THE COMPILER OF THIS VOLUME DOES NOT VAUNT HIMSELF GREATLY UPON THE SUCCESS WHICH HAS CROWNED HIS EFFORTS, IN THE LABOR WHICH HE UNDERTOOK SOME SEVEN YEARS SINCE; BUT HE DEEMS IT PROPER AT THIS TIME TO SAY, THAT THE INCOMPLETENESS OF THE WORK IS DUE TO NO LACK OF DILIGENCE ON HIS PART, BUT SIMPLY TO THE INADVERTENCE OF THOSE WHO COULD HAVE FURNISHED INFORMATION, BUT DID NOT—OF WHICH FACT THESE NEGLIGENT ONES CAN READILY ASSURE THEMSELVES BY EXAMINING THEIR PORTFOLIOS FOR UNANSWERED LETTERS.

Origin of the Name, &c.

THE most ancient allusion to the name of Briggs that I have been able to discover, is found in the county of Norfolk, in England, a history of which county by Blomefield contains the following:

“In the chapel of St. Anne, at the upper end of the south aisle, on the right hand of the entrance of the new vestry, is a mural monument of white marble, erected to the memory of Augustine Briggs, Esq., descended from an ancient family at Salle, in Norfolk, who before the time of Edward I. (1272), assumed the surname of De Ponte or Pontibus, i. e., ‘at Brigge,’ or ‘at Brigges;’ as the ancient family of the Fountains, of the same place, assumed theirs of De Fonte or Fontibus, i. e., ‘at the fountain or fountains,’ much about the same time; the one dwelling, I presume, by the springs or fountain head, and the other by the bridge or bridges over the currents that came from them: the eldest branches of both which families continued in Salle till they united in one, as appears by the following pedigree.

“The first of this family that I have met with was—

1. WILLIAM ATTE BRIGGE, of Salle, called in some deeds William de Ponte de Salle, and in others De Pontibus de Salle, and the last mention I find of him is, that he was living at Salle in 1334. His children were:

I. 2. WALTER BRIGGS, clerk, living 1389.

II. 3. JOHN atte BRIGGE, Esq., of Salle, A° 1383.

III. 4. ROBERT atte BRIGGE, living 1493 (?).

IV. 5. THO: BRYGGE, of Holt, living 1400. In 1392, he went to the Holy Sepulchre of our Lord with Sir Thomas Swynbourne, Kn’t, an account of which pilgrimage, written by himself, is still extant in a MSS. in Caius College Library, which begins thus: “A° MCCCLXXXIIJ vj Aug., die Martis, ego Thomas Bryggs recessi de Castro de Gynes versus Sanctum Sepulchrum cum Comitava Domini mei Dui Tho: Swynbourne, Militus de Anglia, et veni Venecias, die Dominica, etc.”

V. 6. WILL: atte BRIGGE, of Holt, living 1401.

JOHN atte BRIGGE (II. 3) had children—

- I. 7. JOHN BRYGGE, Esq., son and heir, living 1454.
- II. 8. EDMUND BRIGGES.

WILL: atte BRIGGE (V. 6) had children—

- I. 9. WILLIAM, son and heir, living in 1466.
- II. 10. SIR JOHN BRIGGE, chaplain, buried 1481.

JOHN BRYGGE (I. 7), m. 1, Eleanor ———, and had—

- I. 11. THOMAS BRIGGS, of Salle, Esq., will dated 1494.
- II. 12. HENRY atte BRYGGE, living 1476.
- III. 13. GEORGE BRIGGE, of Salle.

Had dau. Agnes, who died about 1540. His 2nd wife was Margaret (dau. and co-heir of a Rockwood), who survived her husband, and had—

- IV. 14. WILL: BRYGGS, of Thetford; m. Margaret ———; no issue; was Mayor there 1480-1 and at other times, and was a man of figure and fortune.
- V. 15. MARGARET BRIGGS.
- VI. 16. THOMAS BRIGGS.

The will of John Brygge (I. 7) orders his executors “to sell to the Prior of St. Mary of Thetford,” certain lands, and assign “40 marks to celebrate his anniversary in that monastery; every monk in priest’s orders attending there to have 12d., and each other 6d., as long as the money lasted.”

He lies buried in the south aisle of Salle church, with his effigy in a winding sheet on a brass plate, and this under it:

“Here lyeth John Brygge vnder this Marbil ston
 Whos sowle our Lord Jesu have mercy vpon
 For in this World worthily he lived many a Day
 And here has Godd as beried and cowched vnder Clay
 To! Frindes see, whatever ye be, pray for me, I you pray
 As ye me se, in such Degre, so schal ye be, another day.”

EDMUND BRIGGES (II. 8), had an estate settled on him in Westmoreland, and is probably the ancestor of the family in that county.

SIR JOHN BRIGGE, chaplain (II. 10), in 1438 was Rector of St. Lawrence, in Norwich, was Rector of Dickleburg in 1466, and in 1466 was Rector of Berford, where he died and was buried, 1481.

THOMAS BRYGGS, of Salle, Esq., (I. 11,) by his will dated 1494, "founded a chantry priest to sing for his soul for 10 years after his decease." He married twice: 1, Margaret, dau. and co-heir of Beaupré, and 2, Margaret ——. His children were—

- I. 17. EDWARD BRIGGE, of Salle, Esq.; d. before his father.
- II. 18. THO: BRIGGS, s. t. p., Rector of Bishop's Eccles.; d. there 1550.
- III. 19. WILL: BRYGGS, a canon of the Holy Sepulchre at Thetford; subscribed the supremacy 1534.

THOMAS BRYGGS' (I. 11) wives are buried before the altar in St. James' Church, at Salle, beneath this inscription: "Orate pro animabus Thome Bregge, et Margarete, ar Margagarete Trorum eius quorum animabus propicietur deus. Amen." Thomas was interred in the Church of the Friars Minors, at Norwich, and he gave them 100 marks to sing daily for his own and his ancestors' souls.

EDWARD BRIGGE (I. 17), of Salle, Esq.; left issue by Cecily, dau. of Edward Moore, of Norfolk, Esq.:

- I. 20. JOHN BRIGGS, of Salle, Esq., son and heir.
- II. 21. THO: BRYGGE, of North Wotten, Esq., anno 1546.

- IV. 23. WILL: BRYGGS, Prior of the Black Friars, anno 1507.
- V. 24. SIR THOMAS BRYGGS, clerk, Rector of Brisingham, 1539; D. D., 1549; Chaplain to the Lady Mary, sister of King Edward VI. and Queen after him; was Vicar of Kenninghall, and in 1556 Vicar of Windham.

JOHN BRIGGS (I. 20), m. a dau. of Thomas Quaplode, and had

- I. 25. JAMES BRIGGS, of Salle, Esq.

THO: BRYGGE (II. 21), m. Elizabeth Mounteyn, and had ch.:

- I. 26. AUGUSTINE.
- II. 27. OLIVER, who settled in Salop; d. 1596.
- III. 28. SAMUEL, of Wakefield, York; of King's College, Cambridge.
- IV. 29. HENRY, mathematician, Prof. Geometry in Oxford; born at Warley Wood, Halifax, York, 1556; d. 26 Jan. 1630. "In 1617 visited Napier at Edinburgh, and induced him to make that change in his recently invented system of logarithms, which has made logarithms one of the most practical useful inventions of that age."—Appleton's Cyclopædia.

JAMES BRIGGS (I. 25), m. Mary, dau. of Tho: Estoteville or Stuteville, of Suffolk, and had dau. and sole heiress Mary, who m. John Fountain, of Salle, Esq. (This consummated the union of the Briggs and Fountain families, alluded to at the commencement of this extract.) Their eldest son at his baptism had his mother's surname given him.

AUGUSTINE BRIGGS (I. 26), settled in Norwich 1626, m. and had son—

I. 30. AUGUSTINE; b. 1617; d. and buried at Norwich 1684.

OLIVER BRIGGS (II. 27), m. dau. of Humphrey Coningsby, of Newsolers, Esq., and had son—

I. 32. JOSEPH, A. M., Vicar of Kirkburton, York.

AUGUSTINE BRIGGS, (I. 30), m. Elizabeth Aldred, who d. before him. He being strenuous for his royal master (Charles I) in the late rebellion, was turned out of the Court of Aldermen by the rebels, but was restored again at the Restoration, and elected Sheriff that very year (1660). He was one of those gentlemen who joined the Earl of Newcastle's forces in the siege of Lynn, in 1643. A sword is shown with a label in Briggs' own handwriting tied thereto: "This I wore at the Siege of Linn in the servis of the Royal Martyr K. Charles the first. A. Briggs." His children were: 1. AUGUSTINE, who d. 1704. 2. WILLIAM, b. 1650; d. at Town Mallings, Kent, 4 Sep., 1704. He was a physician of great repute. In 1676 he published "Ophthalmology," and was soon after created M. D. at Cambridge. In 1682 he wrote his "Theory of Vision," and in 1685 published a Latin version of the same, at the request of Sir Isaac Newton, with whom he was intimate, and who wrote the preface thereto."—Appleton's Cyclopædia. 3. ALEXANDER. 4. RICHARD. 5. ROBERT. 6. JAMES. 7. MARY.

In the same work are given extracts from many wills of this family of Briggs, together with the localities of estates formerly in their possession, as also monumental inscriptions, etc., etc.

"Burke's Peerage" gives descriptions of the arms of the families of Briggs for different counties in England, including Westmoreland, York, Norfolk, Brecknock, London, Shropshire, etc., etc.

THE FIRST SETTLERS OF THE NAME IN AMERICA.

Clement Briggs, of Plymouth.

THE earliest mention of the name of Briggs in this country appears in the records of the Plymouth Colony, wherein one Clement Briggs is said to have reached this continent in the good ship "Fortune," of fifty-five tons burthen, on the 9th of November, 1621. He must have been a person of some importance in the colony, as he was thought worthy of "special mention" by Bradford, in his letter to John Winthrop, in 1631. Clement removed to Dorchester in 1630-1, where he united his fortunes with Miss Joan Allen in a matrimonial alliance; and the unfortunate Constable, Thomas Stoughton, who assisted in conferring this happiness upon the "first Briggs in America," was mulcted in the sum of five pounds for some infringement of the azure regulations of the Colony, by the court which held its sitting in the month of March, 1631.

Clement and his Joan resided in Dorchester but two years, whence he removed to Weymouth, where he is found to be a resident in the year 1633. Here the troubles of his married life, begun with such financial disaster (to the Constable) on his wedding day, were continued. He had several sons born unto him, and, as says the chronicle, which must carry sadness into all the families of the name at the present day: "Grievous is our feeling of regret at finding the court, in June, 1638, led to forbid the wife to come into the company of Arthur Warren, as we are compelled to fear the man was imprudent." This is another evidence of the sufferings and privations of our forefathers in their endeavors to settle and populate the Western Hemisphere. Clement must have had early relief from the presence of the "fickle Joan," and the annoyances of the Lothario mentioned, for we find, a few years later, 12,-23,-1648 (the date of Clement's will), that he had another wife, Elizabeth, which would indicate that Joan had either been "sent for," or disposed of by the divorce court.

His will was "testified vpon oath, 24,-8,-1650," before Mr. Bellingham, wherein he disposed of lands in Plymouth and Weymouth valued at "sume totall, £65, 7s." Elizabeth, relict of Clement, deposed 28th July, 1659.

Clement is the only Briggs who has been identified with any positive place of residence in England (the place of origin of all the first comers), and this only through the medium of an affidavit made before Thomas Prence, Governor, 29th August, 1638, in which Clement affirms that he was living, about the year 1616, "with Mr. Samuel Lathame, Barmundsey Streete, Southwarke, Englande." It is to be regretted that we know so little of the life and character of Clement Briggs which is undoubtedly owing to the fact that the daily papers of that period employed no one to write up obituary notices; but we may be consoled with the knowledge that he was a man who made "his mark," as witness the signature to his will.

Clement left a respectable family of boys, who are, in a great measure, responsible for the prevalence of the name in the State of Massachusetts, particularly in the eastern and southeastern counties.

His children, as shown by the ancient Colonial records, were:

2. THOMAS; born 14th June, 1633.
3. JONATHAN; born 14th June, 1635.
4. JOHN; born ———
5. DAVID; born August, 1640.
6. CLEMENT; born 1st January, 1643.
7. REMOND; born ———

All of whom (together with his wife, Elizabeth, executrix) are mentioned in the will before alluded to.

Jo: or John Brigges, of Sandwich.

The next early adventurer of the name, as shown by the records, was one Jo: or John Brigges, who was enrolled as a passenger for New England in the "Blessing, John Lester, Master," on the 13th July, 1635, at which period he was twenty years of age.

John settled at Sandwich, Massachusetts, where he evidently married one Katherine ———. He did not reside long at Sandwich, but died in the course of a few short years, leaving his widow, Katherine, in charge of his estate, amounting to £55 2s., and two children, Samuel and Sarah, to mourn his untimely end. His estate was administered on the 1st June, 1641.

The descendants of John, for obvious reasons, are not as numerous as those of Clement; but still there are many families in southeastern Massachusetts and

Rhode Island who attribute all their mundane troubles to the fact that John married Katherine, and settled at Sandwich.

Walter Briggs, of Scituate.

Another Briggs is found to be a resident of Scituate, Massachusetts, Walter by name, who is recorded in that town in the year 1643, as bearing arms. He purchased a farm there in 1651, of Mr. Timothy Hatherly, a prominent "real estate agent," and had the reputation of being "an useful man in the plantation." His will, dated 1684, names wife, Frances, and sons John, James and Cornelius, and a daughter, Hannah, who married a Winslow.

The sons of Walter partook of the military nature of their father, John being a captain, James a lieutenant, and Cornelius an ensign in "King Philip's war;" and I have no doubt assisted to the best of their ability in eliminating the aboriginal element from the soil of New England.

The sons of Walter had a numerous progeny, and their descendants may be found in nearly all the counties of southeastern Massachusetts.

John Briggs, of Newport, R. I.

The facts which I have been able to gather in reference to this individual are presented in full in the following pages, as he is the party from whom the Briggs, of East and West Chester, in the State of New York, are descended.

The sources from which this information has been gathered consist of the records, both town and colonial, of Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New York, together with such abstracts as I could procure from church and family registers, and such genealogies as have been published, and which contain any allusion to the name of Briggs.

The following Briggs' are mentioned in the early Colonial records; but I am of the opinion, from the varied orthography of their names, and the absence of any records showing them to be the ancestors of any later generations bearing the name of Briggs, that their names are Bridge, or Bridges, and that they are in no way connected with the Briggs family proper.

Bond's History of Watertown, Massachusetts, page 95: Beriah, son of Henry and Hannah Briggs, born 22d September, 1649.

Savage's Geneal. Dictionary: Edmund Briggs, of Topsfield, Massachusetts, 1667, who is also referred to in the same volume as Edmund Bridges, of the same place, who married, 11th January, 1660, Sarah Towne.

Dr. Savage also mentions Matthew Briggs, of Hingham, more commonly known as Matthias. This person is also mentioned on page 252, Volume II, of the New England Historical General Register, as Matthew Bridgges. He married, May, 1648, Deborah Cushing.

In Volume XXI, of Delaware papers in the archives of the State at Albany, New York, are a number of letters to and from one John Briggs, who resided at a place called Whorekill, in West Jersey, in the years 1678, 1679 and 1680, a copy of whose autograph is hereto appended.

JOHN BRIGGS

FIRST GENERATION.

I. John Briggs,

Is found mentioned first at Newport, Rhode Island, where he was admitted a freeman, 1st October, 1638, according to the Colonial records; and in the following year, 30th April, 1639, he was made a citizen of the town of Portsmouth, on the island of Rhode Island. He was evidently a busy man in the governmental affairs of the Colony, as he is often alluded to in the records of the Colony of Rhode Island.

In Volume I of said records we find that he was a resident of Portsmouth in 1642; admitted a freeman of Aqueductneck, 1st, 8th month, 1640, and was living at Portsmouth in 1655. He, with two others of Portsmouth, were appointed commissioners for building a prison. He was also deputed "to take care of Thomas Gening's case, and to treat with his wife, and to declare ye court's mind concerning her, and to bring a true report to ye next Court of Trialls;" and also to examine the private arms of the settlers in Portsmouth.

In March, 1642, he was suspended in his vote till he had given satisfaction for his offenses. The "censure of suspicion," however, was remitted on the 19th of September, 1642. On the 16th of May, 1648, he was chosen an Assistant, or member of the General Court for Portsmouth. He was also appointed a commissioner for uniting the four towns of Providence Plantations, 31st August, 1654, and sat in the meetings of the Commission, September 12th, 1654, 22d May, 28th June, 1655; March 11th and March 17th, 1655-6.

He was a person of some fortune, as would appear from purchases of land made by him at various times. On the 6th of October, 1662, he purchased a tract of land at (Dartmouth) New Plymouth, of John Dunham, Sr., of Plymouth,* the transfer of which is recorded in Colonial Record of Land Evidence (Rhode Island), Book I, page 264, in substance as follows :

John Dunham, Sen., of Plymouth, yeoman, for £42, to John Briggs, Sen., of Portsmouth, yeoman, all my lot or portion of land at Acushnet, Cookfet, and places adjacent in New Plymouth.

Contented to, by Abigail, wife of said John Dunham, Oct. 6, 1662.

JOHN DUNHAM. [SEAL.]

This is probably the same tract of land a portion of which he deeded to Phillip Cumming, of Dartmouth, on the 20th June, 1687, as appears by Taunton Records, Book IV, p. 236.

In Book I, p. 268, Col. Land Evidence, appears the following disposal of land at Dartmouth by John Briggs :

John Briggs, Sen^r, of Portsmouth, yeoman, for love and affection, to his second son, Thomas Briggs, and Mary, his wife, $\frac{1}{4}$ of a purchaser's share in Dartmouth (New Plymouth), at Ponaganfett, containing 35 acres, bounded N. by land given by me to my son, John Briggs, E. by the cove or creek, S. by land of me, said John Briggs, Sen^r, W. by land lying in common, with meadows, uplands, &c., belonging to said $\frac{1}{4}$ part.

If said Thomas decease, his said wife Mary to enjoy the same, if she continue a widow, during her life.

If said Thomas or his wife Mary rent the same, I, or my successors in my land adjoining, to have the refusal. Mar. 11, 1678-9.

In the same book, pp. 201-202, occurs the following :

John Briggs, Sen^r, of Portsmouth, for love, etc., to my eldest son John Briggs, of Portsmouth, $\frac{1}{2}$ of purchaser's share of land in Dartmouth, said land adjoining to land of the Widow Fancy, at Ponaganfett. Condition that his wife Hannah, if she survive him, shall enjoy the same during her life, or while she remains a widow. If she marry again, then to my grandson John, second son of my son John, and his heirs male; and if he die without issue, then to my son John's next younger son, and so on. In case of failure of all, then to my son John's eldest son Edward, (all to male heirs,) and if he fail, to the nearest heir male of my body, he paying to the daughters of my son John, or their heirs then living, £20, and to the others equivalent (in or as money). A further agreement concerning the above, on p. 205, is as follows:

And it is further agreed, and I, the within named John Briggs, Sen^r, do give and grant to my said son John Briggs, and his heirs as within expressed, that the part or half of my said share of land within given, the bounds thereof shall comprehend and take in all the land in the said share which my son John hath broken up and cleared, although the said bounds should extend the one-half or moiety of the said share. The will of John Briggs, Sen^r, of Portsmouth, as recorded in the Council Book of Portsmouth, R. I., Vol. II, p. 278, is dated 19 Apl., 1690, and was probated 9th mo., 17th, 1690, and is substantially as follows:

Item. I give and bequeath to my well beloved son Enoch Briggs, all and every part of my lands, hereditaments and Real Estate whatsoever, and wheresoever the same being, to me belonging, and the same to my son Enoch Briggs, his heirs and assigns forever; and I also give and bequeath unto my said son Enoch Briggs, all and every part of my personal estate in goods, chattels, debts and monies whatsoever to me belonging, excepting only the payment of my just debts, and the several legacies by me herein given and bequeathed.

Item. I give and bequeath to my oldest son John Briggs, also to my son Thomas Briggs, to each of them one shilling in New England money. I also give and bequeath to my daughter Susanna Northway, one shilling in money.

The principal reason of my bequeathing to my said sons and daughter one shilling, is to prevent their future claims to any part of my estate, they having long since received their portions and are gone from me.

Item. I give and bequeath unto my son Job Briggs, three ewes and two weather lambs, and also two heifers, to be delivered unto him, or his lawful order, within twelve months after my decease.

SECOND GENERATION.

The children of John Briggs, Senior, (1) and who survived him, would, by the foregoing evidence, appear to have been—

- I. 2. JOHN; born ———
- II. 3. THOMAS; born ———
- III. 4. SUSANNA; born ———
- IV. 5. ENOCH; born ———
- V. 6. JOB; born ———

THIRD GENERATION.

1. 2. John Briggs,

Married Hannah, daughter of Edward Fisher, of Portsmouth, and her father deeded to her land, situated probably in Portsmouth, on the 24 May, 1677, and possibly as a marriage portion. The deed was sworn to Nov. 11, 1681, before George Lawton, Assistant, and is recorded in Book 1, page 231, Col. Land Evidence, R. I.

On pp. 347-8 of same book appears the following land transfer:

John Bailey, of Newport, Dominion of New England, for £146 silver money of New England, to John Briggs, Jr., of Portsmouth, a farm at and near Packit brook, in Punkatett, Bristol Co., New England, bounded S. by Little Compton North line, W. by Packit brook and the highway, N. by Major Poulding's land, 50 poles wide and a mile in length, 100 acres; and also $\frac{1}{8}$ th part of a share of all the undivided lands in Little Compton, with a dwelling house on it, where David Lake lately dwelt. Feb. 14, 1687.

JOHN ^{his} BAILEY. [SEAL.]
mark

(Release by Sutton, wife of John Bailey, acknowledged before Peleg Sanford, Justice.)

He afterward purchased more land at Tiverton from Edward Bayley, 17th Feb., 1699-1700, which transfer is recorded in Taunton Records, Book V, p. 163.

On the 2d Nov., 1689, while resident on the land at Little Compton purchased of John Bailey (1687), he sold the land at Dartmouth he received from his father (1679), to James Akin, of Portsmouth. (Taunton Rec., B. II, p. 124.)

According to the deed of gift from his father of the Dartmouth land, Oct. 14, 1679, he had sons—

I. 7. EDWARD.

II. 8. JOHN,

And, possibly—

III. 9. JOB.

IV. 10. WILLIAM; b. 1650 (Little Compton Records),

And, perhaps, other sons and daughters.

II. 3. Thomas Briggs.

Of him, but little is known further than that in addition to the fact that his wife was named Mary, he received from his father other lands in Dartmouth, 1st May, 1688. (Taunton Rec., B. VIII, p. 379.)

Whether he had issue, the records I have had access to, fail to reveal.

III. 4. Susanna Briggs,

Married, as indicated by her father's will, a man named Northway. Nothing further can I learn of her, although she may have been the person who, by the Records of Portsmouth, married Joseph Cook, 19th April, 1692, and perhaps afterward married Northway.

IV. 5. Enoch Briggs,

Married, 2d March, 1699, Hannah Willcox (probably a widow), and his children who survived him as shown by his will recorded on the Council Book of Portsmouth, Vol. III, pp. 148-9, bearing date 2d June, 1726, and probated 26th Apl., 1734, were—

- I. 11. ABIGAIL; wife of John Butts.
- II. 12. SARAH; probably m. Stephen Sherman, 28th Apl., 1740.
- III. 13. SUSANNA, m. William Cook, 9th Apl., 1724.

The will of Hannah Briggs, the wife of Enoch, is recorded in same book, p. 178, and is dated 14th June, 1734, and was proved 8th Nov., 1736.

V. 6. Job Briggs,

According to Little Compton Records, m. Mary ———, who died 23d June, 1769. His children, as shown on said Records, were—

- I. 14. OLIVER; b. 27th Dec., 1716.
- II. 15. WILLIAM; b. 24th Apl., 1718; d. Aug., 1802.
- III. 16. JOSEPH; b. 4th Jan., 1720; d. Jan., 1758.
- IV. 17. JEREMIAH; b. 1721; d. Sept., 1764.
- V. 18. DEBORAH; b. 1723.
- VI. 19. BATHSHEBA; b. 1724; m. Job Hunt.
- VII. 20. ABIGAIL; b. 1726.
- VIII. 21. WALTER; b. 1728.
- IX. 22. LOVET; b. 1730.

His will (Taunton Records), dated 25th Feb., 1725, is probated 8th Apl., 1728, and mentions his widow, Mary, and Esek Carr as executors, and names as heirs his four eldest sons, William, Oliver, Joseph and Jeremiah. The date of probate (1728) makes it a close shave for his son Walter, said to have been born that year; and the infant Lovet (born 1730) is placed in a very unpleasant predicament, having been born two years after his father's decease,—but then they managed things differently a hundred and fifty years ago.

FOURTH GENERATION.

I. 7. Edward Briggs,

Married Sarah ———, and, as appears by the Records of Tiverton, R. I., was blessed with the following children:

- I. 23. DEBORAH; b. 11th March, 1693.
- II. 24. HANNAH; b. 19th Dec., 1698.

FIFTH GENERATION.

III. 25. Walter Briggs,

Born in the town of Tiverton, R. I., 19th Feb., 1701, was the eldest son of Edward and Sarah Briggs, of that place. He was a carpenter by trade, and at the age of twenty-one years or thereabouts emigrated to the province of New York, and is found to be in West Chester 13th Mar., 1728, when he was a witness to a deed given by Daniel Turner to Ebenezer Haviland; and, as evidenced by a deed executed 16th June, 1736, was a resident of the town of Hackensack, in the province of New Jersey. After the last mentioned date he became a resident of the town of East (or West) Chester, in the state of New York, where nearly all of his numerous descendants were born.

He married, 24th May, 1730, Lidiyah, youngest daughter of Josiah, Jr., and Abigail (Huestis) Hunt, of Throg's Neck, whose marriage license was dated 24th Dec., 1695.

The date of the decease of either Walter or his wife is not positively known, but his wife survived him, as is evidenced by his will, which bears date 11th Jan., 1783, and was admitted to probate 8th July, 1789. He (Walter) was a person of considerable landed estate in the towns of East and West Chester, and "The Yonkers," and also purchased of "the elders of the Dutch church" at Fordham, fifty acres of ground, which he devised by his will to the children of his eldest son, Josiah, who deceased previous to his father's death.

Walter also appears to have been a patron of the patriarchal institution of slavery, for in a "list of negros in Capt. Joshua Hunt foot company district," taken 9th April, 1755, we find that Walter Brigs was possessed of a male, Newport, (evidently named for the home of the ancestors of Walter Briggs,) and a female, Nanney.

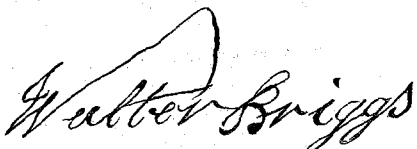

The children of Walter Briggs and Lidian, his wife, were as follows:

- I. 65. SARAH; b. 8th June, 1732.
- II. 66. TABITHA; b. 18th April, 1734; d. — May, 1756, unmarried.
- III. 67. ABIGAIL; b. 30th March, 1736.
- IV. 68. JOSIAH; b. 14th July, 1738.
- V. 69. EDWARD; b. 28th Jan., 1741 (Feb. 18); d. 14th Aug., 1824.
- VI. 70. GEORGE; b. 6th Dec., 1743; d. 1st Jan., 1835.
- VII. 71. BATHSHEBA; b. 6th Nov., 1745; d. 16th Dec., 1786.

THE WILL OF SAMUEL BRIGGS.

In the name of God, Amen:—I, Samuel Briggs, of the town and county of Westchester, in the State of New York, being of sound mind and memory, and considering the uncertainty of this frail and transitory life, do therefore make, ordain, publish and declare this my last Will and Testament, that is to say. In the first place I order and direct my Executors hereinafter named, to pay out of my personal property, that is to say, out of the money which I have or shall have at use or otherwise at the time of my decease, all my just debts and funeral charges.

In the second place I give and bequeath unto my two sons to-wit, Isaac V. Briggs and James M. Briggs jointly, their bond which I hold against them to secure to me the payment of the sum of three thousand dollars, with all the interest which may be due thereon at the time of my decease.

In the third place I do hereby give and bequeath unto my two daughters to-wit, Mary Ann Stead, widow of Robert Stead, of the City, County and State of New York, and Elizabeth Paddock, widow of Prince W. Paddock, of the town of Yonkers, County of Westchester aforesaid, each one equal third part of all the money which I now have or may have at use or at interest, or otherwise at the time of my decease, and of all money arising from the sale of all such real estate which I may be seized or possessed of—the time of my decease which I hereby direct to be sold at public auction or otherwise within two years after my decease, and of all my personal estate except that which is especially bequeathed in this my Will, after the payments of my debts as aforesaid, and except the sum of three thousand dollars, bequeathed to my two sons in the second place of this my Will, and the remaining one third of the monies above named out of which I have bequeathed to two of my daughters I do hereby give and bequeath to the heirs of my daughter Emeline C. Robinson, wife of Gilbert Robinson of the town of Westchester aforesaid, in the manner and form following, to-wit:

It is my will, and I hereby direct my executors hereinafter named, to place the said one-third of monies securely at interest, on Bond and Mortgage at legal rate, and that the interest accruing or arising therefrom be paid annually to my said daughter Emeline C. Robinson during her natural life, and after her decease, and dating from the time of her decease, should her said husband survive her, I will that an annuity of one hundred dollars per annum be paid out of said income or interest, to her said husband, Gilbert Robinson, until her youngest heir that shall arrive at the age of twenty one years, shall attain to that age, or until the time of said Gilbert Robinson's decease, should he not survive until such attainment of age of said heir, and I will that the balance of said interest after deducting said annuity, be paid for the support of said heirs of my said daughter Emeline C.

Robinson until they shall respectively arrive at the age of sixteen years, and on each heir's arriving at, or attaining the age of sixteen years, it is my will that such portion of interest as may accrue to each be added annually to his or her proportion of principal after the age of said sixteen years, and my Executors hereinafter named, retaining in trust so much of said principal as may be necessary to secure the payment of the said annuity. I will, that each heir on attaining, if a boy, to the age of twenty-one years, and if a girl, to the age of eighteen years, be paid one equal share of the principal after providing for the annuity aforesaid, with his or her proportion of the interest which may have accrued thereon, and that on the arrival or attainment of the last surviving heir to the age of twenty one years, then the annuity shall cease, and the whole of the remaining principal shall be equally divided among the said heirs of said Emeline C. Robinson, and in case of the decease of the said Gilbert Robinson before the said youngest surviving heir shall arrive at the age of twenty-one years, then the annuity ceases at his death and the whole principal and interest shall be divided equally among the said heirs as they shall respectively arrive at the ages above specified, each one's proportion of interest to be paid as above specified, according to the time that each one's Share may have been at interest. But should an all-wise Providence so direct that my said daughter Emeline C. Robinson shall survive until all her heirs arrive at the respective ages of eighteen years and twenty-one years, then it is my Will that at her decease all the said one-third of monies hitherto in trust for her use to be divided equally among her surviving heirs.

In the Fourth place I order and direct and it is my will that my Executors hereinafter named be allowed the full term of two years from and thence next ensuing the date of my decease, in which to collect all money, or monies which may be due me by Bond or otherwise at the time of my decease, or to become due, and to dispose of and convert into money all such real estate as I may possess at the time of my decease, and to pay over, or put at interest said monies as directed and provided for in the third place of this, my Will.

In the Fifth place, I give and bequeath unto my said three daughters, to-wit: Mary Ann Stead, Elizabeth Paddock and Emeline C. Robinson, all and singular my household furniture of every description of which I may die possessed, to be divided equally among them by my Executors hereinafter named.

And Lastly, I do hereby constitute and appoint my two sons Isaac V. Briggs and James M. Briggs, and my friend James Bolton, Sen'r., of the Town of Westchester aforesaid, Executors of this my last Will and Testament hereby revoking all other wills by me made.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this third* day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five.

Samuel Briggs

II. 209. Isaac Varian Briggs,

Married, 4th June, 1840, Elizabeth, dau. of Richard and Clarissa (White) Barker; she born Monday, 27th Feb., 1819; d. 28th Feb., 1875. Isaac V. Briggs was born at Yonkers, and lived on his father's farm near Williams' Bridge, N. Y., until he was twenty-one years of age, when he went to New York city and engaged in the grocery business. He kept a store on the corner of Hester and Norfolk streets, in the 13th ward, for a few years, then built a store and residence on the corner of Suffolk and Hester streets, where nearly all of his children were born. He sold out his business at the latter place, and went into the wholesale trade at 226 Fulton street in partnership with Abraham B. Valentine. At the close of the partnership he again engaged in the retail business at the corner of East Broadway and Clinton street, removing his residence from the "old homestead" in the 13th ward to the house 225 East Broadway, which he purchased of Jeremiah L. Sackett, Esq. Thence he removed to Brooklyn, about the year 1863, where he resided with his brother-in-law, Titus Barker, at 10 Tompkins Place, from which place he removed to Harlem, where he resided at 235 East 124th street, until his decease. Shortly after the removal to Harlem he retired from active business.

Isaac V. Briggs

He was emphatically an industrious man, ambitious for the well-being of his family, stern yet kind-hearted, loving and charitable. Inflexibly honest in word and deed, and though he gave no adhesion to the creed of any church, his whole life was governed by the principle which should be the foundation of all religion, "Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you."

He died on the 10th Dec., 1877, having lived beyond the allotted "three score years and ten," sincerely regretted by all who knew him, and mourned by his children, who looked upon him as one of the best of fathers.

His wife, who deceased nearly three years previously, was most happily constituted for the helpmeet of her husband. Like him, she was possessed of most indomitable energy, and ably seconded his efforts for the promotion of the welfare of his house. Her whole life was a chapter of sacrifices for her family and friends, and in her decease the mantle of sorrow overspread the hearts of all the many to whom she was endeared by the numerous acts of kindness with which her life was filled.

Their children, all of whom were born in the city of New York, were—

In Feb., 1873, was chosen Secretary of the Northern Ohio Fair Association, which position he now holds. He has also held the Secretaryship of the Masonic Temple Association since its organization in 1871; was Secretary and Treasurer of the Euclid Avenue Opera House during its corporate existence, and is now Secretary of the Union Club, Cleveland (trotting) Club and Forest City Jockey Club. In the fall of 1877 he was honored by a nomination for the important position of Treasurer of Cuyahoga county, by the Democratic Convention, and despite the fact that the county is generally Republican by a majority of three thousand, was defeated by a majority of but two hundred and fourteen. He is now (in addition to the above employments) a partner in the printing establishment of Fairbanks, Briggs & Co. He has been prominently identified with the Masonic fraternity of Cleveland since 1868, and was secretary to the committee having charge of the arrangements for the "Triennial Conclave of Knights Templar," which convened at Cleveland in August, 1877, and which was the largest assemblage of the character ever known. He married, 1st June, 1865, Ada L., eldest daughter of Beals and Mary Jane (Chapman) Thomas, b. 26th May, 1846, at Stafford Springs, Conn. Children:

IN CONCLUSION,

It is hoped that the recipient of this book has been amply repaid by its perusal, as the compiler has endeavored to make it more interesting and entertaining than a directory. It might have contained much more information, but for the reasons given in the preface.

However, should these few pages act as an incentive for a more thorough and general inquiry into the ancestry of the various branches of the now numerous "Briggs family," the information herein contained will not have been collated in vain.

The author would be pleased to furnish, (gratis) from his collections such information as they may contain, to such as might desire to prosecute further inquiry in order to establish their own particular lineage, and to this end would solicit correspondence; and he would likewise especially desire all those in possession of facts regarding the family, or those who may be able to add to, or correct any of the statements herein contained, to communicate them as early as may be convenient.

As this, I believe, is the first publication of the kind in regard to the family, there may perchance be some who may regret the appearance of even this trifle—to such, I would offer this consolation—there have been but two hundred copies published.

SAM. BRIGGS.
