancy Bailey, daughter of his uncle William Bailey and Winifred Lee, and followed his uncle Brittain Bailey to Texas. He soon died and his family returned to Shelby County. He left a son James Ausbun Bailey."

A very interesting and comprehensive history of this line of Baileys has been given by the above Will F. Franks. Since we did not connect them directly with our line, we will not repeat here. The foregoing has been given to keep the several different Bailey lines of Hawkins County separate, and to prove they were not of our line.

John Bailey of Hawkins County, Tenn., to George Morelock of Sullivan County, for $500. 200 acres in Hawkins Co. on Beech Creek. (near Fodder Stack Mountain) Wit.: Moses Ball, John Barnard and George Light.

*Jarrets Branch: Garret Fitzgerald had a still on this branch, (William King later lived there) hence Jarrets Garrets, Jarrols, Garlets, Stuarts Branch. Now Rock Springs Creek.

This John Bailey soon moved to Lee Co. Va. and to Harlan County, Kentucky. Most of his children followed later.

The foregoing Baileys were from Fauqueir Co. Va., and were cousins of our William (Flea Buck) line of Hawkins Co.

The history of John Jr. son of the above John Sr., known as "Thumbby John" has been written up by Zella Armstrong, after they all went to Kentucky. Two or three of Thumbby John's sons came back to Hawkins Co. and their families will be given later.

The other children of John Sr. also went to Harlan County, Ky., and are being studied by Mrs. James Laningham of Pennington Gap, Va. A very good history of them is in process, and not knowing enough about them, we decided not to try to include them in this volume.

The above John Sr., was son of (John 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1), of Westmoreland County, Virginia.

lings for every 100 acres. In testimony whereof we have caused these our letters to be made patent and our Great seal to be hereunto affixed. Witness Alexander Martin, Esq. our Governor Captain General and Commander-in-Chief at Newbern, the 10th day of Nov. in the 9th year of our Independence and in the year 1784.

By his excellency Alex. Martin.

J. Glasgow Sec.

William Bailey Smith was one of the commissioners from North Carolina ordered to establish the line between Tennessee and Kentucky. We also remember he was Daniel Boone's right hand man in his troubles in Kentucky. We do not know where he got the middle name Bailey (or Bayles). No doubt he was related to the Baileys.

Nov. 10, 1784 grant to Samuel Bayles 300 acres.

Same date, Daniel Bayles 100 acres on a fork of the first branch of Cherokee Creek, on the north fork of said branch.

Sept. 10, 1784, Vol. 3, p 167, Moses Brock to John Bayles 150 acres, middle branch of the waters of Cherokee Creek.

Goodspeed's History East Tenn. (see Thomas p 132)

Marion L. Bailey, a farmer of the Eleventh District, was born in 1827 in Greene County, where he has resided since. He began life for himself when 21 years old, in only moderate circumstances, and the most of what he is now worth is the fruit of his own industry and good management. He owns a farm of 200 acres.

He was married Dec. 9, 1847 to Sarah Williams, a daughter of Rev. Benjamin and Nancy Williams, natives of Pennsylvania and Greene County, Tennessee. They had nine children: Alexander H., Elizabeth A., Nancy P., Thomas M., Henrietta M., Caroline M., Joseph B., and Lydia S., Mr. and Mrs. Bailey are members of the Methodist Church in which Mr. Bailey is a local minister. He is a Republican.

He is the eldest son of Thomas and Henrietta (Keel) Bailey, natives of Greene and Jefferson (now Hamblen Counties, respectively). Mrs. Bailey was a daughter of William and Lyvia A. Keel.

Thomas Bailey was a son of Thomas and Elizabeth Bailey, natives of Londonderry, Ireland, and North Carolina respectively. Thomas Bailey Sr. immigrated to America, about 1775 with his brother, Cloud Bailey, who went to Middle Tennessee and raised a family and died there. Thomas Sr. settled in East Tennessee, where he lived and died.

Gilbert Newton Bailey, M.D., was born Oct. 9, 1831, in Greene County, where he has since resided. He received an academical education, and read medicine with Dr. J. R. Young. He began practice, and since 1860 has been at his present location with marked success, professionally and financially. He owns a fine home.

In Sept. 1854 he married Sarah, daughter of Thomas and Sarah McAmis of this County, and was of Irish descent. Their children are, James A., Thomas Y., Rufus K., Martha I., Ella C., B. K., G. N., Mary H., Benson M., and John V. He is a Methodist, and his wife is a Baptist. He is a Republican.

He is the 4th son of nine children of Thomas and Henrietta (Keel) Bailey, natives of Hamblen County; the former a Justice of the Peace for 18 years and an excellent farmer. Thomas Bailey of Ireland, was the next ancestor. He moved to near Chapel Hill, North Carolina and entered land in our subject's locality about 1775.

George A. Bailey, merchant, farmer and stock dealer, was born July 4, 1846, on his present farm. When 18 he began for himself, and now owns 280 acres besides other lands, and a stock of goods. Nov. 8, 1866 he married Mary A. daughter of William and Eliza (Armitage) Reed, natives of Greene County. Their children were: Minnie L., Willie R., Thomas K., Florence B., Alexander H., (Martha H., and Carrie E. twins) John M., Bessie M., Laura L., and George B. Both were Methodist and he is a Republican and Master Mason. He is the youngest of nine children of Thomas and Henrietta Bailey. The former a Justice of the Peace for 18 years.

In 1775 Thomas Bailey and his wife Elizabeth came with his brother, Cloud, from Londonderry, Ireland, to Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Cloud Bailey went to Middle Tennessee, and reared a family and died there. Thomas and Elizabeth moved to Greene County, Tennessee, near Baileyton, where he lived and died. His son, Thomas Jr., married Henrietta Keel and had nine children, some of whom were Marion, Newton, Ben, Porter, William and George A., the youngest.

His will is recorded in Greeneville, Tenn., dated June 26, 1830. He wills

To daughter Catherine Dugger

To son William.

To son Thomas. (born 1797 census)

To daughter Elizabeth Strong.

To granddaughter Elizabeth Bailey.

To Grand son James R. Bailey.

It is probable that he had other children not mentioned in his will, since he was married when he came to North Carolina in 1776, and his son, Thomas, was born in 1797, and he mentioned only four children. It is reasonable to believe he had other children, which perhaps died young.

BAILEYS OF RUTHERFORD COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA AND JEFFERSON COUNTY, TENNESSEE

To get our bearing of these Baileys we go back to Fauqueir County, Virginia. From the following wills we find that the Jefferson County Baileys were descended from (Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1). From the will of Carr 4, 1770.

Bk 1, p 181, Fauqueir County, Va.

Carr Bailey, made Oct. 6, 1770, probate May 28, 1771.

To wife Mary (daughter of Joseph Minter)

To sons James, Joseph, Carr, Minter, William and John Bailey.

To daughter Betty Bailey (married Tomlin).

signed, Carr (his mark) Bailey.

Ex: Wife and friends George Rogers, Joseph Minter Jr.

Wit: Humphrey Brooke, William Hampton, Charles Morehead, and John Bailey. (This John likely brother to Carr, and his will 1779).

Bk 2, p 941, Jan. 12, 1785, probate March 27, 1786.

Charles Martin of Fauqueir County, Va.

To, all estate to daughters, Catherine Baylie and Susan Allen.

To daughters Elizabeth Edwards Mary Pore and Frances Wade and McCarty to receive one shilling each.

Extxs: Catherine Baylie and Susan Allen.

Wit: William Carter, Joseph Bailey, Sam Hazelrig and Margaret Mason.

From these wills and the following records, we conclude (without a marriage record) that Carr Bailey Jr., son of Carr Sr., married Catherine, a daughter of Charles Martin of Fauqueir Co. Va., about 1772-3, and died between 1778 and 1781. Carr and Catherine Bailey had three children:

Frances, (probably named for her Aunt Frances Wade) born July 25, 1774, (Bible record); Charles Martin Bailey, born about 1776; Carr Bailey III, born Feb. 3, 1778, (Bible record) and died in Jefferson County, Tenn. May 5, 1848.

Deed Bk 10, p 329, March 31, 1791, Fauqueir Co. Va.

Between Catherine Bailey and Susan Allen of the one part, and William Horner of the other part, 1821/22 (?) acres, being the tract we obtained by our father, Charles Martin's last will.

Joins land of Morehead — George Carter — James Roach.
Land on Mill Run.

Signed; Catherine X Bailey L.S.
Susan Allen X L.S.

Catherine Bailey, this same year, bought land in Rutherford County, North Carolina. If Catherine Bailey's husband had been living at the date of her father's will, he would most likely have been the Executor of the will instead of his wife, and would also have been mentioned in the sale of her land, as well as buying the land in N. C. While these are not definite proof, they are conclusive evidence that Carr Bailey married Catherine Martin about 1773, and died soon after their son Carr was born. The Joseph Bailey who witnessed the will of Charles Martin, was likely the brother of Carr. Carr left no other record in Fauquier Co. There is no marriage record where he married anyone else, neither does it appear that there was any other Bailey of record who could have married Catherine Martin.

RUTHERFORD COUNTY, N. C. RECORDS

Bk 11, p 108, Sept. 5, 1791, Reg. 1799.

William Wood of Rutherford County, N. C. to Catherine Baley of the same county, for 80 pounds, 100 acres on the east side of Green Creek, waters of whiteoak Creek, bounding south on William Wood, west of John Kingings, north on Clark's line, east on vacant land, her heirs and assigns.

Bk 22-23, , p 405, Sept. 21, 1801, (Reg. 1806).

We do not know when Carr Bailey came to Jefferson Co. Tenn. We know he sold his land in Rutherford Co. N. C. Jan. 12, 1824, to his father-in-law, Ledford French, and the first record of him in Jefferson Co. Tenn. was when he bought a Bible, July 30, 1830, from John Fain, of Dandridge. This Bible contained a birth record of himself and children.

We did not find a record where he bought land in Jefferson, but the following deeds show he did:

Vol. U, p 16, Nov. 17, 1834.

Carr Bailey to William Bailey, 50a on Dumplin Creek.

April 16, 1840.

Carr Bailey Sr. to Joseph Bailey, 100a on Dumplin Creek.

Vol. W, p 226, March 22, 1841.

Carr Bailey to Sam G. M. Gass (son-in-law).

Vol. 3, p 451, Carr Bailey to Chas. M. Bailey on Dumplin Creek.
Reg. Nov 27, 1849.

Carr Bailey Sr. to Landon R. Tudor, Dumplin Creek.

Vol. 6, p 303, March 15, 1860.

Carr Bailey (Jr.) to F. Rugel.

There were many other Baileys in Jefferson Co. Tenn.

Grant No. 2618, from the State of N. C. to Jacob Bayley, Hawkins County (now Jefferson Co.) 1789, 348 acres south side of Holston River, waters of Mossy Creek.

We do not have further record of these Baileys. However, there are records of them at the Court House at Dandridge.

Will of Daniel Bailey, Jefferson County, Tenn. — Residue divided between my brothers Joseph and Thomas Baily and sisters, Barsha Langford and Sallie Vanhoover, No children mentioned.

We believe most of the above were children, grand children and great grandchildren of Carr and Mary (French) Bailey. These lived on Dumplin Creek, which runs southwest, between Dandridge and Jefferson City, Tenn. Some, however, may be of another set of Baileys, north or east of Jefferson City. These are unidentified, but most likely descendants of the old Jacob, who settled on Mossy Creek 1789.

1. J.(oseph) (8) Bailey, (Carr 7, Carr 6, Carr 5, Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born 1836, (census) in Jefferson Co., married there Nov. 25, 1869, Margaret E. Mount, and had children:

1. William R. (9) Bailey, born 1871.

2. A. Mary Bailey, born 1873.

Possibly others.

2. B.(asha) (8) Bailey, 1839, married Langford.

3. S.(allie) (8) Bailey, born 1844, married Vanhoover.

4. Wm. B. (8) Bailey, born 1846, in Jefferson Co.

5. Tho(mas) (8) Bailey, born 1849.

6. Daniel (8) Bailey, born 1851. (census)

Will of Daniel Bailey, Feb. 8, 1917. — Residue divided between my brothers, Joseph and Thomas, and sisters, Barsha Langford and Sallie Vanhoover.

- (7) Mary (7) Bailey, (Carr 6, Carr 5, Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born Dec. 4, 1815, Jefferson County, Tenn. No further record.

- (8) Joseph Minter (7) Bailey, (Carr 6, Carr 5, Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born in N. C. Sept. 11, 1816, his wife was listed in census as Betty, but his marriage is not recorded in Jefferson Co. A Joseph Bailey who cannot otherwise be accounted for, married Elizabeth Howell in Mawkins County, Jan 22, 1832. If he was the abovee Joseph, he was only 16 years old when married. This is quite possible.

- (9) Basna (7) Bailey, (Carr 6, Carr 5, Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born in N. C. June 12, 1819, married Samuel G. Madison Gass. Their children were:

1. Mary Ann (8) Gass, born Feb. 19, 1842, died 1929.

2. John W. Gass, born Nov. 5, 1844.

3. Daniel Port Gass, born March 27, 1847.

4. Nancy Jane Gass, born June 24, 1849.

A genealogy of these families is compiled by Mrs. Alta (Arnold) Tarango, 234 La Alameda, San Pedro, Calif.

- (10) Elizabeth (7) Bailey, (Carr 6, Carr 5, Carr 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born Feb. 12, 1821.

WILLIAM BAILEY OF HAWKINS COUNTY

Our Tennessee Ancestor

Perhaps a brief review of the migrations of the Baileys in Virginia and North Carolina would help us to better understand the situation up to this point. William Bailey was the 6th generation from the immigrant Stephen, and runs thusly: (William 6, Samuel 5, William 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1.)

Stephen Bailey's first record was when he obtained land in Northumberland County, Virginia, in 1657. He settled near where the little town of Kinsale now stands in Westmoreland County at the head of a little bay just off the south bank of the Potomac River.

That whole strip of land lying between the Potomac and the Rappahannock River is known as the "Northern Neck", and extends northwestward to the Allegheny Mountains in West Virginia. This land was inherited by the 6th baron, Thomas Lord Fairfax, and many of the old grants to Baileys and Brittons were signed, "Fairfax".

The Baileys migrated up the Northern Neck, thru King George, Stafford, Prince William, Fairfax and Fauquier Counties, and finally made their settlement in that part of Prince William which became Fauquier County in 1759. This settlement was about five or six miles northeast of Warrenton, the County seat, between Broad Run and Cedar run, branches of Occoquan Creek. From here they scattered in every direction. Some went to West Virginia, some to Kentucky, some to Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and other points west; while others came down thru the great Valley of Virginia into North Carolina and Tennessee.

William (4) Bailey was the traditional "Colonial Merchant" of Halifax Co., in what is now Henry Co., in or near Martinsville, Va., when his son Samuel (5) accompanied him on a trip to the Philadelphia market, and met Sarah Bryan near Winchester who later became his wife. And as has been stated, they settled in the Forks of the Yadkin in what is now Davie County, North Carolina, where they established their permanent home, reared a large family, and died there. Their second son, William (6) was our Tennessee ancestor, and settled in Hawkins County, the exact date not known, but he had a grant on Beech Creek, including the mouth of the North Fork, the New Hope Church and the Cemetery, nearby, in which many of his descendants are interred.

William Bailey of Hawkins County, Tennessee (locally known, and generally referred to as "Flea Buck"*,.) was second son of Samuel Bailey Sr. of Rowan County, North Carolina. He was the progenitor of our line of Hawkins County Baileys. His date of birth seems to be pretty well established, altho traditional. We have found no document to prove his birth. A great grandson, James W. Bailey, late of Fort Worth, Texas, states in a letter that he was born in 1853, and that his mother told him that Flea Buck visited them when James W. was a baby, and after examining his large hands exclaimed; "O yes Jimmy will be a blacksmith". He was told that his great grandfather died on Beech Creek in Hawkins Co. in the fall of 1856, at the age of 104 years. It is generally known that he was 104 years old when he died, this would place the date of his birth 1752. Then he was born in Anson Co., later 1753, Rowan Co. and now, since 1836, Davie Co., N. C., in the Forks of the Yadkin River, where his father Samuel established his permanent home. The 1840 census of Hawkins County shows he was born 1760 to 1770. He was not shown in the 1850 census. But it is a well known fact that the early census of Hawkins County are very inaccurate; varying as much as 10 or 12 years.

William Bailey married 1st in Rowan County, N. C. Isabell Benson Aug. 9, 1774, and 2nd Lucy Foster in the same county, June 11, 1792 (Rowan Co. records). He was our Tennessee imigrant ancestor from North Carolina, and was the progenitor of most of the Baileys in Hawkins County. Many of these earlier Baileys left Hawkins Co. in the 1830's, some to Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Oregon and other western states, and have been lost to us in the shuffle. We have spent much time and effort in trying to run them down, but only a few have been identified.

We do not know the exact date "Flea Buck" moved to Hawkins Co. He had a grant of 200 acres of land on Beech Creek including New Hope church and the mouth of North Fork Creek, 1793, a copy of which is contained herein. A Carr Bailey, most likely the brother of Flea Buck had a grant of 640 acres on the North Fork of Beech Creek in 1780; but since a part of the records of Hawkins County were burned during the Civil War, we have no record of what became of this land. We know that it was owned by some of the Baileys and others later, but do not know how they obtained it. Neither do we have any other record of this Carr Bailey in Hawkins Co. It is probable that he never lived in this county, but remained in North Carolina. He perhaps assigned this grant to others.

* Since there were at least six William Baileys in Hawkins Co. in the years 1800 to 1810, we must without disrespect distinguish them with the original nicknames as "Flea Buck"; his son, Wm. "Billy Buck" Wm. son of John Sr. as "Chunky" and his son, W. Jr.; Wm. son of Carr; and Wm. son of Thomas and Sarah.

In 1805, William Bailey and his brothers sold land in Rowan Co. N. C., formerly belonging to their father Samuel Bailey, to Samuel Bryan, and the deed stated that they were all of Rowan Co. But the 1850 census of Hawkins Co. says that his daughter Franky was born in Tenn., 1797. It may be that the census taker made an error, and she was born in North Carolina instead; or the statement in the deed that they were all of Rowan Co. could have been an error on the part of the writer; or he could have lived in Tenn. earlier, and moved back to N. C. for a while, when this deed was made. His son "Billy Buck" lived in N. C. for a short time, where his son F. Marion Bailey was born in 1838, but evidently did not live there long, for his seven brothers and his sisters, older and younger, were born in Tenn.

William Bailey and Lucy his wife, deeded to Seth Osborn land in Rowan Co. N. C., formerly belonging to Samuel Bailey deceased, dated March 19, 1798. All this leaves it uncertain as to when he moved to Hawkins County, Tenn.

He made his will May 30, 1828 (tho he lived till 1856) and named his children as follows; (may not be in order of birth).

- I. JOHN BAILEY
- II. SAMUEL BAILEY
- III. CARR BAILEY
- IV. THOMAS BAILEY
- V. JAMES BAILEY
- VI. WILLIAM BAILEY
- VII. SALLY BAILEY
- VIII. SUSAN BAILEY
- IX. FRANKY BAILEY

There may have been others who died young and unmarried. These were all that he mentioned in his will; and most, if not all, were born in North Carolina. Since William married 1st, Isabell Benson Aug. 10, 1774,, we can only estimate the dates of birth of their children. None of these dates are found in any record. There is not much known about these children, as part of the Hawkins Co. records were burned and most of them left Hawkins Co. in the 1830's, some of them to destinations unknown; but each will be taken separately and as much information as possible will be given.

- (I) JOHN (7) BAILEY (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1), born about 1775, in N. C. We do not know who nor when John married, nor when he died, but according to his father's will, he was dead by 1828, and had at least three daughters: Aggy Stacy, Betsy Christian and Polly Fields. We do not know the names of these sons-in-law nor their marriage dates. We only know that the Stacys, Christians and Fieldeses lived in that section, some of the Fields and Christians still live in Hawkins Co., but the Stacys are all gone. Doubtless some of their descendants still live there, but they are not definitely known. We believe they were caught in the general exodus to the west in 1832 to 1836.
- (II) SAMUEL BAILEY was our great grandfather (see later)
- (III) CARR (7) BAILEY (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1), born about 1779, in N. C., married about 1798. (wife's name, date and place not known). We are not positive about the names of his children, but after an exhaustive seache and study we have concluded that they were as follows:
1. Carr (8) Bailey Jr. (Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1), born about 1797, probably in Hawkins Co. The county census shows this Carr had 3 sons and 2 daughters born from after 1815 to 1830. He probably married in Hawkins Co., but his wife's name is not known. These were gone to parts unknown by 1840.
 2. William (8) Bailey, (Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born about 1798 in Hawkins Co. perhaps, and married Lydia Barnard, daughter of John Barnard of Hawkins Co., about 1816; the 1830 census shows he had 3 sons and 2 daughters born from after 1815 to 1830. This family went to Roane County Tenn. after 1830. Letters from his granddaughter, Mollie Bailey of Dayton, Tenn. gives the names of his children: (See Roane Co. data census.)

1. Ezekiel (9) Bailey, (Wm. 8, Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born about 1818, in Hawkins Co. married in Roane Co. Tenn. Sept. 28, 1844, Elizabeth Ewing. children:
 1. Lydia (10) Bailey born about 1845 in Roane Co., married Eldridge Kinney and had children born in Roane Co.
 1. William (11) Kenney.
 2. Eldridge Kenney.
 3. Sallie Kinney.
 4. Lula Kinney.
 5. Lizzie Kinney.
 6. George Kinney.
 7. John Kinney.
 2. Ewing (10) Bailey, married Mary Ann Atchley and had the following children:
 1. Mary Kate (11) Bailey.
 2. Jacob R. Bailey.
 3. Paul Hagler Bailey.
 4. Anderson Ewing Bailey.
 3. William (10) Bailey, born 1863, married Kate Williams, and had the following children:
 1. Oma Lee (11) Bailey.
 2. Clifford E. Bailey.
 3. Walter Bailey.
 4. Mildred Bailey.
 5. Roland Bailey.
 4. Sarah (10) Bailey, married John Roddy, no childrer lives at Dayton, Tenn.
 5. Annie (10) Bailey, married Monroe Smith, 1. Juston (11) Smith, went to Oregon.
 6. Maggie (10) Bailey, married Samuel Peary, and had children:
 1. Willie (11) Peary.
 2. Carl Peary.
 3. Blanche Peary.
 4. Ann Peary. These lived at Dayton, Tenn.
 7. Mollie (10) Bailey, Unmarried, Dayton, Tenn.
 8. Mach (10) Bailey, died in 1903, unmarried.
 9. Jacob (10) Bailey, died unmarried, age 21.

3. John (8) Bailey, (Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born about 1799 in Hawkins County, married there and had 1 son in 1830 census. He does not show up in 1840 census. It is believed this John married Sarah Johnson in Hawkins Co. and probably went to Knox Co. Ky. with his brother Henry. it is thought he came to Roane Co. Tenn from Kentucky. The 1840 census Roane Co., shows he had at least 3 sons born before 1840. No daughters are indicated. 1850 census Roane Co., shows:

John Bailey, born 1799.

Sarah Bailey, born 1816.

Hiram Bailey, born 1839.

John Bailey, born 1841.

Martha Bailey, born 1843.

Geo. W. Bailey, born 1845.

We do not find these in the 1860 census.

John had children:

1. Frank (9) Bailey, (John 8, Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) was born about 1837, not traced further.
2. Hiram (9) Bailey, born 1839, married
 1. and had at least one daughter, Vina, married
Limburg, Loudon, Tenn.
3. John E. (9) Bailey, born 1841, married Sarah Isham (or Mollie Bruce, or both) and had the following children:
 1. Joseph (10) Bailey, (John 9, John 8, Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) married Pearl Weaver.
 2. Fred (10) Bailey, never married.
 3. William A. (10) Bailey, married Dora Ladd.
 4. Lee (10) Bailey, married Susie Goddard.
 5. John (10) Bailey, married Isabell
 6. Robert (10) Bailey, not married at this date.
 7. Bertha (10) Bailey, married Henry Robenson.
 8. Rosa (10) Bailey, married Charles Easter.
 9. Elizabeth (10) Bailey, married Vance Baker.
 10. Nell (10) Bailey, married Robert Sexton.
 11. Mary Kate (10) Bailey, married Sherman Harvey.
 12. Ollie (10) Bailey, married Sam Lane. This information was given by Wm. A. (above) and others of the family in Roane Co. Wm. A. thinks his grandfather John, came from Kentucky. He may have gone there from Hawkins Co. and back to Roane Co.

4. Martha (9) Bailey, (John 8, Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born 1843,
5. George W. (9) Bailey, born 1846, nothing further.
4. Stephen R. (8) Bailey, (Carr 7, William 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born June 12, 1804, in Hawkins Co., died Dec. 1, 1865, married 1st Nancy, daughter of James Jones, born March 26, 1809, died Feb. 7, 1859. Stephen is said to have been killed by a wagon load of hay turning over on him. They had children as follows:
 1. Lousann (9) Bailey, born 1830, married Craig Brown and had children:
 1. Bradley (10) Brown.
 2. Riley (10) Brown.
 3. Stephen (10) Brown.
 2. Sarah Ann (9) Bailey, born 1832, married Riley Kilday and had:
 1. Orville (10) Kilday.
 2. Lewis Kilday.
 3. Martha Kilday, married Tucker.
 4. Mollie Kilday, married married White.
 5. Nancy Kilday, married Jones.
 6. Lydia Kilday, married Bright.
 3. Martha Jane (9) Bailey, born 1834, married William Manis and had children:
 1. David (10) Manis.
 2. Sarah (10) Manis, married Bradley.
 3. Frankie (10) Manis.
 4. John (10) Manis.
 5. Rachel (10) Manis.
 4. Orville B. (9) Bailey, born July 12, 1837, in Hawkins Co. and died there July 12, 1902, married there Mary J. Babb, born April 21, 1846, died Oct. 8, 1930, buried in New Hope Cemetery.
 Their Children:
 1. William Riley (10) Bailey.
 2. Alexander (10) Bailey.
 3. Thomas Newton (10) Bailey, married Lydia Margaret White, daughter of Jacob White and Anna Eliza Bruner, and had children:

1. Gilbert Ray (11) Bail-y, died young.
2. Mina Kate (11), Bailey, died in accident, unmarried.
3. Edna Irene (11), Bailey.
4. Thomas Hugh (11) Bailey, married Elizabeth May Bailey, daughter of William Dana and Alva Allene (White) Bailey, sister to Robert H. and great granddaughter of Jefferson Bailey, not related. They had children:

1. Louis Craig (12) Bailey.
2. Margaret Elizabeth (12) Bailey.

(See Harvey Jefferson Bailey line).

4. Effie E. (10) Bailey, married Robert A. Dyer.
5. Orville Gilbert (10) Bailey.
5. James H. (9) Bailey, (Stephen 8, Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born 1838, died in the Civil War.
6. Frankie (9) Bailey, born 1840, married Robert Burns, and had children:
 1. John (10) Burns.
 2. Rachel (10) Burns.
7. John (9) Bailey, born 1842.
8. Alis (9) Bailey, born 1852, married Henry (or John) Brown, and died in Arkansas.
9. David (9) Bailey, born 1854, married Nancy Murphy, children:
 1. Thomas Baily.
 2. James Baily.
 3. Orville Baily.
 4. May M. Baily.
5. Henry? (8) Bailey (Carr? 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born about 1806 in Hawkins Co. Tenn., married there before 1824. Lucretia, The Hawkins Co. census for 1830, a wife under 20, and a boy and a girl under 5, or born after 1825. From a deed, Henry was in Roane Co. Tenn. 1837 and 1838, and the 1840 census for Knox Co. Ky., shows 2 males under 5, (or probably under 10), 1 female under 10, other than himself and wife. 1850 census for Knox Co. Ky., shown:

Henry Baily 40, Hatter, born in Tenn. 1810?
 Lucretia Baily, 42, born in N. C. 1808.

Sarah Baily, 14, born in Tenn. 1836.

Ellis Baily, 12, born in Tenn. 1838.

John Baily, 10, born in Ky. 1840.

6. Mashac? (8) Bailey, (Carr? 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born probably between 1806 and 1812; we cannot prove he was a son of Carr, but he does not fit anywhere else in the line. He was married, 1830 census, but no children shown. Nothing else is known of him. We are assuming that Henry and Mashac were sons of Carr (7). (See grant)

Plot No. 117, July 2, 1824.

Surveyed for Carr Baily Sr., 75 acres, south side of Holston River, the waters of Beech Creek, Parnolds Branch. Reg. Nov. 9, 1824. Witnesses: Henry Bailey and Meshack Bailey.

Plot No. 400, 50 acres surveyed for Carr Bailey, South of Holston River, on north side of Ellic Mountain, May 4, 1825.

Witnesses: Carr Bailey Jr. and Abraham Britton.

Carr (8) Bailey Jr. had 3 sons and 2 daughters. 1830 census.

These last three were not in Hawkins Co. in 1840.

7. Thomas (8) Bailey, (Carr 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4,, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1), born in Hawkins Co. Tenn. 1813.

1860 Census Yamhill County, Oregon, McMinnville Precinct, Thomas Bailey, 47, merchant, born in Tenn. 1813.

Ambrose Bailey, 22, clerk, born in Ky. 1838.

Sutton, 21, boatman, born in Ky. 1839.

Stephen, 14, born in Mo. 1846.

Mary, 12, born in Mo. 1848.

Peter, 9, born in Mo. 1851.

There may have been other children older and married.

Carr Bailey (7) may have had daughters but we have no records of them.

Letters from Mollie Bailey, granddaughter of William (8) explains that her grandfather had at least three brothers, John, Stephen, and Thomas, who went to Oregon and had at least one son Ambrose.

- (IV) THOMAS (7) BAILEY, (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born about 1781 in N. C. married probably in Tenn., a daughter of Patrick Kelly, (See deed, sale of property, p. . . .). We do not know what her christian name was, nor when they were married; neither do we know the names or number of their children. His father wills "to the children of Thomas Bailey," but does not give their names. 1830 census shows under Thomas (Thomas Sr. or his son whose name may have been Thomas Jr.)

Thomas Bailey 1 male under 20, 1 under 30.

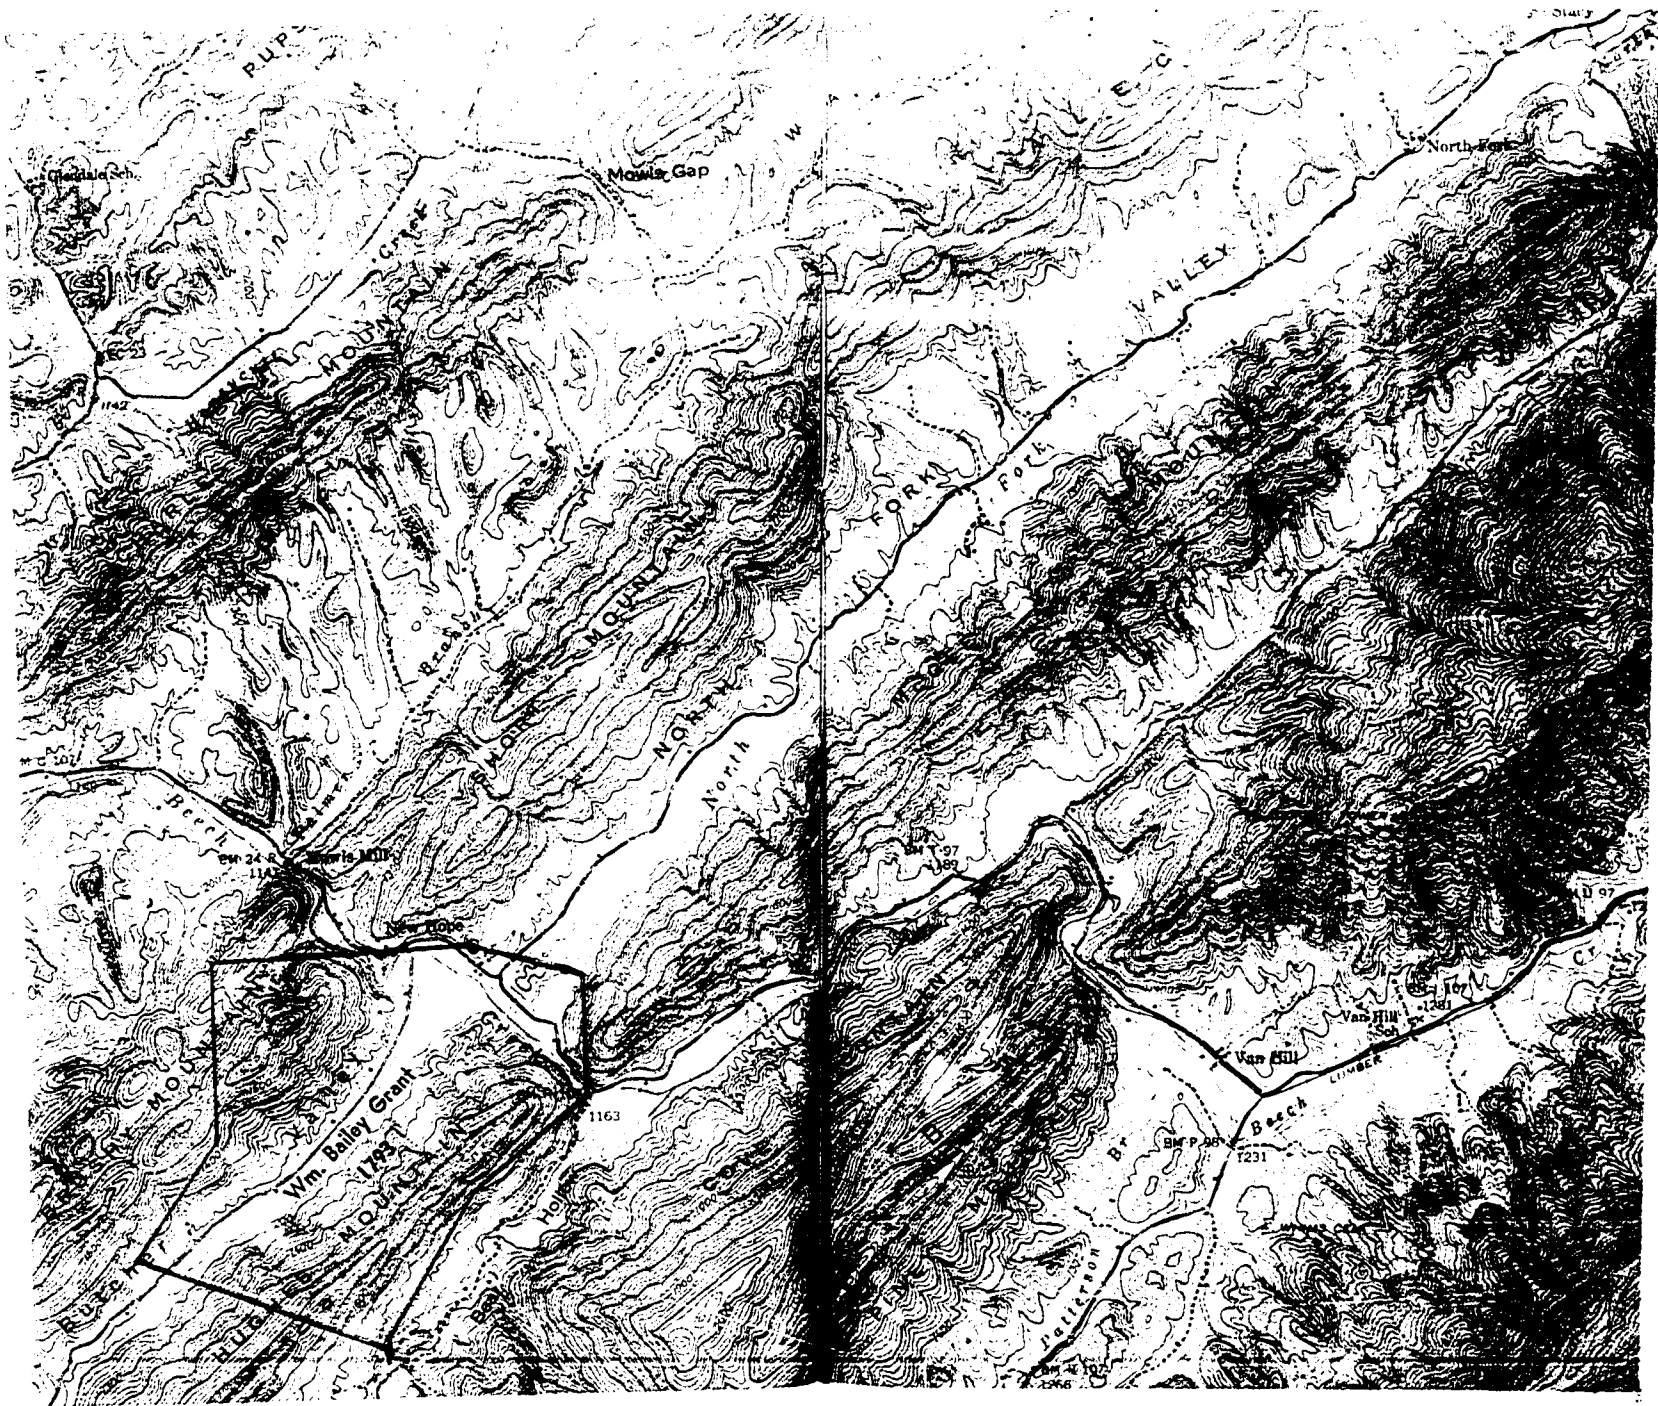

females: 1 under 30, 1 under 50.

This male under 30, may have been Thomas Jr., which his wife of the same age, and his mother, under 50. No doubt the male under 20, was a younger brother. This is only an assumption; Thomas Sr. seems to have been dead at the date of his father's will, 1828. (See William Bailey May 30, 1828 p. . . .).

There was an Alfred Bailey listed in the 1830 census, 1 male and 1 female born 1800 to 1810, he has not been identified. No other record of him.

It is not known what became of this family.

- (V) JAMES (7) BAILEY, (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born in N. C. about 1785 and came with his father, Wm. (6) "Flea Buck" to Hawkins Co. probably in the early 1790's. Little is known of him or his family. He was executor of his fathers will in 1828; was listed in the 1830 census as having 6 sons and 2 daughters born from 1810 to 1830. None of these were in the 1840 or 1850 census; no deeds are found where James or his sons sold their land. We know some of the Baileys of Hawkins Co. went to Texas and other points west. James may have died before 1840, and his children migrated west. In the absence of records of Hawkins Co. which were burned, we are unable to find his marriage record or deed, or record of any kind.
- (VI) WILLIAM (7) BAILEY, (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born 1790, died 1893, and tradition is he lacked only a few days being 104 years old (his father was 104 when he died). He was married three times. See presently.
- (VII) Sally (7) Bailey, (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) birth date not known, married David Harmon and had children, not known; left Hawkins County. Granddaughter, Jude Harmon.

(VIII) Susan (7) Bailey, (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) birth date not known, married Williams.

(IX) Franky (7) Bailey, (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born 1797 (census) married Stokley D. Luster, (born in Maryland), as 2nd wife, and had children. Stokley died about 1838, and Franky married 2nd, May 22, 1848, and died 1871, Elijah Jones, born 1797, Luster children:

1. David (8) Luster (Franky 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) married and had among probably others,
 1. Sam Patton (9) Luster
 2. Jack Luster.
2. Hamilton (8) Luster, (Franky 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born 1819 (census) in Hawkins Co., and married there Polly Ann Ball, and had children:
 1. William (9) Luster
 2. Dock Luster, born about 1847, married Elizabeth (Betty), (daughter of Lewis Bailey), born 1842 (census) Dock was drowned in McPheter's Bend one year after they were married; Betty was burned to death in Texas; their only son Walter (10) Luster fell from a wagon in Texas and broke his neck.
 3. Jake Luster.
 4. John Luster.
 5. Henry Luster.
 6. Liza Luster.
 7. George Luster.
 9. Rebecca Luster.
3. William (8) Luster, (Franky 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) married and had children:
 1. Charles (9) Luster, born 1850, married and had children:
 1. Elizabeth (Betts) (10) Luster.
 2. Mary (Polly) Luster.
 3. Harriet (Oma) Luster.
 4. Ida Luster.
 5. Bud Luster.

Much of the Luster genealogy has been given orally by members of the family and is incomplete, and we cannot guarantee correctness.

2. William (9) Luster Jr. children:

1. J. Clint (10) Luster.
2. William Caswell Luster.
3. Frankie (9) Luster.
4. Sally Luster.
5. Rena Luster.

Back to William (7) Bailey.

(VI) WILLIAM (7) BAILEY, (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Steuhen 1) born 1790, probably in N. C. He died in Hawkins County, Tenn. 1893, and tradition is, lacked only a few days being 104 years old. He was married three times: his first wife was perhaps Peggy Brooner, married May 12, 1813, (Green Co. records) who was burned to death without children; he married 2nd Lawson, who died at the birth of her only child, Lawson Bailey, he married 3rd. Sally (or Sarah), daughter of Robert Patterson, who was born 1802, and had 12 children:

1. Lawson (8) Bailey, (Wm. 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Steyhen 1) born in Tenn. 1818, married in Hawkins Co. March 28, 1836, Rebecca Manis, born 1818, and had the following children:
 1. Winnie (9) Bailey, born 1842.
 2. William Bailey, born 1845.
 3. Polly Bailey, born 1849.
 4. James M. Bailey, born 1852, married Smith, and had several children, and went to Kans.
 5. Julia M. Bailey, born 1855.
 6. Sarah Bailey, born 1859.

A sketch of his life in his own words, from a letter from him dated May 14, 1938:

"I left Hawkins County in Aug. 1876 and went back to Hopkinsville, Kentucky, and married there, Harriet Steen, in Oct. 1878. I began teaching common schools, first in Claibourne County, Tenn., in 1877. Then when I married in Kentucky, I taught 11 terms in Monroe County and moved across the line into Tennessee, and 14 or 15 terms there. I taught part of the time in Willette Academy. Left Carthage, Tennessee, in 1902 and moved to Craig, near McAlister, Oklahoma, where I taught some, and came to Texas in 1905, and lived in Decatur, Wise County nearly 28 years. There my wife departed for the other World April 1, 1933 and came to Fort Worth to live with one of my daughters, Mrs. Mary T. James.

I began trying to preach near Oak Grove, just west of your town in Aug. 1876, and when I went to Kentucky in 1878, the church where I first joined in 1871 ordained me in May 1879, so I was pastor of Churches nearly 45 years. Served as clerk of First Baptist Church in Decatur 17 years. I served as Assistant County school superintendent about seven years, served in other County Offices many years. I am glad to say that I am really an active Minister of the Gospel yet."

- (II) SAMUEL (7) BAILEY, (Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2. Stephen 1) born about 1777 in Rowan County, N. C., died in Hawkins Co. Tenn., about 1841-42. He was listed in the 1840 census, but was dead by 1843; an old paper of this date, found among his other papers had a statement thusly: "one cow delivered at Polly Bailey's" (wife) Logically if Samuel had been living, the cow would have been delivered at Samuel Bailey's. They say, conjecture is a weak peg on which to hang facts; but as to the approximate death date of Samuel Bailey, this appears to be conclusive.

We have every reason to believe that Samuel married a first wife in N. C. or Tenn, and probably had two or three children whose names are not known, except Aggie (or Agnes) born 1806, (census) who married William L. Christian, a nephew of Samuel's second wife, Mary (Polly) Christian, daughter of Lewis Christian. (see Christians).

The following note will give the nearest probable death date of Mary (Polly) Bailey, widow of Samuel Bailey:

"Twelve months after date we promise to pay Lewis Bailey, Administrator of Polly Bailey Dec'd, the sum of sixty-two dollars and fifty cents in current money, it being for value rec'd as witness our hands and seals, this the 18th day of April 1863."

The 1830 census for Hawkins Co. Shows:

Samuel Bailey, males 1 under 5, 1 un 10, 2 un 15, 1 un 20. females 1 un 10, 1. un 30. This does not include himself and wife. The male under 5, name not definitely known, but is believed to have been Thomas, born after 1825, presumably about 1826. The name of the male under 10, was probably Samule born about 1821. The 2 males under 15, were Lewis and William; the male under 20 born before 1815 is not known, unless he was James. The female under 10 was Sally born about 1823; the female under 30, born before 1810, and was perhaps a full sister to Aggie. The male under 20 and the female under 30, does not appear in the 1840 census, as does the others; probably married and gone, or died.

Just found a list of names among Lewis Bailey's old papers now in possession of Homer and Ida Cradic who live on a part of the old Samuel Bailey place. These names were on a small sheet of paper with nothing else, no dates, no information, as follows:

Lewis Bailey.
William Bailey.
Sally Bailey.
Aggie Christian.
Malinda Wilson.
Sam Bailey.
Tom Bailey.

This list of names proved to be the children of Samuel Bailey Sr. We knew that Lewis, William, Sally, Aggie and Sam were sons and daughters; we knew there were other children, from the census records (see Census) but we did not know their names, or what became of them; we also knew that A Malinda Bailey married Jonathan Wilson in 1831) (see Marriage records Hawkins County), but we did not know whose daughter she was.

Wm. C. and Thos. Bailey witnessed with Archibald Tucker and Riley Y. Wooflief, April 18, 1832, a deed: William Feagins to Wm. son (Williamson) Tucker for $1. all interest in 20 acres, joining Andrew Campbell and Jourdan Hunley. (Hawkins Co. Deeds)

Wm. Feagins land joined Samuel Bailey and all mentioned, lived in the same community. No other Wm. C. or Thomas Bailey in that section.

In 1832, Wm. C. was 13, and Thos. was only 6, and could not write his name as indicated by his mark (X)

Samuel Bailey Sr., was evidently married twice, and Malinda and Aggie were apparently daughters of his first wife whose name is not known. Malinda married Jonathan Wilson 1831, and probably went to Texas with other Wilsons and Baileys; no other record of them in Hawkins Co.

Aggie married about 1824 William L. Christian and became my great grandmother on my mother's side.

This about clears up the Samuel Bailey family, except the male under 20 in the 1830 census. He would have been born between 1810 and 1815. There was a James Bailey unidentified, mentioned in the records of this family, but we can only guess that he might have been the one under 20 in the census. He could have been a son by first wife. And there could have been others, older and married and gone before the 1830 census.

Samuel Bailey then married a first wife and had children: Aggie or Agnes, and others born before or after Aggie, whose names are not known. Agie married about 1823 or 1824, William L. Christian and was the mother of our maternal grandmother, Mahala Christian. (see Christians)

Samuel married 2nd about 1813 or 14, Mary (Polly) daughter of Lewis Christian Sr. This is proven by his will and deeds. Samuel's home was in Goshen Valley, Hawkins Co., and the "Old Bailey Place" is now owned by a descendant, Homer Cradic. We have reason to believe that all of his children by his last wife were born here. They were, as we have concluded by logical reasoning, but without positive proof, as follows:

1. James? (8) Bailey, (Sam 7, Wm. 6, Sam. 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born about 1814 or 15, and nothing else is definitely known of him. He may have died in "The Scourge of 1830*", or fled from same to parts west as many did about this time. There were at least 26 families out of this and surrounding communities living in Stoddard Co. Mo., by 1860.

*The Knoxville Register, 27 Oct. 1830, has a list of 49 "Deaths by fever in the upper end of Hawkins County from July 1, to Oct. 23, 1830. Among these are the following: (10) Robert Hamilton; (21) George Smith; (27) Mrs. William Skelton; (28) Mrs. James Skelton; (29) Rueben Skelton; (30) Mrs. William Smith; (33) Widow McPheeters' child; (34) Widow McPheeters' child; (35) Samuel McPheeters; (36) John McPheeters; (37 and 38) John McPheeters' daughters; (39) Widow of George Curry; (41) Widow Curry; (42) Rebecca Curry; (43) Samuel Curry; (44) his wife; (48) Lewis Christian Sr.

The Knoxville Register, 17 Nov. 1830, published six additional deaths between Oct. 23, and Nov. 3, 1830, so that in all 55 people died in one neighborhood from July to November."

A son of Reuben Skelton and Jane Curry told Dr. E. E. Kincheloe about this pestilence, which was probably a type of malaria. Mr. Skelton called it "The Scourge." He said that in nearly every home in McPheeters' Bend there was at least one death; that at night he could see the lights at six houses where wakes were being held. Going to the neighbors for help, the messengers would meet neighbors coming to them for assistance. The doctors blamed it on stagnant water left in river bottom ponds after the floods subsided. It was the custom then for men to go to the fields without breakfast, returning later to eat; the doctors of the day changed this plan and had them eat before going to work. More practically, a system of ditches was made in the bottoms, and the land was drained. Rev. Marvin Kincheloe, The Story of My Ancestry, Glad Springs, Va. 1935, p 17) (Copied and given to me by Prentice Price of Rogersville, T.H.B.)

4. Samuel (8) Bailey, (Sam 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born 1821 (census) married about 1850 in Hawkins Co. Tenn., Jenny, sister to Lewis Patterson Sr., and had children born in Hawkins Co, probably by 1854.

It is said , by an aunt of his, Ellen Bailey Christian, who was born 1852 (census) that Samuel left Hawkins Co. when she was very small, for Missouri, looking for a place to locate. The Civil War came on, and he returned eleven years later for his family, taking them by wagon and team to some place in Missouri, address not known, altho his people at home had letters from them. The location is still a mystery. We placed an ad in the St. Louis papers, and had several letters of inquiry; we searched the records of several county seats in Missouri and Arkansas; and the Census records at Washington, D. C., but we found nothing definite about them. Their children before leaving Hawkins were:

1. William (9) Bailey.
2. James (9) Bailey.
3. Malinda (9) Bailey.

We have many letters from prospective descendants, but none of them seemed to fit. We did find in the Veterans Records at Washington, a Samuel Bailey who was in the Civil War, and could have been our Sam. (See veterans Records p).

5. Sally (8) Bailey, born about 1823, seems to have had at least three daughters and one son:
 1. Matilda (9) Bailey, born 1848, married George Slater in Hawkins Co.
 2. Mary Bailey, born 1856, married Jones.
 3. Malinda Bailey, born 1862, married Eli Laster.
 4. Samuel Bailey, born July 7, 1865 (census) nothing else is known of these children.
6. Thomas? (8) Bailey, born about 1826, or after 1825, from the 1830 census, and 1940 census. William C and Thomas, presumably brothers, witnessed a deed, April 18, 1832, William Feagins to Williamson Tucker for $1. all interest in 20 acres joining Andrew Campbell and Jourdan Hunley; Witnesses: Wm. C. Bailey, Thos. Bailey, Arch Tucker and Riley Y. Woolfief. No other Wm. and Thos. in this vicinity.

Now to

3. William (8) Bailey. (Sam 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born 1819 in Hawkins Co. Tenn., married Aug. . . . 1840, Martha, daughter of Joseph, and granddaughter of Lt. Joseph Britton of the Revolutionary War, born Dec. 8, 1825, and died in Hawkins Co. June 1, 1897.

When the Mexican War started in 1845, there was a call for 2,000 volunteers from Tennessee; 20,000 volunteered. It is said that the Secretary of War wrote the Tennessee Governor that he didn't intend that Tennessee should fight this war alone. It was suggested that a draft be issued to force them to stay out of the war. They remembered "The Alamo" just nine years before, in which 23 Tennesseans among 182, were murdered and burned by Santa Anna, including Davy Crockett and his men. William Bailey was one of these volunteers. (See service Record) He died April 9, 1848, in service at or near National Bridge, Mexico by reason of sickness incurred while in line of duty. Tradition says he died of sunstroke, and was buried in the National Cemetery at New Orleans, but his marker has not been located. His widow was granted a pension for his service and death. He left four sons:

1. Robert Henry (9) Bailey, (Wm. 8, Sam 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born in Hawkins County June 27, 1841, spent his whole life and died there Jan. 13, 1910. He married 1st Sarah, daughter of George D. Wagner Jan. 27, 1867, born Aug. 22, 1842, and died about 1873. They had two children:
 1. William J. (10) Bailey, (Robt. H. 9, Wm. 8, Sam 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born Jan. 3, 1869, died 1937 in Wellston, Okla., married in Hawkins Co., Florida Eidson, born Oct. 9, 1870. Their children:

WILL OF WILLIAM BAILEY

I, William Baily Sr. of the County of Hawkins and State of Tennessee, Knowing the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death and being of sound mind and memory but weak in body. I Ordain and declare this my last will and Testament.

First I bequeath my body to the grave and my Soul to Almighty God, the giver of it. My worldly goods after defraying my burial, I give and bequeath in the following manner to wit:

I bequeath to my son, James Baily, the land on which he lately lived, on the south side of Beech Creek after deducting or taking from it what has been conveyed to my son William Bailey Jr.; also the benefit of an entry of one hundred acres of land made by him, James, in my name on the 26th of this month, on condition he pay to Sally Harmon, wife of David Harmon, fifteen dollars in good trade.

I give to my daughter, Frankey Luster, wife of S. D. Luster that part of a tract of land which lies on both sides of Beech Creek. Beginning on a hickory a corner of the old survey which was originally a sourwood, to run to a stake from thence a corner of the said tract at the end of the line of a hundred poles crossing the creek, then with old line to Luster line, then to the beginning, on condition said Luster relinquish all claims against me; in case he does not relinquish any claims he may have, the land is to go to James Baily who is to pay the claim of said Luster*.

I give to my granddaughter Jude Harmon my bed and furniture.

I bequeath to Aggy Stacy, Betsy Christian and Polly Fields, three heirs of John Baily and the heirs of Thomas Baily one dollar each.

To my sons Carr Baily, Samuel Baily and daughter Susan Williams, I have given their portion heretofore.

It is my wish that James Baily my son act as my Executor for which and to pay the legacies herewith bequeathed, I give all my remaining personal estate. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this 30th of May 1828.

*The name Luster, was spelled Laster throughout this will.

Signed Sealed &— acknowledged his before us the date above, William x Baily (Seal)

Wife Rebecca Brown.

It is believed without definite proof, that Daniel Bailey, son of John Bailey Sr. married Sarah Brown of the above will, and had a daughter Sarah, shown in the 1850 census Greene Co. Tenn.:

Daniel Bailey 72, born about 1778.

Sarah Bailey, 57, born about 1793.

Daniel Bailey had at least one son, Thomas, who married Melvina Moore and had three sons: Daniel, Geo. W. and Clinton, and one daughter, Brunetta Brown Bailey who married Dennis Griffith 1808, of Fauquier Co. Va. Daniel and Geo. W. went to Iowa and to Indiana or Illinois. Clinton married Ruth Henard in Hawkins Co.

and went to Iowa and to Clark Co. Mo., where he died early in the 1850's, and Ruth and her two daughters came back to Hawkins Co. Tenn. Of these two daughters, Rosanna married Sam Rakestraw, and Sarah married William Patterson. The Rakestraws went to Kansas, and the Pattersons reared their family in Hawkins Co. Two of their daughters married Baileys, distant cousins.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

Ten pounds for every hundred acres hereby granted Paid into our treasury by WILLIAM BAILEY, have given and granted, and do give and grant unto the said William Bailey a tract of land containing 640 acres lying and being in our County of Hawkins on the north side of Clinch River on creek known by the name of Black Creek, beginning about one half mile from the mouth of said creek on an ash, beech and sugar trees under a steep hill running thence north 320 poles to a stake thence west 320 poles to a stake, thence south 320 poles to a stake, then to the beginning—

Witness Richard Dobbs Spaight at Newbern,
July 12. 1794.

It is not known definitely who this William Bailey was; It may be hat he was in Sullivan County two years before, and was brother to John Sr. and Carr who finally settled in Harlan County, Ky.

The above grant was in what is now Hancock County, which records were destroyed by fire some time later.

Sheriff to John Pack

This Indenture made the 28th day of Feb. 1814,

Thomas Gillenwaters, sheriff of Hawkins Co. witnesseth that by virtue of an order of sale issued fro mthe court of Hawkins C. and to me directed which order was founded on a judgement obtained before a Justice of the peace and an execution issud thereon, which was levied on all that part of an undivided tract which fell to Thomas Bailey inright of his wife, and was by the court condemned to be sold to satisfy said Judgement which order of sale was issued on the 8th day of January 1812, and the said tract of land being advertised according to law did expose to public sale at the Court house on the 22nd of February, in the said year, 1812, and did sell the same to Jacob Miller, who being the highest and best bidder, and by virtue of an order to me directed from the said Jacob

Miller dated the 28th February 1814. do hereby convey unto John Lack all the interest, title, claim and demand that Thomas Bailey had in and to his undivided part of a tract of land that did belong to Patrick Kelly, dec'd. for the consideration of Ten dollars, to me in hand paid, being the amount of the said Jacob Miller's bid, and do hereby make over unto the said John Pack all Thomas Bailey's title to the said tract of land, being the same whereon Patrick Kelly did live, in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this the day and year first above written. S. D. Mitchell, Clerk, by Richard Mitchell D. C.

This transaction establishes the fact that Thomas Bailey, son of Flea Buck, married daughter of Patrick Kelly before 1812.

Robert Ball to Reuben Barnard (Barnett) seventy pounds, 100 acres beginning at a whiteoak by Falling Springs, thence south 126 poles to a stake, thence west 126 poles to a whiteoak, thence north 126 poles to a stake, thence east to the beginning. 1817.

Carr Bailey to William Bailey, Hawkins Co. North Fork of Beech Creek, beginning at a whiteoak by a Falling Spring, thence south 126 poles to a stake, thence west 126 poles, to a whiteoak, thence north 126 poles to a stake, thence to the beginning. Sept. 22, 1819.

The falling Spring is where the late Eldridge Arnold lived.

Plot No. 117, July 2, 1824.

Surveyed for Carr Bailey Sr., 75 acres, south side of Holston River on Parnolds Branch*, waters of Beech Creek Reg. Nov. 9, 1824.

Witnesses: Harry Baily and Meshack Baily.

These witnesses were probably sons of Carr Sr. Henry bought two lots in Kingston, Roane Co. Tenn., April 12, 1837, from Henry Liggett, and sold them 1838, and was in Knox Co. Ky. in 1840 census.

Plot No. 400. 50 acres served for Carr Bailey, south of Holston River, on the north side of Ellic Mountain, May 4, 1825. Witnesses: Carr Bailey Jr. and Abraham Britton.

Surveyor's plot No. 851, p 318, Sept. 12, 1827,

Joseph W. Britton and David C. Britton, 50 acres on Hunnycutts' Creek, part of an entry of Charles P. Miller, joining Abijah Tucker and Richard Surgoin.

Witnesses: Abraham Britton and William Britton, (4 Briton Bros.)

This land came into the possession of Jesse and Joe Bailey, grandsons of Joe W. Britton.

*Parnold's Branch runs into Beech Creek near the old Ben Mowl mill dam.

John Barnard Sr. had a grant from the State of North Carolina very early. Perhaps a conjecture may explain:

"Grant No. 246, Sullivan County, March 2, 1780. Kore (Kear) Bealley (Carr Bailey) enters 640 acres of land on the north fork of Beech Creek, beginning near the mouth of said creek. John Adair Entry Taker".

Since we have no record in Hawkins County, of what disposition of this 640 acres, it may be that it, or a part of it, was assigned to John Barnard as above. The Barnard lands seem to be within the Carr Bailey grant.

Deed: Nov. 25, 1799, John Barnard to Reuben Barnard land on Beech Creek, where Reuben Barnard now lives.

John Barnard had a wife, Sarah, who after his death, married John Lane. Barnard and Sarah had children: Zadock, Jonathan. John Jr., Lydia, Reuben, Elijah, and nine others. See deed:

Aug. 12, 1816, Elijah Barnard of White Co. Tenn., to John Lane of Hawkins Co. $20. 1/15 part, interest in land of John Barnard, deceased, on Beech Creek, adjoining Reuben Barnard, and John Light, Hawkins Co. deeds, 7-140. Witnesses: James Williams, Reuben Barnard and William Bailey.

This William Bailey, son of Carr Sr., and grandson of Wm. Flea Buck, married before Feb 19, 1818, Lydia Barnard, daughter of John Barnard Sr. See the following deed:

Bk 9, p 77, Feb. 19, 1818

Between Jonathan Barnard and William Bailey of the County of Hawkins and State of Tenn., of the one part and Zadock Barnard and John Barnard of the said County and State of the other part, maker witnesseth that we the said Jonathan Barnard and William Bailey for and in consideration of the sum of sixty dollars to them in hand paid, — sold a parcel of undivided land containing 36 acres — lying and being on Beech Creek — it being our equal part of a tract granted to John Barnard Sr. by N. Plot No. 391. to John Britton, north side of Holston River, on Boeg's Creek, Jan. 31, 1825. This John Britton has not been identified. Could have been a brother to Saddler Abe, and both sons of Cornelius Britton who died in Washington County, Tenn., about 1814. This is only a guess. He could not have been the son of Lt. Joe, or grandson. Sam Britton, who knew him as an old man living with his two sisters, neither of the three ever married. They lived about 2 miles above Highway No. 11-W, on a small branch running south crossing the highway; perhaps the first creek above Surgoinsville.

Branch Tucker to Joseph Bailey, Reg. Sept. 2, 1890.

Whereas on or about the 18th day of March 1876, and before Jacob Hamilton, Justice of the peace for Hawkins County, Thomas Sprowl did recover a Judgement against Williamson Tucker as principal and S. H. (Stephen) Christian as security for the sum of $104. and cost, and whereas on or about the 16th day of April 1879, the said Williamson Tucker, joined by his wife, Mahala J. Tucker did make an assignment to the tract of land on which they lived at that time, in the shape of a deed of trust to one Branch Tucker as trustee for the benefit of the said S. H. Christian to save him harmless as necessary to the Sprowl aforesaid, and whereas by the authority and power in me, Branch Tucker as trustee conveyed, I did on the 29th of Jan. 1881, after giving notice as registered in said trust and according to law prosecuted to sell on the premises to the highest bidder at public auction the entire tract whereon the late Williamson Tucker resided until his death, and whereon the said Mahala J., widow, etc. resided at the time of sale, where she was to remain as long as she lived.

This land was on the head waters of the North Fork of Beech Creek, and was the birth place and old home of this writer.

FEDERAL CENSUS WASHINGTON, D. C.

From the Introduction of the First Census of the U. S.
States 1790:

Maine was a part of Massachusetts.

Kentucky was a part of Virginia

Alabama and Mississippi were parts of Georgia.

The Northwest Territory comprised: Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin and part of Minnesota.

Tennessee was soon to be organized as the Southwest Territory.

At that time the U. S. was bounded on the west by the Mississippi River.

The Louisiana Purchase: Louisiana, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Montana and most of Colorado, Wyoming and Minnesota.

Texas was then part of the Colony of Mexico, and also belonging to Spain; altho penetrated here and there by venturesome explorers and Missionaries were for the most part an undiscovered wilderness. California, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico also part of Spain.

The 1790 Census was destroyed by the British 1812 in the following states: Delaware, Georgia, Kentucky, New Jersey, Tennessee and Virginia.

This David is not identified, but is believed to be brother to Abraham above, born in 1795, and is thought to be "Saddler Abe" and cousin to Abraham, born 1800, or "Hatter Abe."

We can only guess they were sons of Cornelius who is believed to be brother to Lt. Joe. Joe was administrator Cornelius in Washington Co. in 1815; with children indicated but not named. There seems to be no other Britton brother, either in Washington or Hawkins County, who could have been the father of David and Saddler. This Saddler Abe and Hatter Abe, son of Lt. Joe, were bound to William Britton, eldest son of Joe, to learn the saddler's trade and hatter's trade; hence the nicknames for distinction.

This David is not identified, but is believed to be brother to Abraham above, born in 1795, and is thought to be "Saddler Abe" and cousin to Abraham, born 1800, or "Hatter Abe." We can only guess they were sons of Cornelius who is believed to be brother to Lt. Joe. Joe was administrator Cornelius in Washington Co in 1815; with children indicated but not named. There seems to be no other Britton brother, either in Washington or Hawkins County, who could have been the father of David and Saddler. This Saddler Abe and Hatter Abe, son of Lt. Joe, were bound to William Britton, eldest son of Joe, to learn the saddler's trade and hatter's trade; hence the nicknames for distinction.

JAMES BAILEY, Jefferson Co. Tenn., Sgt. Capt. Elihu Millikan's Co. of East Tenn. Militia, Reg. commanded by Col. William Johnson, Sept. 2, 1814 to May 5, 1815, 7 months 16 days, $82.26, at Knoxville, Tenn.

James and William Bailey of Jefferson County, Tenn., appear to have been brothers or cousins, since they enlisted at the same time, under the same captain and discharged the same time. We have not identified them as being related to our Baileys, either in Jefferson or Hawkins County.

The first William Bailey above seems not to be of our line, since he entered service at Fayetteville, Tenn.

The other four Williams are not definitely identified, but we may assume one as Wm. (Billy Buck) son of the first William of Hawkins County. Another was perhaps son of Thomas and Sarah, whose folks left for Alabama soon after the war.

It is not stated above where this Samuel Bailey was born, but it could be our Samuel from Hawkins who went to Missouri. If so, he would have been 41 years old when he enlisted. It is said our Samuel went to Missouri about 1854, stayed 11 years and came back for his family. His wife was Jenny Patterson and his children, when he moved to Missouri, by wagon and team, were William, James and Malinda. No further definite word from them. This may or may not be our Hawkins Co. Sam.

Mahala J. Tucker departed this life July 20, 1882.

“THUMBY JOHN” BAILEY, SON OF JOHN SR.

From the Tunnell Family, — By Zella Armstrong.
1926.

Nancy Tunnell, only daughter of Stephen and Kezia Money Tunnell was born about 1782, in Virginia, and died 1866 at the home of a granddaughter, Mrs. Minter Bailey, Harlan Co. Kentucky. She moved with her parents to Washington Co. Tenn., 1788 and one time lived in Greene Co. Tenn. She married John Bailey known as “Thumby John” to distinguish him from several other John Baileys, Sept. 1799 in Greene Co. Tenn. The marriage bond, dated Sept. 24, 1799, was signed by her father. This John was in the 6th generation from Stephen.

John (6) Bailey, (John 5, John 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1) born in Abingdon Va., (as stated by a grandson,) in 1773. and died in Lee County, Va. Nov. 1850. They moved shortly after marriage to Harlan County, Ky. (Knox Co. till 1820) where their children were born:

1. William Bailey born 1800.
2. John Bailey born about 1802.
3. Stephen Bailey born about 1803.
4. Britton Bailey born about 1808.
5. Andrew Bailey born about 1811.
6. James Bailey born about 1814.
7. Sally Bailey born about 1817.

8. Carr Bailey born April 4, 1819.
9. Daniel Bailey born 1823.
10. David Bailey born 1824.
11. Jonathan Abshire Bailey born 1827.

This line of Baileys has been studied further by Zella Armstrong and others. They lived principally in Ky., some going west. However, three of this family returned to Hawkins County, Tenn., and these three will be mentioned here. (3) Stephen was living in Hawkins Co. as shown in the 1840 census: 4 sons and 3 daughters, but they removed to Arkansas before 1850. Names of children not known except son Jonathan. (5) Andrew Bailey, married July 21, 1836, Nancy Ball and lived in Greene Co. Tenn., where their children were born:

1. Jasper Bailey born 1837 (census) Not traced further.
2. George W. Bailey, born 1838, married Rowan and had:
 1. Marion Bailey.
 2. James Bailey.
 3. Alvis Bailey.
 4. Augusta Bailey.
 5. Bell Bailey.
3. Andrew J. Bailey, born 1839 (census).

DANIEL BAILEY OF HAWKINS AND GREENE COUNTY

Daniel (6) Bailey, (John 5, John 4, John 3. John 2 Stephen 1) was born, probably in Washington Co. Va. (Abingdon) about 1775.

From the will of Hugh Brown of Hawkins Co. Tenn., dated July 4, 1789. He wills, among others, to his daughter Sarah Brown. He lived on Beech Creek near the Baileys.

It is believed that Daniel Bailey married Sarah, daughter of Hugh Brown about 1792, and had a daughter, Brunetta Brown Bailey born 1793; a daughter Sarah and a son Thomas born in the 1790's. Brunetta Brown Bailey married in Fauqueir County, Virginia, 1808, Dennis Griffith, with Thomas Bailey as witness.

Thomas Bailey married in Hawkins Co. Melvina Moore and had a daughter, and sons, Daniel, Geo. W. and Clinton, born in Hawkins Co. between 1823 and 1826. Thomas died in 1830, after the census was taken. The census shows 1 male under 5, 2 under 10, 1 30 to 40. 1 female under 5, 1 20 to 30.

These sons were, George W. born 1823; Daniel, born 1824; Clinton born 1826, and the daughter's name not known. Geo. W. married 1st, Louisa Jones in Hawkins Co. 1841; 2nd Eliza Sexton in Ill. 1852; 3rd Haley E. Cantral — 1 child. He went to Sangamon Co. Ill. 1848. Daniel married Barbara Jane Lawson at New Purchase, Tenn., went to Keokuk Co. Iowa in 1849, and to Sangamon, Co. Ill., 1858. Clinton, born 1826, in Hawkins Co. Tenn. married there 1847, Ruth Henard, born 1826, and had a daughter, Rosanna, born in Hawkins Co. 1848. They had another daughter Sarah, probably named for her grandmother Sarah Brown), born in Iowa 1849. They were in Clark Co. Mo., when the 1860 census was taken. Clinton died soon after this date, and Ruth, with her two daughters came back to Hawkins Co. Her elder daughter married in Hawkins Co. Samuel Rakestraw and went to Kansas. Sarah the younger, married William Patterson and reared a family with whom we are well acquainted, in Hawkins Co. Sarah (old Bible Record) born July 6, 1848, died there Sept. 6, 1920. Married William M. Patterson, Sept. 2, 1865, died in Hawkins Co. Nov. 14, 1910. Their children were:

1. Martha b , died May 1902, married Harley Chiles.
2. Lizzie b, died March 1903, married William Tucker, son of Branch Tucker.
3. Rutledge b, died June 27, 1908, married Ella Webster.
4. Maggie b, died about 1957, married Joseph Bailey (9) (Wm. K. 8, Daniel 7, John 6, John 5, John 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1).
5. Ella b, died Nov. 20, 1932, married Charles M. Bailey, (10) (Wm. 8, Samuel 7, Wm. 6, Sam 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Stephen 1). Their children are listed in this book.
6. Clara b, died March 22, 1897.
7. Annie b died about 1957, married Walter Skelton.
8. Jihhie b, died young.
8. Jimmie child, b, died young.

HISTORY AND GENEALOGY

ORIGIN OF THE NAME BRITTON

BRUTUS, (about 1039 B.C.) at the age of 15, kills his father, reigns twenty-four years. At this time Eli governed Israel, and the ark was taken by the Philistines, and the sons of Hector reigned in Troy; and Sylvius Aeneas, uncle of Brutus, in Italy. Brutus married Igonge and they had three sons: Corinaeus (or Locrin), Albanact and Kamber..

(From a Genealogical Somery of the Early Rulers)

At the time that Edward I, of England was trying to gain control over Scotland, (about 1292-1307) he wrote a letter to the Pope explaining his right in the situation said:

"In the time of the prophets, Eli and Samuel, there lived an illustrious person named Brutus, who on the destruction of Troy, quitted the city along with a band of noble Trojans, and having put to sea, at length discovered the island of Albion, then inhabited by giants. Brutus smote the giants, and in his honor his followers designated the captured island Bruton or Britain. They also reared the town of Trinovantum, afterwards called London. Upon his three sons, Brutus afterwards settled his possessions, giving England to Locrin the eldest; Albany, or Scotland to Albanac, the second; and to Camber the third son, Cambria, or Wales. At Troy, Edward proceeded, it was the invariable practice that the eldest son and his line should bear rule over the younger brothers and their descendants; hence Locrin maintained a superiority over his brothers, his descendants continuing in the island to hold supremacy." (From "The Book of Wallace" Vols. I and II.

By Rev. Charles Rogers, D.D., L.L.D. (1889).

From "The Chronicle of Fabius Ethelwerd" from the beginning of the world to the year of our Lord 975, in four Books:

"A.(D) 418. In the ninth year also after the Sacking of Rome by the Goths, those of Roman race who were left in Britain, not bearing the manifold insults of the people, but they bury their treasury in pits thinking that hereafter they might have better future, which never was the case; and taking a portion, assembled on the coast, spread their canvas to the winds, and seek an exile in the shores of Gaul." (Brittany)

On the northeast coast of France, between the English Channel and the Bay of Biscay is the peninsula of Brittany, a region of absorbing interest to the archaeologist, the student of folklore, and the tourist. In very early times, this region was peopled by tribes who held a crude form of Worship similar to that of the Druids, as numerous stone monuments bear witness. Known anciently as Amorica, a name meaning "near the sea;" the land came under the control of the Romans in 51 B.C. and enjoyed with the rest of the empire, two centuries of peace and prosperity. As the empire declined Amorica lapsed into barbarism. Later, in the fifth century, this westward pointing peninsula, so near the British shores, became a place of refuge for the Celtic tribes who were driven out of Britain by the Angles and the Saxons. Once more a civilization developed in the island, which the new inhabitants named "Little Britain."*

"The descendants of these early Bretons have an individuality that sets them apart from the other Frenchmen. They are extremely conservative, especially in matters of religion and their devout Catholicism is colored by many a pagan superstition."

"Fearless sailors have been born and bred in the coast region, and their exploits give color and distinction to the sea annals of the French.

"Brittany is the traditional birth place of King Arthur and many Knights of the Round Table, and is the historical home of Abelard, the great philosopher and theologian, Jaques Cartier, the discoverer of the St. Lawrence River; and Ernest Renan, French Philologist and historian."

From Falaise Roll—Crispin and Macary, and the Dives Roll of Leopold Delisle in "Companions of Duke William," we find:

Appendix 5: Note 4—Robert de Sable, who revolted against Geoffrey Plantagenet, Count of Anjou, in 1136, was lord of Gace and son of Lisard de Sable and Theiphaine de Broillay la Cheviere, eldest daughter of Warmaise de Jarze by her first husband, Geoffrey de Broillay. Theiphaine received Jarze from her mother, whose second husband was Amaury Crispin, lord of Chatauceaux Lisard who was the son of Reginald de Sable, and grandson of Solomon de Sable and Adelaide, fourth daughter of Giroie Gesla. Giroie was son of Arnold le gros of Courcerant and grandson of Abbo le Breton, descended from the richest nobles of France and Brittany.

ABBO LE BRETON is perhaps the first of the name found recorded, and is said to be descended from the highest nobles of France and Brittany."

The Britons came to England with Duke William in 1066. THOMAS LE BRETON is said to be one of the followers of the Duke, and possibly others.

The Duke, now called the Conqueror, was the first Norman King of England, and is designated in history as William I. William I. was very liberal with the confiscated estates of English royalty and nobility, granting vast lands and property to his followers, even to his menial servants.

The Bretons, or Brittons, along with the Baileys were seated in the northern part of Yorkshire, and along the River Tees, and for more than 500 years from their appearance in England, to the time they began to settle in America, they spread out all over England.

BRITTONS IN ENGLAND

It is clear that the family name of Breton, Britain or Britton originated in that westernmost peninsula of France, then called Brittany, (incorporated with France in 1532) which were of the remnant of that Roman race, or the Celtic Tribes driven out of England by the Angles and Saxons, about 418 A.D. For 600 years they multiplied and became the citizens and ranked among the highest in Nobility, in governmental, as well as in military affairs, in France before coming to England.

When William "The Conqueror" was preparing his invasion of England in the eleventh century, the Bretons most naturally contributed to his cause, and they were awarded most handsomely for their part in the invasion.

As is said before, they were given large estates in northern Yorkshire, from which they spread southward and westward, until they were found numerous in most if not all central and southern England; in the counties of York, Rutland, Leisester, Surry, Northampton, Huntingdon, Cambridge, Herteford, Essex, Oxford

Worcester, Hereford, Middlesex, Norfolk, Wilts and Gloucester. These families were prominent in civil and military affairs, occupying many of the highest positions the King could offer. Miscellaneous Britton items herein contained is proof of these facts.

OLD BARONS OF ENGLAND VOL. II—BY T. C. BANKS
BRITON OR BRETUN, 29 Edward I. (1301 A.D.) pp 52-55.

"Of this name there are noticed several eminent persons; whereof, Walter Britton in 12 Henry II. (1166) upon the assessment of aid for marriage of Maud, the king's daughter, certified that he held fifteen Knights' fees, deveteri feoffamento, of the Earl of Moreton, and that William Briton held of him one Knights' fee. Of this barony a moiety afterwards came to Walter Croc, nephew of the said Walter Croc, in the 2 King John (1201), surrendered the same to the King, to the end that he would enfeoff Richard Briton were thereof, to hold the said moiety to him and his heirs of the said king and his heirs in capite.

THOMAS BRITON is another person who was of great consideration in his time, and along with Alice, his wife was found one of the co-heirs to Bryan de Lisle and had accordingly, livery of such part of the inheritance, as in the division, was allotted to their share. This Thomas Briton seems to have been the son and heir of a William de Briton; for Hutchins in his history of Dorset, states that, in the reign of King John, Brian de Lisle, of Brienston, in the said county (whose chief seat was in Yorkshire) paid a fine of one hundred and twenty Marks for the wardship and marriage of the heir of William Briton. From this line, likely descended Philip Briton, who 35 Edward I. (1307), was seized of a considerable estate in the County of York.

Contemporary with this Thomas, was Ranulph Briton, who, 11 Henry III. (1238), held to him and his heirs certain lands at Blatherwick in Northamptonshire; and in the 12th of the same reign (1239), had of the grant of the prior Longavilla certain lands and privileges in a place called Kingscrabbe and Stocholt, in the said county; where also in 15 Henry III. (1242), he had the manor of Oxenthorpe. This Ranulph was a person of consideration, and was Chancellor as well to the king as to the Queen, in which office he died of apoplexy, circ. anno 1247, the 31 Henry III.

JOHN BRITON, another person of great eminence, was Bishop of Hereford, and is represented to have been a great lawyer, which, if so, he may have been the same who 53 Henry III. (1280), was made one of the king's justices. He is asserted by some, to have written an excellent treatise upon the laws; but as the Bishop died early in the reign of Edward I., and the book notices several statutes subsequent to that time, it is considered by the bishop Nicholson to have been compiled by that John Briton, the judge, who was living in 1 Edward II. (1307).

WILLIAM BRITON, a person of some note, coeval with Ranulph and the bishop, in 15 Henry III. (1242), held lands at Dudinton, in Northamptonshire, and in the following year had a license for his dog to hunt the fox &c. He died about the 45 Henry III. (1272), being then seized of divers lands and manors at Boxted and Stanway, in Essex, Dodington, Blatherwick &c., in Northamptonshire; Cranden, in Cambridgeshire, and at Westlye Burgh, Dollingham, and elsewhere on this side the Trent, holding of the king in capite.

JOHN BRITON, son and heir of William, had livery of his inheritance in the same year of his father's death. He had issue of another John, who died about 34 Edward I. (1306), leaving issue a son John, who died under age the 4 Edward II. (1311), and a daughter Maud, who became heir to her brother and had livery of her lands the same year, being then of full age, and the wife of Richard de la Revere, by whom she had a daughter Margaret, who married Sir Edmund de Thorpe; as also several other daughters whereof one married Sir Robert Swillington; another John Garleke, another Sir Robert Corbet.

JOHN BRETON is mentioned in 17 Edward I. (1289) when he had committed to his charge the custody of the city of London, which for divers causes, the king had seized into his own hands; which charge was again granted him in the 21st of the same reign; after when, in 25 Edward I. he was directed to amerce the aldermen, sheriffs, and other magistrates of the city, by further letters patent dated at Tunbridge, the 5th of August, in the year aforesaid

In 29 Edward I. the name John Breton is again noticed on a particular occasion, at which period he was one of those men, who, though not having had summons to parliament at Lincoln, nevertheless affixed his seal to that memorable letter which was sent to the pope, asserting the king's supremacy over the realm of Scotland; at which time he was denominated "Johannes le Briton, Dominus de Sporele.

Whether he was the same person who was the Judge and wrote the Dissertation upon the laws, as before observed, is not certain; but according to Bloomfield, though he was one of the justices of Trail Barston, in the 33 Edward I., it does not follow that he was the author.

This John le Breton, styled Dominus de Sporle, appears to be that branch which estates in the County of Norfolk, where Sporle is the name of a manor in the Hundred of south Greebhoë, near Swaffham.

Of this family the history of Norfolk relates, that Peter le Breton, of Shropham, obtained by grant from John leVeyle, of Barningham, a manor called Breton's, or Pakenham's manor, in the hundred of Shropham, which afterwards came to be divided among two sisters and Co-heirs of Henry de Briton; of which, Lettice married John Herring, of Thompson, and Agnes wedded Henry Pakenham. With regard to this ancient family of Breton the history of Norfolk further observed, that Thorald le Breton was living at Witchingham, in that county, the 33 Henry III. (1258); he married Aveline, daughter or sister to Ralph le Vilechen, of Holkham; after whom was Edmund le Breton, of Witchingham who by Ermentrude his wife was father of William Breton, who lived in the time of Edward I., and married Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir to Yarmouth, by whom he had William, his son and heir; who according to the same authority, was grandfather to John Breton of Witchingham, who married Mary, daughter and co-heir to Sir Hamon Felton and had issue John Breton, whose posterity long continued to possess Witchingham. Of this family, says the same history, was the famous John Breton (before mentioned) Bishop of Hereford.

It should, however not pass unnoticed, that there was a William Breton, who, 24 Edward I., had summons to attend a great council at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, well furnished with horse and arms to march against the Scots; but who the said William was is not satisfactorily established; he might be the first William, before mentioned. The writ, however, was not addressed to him in the capacity of a baron." —Banks.

To brother Nathaniel Britten of New York in America, 10 pounds.

To brother Cananiel Britten 10 pounds.

To sister Abigail Duck 10 pounds.

To my nephew, William Clotterbuck all my study of books, and so much of my goods &c as will amount to one moiety.

To sister Jane Fernley I give the other moiety, in consideration of her keeping my house since the death of my wife
She to live in my house called "patts" for life.

Said William Clotterbuck to be sole executor, and I give him all my estate to be divided between himself and my sister Fernley
Executor to give rings to my cousin Thomas and cousin John Pope of Cam, with their wives, my cousin Richard Pope and his wife at London, and my funeral ring to my sister Abigail.

Witnesses: Richard Blake, John Hide and Sarah Hide.

States his books cost him 120 pounds.

There is little doubt that from the two foregoing wills that the first Richard was the father of the second, and his brothers and sisters; and it appears also that from other records, that William and Dainel were brothers to the second Richard, and were living in New York at the time the will was made.

We do not know why Richard Sr. did not mention the other children in his will; perhaps they were older and he had already given them their portion prior to the will, and when they departed to America; or suggested, there may have been a rift in the family which caused some of them to separate themselves. It was about this time when the religious persecution in England were forcing people to leave for America in great numbers.

After a careful and exhaustive study, and in the absence of any conflicting evidence, we feel justified in proceeding on these assumptions; and we will begin our genealogy with Richard I., of will 1641, in Somerset County England.

We are not sure of the ancestry of this Richard, but there were a dozen or more old wills in Somerset and Gloucester Counties, going back more than 100 years before this date. In those days men did not mention the names of all their children in their wills; especially the eldest son, who by the law of primogeniture inherited the principal estate.

We conclude then, that Richard I. and his wife Christian (possibly Christian Reymes*) Britten had the following Children: (not in order of birth)

- A. Joan Britten, perhaps married Clotterbuck—hence “my nephew William Clotterbuck” no further information.
- B. Richard Britten II. born, according to his matriculation, 1613; but according to his marriage record, 1616.
Items: Parliamentary survey of Church Livings 1649/50, Bisley. “That for Bisley there is a vicaridge presentative worth about 50 pounds per annum; that Mr. Richard Britten, a constant preacher is the present Vicar and taketh the proffits thereof; that it hath in it about 300 families and it is, we consider fit to be one entire parish.”

BRITTEN MARRIAGES

ALUMNI OXENIENSIS

Richard Britten, son of Richard Britten of Batcombe, Somerset Pleb, New Inn Hall, Matriculated 16 Nov. 1632, aged 19, B.A. 4 June 1635. Later Vicar of Bisley, Gloucester. (see further presently)

Marriages: “Richard Byttren and Christian Reymes, 26. Jan. 1606, Norfolk Marriage Register.” This could be the same Richard.

- C. Charles Britten, no further information.
- D. Nathaniel Britten, came to New York. (see genealogy, N.Y.)
- E. Cananiel Britten, apparently did not come to New York. He married Jane....., who was buried Oct. 1, 1675.* He belonged to the "Friends" Church (Quaker). He is mentioned in Besse's "Sufferings of the people called Quakers," Vol 1 p51 as follows:
 "These are to certify to all and every person, unto whom this present writing may or shall come that there were three persons called Quakers, vis Cananiel Britton, Bartholomey Crocker and Lewis Rogers, brought on board our ship called the 'Mary Fortune' of Bristol, the 16th day of December, 1664, and continued waiting on our ship until the 23rd of the same.
 Dec. 18, 1681, Cananiel Britton, an ancient man was thrown down and much bruised by Sheriff Knight who came to the meeting, after which the Sheriff sent him to Newgate."
- F. Jane Britten, married.....Fernley.
- G. Abigail Britten, married.....Duck.
- H. A daughter (possibly Joan above) married Clotterbuck, (Hence Richard's nephew, William Clotterbuck. executor of Richard's will).
- I. Daniel Britten, married Annetie (Durdeman?). They had Tisard or Ritsard or Richard, baptized Aug. 5, 1668 at the Dutch Reformed Church of New York. Witnesses: Richard Durdeman and Annettie Stillwell. (see New Jersey Records)
- J. William Britton, married Maria born 1645. Their line—Our immigrant ancestor will be given presently.

NOTE — From A. N. Curren, Genealogist, of Gloucester Eng. who made the search in Gloucestershire and Somersetshire says: "Turning in particular to Richard Britten, Vicar of Bisley, I find that he was a scholar of Oxford University, and that his father's name was given as Richard Britten of Batcombe, Somerset, about 12-15 miles south of Bitton. The absence of any reference to Nathaniel, Cananiel and Abigail is strange, but might be explained by a rift in the family or a number of other causes. I have little doubt that all the references are to the same Richard Britten."

The father of Richard Britten of will 1641, is not known. He could have been son of one of those mentioned in the foregoing wills; however the direct connection has not been made. In the marriage records of Norfolk County we find RICHARD BYTTREN and Christian Reymes married Jan. 26, 1606. If this Richard is identical with Richard above, we may assume he was from Norfolk County. Several Richard Britton wills in County Rutland, near Norfolk.

STILLWELL

Since the Britton and Stillwell families were together among the first settlers in New York, and so closely related by several marriages, we think it may be helpful in studying the Brittons to give first a short synopsis of the Stillwells. They were from the same counties in England, came to America perhaps a little earlier.

From a Genealogical History written by B. M. Stillwell in 1878, and found in the Library of Congress, we find the following:

NICHOLAS STILLWELL, the first of the name, and common ancestor of the family, born in England. Married first Abigail, daughter of Robert Hopton, of Wygtham, Somersetshire, by whom he had two sons:

A. Richard, born 1634;

B. Nicholas, born 1636.

In 1638, in company with his two brothers, John and Jasper, he emigrated to America, bringing with him his two sons, and settled on Manhattan Island, where he married second Ann Vandike, a Hollander, by whom he had six children:

- C. William, baptized May 11, 1648;
- D. Thomas, baptized July 9, 1651;
- E. Daniel, baptized Nov. 13, 1653;
- F. Jeremiah, baptized Jan. 13, 1661;
- G. Anne, born 1643;
- H. Abigail, born 1645.

Nicholas died at Dover, on Staten Island, Dec. 28, 1671. His will dated Dec. 22, 1671 is recorded in the Surrogate's Office, New York. Liber 1, of wills, p168.

His widow survived him; and from the Town records of Gravesend it appears that on the 21st of June, 1672, Ann Stillwell of Dover, upon Staten Island, bought from John Janson his house and grounds. at Gravesend; and on the 29th of Dec., 1672, she was married to William Wilkins, one of the first settlers, and for many years a magistrate of the town. The record of the marriage is as follows:

"1672, Dec. 29, William Wilkins and Ann Stillwell widow, both of Gravesend, were pronounced man and wife, by Captain James Hubbard, Justice."

The record of the Baptism of the children of Nicholas Stillwell is preserved in the Dutch Church, New York.

SECOND GENERATION

- (A). Richard Stillwell, called Capt. Richard (the eldest son of Nicholas, the first of the name) born in Holland in 1634, was brought to America by his father in 1638. In 1649 his father purchased for him a plantation at Gravesend, Long Island where he settled and married, 1st. in May, 1655, Mary, daughter of Obediah Holmes; 2nd his cousin Freelove (who subsequently assumed the name of Mercy), daughter of John Cooke, the Regicide.*

* One of the English officials responsible for the death of Charles I of England. (World Book Encyclopedia).

In 1664 he was appointed, under the Duke of York, one of the Justices of the West Riding of Yorkshire comprising Staten Island and the western portion of Long Island. In 1680 he removed to Staten Island, where he took up 160 acres of land upon which his uncle and father-in-law, John Cooke had originally located. He died at Dover on Staten Island in 1688-9, leaving six children:

1. John, born May 18, 1660;
2. Nicholas, born Jan. 11, 1664;
3. Thomas, Born Dec. 4, 1666;
4. Richard, born June 25, 1671;
5. Jeremiah, born Oct. 26, 1678;
6. Mary, born July 13, 1668.

Richard died intestate, and his lands descended to his elder son, John who however, made provisions for the younger children. See deed Richmond County Clerks Office, (Liber B, p575). The inventory of his estate was filed Feb. 12, 1688/9.

- (B). Nicholas Stillwell, (second son of Nicholas, the first of the name) born in Holland in 1636, was brought to America by his father in 1638. In 1648 he settled at Gravesend, Long Island, where he married, 1st. Nov. 6, 1671 Catherind Morgan, widow of his cousin, Charles Morgan.

In 1664 he was appointed one of the Justices of West Riding of Yorkshire, under the Duke of York. In 1688 he was commissioned one of the Justices of the Quorum, under James II and in 1689 received a similar commission under William and Mary. (Commissions recorded in Kings County Clerks Office, Liber 1, pp48-123). In 1691 was a member of the first Colonial Assembly, as a delegate from Kings Co. He died at Gravesend, in 1715, leaving seven children:

1. Nicholas, born April 25, 1673;
2. Rebecca, born 1675, married Abraham Emmons of Gravesend;
3. Richard, born May 11, 1677;
4. Anne Catherine, born May 15, 1681, married Barent Christopher, of Staten Island;
5. Mary, born 1683, married Hendrick Johnson of Brooklyn;
6. Elias, born Dec. 13, 1685;

7. Thomas, born May 16, 1688.

His will, dated Jan. 19, 1715, is recorded in Surrogate's Office, New York, March 5, 1715, (Liber of Wills p384). Letters Testamentary were granted to his two sons, Nicholas and Richard.

(C). William Stillwell, (third son of Nicholas, first of the name) born at Gravesend in 1648, removed to Staten Island with his father in 1664. In 1677 a patent was granted to him for 78 acres of land on Staten Island, half of which he exchanged in 1680, with Obadiah Holmes, for the plantation of the latter, formerly occupied by John Cooke. About 1690 he removed to Cape May Town, Lower Township, with the company from Gravesend, L. I., who established the first Baptist church at the place.*

He died about 1720, leaving six children:

1. William, born May 11, 1678;
2. John, born 1681;
3. Nicholas, born—
4. Rebecca, born—
5. Daniel, born—
6. Mary, married Dr. Thomas Walton, of New York Feb. 20, 1698/9.

(D). Thomas Stillwell, (Fourth son of Nicholas, first of the name), born at Gravesend about July 9, 1651; on the 8th day of June, 1670, married Martha Caloric, of Staten Island. Sept, 29, 1677, he took up 63 acres of land on the east shore of Staten Island. (Liber 1, of Patents p143), and on the 4th of April, 1685, 145 acres more; in the patents for which he is described as of "Old Town" (Liber 2, p63). In 1686 he was high sheriff of Richmond County. In 1690 was commissioned one of the Justices of the Quorum. (Liber of deeds, p266, Richmond County). He died in 1705, leaving four Children:

1. Thomas, born 1671, died 1705, during his father's lifetime:
2. Frances, born 1682, married Col. Nicholas Britten died May 7, 1748.

* (Barber's History Col. N. J., p126).

3. Anne, born 1675, married Jacobus Billop (Belliau) of Staten Island;
4. Rachel, born 1677, married William Britton.

His will is recorded in New York, (Liber 7, p198). His wife Martha survived him and married the Rev. David Du-Bon Repos, of Staten Island, who was subsequently Pastor of the French Colony of Hugunots which settled New Rochelle West Chester County. She died 1735, leaving a will recorded in New York, (Liber 13, p29).

(E.) Daniel Stillwell, (5th son of Nicholas, first of the name) born at Gravesend, Nov. 13, 1653, removed to Staten Island with his father 1664, married Mary, daughter of Adam Mott, Dec 27, 1680, received two patents for land on Staten Island; one for 80 acres which he subsequently sold to Obadiah Holmes; the other, 91 acres which he sold to his cousin, John Stillwell. He then removed to Middlesex County, New Jersey. He died about 1720, leaving four children:

1. Nicholas, born 1678, died 1759;
2. Samuel, born 1680, settled at Upper Freehold and died 1753.
3. Daniel, born Oct. 10, 1687, died 1766;
4. Richard, who settled in Monmouth County, N. J. Physician.

(F.) Jeremiah Stillwell, (youngest son of Nicholas, the first of the name) born 1661, at Gravesend, L.I., went to Staten Island with his father 1664, removed to Gravesend after his father's death, and in 1691 was a Justice. He became a Quaker, and removed to Philadelphia where he purchased a large tract of land (250a) (Liber E, Vol. 9, p217). He died about 1720, leaving three children:

1. Thomas, born 1701, married Sarah Van Name of Staten Island and had a son Thomas baptized Dec 22, 1723, who married Nancy Fountain and had a son Anthony, baptized Feb. 16, 1758.
2. Nicholas, born 1705;
3. Sophia, who married Abednago Thomas of Philadelphia.

(G). Anne Stillwell, (eldest daughter of Nicholas, the first of the name) born in New Amsterdam, 1643. In 1666, married Nathaniel Brittain and settled on Anthony Jansen's bowery where her husband took up 144 acres of land for which a patent was granted him Sept. 29, 1677. (Liber of Patents 1, p153).

Nathaniel Brittain died 1683, at Old Town, Staten Island, leaving five children:

1. Nathaniel Brittain, born 1662;
2. Sarah, born 1664;
3. Rebecca, born 1668, married March 9, 1693, to Abraham Cole. (License, Libre 5, of wills, p101, New York).
4. Richard Brittain, born 1670;
5. Abigail Britton, born 1674.

His will is recorded (Liber B, of Wills u1, Richmond Co.)

(H). Abigail Stillwell, (second daughter of Nicholas, the first of the name) was born in New Amsterdam in 1645, married Oct. 26, 1665 Samuel Holmes, who died 1679, leaving six children:

1. Samuel Holmes, born 3rd day of 12th month, (New stile) Feb. 3, 1668, half an hour after sun rising;
2. Henry Holmes, born 30th day of 10th month, 1670;
3. Joseph Holmes, born 17th day of 1st month, 1772;
4. Catherine Holmes, born 15th day of 4th month, 1675, before sun rising;
5. Anne Holmes, born 1677;
6. Mary Holmes, born 1679.

His will dated May 28, 1679, was witnessed by John Emmons and John Tilton; when it was presented for proof, at the Court of Sessions, they being Quakers, declined to swear although they declared they saw it executed. The Court therefrom referred the matter to the Governor, who admitted the will. (minutes Sessions, Kings County, June, 1779).

NATHANIEL BRITTAIN THE IMMIGRANT

NATHANIEL I.

There are several conflicting statements or versions, by at least four genealogists in regard to the Britton Stillwell families.

1. Morris, writing in 1898, "History of Staten Island, New York, (974.72 New Jersey State Library, Trenton, Vol. 2 p59) says: "Nathaniel Brittain I., made his will 1683, but was living in 1695, and that Nathaniel and Mary, his wife had the following children: Joseph, born Nov. 15, 1760; Richard, born March 22, 1766; William, born Sept. 19 1768; Samuel and Mary had the following daughters: Adra born July 7, 1771; Mary, born July 31, 1773. Since he indicated that he was not sure of his bearing, it is evident that he got his Nathaniels mixed, and perhaps was refering to his grandson Nathaniel or some other Nathaniel. Some of these children mentioned, were born eighty or ninety years after the first Nathaniel made his will.
2. Lee, "Genealogy N. J." (Copyrighted 1910 by Lewis Pub Co.) says: "Nathaniel Brittain the first, married Anne Stillwell, daughter of Nicholas Stillwell and had the following children: William, Nathaniel, Sarah, Rachel, Joseph, Rebecca Benjamin, Richard, John, Abigail, Daniel and Nicholas.
3. Stillwell, in his "Genealogical History of the Stillwell Family" Pub. 1878 by B. M. Stillwell, (Library of Congress) says: Anne Stillwell (eldest daughter of Nicholas Stillwell, first of the name) was born in New Amsterdam 1643. In 1660 married Nathaniel Brittain and settled on Anthony Jansen's bowery to Staten Island where her husband took up 144 acres of land for which a patent was granted him Sept. 29 1677. Nathaniel died 1683, at Old Town, on Staten Island leaving five children: 1. Nathaniel Brittain, born 1662; 2 Sarah Brittain, born 1664; Rebecca, born 1668, married March 9, 1693 to Abraham Cole; 4. Richard Brittain, born 1670; 5. Abigail, born 1674.
4. Justice, "Wilson and Allied Families" by Alfred Rudolph Justice, 1929. (New Jersey State Library) says: Nathaniel Britton, son of William Britton, the immigrant, and brother to Nathaniel the immigrant.

Stillwell says: Mary, (eldest daughter of Capt. Richard Stillwell) born 1668, married 1st. Nathaniel Brittain of Staten Island, son of Nathaniel Brittain and Anne Stillwell. Her husband 1703, Letters of Administration were granted to her by the name of Mary Dushan; she being then married 2nd. to Valentine Dushan, Feb. 10, 1703/4. (License Liber 7 p131, New York County).

Justice says: Referring to the above Mary..... (who was thought to have been sister to Valentine Dushan) Married Nathaniel Britton, son of William Britton, the immigrant, and brother to Nathaniel, the immigrant. After his death 1793 Mary married 3rd. about 1716, Lambert Garrison, widower.

After a careful study of all the above statements, we believe perhaps a more lucid version would be that Mary (daughter of Capt. Richard Stillwell), married first, Nathaniel Britton, son of William, the Immigrant and his wife Maria..... After the death of Nathaniel, Mary married second, Valentine Dushan, who was a widower; and after his death (?) she married third about 1716, Lambert Garrison, also a widower with several children Garrison died about 1725, and Mary was living with her only son, Nathaniel Britton at the date of his will 1754, in Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania.

The above two Nathaniel Brittons (first cousins) were very confusing, both living in the same community; Nathaniel, son of Nathaniel, born 1662, was designated after the death of his father as Sr., while Nathaniel, son of William, born 1665, was called Jr to distinguish them apart.

A. Mary, (eldest daughter of Capt. Richard Stillwell (A) born 1668, married 1st. Nathaniel Brittain of Staten Island, son of Nathaniel and Anne Stillwell (C). Her husband died 1703 Letters of Administration were granted to her by the name of Mary Dushan; she being married second, to Valentine Dushan Feb. 10, 1703/4. (License, Liber 7, p131, New York County) Nathaniel and Mary had one son Nathaniel III. (see further). Frances Stillwell, (eldest daughter of Thomas Stillwell (D) born 1673, married Nicholas Brittain, of Staten Island, who died 1739, by whom she had children:

1. Nicholas Brittain;
2. Nathaniel Brittain who died 1736, leaving two children
 1. Mary; 2. Frank Brittain.

3. Martha, wife of Samuel Moore;
4. Rachel Brittian;
5. Mary Brittain.

Will of Nicholas Brittain, proved Feb. 27, 1739, (Liber of Wills. 13, p345; also will of Nathaniel, her other son, proved Oct. 18 1726, (Liber 13, p32).

Rachel Stillwell, (youngest daughter of Thomas Stillwill (D) born 1677, married William Brittain of Staten Island. In 1735 she was living, and had children:

1. Martha Brittain;
2. Mary, (her mother's will, Liber b, p29, New York Surrogate's Office).

WILLIAM BRITTON OF STATEN ISLAND OUR IMMIGRANT ANCESTOR

WILLIAM BRITTON, brother to Richard of Bisley Gloucester County, England, came to New York before 1661. The first mention of the name William Brotton is taken from the "Year Book" of the Holland Society of New York for 1900, page 130, as follows: "Feb. 12, 1661/2 Richard Wilkeson a mason living at New Amsterdam, and William Britton, an Englishman living at Mespat (Newtown) declare at the request of Joris Dobson, in-keeper at New Amsterdam, that Andrew Halwel about three weeks ago, arrived at the house of Dobson, drunk etc."

Council Minutes, 1662, April 6,: "Complaint against George Jewel, Dr. Clarke, John Too, and Daniel East, of Mespath Kill Long Island, for having had recourse to turning the Bible, in order to discover who had stolen tobacco from William Britton."

1662, June 22; "Action of slander brought by Jacob Elderson against William Britton, George Jewel, James Clark and John Too of Newtown, for alleging that he had stolen said Britton's Tobacco."*

Dec. 4, 1666, William Britton's name in a list of the Freeholders of Newton.

* (Dutch Manuscripts X, pp111-157; 'Calendar of Historical Manuscripts' New York, 1630-1664, pp 236-238.)

1678, William Britton, Constable, in place of Richard Curtis.

July 9, 1678, Maria, wife of William Britton of Staten Island and seven children were baptized: Maria, age 33 yrs., William, age 15 years, Nathaniel, age 13 years, Richard, age 11 years, Joseph, 9 years, Jan (John), age 5 years, Daniel age 1 and 1/2 years.

October 17, 1680, their son Nicholas was Baptized.

William Britton probably died intestate. No will found. The children of William and Maria Britton are as follows:

- A. WILLIAM BRITTON, born 1663.
- B. NATHANIEL BRITTON, born 1665.
- C. RICHARD BRITTON, born 1667.
- D. JOSEPH BRITTON, born 1669.
- E. BENJAMIN BRITTON, born 1671.
- F. JOHN BRITTON, born 1673.
- G. DANIEL BRITTON, born Jan. 1676, died 1733.
- H. NICHOLAS BRITTON, baptized Oct. 17, 1680.

(A) WILLIAM BRITTON JR., son of William and Maria Britton, born 1663; Letters of Administration, April 10, 1708, to Ann Whitman.* He married about 1684, Ann..... who soon after his death married 2nd. Whitman. It is conceded they had a son William who married about 1705, Rachel Stillwell, born circa 1684; died 1767, in Philadelphia County, Pa.; daughter of Lt. Thomas Stillwell by his wife Martha Billew. The will of William Britton of Moorland, Philadelphia County, Pa., dated June 11, 1762, proved at Philadelphia, Sept. 1, 1766, names his wife Rachel, children: William, Frances Wollard, and grandchildren: Benjamin, William, Martha and Rachel Parker.
 Friends, John Britton and Isaac Billieu.
 Executrix: Wife Rachel, assistant William Britton.
 Witnesses: Isaac Billieu, John Watts and Rachel Billieu.

The will of Rachel Britton of Philadelphia County, widow of William, mentions children: Frances Wollard, and William; grandchildren: Rachel Walton and Martha Parker. Dated Aug. 1, 1765, proved at Philadelphia, May 20, 1767.

 Year Book, Holland Society, 1898.

Wilson and Allied Families, p104. —by Justice.

The son, William Britton mentioned in these wills married, May 21, 1735, at First Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, Mary Thomas.

Mary Britton married, May 31, 1748, at Abington Presybyterian Church, Benjamin Parker.

Frances Britton married by licens edated April 14, 1760, James Wollard.

The grandchild, Rachel Walton was Rachel Britton; she married April 15, 1755, at Christ Church, Philadelphia, Albertson Walton.

Release May 25, 1734. William Britton of Bristol Township, and Rachel his wife. One full equal undivided fourth part of three tracts—"The said William Britton and Josiah Harper have erected a water grist mill with 2 pairs of stones and boulting mills under one roof on this 1/4 of an acre and 14 perches."

Among the organizers of the Abington Presbyterian Church were William and Rachel; Nathaniel and Elizabeth and Martha Britton. The births of the children of William and Rachel are recorded at this church.

There were many other references to William and Rachel Britton in deeds and land conveyances in Philadelphia County.

Jan. 2, 1730. William Britton of Bristol Twp. County of Philadelphia, yeoman, and Rachel his wife conveyed to Josiah Harper of Oxford Twp. 1/2 acre of land on the S.W. side of Frankford Creek which William had bought of Alice Griffith, executrix. (Phila. Bk F, 5, p299)

May 15, 1737, William Britton of Mooreland and Rachel his wife conveyed to William Phillpot of Lower Dublin Twp. land on Tacony Creek. Consideration 395 pounds (Bk H, 4, p193).

May 30, 1742, William Brittin of Manor of Moorland and Rachel his wife conveyed 210 acres to John Duffield, property he bought March 11 and 12, 1734/5, of Samuel Cooper. (Bk E.F. 3, p437).

May 25, 1771, William Brittin of Moorland and Mary his wife conveyed property to John Blake of Lower Dublin Tup. The deed recites that William Brittin Sr., late of Mooreland (father of party hereto) made his will June 7, 1762, wherein he bequeathed unto his son William, party hereto, after death of his wife Rachel wife of testator, having died sometime thereafter, the said William became seized of the property. The property conveyed consisted of three lots; one on the road from Abington to Byberry, containing 21 acres, whereon the late William Brittin Sr., deceased lately dwelt. The second lot, on the line of Jeremiah Northrop's land, contained 3 acres. The third lot adjoined land of Jeremiah Northrop and Nicholas Helviston. (Bk D,31, p25.)

* Abstracts, New York Wills, II, pl.

Another William Britton married Sept. 16, 1720, at Christ Church, Philadelphia, Elizabeth Northrop, daughter of George related to William who married Rachel Stillwell. The Northrops owned land adjoining. They had children: Nathaniel, Rachel Martha, Sarah and William. They joined the Pennypack Baptist Church in 1730. This William was not followed further because he could not have been our ancestor.

(B) NATHANIEL BRITTON, son of William and Maria Britton, born 1665; died in Richmond County, Staten Island about 1703. Married Mary (eldest daughter of Richard Stillwell) After the death of Nathaniel, Mary married second, Valentine Duahan, widower; and after his death (?) she married third about 1716, Lambert Garrison, also a widower with several children. Garretson died about 1725, and Mary was living with her only son Nathaniel Britton at the date of his will 1754, in Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania.

Jan. 9, 1696, "Nathaniel Britton Jr. and Nathaniel Britton Sr. Inventoried the Estate of John Crocheron of Staten Island."

Jan. 27, 1699, Nathaniel Britton yeoman, and wife Mary, sold to Jaques Poillon Gentleman, for the sum of 89 pounds, to be paid in yearly instalments, commencing Dec. 30, 1700, land which he had received by patent from Gov. Fletcher, June 5, 1696.

Dec. 10, 1701, Nathaniel Britton and wife Mary sold property on Staten Island to Richard Curtis. They also conveyed property in old Town, adjoining land of Colonel Dongan's, to one Mehanet; date is not given in the record.

1701, Nathaniel Britton was one of the Protestant petitioners of Richmond County to King William III.

April 10, 1708, Nathaniel Britton late of Richmond County, died intestate and Letters of Administration were granted to his wife Mary Duchan. (She was then married to Valentine Dushan).

Under the intestate laws of this period, the widow was not as well provided for as the oldest son and heir; but we find Nathaniel, (her son) thoughtful of his mother, as the following record shows:

April 13, 1715, Nathaniel Britton yeoman, on account of his love and affection for his mother Mary Britton, (it seems that her second husband, Valentine Dushan had died, and she had resumed the name Britton) conveyed to her a piece of land, and also the privilege of cutting wood on his land; his wife Elizabeth joining in the deed. They both swore to this conveyance being a voluntary gift, before Nathaniel Britton, Justice (Sr. his Cousin).

May 4, 1716, Mary Britton, now the wife of Lambert Garrison, Esq., relinquished this gift to her son Nathaniel. Recorded for Mary Britton, May 27, 1716.

From the above, we can infer that her marriage to Lambert Garretson (or Garrison) had placed her in comfortable financial circumstances.

Lambert Garrison was a man of considerable prominence in public affairs; serving as Judge of the Court, Sheriff, superintendent of the census of 1706; he was also one of the grantees named by Queen Anne in the charter of St. Andrew's Church. "Anne, by the Grace of God, etc. Whereas: Lambert Garrison, Nathaniel Britton, John Morgan and others, all freeholders and of the principal inhabitants of said Island, in Communion of the Church of England are granted permission to establish a church etc." June 9 1713. Among the families who were members of this church were Vanderbilts and Cortelyous.

Lambert Garrison died leaving a will dated Oct. 7, 1723, proved May 22, 1725, in which he mentions his wife and children; evidently by a former wife.

Her only son Nathaniel Britton was born 1688, died 1760, at Smithfield, Philadelphia County, Pa., leaving a will dated June 15 1754, proved at Philadelphia, May 13, 1760, in which he made provisions for his mother Mary Garrison. He had married April 13, 1710 Elizabeth Saunders* and left children: Only son John

* Penna. Magazine, Vol. 23, p105).

Eldest daughter Elizabeth Dorland, daughter Mary Vansandt, daughter Rachel and sons-in-law Nicholas Vansandt and Isaac Belue. Executors: John Britton, Nicholas Van Sandt and Isaac Belue.

Elizabeth, born 1713, married Sept. 18, 1731, at First Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, Lambert Dorland, born Oct. 21, 1707 Mary, bapt. Oct. 6, 1724, died March, 1808, married May 18 1774, at Abington Presbyterian Church, Nicholas Vansandt, bapt. Jan. 1, 1711/12, died May 1 1801, son of Jacobus and Rebecca Vansant of Bucks County, Pa. A son Capt. Nathaniel.

John Britton, son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Saunders) Britton, born 1715, died Sept. 14, 1795 "an upright man," married Jan. 24, 1750/1, at Abington Presbyterian Church, Eve Dorland, bapt. April 3, 1720, at Reformed Dutch Church of Port Richmond, died Dec. 26, 1797, aged 67, daughter of Jan, and sister of Lambert Dorland who married Elizabeth Britton. They had no children.

Rachel Britton, daughter of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Saunders) Britton, born Dec. 29, 1724, died Oct. 2, 1814, married Oct. 22, 1744, at Abington Presbyterian Church, Isaac Billew, born Dec. 19, 1722, died Oct. 22, 1803.

There is more interesting information given by Alfred Rudolph Justice, of Philadelphia, on the descendants of these two Nathaniel Brittons, Son and grandson of the immigrant ancestor William Britton. The foregoing is only given to show that they were not of our direct line. This first Nathaniel was a brother to John, who was our ancestor. This data was taken from the county seats of their respective counties, corroborates that of Justice. Some of the New Jersey records are kept in the State Library at Trenton, and some of the Pennsylvania counties are in Libraries at Philadelphia.

(C) RICHARD BRITTON, son of William and Maria Britton, born 1667, died perhaps 1732, intestate,* settled in Monmouth County, New Jersey. He is mentioned in the will of Captain John Browne of Mattawan, Middletown, Monmouth County, N. J. Sept. 14, 1714, as one of the Mortgagors.

* N. J. Arch. XXX, p61.

N. J. Arch. XXIII, p50.

(D) JOSEPH BRITTON, son of William and Maria Britton born 1669, married, had a son baptized April 23, 1707. Joseph Sr. and Jr. are also mentioned in the will of John Browne as mortgagers. (We suspect that Richard and Joseph married daughters of John Browne).

(E) BENJAMIN BRITTON, son of William and Maria Britton born 1671, married about 1694, Martha Stillwell born 1674 or thereabout, daughter of Thomas and Martha (Billew) Stillwell.

(F) JOHN BRITTON, son of William and Maria Britton, born 1673. (our ancestor, see later)

(G) DANIEL BRITTON, son of William and Maria Britton, born Jan. 1676, died 1733, married 1699, Elizabeth Powell. He settled at Woodbridge, Middlesex County, New Jersey. A memorandum from the New Jersey Archives mentions that John Bishop, of Woodbridge left land described in his will as "land on Pepiak Neck in Woodbridge bounds between the road to the town and Daniel Britton's."

Jan. 3, 1704/5, Richard Powell, by his will divided his estate between Mary Wallis, grandson John, son of Philip Doldridge and Daniel Britton.

1729, Capt. Daniel Britton, executor of will of Thomas Pike.

The will of Daniel Britton Sr., of Woodbridge, Middlesex County, New Jersey, dated April 5, 1733, proved April 28, 1733 mentions son Daniel and said Daniel's children, Nicholas and Elizabeth Britton; sons William and Benjamin, both under age; daughters Mary and Elizabeth at the age of 18 years. Grandson Daniel, son of John Moores; daughter Deliverance and her children James, Sarah and Elizabeth Moore. He refers to land in Perth Amboy, lands bought of William Elstone, Moses Rolfe, Peter Codricke, Noah Bishop, John Jaquiss, and adjoining David Donham, Jr.

Executors: Wife Elizabeth, John Moores and son William Britton.

Witnesses: Charles Wright, Benjamin Codington and David Donham, Jr.

(H) COL. NICHOLAS BRITTON, son of William and Maria Britton, baptized Oct. 17, 1680, died Jan. 12, 1740; his tombstone, aged 61 years. He married about 1700, Frances Stillwill, baptized March 31, 1681, daughter of Lt. Thomas and Martha (Billew) Stillwell.

The will of Nicholas Britton dated Jan. 5, 1740/1, proved Feb. 27, 1740, mentions wife Franke, daughter Martha Moore, daughter Rachel Britton, son Nathaniel Britton's children, Mary, Franke and Martha.

Executors: Samuel Moore and Samuel Holmes.

Witnesses: Richard Stillwell, Vincent Fountain and Salem Comes.

WILL OF JOHN BRITTON

Of Bucks County, Pa.

In the name of God Amen the twenty first day of March, in the year of our Lord Christ, one thousand seven hundred and seventy, 1770, I John Brittain of the Township of Plurstead in the County of Bucks and Province of Pennsylvania, Yeoman, being weakly in body, but of perfect mind and memory, thanks be given unto God, Therefore Calling unto mind the Mortality of my Body knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last will and Testament: That is to say, principally and first of all, I give and recommend my Soul unto God that gave it; and for my Body I recommend it to the earth to be burried in a Christian like and Decent manner at the Discretion of my Executors, nothing Doubting but at the General Ressurrection, I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God. And as Touching such worldly Estate wherewith it hath pleased God to Bless me with in this Life. I give Devise and Dispose of the same in the following manner and form.

Imprimis. It is my Will and I do Ordain that in the first place, all my Just Debts and funeral charge be paid and satisfied.

Item. I give and bequeath unto Elizabeth my dearly beloved wife my House and Lot of Land lining with Peter Cosner, Robert Gibson and others, 1/a. during her widowhood and four pounds Pennsylvania Current money per year during her widowhood also, and if she may stand in need of any more sustenance for the support of Life by reason of old age and weakness of Body, it is my will and I do order my Executors hereinafter named, out of my Estate what they shall think needful and necessary while she remains in my name. Also it is my will that she may have her own riding horse and side saddle, and one Cow, her bed and furniture, all the Pewter in the House, her Spinning Wheel, Two Chairs, the largest Iron pot, the Tea Kettle and the Table that has the Drawers in it.

Item. And it is my will and I do order that my Land on the east side of Durham Road may be sold to the best advantage in some reasonable time after my Decease, as also all my movables that is not already bequeathed, to be sold at public vendue as soon as possible also, and the money arising from the sale of the Land and yè monies of my Bills and Bonds etc. as wel from the sale of my movables, I give and bequeath unto my five Daughters (Viz) Elizabeth, the wife of Edward Morris; Anna, wife of William Young; Hannah, the wife of Peter Cosner; Mary, the wife of James Lewis and Martha, the wife of Edward Poe, to be divided between them, share and share alike equally, but if any or all of my said Daughters should Die before Such share or shares come into their Hands, then it is my will and I do order the same may be put to and for the Use and benefit of their Children and divided equally between them, share and share alike. And I do Order and it is my will that my daughter Anna, the wife of William Joun, that her share or part shall be given to her from time to time as she may stand in need of it during her natural Life, and I do order that may be put out in some safe hands on Interest for her and paid as before Directed, and the remainder if any after her Decease be divided amongst her Children.

Item. It is my will and I do Order, that after the Decease of my beloved Wife or after she marries another husband, the Land that I have left her for maintainance during her widowhood or Natural life, that same Lot and Land shall be sold in some reasonable time after her death or marriage, and the moneys arising there from, I bequeath in the following manner, that is to say, to my sons (Viz) William, Nathaniel, Nathan, Joseph, and Benjamin and their Heirs a Double share of the said money so arising, and the Remainder after Taking Ten parts out of the said money I bequeath to my aforesaid mentioned Daughters to be divided equally between them.

Item. I give and bequeath unto my Grand Daughter, a daughter of my Oldest son, Richard Brittain, the sum of Twenty Shillings current money of Pennsylvania, and I do hereby appoint and Ordain my well beloved sons, Nathaniel Brittain and Nathan Brittain my whoie and sole Executors of this my last will and Testament, and I do hereby utterly Disallow, Revoke and Disannul all and every other former Testaments Wills, Legacies and Executors, by me in anyways before this Time named, Willed and bequeathed, Ratifying and Confirming this and no other to be my last will and Testament. In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and Seal the day and year first above Written.

James Irvin.

Signed, John Brittin.

Bucks Co. The second Day of May, 1785, appeared Ribert Gibson and Joseph Michener two of the witnesses to the foregoing Instrument of Writing, when the said Robert on his solemn Oath and the said Joseph on his solemn Affirmation did severly declare and say That they and each of them were present at the Execution thereof and saw & heard John Britton sign, seal, publish and declare the same as and for his Testament and last Will, and that at the time of his so doing, he was of sound mind and memory, and of a disposing Understanding, to the best of their knowledge and belief.

Before me John Hart D Reg.

Be it remembered that on the second day of May, 1785 the Last Will and Testament of John Britton dec'd was duly proved when Letters testamentary were granted to Nathaniel Britton, one of the Executors herein named (Nathan Britton who is also named as an Executor being dead), He being first solomnly sworn well and truly to administer the Goods and Chattles, Rights and Credits of the said John Britton dec'd and to carry (?) into the Registers Office for the County of Bucks within one month from the date hereof, a true inventory and conscionable (?) Appraisment of the same, and within twelve months, or when thereunto lawfully required, to render a just account of this whole Administration. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and official the seal of said Office the Day and Year above written.

Signed John Hart D. Reg. C.

JOHN BRITTON OUR ANCESTOR

JOHN BRITTON, son of William and Maria Britton of Staten Island, Richmond County, New York, was born there 1673. He moved with his brothers, Richard, Joseph and probably others, to Monmouth County, New Jersey, where he died 1754.

In 1718, John Britton and others sold property to Jeremiah Stillwell*, Monmouth County, New Jersey.

Inventory of the estate of John Britton, Middletown Township, Monmouth County, New Jersey, March 26, 1754. Rachel his widow, "informs Mr. Barto that neither she nor her son (son John?) will administrate on the estate, and desires administration be granted to Isaac Van Dorn." No reason given. Perhaps Isaac Van Dorn was a son-in-law or brother to Rachel. John and Rachel had only one son, but may have had daughters.

Suggested reasons why Rachel and her son did not wish to administrate on the estate of her husband: She was likely in her 70's and did not feel equal to the task. Her son John was then married and was living with his family in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, some fifty miles away, and found it inconvenient to serve.

We do not have positive documentary proof that these Johns were our ancestors; but in the absence of any other John of Record who could have fit into this picture, we feel sure that the above is right. All other Johns of these families have been accounted for.

We do not know when John Jr. went to Pennsylvania. He or his father sold land in Monmouth County, New Jersey, 1741. But this could have been years after he left. His first record in Bucks County, was when he was one of the executors of the will of Joseph Steadman, April 22, 1748. There may have been other records not found by us.

We do not know the exact birth date, nor the marriage date of this John, but evidently he was born around 1700, and married about 1720 to 1725. His children were born in the 1720's and married there. We find (from the will of Cornelius Vansandt, of Wrightstown Twp., Bucks Co., Pa., probate 1789)

 Liber D-3, p248, Monmouth County Records.

 Liber K-2, p337, Monmouth County, Middletown Twp., N. J

*Liber K-2, p340, Monmouth County Records.

We believe he went to Pennsylvania when a young man, married Elizabeth, sister to Cronelius Vansandt. We may assume he married in Wrightstown Twp., and settled in Plumstead Twp. about eight miles north of Wrightstown, and two miles northeast of Doylestown, on the Durham road in or near Dyerstown; this road now called Lackawanna Trail.

From "John Dyer's Diary,* Bucks Co.: Mary Britton married Robert Gibson July 27, 1775.

Jan. 8, 1770, Nathaniel Britton had his skull mashed to pieces by a kick from a horse.

Jan. 11, 1770, Nathaniel Brittain's son died of the kick received a few days ago.

Nathaniel Brittain fell in a well at Craes old Tavern some time ago and broke his leg and otherwise bruised himself."

If John Dyer lived at Dyerstown, which most likely he did, evidently the Brittons live near there also. Dyerstown is about two miles from Doylestown. This was the seat of the John Britton families in Bucke County, Pennsylvania.

From the will of John Britton, dated March 21, 1770, and proved May 2, 1785, we find a list of his children: 1. Richard, 2. William, 3. Nathaniel, 4. Nathan, 5. Joseph, 6. Benjamin, 7. Elizabeth, 8. Anna, 9. Hannah, 10. Mary, 11. Martha.

Unfortunately we do not know the dates of birth of the above children. We believe the sons were born in order as given, but the daughters may have been anywhere between.

1. Richard was the oldest. John in his will says: "To my granddaughter, a daughter of my oldest son Richard." We may assume that Richard was dead at the date of will, since no other record of him is found in Bucks County.

2. William, the second son of John and Elizabeth (Vansandt) Britton, probably went early to Philadelphia Co. where he married Mary Runkin, May 31, 1746. We have no further record of him in Bucks County. He left Philadelphia after his fourth son, Joseph was born in 1753, came down into Baltimore County, Maryland, and probably died there. We will follow with his children presently.

* Genealogical Society of Pa., Vol. 3.

3. Nathaniel, third son of John and Elizabeth Britton, married Rachel, daughter of Samuel Jones, Sr. He was likely born in the 1720's, perhaps in Plumstead Twp., Bucks County, Pa., and died 1791 Freehold Twp., Monmouth County, N. J. His wife Rachel and Richard Cox Administrators, June 2, 1791. This same year Nathaniel and Rachel had sold land in Bucks Co., which was granted to him by his father John Britton, March 14, 1760. They may have moved to New Jersey before or after they sold this land.

Nathaniel and Rachel had at least three sons: Nathaniel Jr., who was killed by a horse; Samuel, likely named for his grandfather Samuel Jones; and Timothy, Pennsylvania Records shows: "Timothy Britton died Dec. 23, 1855, age 91 years, 7 months and 5 days (b May 18, 1764). Born in Bucks County, Pa., married Hannah, and had at least one daughter, Margaret. His parents were Nathaniel and Rachel Britton."

The 1790 census shows they had 4 sons and 6 daughters, (or possibly some of them grandchildren).

Nathaniel Britton followed his brother William to Baltimore County, Maryland, where he bought land from Daniel Dulany, April 13, 1775. He sold this land in 1780, to James Franklin. (See deeds)

This Indenture made this the seventh day of March in the year of our Lord One thousand seven hundred and eighty, between Nathaniel Brittain of Baltimore County, of the one part, and James Franklin of the same county of the other part, Witnesseth that the said Nathaniel Brittain for and in consideration of the sum of twenty thousand pounds current money of Maryland to him in hand paid by the said James Franklin before sealing and delivery of these presents the receipt whereof the said Nathaniel Brittain doth hereby acknowledge and thereof and every part thereof the said James Franklin his heirs and assigns doth forever discharge and acquit hath bargained and sold—to the said James Franklin his heirs and assigns forever all those two several parts or parcels of a tract of land called Blethana Cambria which were formerly conveyed to the said Nathaniel Brittain by a certain Daniel Dulany by a deed of Indenture bearing date the Thirteenth day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy five, the said two tracts or parcels containing the exact number of three hundred and sixteen acres and three quarters of an acre, and comprehended within the following lines.

4. Nathan, son of John and Elizabeth Britton married Ann (or Anna) daughter of John Thomas of Hiltown Twp., Bucks County, Pa. From the will of John Thomas, proved 1790:

"To daughter Ann, widow of Nathan Brittain deceased.

To grandson, John Britton, one of the executors." Nathan lived in Hiltown Twp., joining Plumstead on the west.

Return of white male inhabitants, Elijah Briton, and Joseph Briton.

In a tax list of 1783, Hiltown Twp.

Anna Brittain, 140 acres, 3 horses, 7 cattle.

Elijah Brittain, (single man), 1 cattle.

We believe Nathan and Anna had children: John, Elijah, Joseph and possibly others.

Administration of his estate, Bk A, p45, 1790, does not mention any children by name.

He was named one of the executors of his father's will, but died prior to probate of said will.

Sometimes confused with the above, was another Nathan Brittain, married 1760, Elizabeth Parke, served as private in Capt Jonathan Clark's Co. Abraham Bowman's Reg. Va. Line. He was born in Virginia, died 1776, while in service. He had a son James (b 1776) married Nancy Chadwell (b 1774). They were parents of Chadwell Brittain (1805-1893) married 1829, Sallie Brittain (1812-1864).

(D.A.R. Liage Book, Vol 135)

5. Joseph, son of John and Elizabeth Brotton, married Mary, daughter of Robert Gibson of Plumstead Twp. Will 1788, "To daughter Mary Britton" Joseph Britton one of the executors.

Joseph and Mary had at least one son Cornelius; the will of Cornelius Vansandt, Wrightstown Twp., proved 1789.

"To Cornelius Brittain, son of my Nephew Joseph Brittain." Cornelius Vansandt's sister Elizabeth married John Britton, father of Joseph.

We have reasons to believe that Joseph and Mary had a son Joseph and probably others. This Cornelius Britton may have been the one called Captain, in Washington County, Tenn. In a census 1790, we find two Joseph Brittain in Bucks County, Pa.:

Joseph Brittain, 2 males, 16 & up. 1 under 16, 5 females.

Joseph Brittain, 2 males, 16 & up, 2 under 16, 4 females.

Jesse Brittain, 1 male, 16 & up, 1 under 16, 6 females.

It appears that Joseph Jr. and Jesse were sons of Joe, Sr.

6. Benjamin, son of John and Elizabeth married a daughter of Thomas Lacy; and according to land records, was living in Philadelphia County as early as 1751, and was a baker. His will, May 26, 1782, Oxford Twp., Philadelphia County.

To children: Sarah Vandergrift.

Hannah, wife of Michael Lazalier.

Kezia, ...

Ex: Son-in-law, Michael Lazalier.

7. Elizabeth, daughter of John and Elizabeth, married Edward Morris.

8. Anna, married William Young.

9. Hannah, married Peter Cosner.

10. Mary, married James Lewis.

11. Martha, married Edward Poe. (See will of John complete).

William, second son of John and Elizabeth (Vansandt) Britton, came as stated above, after the birth of his son, Joseph, to Baltimore County, Maryland. The other children were born there. He lived just east of Gunpowder River in Hartford County, which river is, at that point, the line between Baltimore and Harford Counties. (Harford was taken from Baltimore in 1773).

We find in the Maryland Archives, the following records of William and his sons:

Harford Co. Md. Oaths of Fidelity to the State of Maryland: "The worshipful Robert. returns, William Britton and others." This William Britton we believe to be our ancestor. We also believe the following named Brittons were his sons:

"Enlisted by Zachariah Mccubin, received and passed by Thomas Jones, July 20, 1776, Joseph Britton and George Bailey."

"Enlisted by John E. Howard of Baltimore:

Thomas McLain, July 17, 1776.

John Vansandt, July 20, 1776.

Jacob Rawlings, July 20, 1776.

Tobias Smith, July 20, 1776.

VAILEY FORGE

To Commemorate the Encampment, an Arch serves as a Monument to those who suffered here. Carved on its walls is Washington's famous tribute to the fortitude of the troops:

"Naked and starving as they are, we cannot enough admire the incomparable patience and fidelity of the soldiery."

From Rev. Generations — by Green, 1763-1790.

Letter (Washington to Gist)

To Brigadier Gen. Gist,

Sir:

The State of Maryland apprehending an attack from the enemy now in Chesapeake Bay have requested that you might be sent to take the command. You will therefore proceed to Baltimore, apply to the Governor and concert with him the measures necessary to be taken on the occasion.

Your present Command is only Temporary. As soon as the enemy have left Chesapeake Bay and the danger which now threatens is over, you are immediately to rejoin the Army and resume your command in the line.

You will be pleased to advise me of any interesting occurrences that may happen.

Given at Headquarters
Middle Brook 27 May, 1779.
Go. Washington.

Our Lt. Joseph Britton was with this command.

Brig. Gen. William Smallwood (Two brigades in Sullivan's Division). Detached on orders and sent to Wilmington, Del. to establish a post to protect that region from encroachment by the British, campsite on west bank of Valley Creek in the present village.

Sir William Howe surrendered the command to Sir Henry Clinton, who decided to send his supplies around to New York by ship, and March the soldiers overland through New Jersey. Here Washington was ready for him. Near Monmouth (Freehold) June 28, 1778, he pounced on Clinton and might have defeated him completely if it had not been for the treachery of Gen. Charles Lee. As it was, Clinton succeeded in getting back to New York, and there he stayed. Lee was arrested and driven out of the American Army for good. He had lately been released after having been a prisoner in the hands of the British.

William Britton is mentioned 98 times in Vol. 1, Maryland Archives, which shows he was very prominent and a leading man in his county.

We have not traced further the family of this William Britton, because he does not connect directly with our line. He probably came from the same section in England as did the other Brittons early to America, therefore we may consider him a distant cousin. He may have had several sons. We find Richard, George and another William in Somerset, Charles and St. Mary's Counties. who may have been sons of the immigrant William.

Lionel (Lion or Lyon) Britton testified in Court in Charles County Maryland in 1662. Had grants in Virginia 1650-1655. He was perhaps the same Lionell Britton whose will was proved in Philadelphia County, Pa. 1722. (See will)

A Summary of William Britton

William Britton, son of John and Elizabeth (Vansandt) Britton was born most likely in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and was probably the second son, and born in the 1720's. He married in Philadelphia, Mary Runkin (possibly Rankin) 1746. We are not positive of the names of all his children; but after an exhaustive study of the Pennsylvania and Maryland records, we have reached a fairly definite conclusion, and a list follows: (These may not be in order of birth).

1. Abraham, probably born in Philadelphia and moved about 1747 to 1760 with his father to Baltimore County, Md., in the 1750's. He left several records in Baltimore County. Was a member of the Council of safety; several tracts of land; signed a petition for or against removal of the County Seat from Joppa to Baltimore city. He came to Sullivan County, Tennessee, probably with his brother Joseph, 1786. He and his sons settled on Fall Creek, five or six miles west of Blountville, near Highway No. 11 west. His sons were Abraham Jr., Richard Nathaniel, Samuel and probably John. Richard was living in Smith Co. Tenn. in 1803. It is not known whether his brothers followed him to Smith Co. or where they went. We find none of their descendants in Sullivan Co. today. It does not appear that any of Abraham's family moved to Hawkins Co.
2. Nicholas Brittain, son of William and Mary Britton, born in Philadelphia about 1759, came to Baltimore County, Md., in the latter part of the 1750's. He signed the petition for or against removal of the County Seat from Joppa to Baltimore City, 1768; Feb. 2, 1780, he bought of John Deaver and wife, Susanna, for 5000 pounds, 100 acres of land called "Rosannas Range" in the forks of Burgesses Branch which descends into the south side of Gunpowder Falls.

Nicholas Brittain, Ensign, on muster roll of officers of the Maryland Line, 1777. (Box 6, folder 12.)

These are the only records found in Maryland of Nicholas Brittain. He may have died in Maryland or he may have gone back to Pa., or N. J. It does not appear that he came to Tenn.

3. Richard Britton, son of William and Mary Britton, born probably in Philadelphia and came with his parents to Baltimore County, Md. Took the Oath of Fidelity 1778. Appointment in the Militia, June 18, 1794, Baltimore. Sept. 14, 1796, Richard Britton sold to William Clarke for 144 pounds, 96 acres south side of the main falls of Gunpowder River. Temperance, his wife acknowledged deed of April 13, 1799, Richard Britton bought of Joseph Griffith, 125 acres for 625 pounds, south side of Great Falls of Gunpowder River.

1790 Census Md. Richard Britton: 2 white males 16 & up, 1 under 16, 6 females and 17 slaves.

Richard Britton Sr. died Feb. 11, 1818, Baltimore County Records. He married March 25, 1782, Temperance Tolbutt, who was born Aug. 5, 1760, died Feb. 5, 1818, in Maryland. Their children are not known.

Richard Jr. was not probably a son of Richard Sr. He was believed to be the son of Abraham Sr., brother to Richard Sr. Abraham Sr., Abraham Jr., Nathaniel, and Richard Jr. were in Sullivan Co. Tenn., early in the 1790's.

Letter: Col. Benj. Nicholson, Baltimore, to Gov. Lee, to equip Troops; among whom are: Richard Britton, Robert Lyon, Joshua Gist, John Gist, Joseph Butler and Thomas Cradick.

4. Joseph Britton, son of William and Mary Britton, born 1753, in Philadelphia County, Pa. Says in his pension paper that "he was born in Pa and raised in Md." Evidently he was quite young when they left Philadelphia.
(For further records of Joseph, his pension papers and records in Washington and Hawkins Counties, Tenn.)
5. William Britton, son of William and Mary Britton, was likely born in Baltimore County, Md. The only record of him found in Maryland, was his Oath of Fidelity, 1778. He died in Washington Co., Tenn. (See records there).
6. John Britton, son of William and Mary Britton, probably born in Maryland. We find the following records:
May 29, 1781, John Britton, on the return of the troops on garrison duty in the City of Annapolis, etc.

Sept. 1781, John Brittain on the return of clothing delivered out to a detachment of the Maryland troops stationed at Whetstone Point Fort, beginning June 18, 1781.

March 8, 1782, John Brittain, on the return of clothing delivered to Capt. John Hamilton for soldiers of the Maryland Line beginning Jan. 1782.

Dec. 29, 1781, John Britton in account with the State of Maryland for clothing delivered to Gen. Gist's Guard at Baltimore. (This was perhaps Nathaniel Gist under whom his brother Joe served.)

1790 Md. Census: John Brittan: 1 white male 16 & up, 2 under 16, 7 females.

Dec. 19, 1787, John Britton bought of Charles Audenbaugh for 8 pounds, Lot in the city of Baltimore.

North Carolina Brittons

Greene County Tenn. Brittons

Abraham and Daniel Britton had grants on Lick Creek in Greene County about the same time Joseph and Abraham came to Washington and Sullivan Counties. But they seem to have come from Rowan County, North Carolina. It also appears that they were originally from Pennsylvania or New Jersey; and perhaps distant cousins of ours.

A Joseph Britton made his will, dated Aug. 22, 1773, proved at Aug. Court 1774 at Salisbury, Rowan County, N. C. He names his children: Mary Elrod, James, Phelie (or Phebe) Phillip, William, Joseph, Benjamin, Aaron (or Abram) and Samuel. (See complete will, p. 88).

It appears that he was married a second time, as he wills to his two oldest, Mary and James, and to his six youngest sons as they become of age. Assuming that he was married twice, and had nine children, we can figure he was born before 1730.

James and William Brittain also bought land on Horsepen Creek in Rowan County, N. C.

Deeds:

Earl of Granville to James Brittain 1762.

Henry Ballinger to James Brittain 1764.

Henry Ballinger to William Brittain 1764.

Bk C, pp 54 and 55, Rowan County.

Some of these fought in the Revolution. Phillip was a pensioner in Orange County, N. C. and in Bedford County, Tenn.

Some of these Brittains came with the Bryans, to Tenn. Daniel and Abraham having grants on Lick Creek.

These became quite numerous and influential citizens in Greene, Jefferson, Knox and other East Tennessee counties. But since we did not make direct connection with them, we did not follow up this line.

BRITTONS IN WASHINGTON COUNTY, TENN.

Joseph Britton states in his Pension Papers* that he moved from Baltimore County, Maryland, to Washington County, Tennessee in 1786. He had a Bounty Land Grant No. 6467 of 2666 acres for services in the Revolutionary War. We have not been able to locate this land, but it was sold to John Evans of Ross County, Ohio in 1820. (See Pension Papers, Hawkins County).

Joseph Britton had a Grant No. 1076 from the State of North Carolina of 190 acres on Sinking Creek in Washington County, Tenn., joining his old survey, registered Feb. 12, 1794.

Evidently he owned land there prior to this date. (Bk 7 p 224).

Deed Bk 7, p 38, Sept. 5, 1794,

Joseph Britton of Washington County to James Martin, in consideration of the sum of 4 pounds, 21 acres, being a part of a tract of 200 acres patented to the said Joseph Britten, No. 1075, together with all—etc. (see this deed) p. 92.

signed Joseph Britten.

This 200 acres may have been his first land purchase in Tenn.

Next, Henry Oldham to Joseph Britton, 85 acres on Watauga River, at the mouth of Boone's Creek, joining Bean's line (Bk 7, p 336, July 7, 1795). 64 acres of this tract was sold by Joseph Britton to Charles Porter for $135. April 28, 1796, (Bk 6, p 281).

Joseph Britten sold to David Denham, 50 acres, part of 200 acres granted to him by the State of North Carolina, (Reg. Bk F, p 223, date not given).

Joseph Britton sold several tracts of land in Washington County, between 1794 and 1815, at which time he removed to Hawkins County, Tennessee. (See following deeds.)

Grant No. 1076, Feb. 12, 1794.

State of North Carolina to Joseph Britton of Washington Co., Tenn. 50 shillings for every 100 acres, 190 acres beginning on a hickory corner of Dunham and running thence across Sinking Creek north 57 poles to a blackoak and postoak, thence west 85 polese to a blackoak, thence on Chapman's line north 33 east 44 poles to a redoak, thence north 120 poles to a hickory, corner to Britton's old Survey, thence east 42 poles to a whiteoak, thence north 100 poles to a redoak, thence west 164 poles to a hickory, thence south 53 poles to a chestnut, thence south 70 east 104 poles to a locust, north 20 east 168 poles to a hickory to Martin's corner, thence south 179 poles to a blackoak, thence east 32 poles to a redoak, thence south 130 poles to a whiteoak, thence south 13 west 80 poles to a small hickory, thence south 56 poles to a whiteoak, thence east 114 poles to a poplar, thence south 43 west 192 poles to the beginning.

This Indenture made the 11th day of Jan. 1813, between William Britton and Abraham Britton, both of Washington Co., Tenn. of the one part, and John Jones of the county and state aforesaid of the other part, witnesseth that for and in consideration of the sum of $115. paid to the above William Britton, and the further sum of $125. paid to the above said Abraham Britton by the said John Jones—all right, interest and claim that the said William and Abraham severly hath by right of Inheritance that is to two thirds part thereof, or one third part each, it being their inheritance right to or dividends severally in and to a certain tract or parcel of land situated lying and being in the County of Washington aforesaid on Sinking Creek. Beginning—same calls as above—that the said William Britton and Abraham Britton doth for themselves and their heirs, warrant each for himself 33 1/3 acres, the two 66 2/3 acres—they being joint heirs with their brother George Britton of William Britton their father.

This William Britton Sr. no doubt was the brother of Lt. Joseph.

Inventories of Estates Bk 00, 1779-1821, Washington Co.: William Britton, June 9, 1794. Hannah Britton Administratrix.

Joseph Britton Administrator.

Filed at Nov. Sessions, 1795.

Then, Hannah Britton, returned by Joseph Britton, Adm. May 8, 1806, Filed May Session 1810.

This makes it clear that Hannah was the wife of William Sr.; and they had sons, William, Abraham and George. Just where these three sons were born is not definitely known. We believe William married Sally Smith, July 1, 1810. And Abraham married Nancy Brannon, June 12, 1811. We also believe this Abraham went to Hawkins County, with his Uncle Joseph, and was known as "Saddler Abe" to distinguish him from his cousin "Hatter Abe" who was a son of Joseph. (See Hawkins Brittons). Abraham Britton, (probably the same as above) bought from John Patton, March 1, 1812, Lot No. 17, in the town of Leasburg.* He sold this lot May 4, 1818, to Benjamin Russell for $252., it being that on which the dwelling house lately occupied by Abraham Britton, now stands.

We have no other record of William and George, brothers to Abraham.

Cornelius Britton, Return by Joseph Britton, Aug. 8, 1815.

Certain portions were reserved to the widow Levena to enable her to maintain the children.

Filed Jan. Sessions 1817.

Little is known of Cornelius. His wife's name was Levena, and they had children, but the number and names are not known. Cornelius was called Captain—a tax list in Washington County, but we find no record of his owning land there. He witnessed a deed, Robert Hamilton to William Skelton in Goshen Valley, in Hawkins County, Oct. 8, 1812. Joseph Britton and Nathan Shipley also witnessed this deed. Shipley also bought of Hamilton a part of the same tract. Hamilton owned 965 acres, in Goshen Valley.

We believe Cornelius was a son of Joseph Britton of Bucks Co. Pa. who was a brother to William, father of our Lt. Joseph. (see will of Cornelius Vansandt, Bucks Co.

There were other Brittons in Washington County, who have not been definitely identified.

*Leasburg, Washington County, is about four miles west of Jonesboro, was laid out for a town, but did not get beyond a small village.

Jesse Britton — Petition to alter land grant, 1797. Pa. Archives, Vol. V. Jesse Britton, pvt. Blunstead Twp. Bucks Co. Pa., Aug. ye 21st, 1775. Probably the same Jesse.

Elijah Britton — Sarah Britton to Elijah Britton, land on Little Sinking Creek, for $20., 1832.

James Britton—on Tax List 1808.

John Britton—married Catherine Hensley, Sept. 22, 1822.

These four were no doubt cousins of Lt. Joe and William. It does not appear that they followed Joseph to Hawkins Co. They may have left descendants in Washington Co., but we have not found them. May have been children of Cornelius and Lavena.

We have reason to believe that Jesse, Elijah, James, and Cornelius were brothers, and sons of Joseph of Bucks Co.,. We learn from the Will of Cornelius Vansandt of Bucks Co., that Joseph had a son Cornelius. We believe (not proven) that this Joseph had other children: Jesse, another Joseph, Elijah, and probably James and John. They perhaps lived in the same community with the other Brittons, on Sinking Creek, about two or three miles above where the Kingsport-Johnson City highway crosses Sinking Creek, a few hundred feet above Halls old mill dam. Elijah lived on Little Sinking Creek, now called Ford Creek. No mention of these in Baltimore Co., Maryland.

Abraham Britton of Sullivan County, Tenn.

Abraham Britton was probably the first of the name to come to Sullivan County; and was no doubt brother to Joseph of Washington County. These two settlements were, as the crow flies, about ten miles apart. His first record was when he sold to Joseph Cox 100 acres in Sullivan County Feb. 19, 1790. We do not know when, or from whom, he obtained this land. He probably came to this county about the same time Joseph came to Washington Co.

Abraham bought from William McMillin 252 acres on waters of Fall Creek; about six miles west of Blountville, and not far from Indian Springs, but north of highway No. 11, west, and on the west fork of Fall Creek.

The other Brittons mentioneed in the following Sullivan County deeds, were most likely his sons or grandsons. These Brittons, about the turn of the century began to sell their property in this county.

Richard Britton sold to John Spurgin 484 acres on Abbots branch, 1797; this land granted to him the year before by the State of North Carolina. Richard Britton of Smith County, Tenn., to Robert Rhea of Sullivan County, 133 acres in Sullivan Co., 1803. So we know Richard went to Smith County, Tenn.

Nathaniel Britton of Sullivan County, sold to Robert Rhea of Washington County, Virginia, for $700. 222 acres on waters of Fall Creek. Witnesses: Samuel Britton and Thomas Anderson. Aug. 31, 1801.

John Britton and his wife, Elizabeth (Kelshaw) to John Lynn, Nov. 13, 1813.

John Britton to John Cattern, land on waters of Reedy Creek, Feb. 20, 1817.

Samuel Britton deed in Sullivan County, Feb. 24, 1820.

This seems to be the last record of Brittons in Sullivan County. We can only assume, a part, or all of them, followed Richard to Smith County. But they do not show up in the 1830, 1840, and 1850 census of Smith County. They perhaps moved on to other parts before these dates. In census records, we find several Brittons from Tenn., in different counties in Mo., but they cannot be identified.

At present, we find no descendants of these Brittons in Sullivan County. (See the following Sullivan County deeds).

It does not appear that any of the Sullivan County Brittons went to Hawkins County, however, it is possible.

We believe this Abraham was the son of William, brother to Lt. Joseph, and who died in Washington County, 1794. Joseph Britton was his Administrator, filed 1795. Abraham had brothers William and George. And their mother was Hannah. Joseph was also Administrator of Hannah, May 8, 1806, filed May Session 1810. These three brothers were quite young when their father and mother died, and Joseph, as their Administrator, excepted the responsibility of their welfare. We do not know where William and George went, as we have no other record of them. But we are convinced that Abraham followed his Uncle Joe to Hawkins County. They sold their land inherited from their father in 1818. It appears that Abraham married June 12, 1811, Nancy Brannon, probably his first; and perhaps his second wife was Elizabeth Kennedy, as in the above census. He may have had children, and married at this date.

Since many of the records of Hawkins County were burned by the Yankees during the Civil War, it is impossible to trace all these families to completion.

1880 Census Hawkins County, Tenn.

D. D. Britton, M.D. 30, born in Tenn.	(1850)
Elizabeth (Mother) 66, born in Georgia	(1814)

Brittons in Hawkins County, Tenn.

It appears that Joseph Britton was the first of the name to come to Hawkins County. He was born in Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania 1753, came with his parents, William and Mary Runkin Britton, to Baltimore County, Maryland when he was a small child; he grew to manhood there and married June 19, 1784, Margaret Jones. They removed to Washington County, Tenn. 1786, and resided there until 1815, when they removed to Hawkins County, Tenn., where he died Nov. 16, 1842. His wife having preceded him in death before 1840. She was living in 1830.

Joseph Britton served as Lieutenant in the Revolutionary War and was a pensioner. A copy of his pension papers follows:

Pension Papers of Joseph Britton

Letter, by Thomas Emmerson
June 27, 1818.

State of Tennessee,
Washington County.

.... Joseph Britton, age 65, last March, saith that on the sixth day of February 1777 he was appointed a second Lieut. in Capt. Henry Wagerman's company, Col. Nathaniel Gist's Regiment of Rangers, one of the additional Regiments raised by order of Congress.... His commission leaving date, the 18th of Jan. 1778.... recruited soldiers until after the Battle of Germantown.

The Army lay at a place called White Marsh, above Germantown. This deponent joined the army with his recruits, and Capt. Wagerman not having joined the company, Capt. Joseph Smith was appointed in his place. The company was then attached to this Maryland Regiment, at that time commanded by Col. Nathaniel Ramsey.

The following winter was quartered at Wilmington, Delaware. From there we marched to Valley Forge; from there we pursued the British into the State of New Jersey, and this Deponent was in and fought at the Battle of Monmouth, on the 28th June 1778. From there we marched with Smallwood's Division of the army up the North River (Hudson) to Sparkhill, and from there we crossed over to White Plains. Thats between there and Kings Bridge, under the immediate command of Nathaniel Gist; being on an advanced guard this Deponent was taken prisoner on the 16th of September 1778, and taken into the city of New York and put into prison for twelve days; from there admitted on paroll on Long Island, and there remained a prisoner of War until the 2nd of April 1781*.—and on the 20th of April 1781, this Deponent was commissioned a first Lieutenant in Nathaniel Gist's Regiment,—by this commission herewith enclosed to which he refers, which Claim Act July 5, 1852.

Lt. Joseph Britton, Va. Line Rev.

This deponent to take rank from 23 April 1779. He further states that on the 23rd May, 1781, he states his account with the Auditor of Accounts, after the main army as will also appear by the copy of the accounts herewith enclosed.

This deponent further states that he heretofore has never asked for or received any pension whatsoever from the United States of America, and if such has been allowed or allotted to him, he does hereby relinquish his claim to any such pension.

He further states that he was born in the State of Pennsylvania and raised in the State of Maryland; that he remained a citizen of Maryland until the year 1786; that he then removed to Bearbertytown (?) in Washington County, the State of Tennessee where he resided until near three years ago (1815); that he now resides in Hawkins County, Tenn. about thirteen miles from Rogersville, in said County, and further this deponent saith, not sworn to, subscribed this 27th June 1818.

Attest: Thomas Emmerson.

A daughter in her 29th year (b 1791) who is weakly constituted and unable to support herself. Another daughter in her 15th year (b 1805) and a small boy going on his eleventh year (b 1809) being all the children who reside with him; none able to maintain themselves, or very little more if able.

Sworn to and declared on this 29th Aug. 1820.

He raised 13 children, two of which lost their lives during the late war (1812-1814). His children have all emigrated to different parts of the Union except three, two daughters and a little son, unable to support himself, remain with him. He is supported by the labor of his daughters personally. His wife is infirm and unable to do anything. He has at this time but little property which will explain from the schedule.

He died in Hawkins County, Tenn. Nov. 16, 1842.

Joseph Britton Revolutionary Claims 1260.

Treasury Department,
Nov. 18, 1828.

Joseph Britton of Beech Creek in the County of Hawkins, and the State of Tennessee has applied to the Treasury for benefits of the Act Entitled "An Act for the relief of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the army of the Revolution," approved on the 15th of May 1828. He states that he was an officer of the Continental line, and served as such until the reduction under the resolve of (20 4?) 21 Oct. 1780. at which time he was a Lt. in Col. Gist's Regt. of the line and that he received commutation certificates for five years full pay granted by the resolve of 22 March 1783, and further that he has received as a pension since the 3rd March 1826, the sum of $1600 dollars paid to him by the agent in East Tennessee.

The Third Auditor is requested to report how far these several statements are corroborated by the records of this Office.

By order of the Secretary,
F. W. Dickens.

Third Auditor's Office
20 Nov. 1828.

It appears by the records of this office that final settlement certificates have been issued for the commutation of five years full pay to Joseph Britton, Lieutenant in the Maryland line, amounting to sixteen hundred dollars.

It appears that Joseph Britton is now on the pension List of East Tennessee Agency, and has been since the 3rd March 1826, at the rate of Twenty Dollars per month.

Sir:

I have the honor to inform you, that Joseph Britton, formerly a Lieutenant in Col. Gist's Regiment of the line of the Continental Army; and who has heretofore received a pension at the East Tennessee Agency, has been admitted to the benefits of the above mentioned Act. I have the honor to be very respectfully your obedient servant.

The Honorable Secretary of War No. 121.

We, the undersigned heirs of Joseph Britton, a Lieut. and Captain in the Revolutionary War, who was a pensioner — at Jonesboro, Tennessee, and who died the 16th day of November 1842, do constitute and appoint A. L. Burem to present a claim we have against the United States in right of our said ancestor, and which allow him a reasonable compensation out of the money if he obtains any, and nothing if he does not.

Witness our hands this 24th day of April 1855.

Hon. George C. Whitney
Commissioner of Pensions.

Be pleased to furnish me with a copy of the declaration of Sgnt. Joseph Britton of Col. Nathaniel Gist's Regt. pension under the Act of 1818, from the State of Tennessee, in which declaration states he entered the service the 6th of Feb. 1777. He sold his bounty land claim (2666 acres) in 1820, to Col. John Evans of Ross County, Ohio, who's heirs are applying for pay for service more than six years.

Very respectfully.

ORIGINAL & INJUNCTION BILL, Rogersville, Tenn.

Charles Webb et al vs Alexander Smith et al.

W. K. Armstrong, C. & M.
Filed Jan. 16, 1900.

To the honorable Hugh G. Kyle, Chancellor, Holding the Chancery Court at Rogersville for the County of Hawkins State of Tennessee.

....Complainants would respectfully show unto Your Honor that on the 8th day of August, 1840, Abraham Britton of the County of Hawkins, State of Tennessee, entered a tract of land in said County, of Hawkins by entry No. 1978, upon which entry on the 13th day of January, 1851, grant from the State of Tennessee No. 27834 issued to the said Abraham Britton for said 5000 acres thus described in the said grant; on the south side of Holston River on the waters of Beech Creek and on Bays Mountain joining the land of R. H. Stacey and others, beginning on two beeches and spruce pines on the south bank of Grassy Fork of Beech Creek near Stacey's mill dam; then along the Mcchees Mountain (document too lengthy to be copied here).

....Complainants further show unto Your Honor that the said Abraham Britton took possession of said land so granted, and held possession of the same up to August 1881, when he died leaving neither widow nor children.

Margaret Britton, who married Sacket Wilson, and who reside in the State of Texas.

SECOND: Elvira Britton who died leaving three children, Polly A. Britton (Morelock) who married Alexander Farmer, who live in Sequatchie County, Tennessee, John Britton and Sarah Britton, who reside in the same County and State.

THIRD: A daughter Nancy Britton, who married Henry Stacey, who died leaving three daughters, Dolly Stacey, now Dolly Bailes, Saphronie Stacey and Ebenaida Stacey who married Asa Gray. The said Ebenaida is now deceased, but her said husband Asa Gray and their children reside in Hawkins County, and are made defendants to this bill.

FOURTH: A daughter Martha Britton, who married William Bailey both of whom are dead, leaving children namely, Henry Bailey, Joseph Bailey, and Jesse Bailey, all citizens of Hawkins County, Tennessee.

FIFTH: Joseph Britton, who died leaving as his children, Henry Britton and Samuel Britton of Hawkins County, Tenn. and John Britton and Hutz Britton of Middlesboro, Ky., who are complainants in this bill.

The said Abraham Britton also left surviving him one sister, Nancy Britton, who married Archibald Tucker, and both husband and wife are dead, leaving three children, to-wit: Robert Tucker, Joseph Tucker and Margaret Tucker, the latter of whom married Nelson Crawford, but both herself and her husband are dead, leaving one child, Daniel Crawford, who is now also dead, but who sold his interest in said land before his death to Henry Dykes, and Dykes to complainant Charles Webb.

Jacob Miller — Whereas on Sept. 2, 1837, Gabriel McCraw recovered a judgment against Abraham Britton, (son of Joseph Britton) — levied on 5000 acres in district 16, of Beech Creek. (Deed Bk 19, p 352, Rogersville, Tennessee).

JOSEPH BRITTON IN HAWKINS COUNTY

It appears that Joseph Britton was the first of the name to come to Hawkins County, Tenn., about 1815. According to his Pension Papers, he removed from Washington County on this date. His parents, William and Mary Runkin (or Rankin) were married in the First Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, May 30, 1746. They moved to Baltimore County, Maryland when Joseph was a small child. His Pension Papers say he was "born in Pennsylvania and raised in Maryland."

This Joseph Britton was born in March 1753, perhaps in Philadelphia, and came with his parents to Baltimore County, Md. He married there, June 19, 1784, Margaret Jones, probably a daughter of Samuel, son of Samuel Jones of Bucks County, Pa., whose daughter, Rachel married Nathaniel Britton, an Uncle of Joseph, and whose wife was Margaret. Samuel Jones Jr., married Leah, daughter of John Thomas, whose will was probated in Bucks County, Pa. 1790. Margaret Britton was living in 1830 (census) but was dead before 1840. Joseph died Nov. 16, 1842.

We are not sure of all the names of the children of Joseph and Margaret Britton, nor the dates of birth. Some are census dates, which are not always correct; and some are only estimated. There were 13 in all. As best we can get at is as follows:

- I. William G. Britton, born 1784 (census).
- II. Charles Britton, born 1785 (census).
- III. John Britton, born about 1787 (census).
- IV. Rebecca Britton, born about 1788 (census).
- V. James Britton, born about 1789 (estimated).
- VI. a daughter, Britton, born about 1791 (from pension record)
- VII. Henry Britton, born about 1792 (estimated)
- VIII. Joseph Britton, born about 1794 (estimated)
- IX. a daughter Britton, born about 1798 (estimated)
- X. Abraham Britton, born 1800 (Bible Record).
- XI. David Britton, born 1803 (census).
- XII. Nancy Britton, born 1805 (pension record).
- XIII. Van S. Britton, born 1809 (pension and census).

His Pension Paper says that he raised 13 children two of which were lost in the late war (1812-1814). These two were perhaps James and Henry. Samuel Britton, a great grandson, relates that he understood there was a James and a Henry who went south, and that's all he has heard about them.

1. William C. (6) Britton, (Joseph 5, William 4, John 3, John 2, William 1) was born in Baltimore County, Md., 1784; (census), came with his parents to Washington County, Tenn., 1786; and also moved with them to Hawkins Co., about 1815. He died after 1850, unmarried. He lived an interesting bachelor's life, and was very helpful to his brothers and sisters, and nephews and nieces. He had two trades, made saddles and hats. A younger brother and a nephew were bound to him to learn these trades, both named Abraham, and cousins. "Saddler Abe" as he was called, made saddles. "Hatted Abe," his brother, made hats. Saddler Abe was born in Washington Co., before 1794, son of William, who died that year. He married, probably in Washington County, Nancy Brannon, June 12, 1811. He may have married a second wife as the census shows his wife was Elizabeth, born 1806. They were living alone in 1860 census, but the 1830 census shows they had 2 sons and 5 daughters born from 1811 to 1825. We do not know the names of these children. Very little is known of these families; perhaps they all moved to Middle Tennessee, as per tradition. Hatter Abe will be taken up later.

Grant to William Britton:

William Britton, by the State of Tenn. Grant No. 6268, Survey of the 6th District of No. 3159, dated 29 Jan. 1816, certificate No. 245, Reg. of East Tenn., to George Williams, dated 6th of April 1811, fifty acres of which was assigned to William Britton, the enterer, granted by the state to the said William Britton, lying and being in the County of Hawkins in said District, on the north side of Bays Mountain and south side of Holston River, joining land where Joseph Britton now lives, on the north fork of Beech Creek. Beginning at a beech, corner to William Stacey's tract, and corner to the tract that Joseph Britton now lives on, with his line south 50 west, 13 poles to a sugar tree in a field; then north 20 west, 22 poles to a black walnut; then north 78 west, 16 poles to a sugar tree; then due west 26 poles to a poplar, corner to a tract belonging to the said Joseph Britton; then with his line due north 52 poles to a dogwood and sourwood at the foot of the mountain; then north 55 east, 66 poles to a poplar and chinquapin oak; then south 40 east, 40 poles to a hickory; then west 40 poles to a stake; then a direct line to the beginning.

Survey 7th of Aug. 1816. (Hawkins Co. Records)

By Joseph McMinn, Governor.

II. Charles (6) Britton, (Joseph 5, William 4, John 3, John 2, William 1) born in Baltimore County, Md., 1785; came with his parents Washington County, Tenn. 1786, and removed with them to Hawkins Co., 1815. We do not know the name of his wife, nor the names of all his children. We have the record of only two which are conceded to be his sons:

1. Hiram (7) Britton, (Chas. 6, Joe 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, William 1) born 1818 (census) married in Hawkins County, Jan. 2, 1832, Elizabeth Moore, (or Kennedy) born in Georgia, 1814 and had the following children:

1. Nancy (8) Britton, (Hiram 7, Chas. 6, Joe 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born 1831 (census) in Hawkins County, married 1st Manis, and had:

1. Neal Hanis, 2. Frank Manis. Nancy married 2nd Jesse Hobbs, and had 3. Myrtle Hobbs.

2. Vina (8) Britton, (Hiram 7, Chas. 6, Joe 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born 1840, married Henry Short, no children.

3. Julia (8) Britton, (Hiram 7, Chas. 6, Joe 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born 1843, in Hawkins Co., married there, John Wagner, son of George D., and had no children.

4. Jackson (8) Britton, (Hiram 7, Chas. 6, Joe 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born 1844, in Hawkins County, died of fever in the Civil War, unmarried.

5. Harriet (8) Britton, (Hiram 7, Chas. 6, Joe 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born 1845, in Hawkins Co., married there, Robert Dykes, (son of John, son of John, son of William) about 1870, and had children:

1. Malissie (9) Dykes, born about 1871, married George Wagner (son of George D.) and had:

1. Cloud Wagner

2. Flora Wagner

3. Lura Wagner

4. Noah Wagner and others who died young.

2. Noah (9) Dykes, born about 1873 in Hawkins County, married there, Alice Christian, and had three or four children, moved to Roane County, Tenn.
3. Ellen (9) Dykes, born in Hawkins Co., about 1875, married there about 1892, Yance Christian and had several children. (see Christians).
4. Ida (9) Dykes, born in Hawkins Co. Jan. 11, 1878, married there Wiltz Chrisstian, and died March 10, 1952. They had several children, (see Christians).
5. Adria (9) Dykes, born in Hawkins Co. about 1880, married there Doctor D. Mullins, and had two daughters, Delphia and Hattiee.
6. Ollie (9) Dykes, born about 1883, in Hawkins Co., and Married there, Wilbur Scissm, and had several children.
7. Eva (9) Dykes, born about 1886, in Hawkins Co., married there Dec. 4, 1910, William E. Christian. They had several children. (see Christians).
6. Dr. David D. (8) Britton, (Hiram 7, Chas 6, Joseph 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born in Hawkins County, married in same County, Sally Kincheloe and had three children born in Hawkins Co.
 1. Hiram (9) Britton, married Smith, no children.
 2. Nora (9) Britton, married Mack Haun in Hawkins Co., and had two or three children.
 3. William (9) Britton, married and had children.
7. James Monroe (8) Britton, born in Hawkins Co. 1852. Died young.
2. David E. (7) Britton, (Chas. 6, Joseph 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born in Hawkins Co. 1818., married there Lucinda (Moore?) born 1820, about 1837, their children were:
 1. Jane (8) Britton, born in Hawkins Co. 1838. No further information.
 2. Madison (8) Britton, born in Hawkins Co. 1840. No further information.
 3. George W. (8) Britton, born in Hawkins Co. 1842, married there, Sept. 14, 1866, Adaline Jane Wagner. Children not known.

4. Nancy (8) Britton, born in Hawkins Co. 1844. No further information.
5. Joseph (8) Britton, born in Hawkins Co. 1848, is said to have married Rachel (Matt), daughter of Joseph and Emaline (Smith) Mercer.
6. Clinton (8) Britton, born in Hawkins Co. 1850.

David E. Britton left Hawkins County, about this time, and is thought to have gone to Middle Tennessee, and we have no further information on these families.

It is believed that Charles (II) Britton had other children not mentioned above, Van S. Britton is listed in the 1840 census as having been born after 1810, and having 1 son and 1 daughter under 5; wife born after 1810. Van S. could easily been a son of Charles, altho we have listed him as the youngest brother of Charles.

It is possible that Van S. could have been a son of one of the sons of Lt. Joseph, who were lost in the "late war" as mentioned in his pension papers. Or, again, he could have been son of Cornelius who died in Washington Co. 1815. This Cornelius had children by his wife Levena who survived him, but their names and number not given. (see Inventories of Estates Bk 00, 1779-1821, Washington County, Tenn.)

Many of the Hawkins County Records were destroyed during the Civil War which makes it difficult to establish definite facts regarding the Status of many families.

Lt. Joseph Britton came to Hawkins County 1815, and had bought two tracts of land by Aug. 1816, as per grant to William Britton that date.

III. John (6) Britton. (Joseph 5, William 4, John 3, John 2, William 1) born in Washington County, Tenn. about 1787. He is listed in the 1830 census, Hawkins Co. as being born between 1780 and 1790, with his wife born in the 1790's, and 1 son born after 1800. This is all the information found on him, and we cannot be positive that he was a son of Joseph. He could have been a son of Cornelius who died in Washington County.

IV. Rebecca (6) Britton. (Joseph 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, William 1) born about 1788, in Washington Co., married Henry Wines (or Winnis, census). Their children, if any, are not known.

- V. James (6) Britton, (Joseph 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, William 1) born about 1789, in Washington Co. and is believed to be one of the sons lost in the "late war." He is mentioned in a Tax List in Washington County 1808. No further data on him.
- VI. A daughter (6) Britton, (Joseph 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born about 1791, (from pension Record). We have no further record of her.
- VII. Henry (6) Britton, (Joseph 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born about 1792, and was most likely one of the sons lost in the "late war." No further information.
- VIII. Joseph (6) Britton, (Joseph 5, Wm. 4, John 3, John 2, Wm. 1) born about 1794, in Washington County, married probably in Washington Co., about 1815. We have not found his marriage record, but Samuel Britton a grandson says his grandmother's name was Mary, and that after his grandfather died, Mary married David C., brother to Joseph, and had a daughter Sarah E., born July 12, 1838. We have not learned Mary's maiden name. Their oldest child was born April 5, 1816. (Bible Record)
