EXTRACTS FROM THE FOREWORD TO THE FIRST ISSUE

This manuscript is a private collection of genealogical information and family history which has been prepared to preserve for posterity all that I have been able to learn about the Bruns and Brons families. It is built upon a 1920 over-all description of the families, their origin and descent, as told the compiler by Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns, eldest son of Jens. The plan for the genealogy suggested itself to the compiler then, when it was learned that the different families of the name Bruns in the Portland, Me. area---the immigrant progenitor of the related Brons families of west-coast areas, came to Portland and there used the name Bruns---were all descended from the same common "old country" ancestor. It seemed to the compiler that such a fine, large and interesting family deserved to have its history recorded in commemoration of its fathers. This paper is a tardy beginning in that direction. The knowledge gleaned in 1920 was supplemented off and on for thirty-odd years and has been greatly augmented and in most part corroborated during the past fifteen months by: contributions from many other members of the family; by records from the parish church register at Bruns, Denmark; and by a limited research into vital and other records. The information may be considered to be as of mid-1954.

I have endeavored to get information from as many sources as possible, particularly an appropriate history of each family from representative members among the descendants of the original families, in an effort to verify statements and to ensure maximum accuracy. However, being of limited pecuniary means, I have not made an exhaustive search of vital records, nor have I verified those records provided by others. Principal and doubtful records have been documented wherever possible, in an attempt to eliminate all guesswork and make the record as complete and reliable as possible within the means available to me.

Omissions and incomplete records are for the most part due to neglect on the part of those failing to respond to letters of inquiry. Letters describing the work and requesting information were sent to all members of the family personally known to me and to many others whose addresses were provided. Some have refused through neglect or a lack of interest to furnish information requested. If errors exist in names and dates, it is because I have reported what has been imparted to me by those who appeared best informed. The compiler will be glad to have any inaccuracies brought to his attention so that they may be corrected by circular letter.

I have endeavored to present the information in an orderly manner, and with due regard for the rights of the individuals as respects the privacy of their personal lives, yet to account for all descendants of the surname Bruns and Brons. The lack of interest by some, however, has added to the burden, making it necessary to obtain required information solely from public records.

While parts are fragmentary, the material will serve the purpose of aiding, and it is hoped of encouraging, some member of the family with the means as well as the bent, in preparing a more worthy work. For the present, however, the facts herein presented will keep the fathers in honored remembrance.

PREFACE to the SECOND ISSUE

Owing to the demand for copies of the earlier work from sources outside the families, the compiler acquired the desire to enhance its usefulness by furthering the work therein begun. The earlier work, compiled and prepared as it was primarily as a private family history and acknowledged incomplete, contained many deficiencies and much conjectural material in the pre-emigration histories of the many Danish-born members of the families. It has been the primary endeavor since, therefore, in spite of poor health, to obtain precise information about the background of the families in Denmark, without which the history of their origin and descent of the members is obviously incomplete. No easy job because of the complexity of name changes.

Having acquired a wealth of new information demanding inclusion in the work as a consequence of the follow-up research, and a few records provided by others needing revision, the compiler deemed it incumbent upon him to take in hand a new book in which the new information is adapted with a revision of that already published. This seemed the more necessary because of the nature of the information collected. The new work, presented under a slightly different title but new plan to meet the requirements of the new information, supersedes the earlier. It is divided into two parts; the first dealing with the background and lineage of the families in Denmark, the second with the settlement, genealogy and descendants of the immigrant families.

The new information, chiefly from Danish parochial registers, here presented for the first time to researchers and families alike, fills many deficiencies and corrects a few errors in the previously published history of all the immigrant members of the families born Brøns, and enlarges upon their ancestry. It goes far towards eliminating all conjectural material to be found in the earlier work and allows of a more finished form being given the book. The favorable reception of the earlier work has assured the designed purpose of perpetuating the memory of the family fathers. And the increase and diffusion of family knowledge among the members resulting from its distribution among them, has awakened new interest in family ties.

My sincere thanks to Pastors K. Riisberg Jensen, Anders Malling and Fred. Nicolaisen, Rectors of the parishes of Rapsted, Brøns and Ballum respectively, in Denmark, to whom we are deeply indebted for certified records and documentary letters containing factual information from their respective parish registers. We are further indebted to Pastor Jensen for photographs and a description of the Rapsted Brøns' ancestral home, and to Pastor Malling for a copy of his article "Brøns."

My obligations are again acknowledged to the many members of the families who kindly cooperated by furnishing material; all are referred to in the enumerations. Above all grateful acknowledgement is made to Mrs. A. Iver (Ebbesen) Poulsen for her time and correspondence in collecting information and discussing problems. And to Miss Agnes Brøns, by whose courtesy we have the translations from the Danish. The descendants are indebted to all for this opportunity to know their ancestors.

E x p l a n a t i o n s

Each person of the surname Bruns, Brons, and Brøns (the latter includes male ancestors of other surnames), is given a consecutive number in the order of his recording, his number being used when reference is made to him. This number may be found in the index. The symbol # before the consecutive number denotes that the full record of the person named will be found under this number appearing in the center of a page further on.

Male and female lines are traced as far as practicable. Females are noted in their proper place. The full history of the descendants of females is noted in the mother's record.

The American history of each immigrant person named Bruns or Brons (Brøns in Denmark), including immigrant female lines, begins on a new, generally odd-numbered, page; each such record being separate and complete, arranged in the order of their recording in the Danish genealogy. The immigrant female lines are sub-headed by the surname of the husband, where married. For arrangement and check-list of the immigrant persons whose records are contained in the American genealogy, see page 29.

In the enumerations of the American lines, the lists of children state the given names only; the surname will be found in each instance immediately preceding the lists. In the female lines, children are numbered in parenthesis, viz: (1) (2) (3), etc., and the names are underscored; the grandchildren with: numerals, viz: (I) (II) (III), etc., and in capitols; the great-grandchildren, viz: (A) (B) (C), etc.; and great-great-grandchildren, viz: (a) (b) (c), etc.

BRØNS KIRKE

BRØNS CHURCH

Brøns church pictured above, one of the stateliest and most romantic of country churches in Denmark, is a veritable museum in itself. The main building, constructed of Rhineland Tufa, dates from the 12th century. The lofty bell tower containing 3 bells and a 300 year old clock with four dials, having been added about 1500. In olden days it was the district church for Hviding District, which may account for its large size. There are 74 pews which date from 1700. Its pulpit is a piece of Renaissance work from 1605. The altar piece is from 1634. When the edifice was restored in 1948, the church's old monstrance---a hollow oaken block with old paintings---was found hidden in the altar. Old paintings of religious subjects dating from before the Reformation; portraits of Luther and Melancton; beamed ceiling with painted arabesques dating from 1694; chandelier from about 1700; Epitaphs from 1668; organ facade from 1699, and old granite baptismal font, elaborate carvings, friezes, painted-glass windows and lectern, adorn the interior. A tourist's attraction, this medieval church is of particular interest to the descendants, for not only did it see the struggle for religious freedom under the Reformation, but it also was the scene of their ancestor's baptism.*

PART I

THE BACKGROUND and LINEAGE of THE FAMILIES in DENMARK

(Deals with the origin and Danish descendants of Niels Andersen-Terp, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, common ancestor of all the Bruns and Brons families enumerated in this genealogy, who settled in Brøns in 1819.)

I n t r o d u c t i o n

The ancestral home of the families lies in Brøns, parish town of the Seaside parish of that name, situated in the northwestern part of the South Jutland Province of Schleswig (Slesvig), now commonly called North Schleswig. All Schleswig, a duchy of Denmark until 1864 when it was taken by Prussia and Austria, was annexed to Prussia in 1866 as part of the province of Schleswig-Holstein. In 1920 as a result of a plebiscite held in accordance with the Treaty of Versailles, the northern zone was returned to Denmark. Always Danish-minded, the parish voted 95 percent Danish for the return of Schleswig in 1920. It is significant that none of the emigrant persons named in this work were born in the southern zone since remaining under German control, including intermarrying families. With two or three exceptions only, the emigrant members of the families were born before Schleswig was taken by Prussia, and with the exception of one family which emigrated in 1861, all who came from Schleswig fled from there after it was annexed to Prussia. In many instances, however, American records state that persons were born in Germany; Schleswig, Germany; or in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany, when in fact they were born in Schleswig, Denmark.

Situated ten miles south of Ribe, Brøns Parish has as its western border, the Vadehavet---a name given to the North Sea along the coast where the shore is flat and at low tide the water so shallow one may wade to the adjacent islands. The eastern border adjoins Vodder, the northern Rejsby and the south Skarbak parishes. Besides the town of Brøns situated in its midst, the parish embraces the villages of Søndernæs and Astrup in the southwestern part and Havervad and Vester Aabølling---now protected from spring tides by King Christian X's dikes---in the northwestern part. The southeastern part of the parish is occupied by "Brøns Woods"; a plantation grown up since 1882, for which the commune is indebted to the millers Lydik and Aage Jacobsen, father and son.*

Over half the inhabitants of the parish live in the town of Brøns---a charming village with rich orchards, delightful park and sundry monuments. Called "Kongeleiv" in Valdemar Sejr's landbook, Brøns got its name from Brytynæs---the headland or point where the king's steward, Bryden, lived---which by degrees became "Brønæs" and finally "Brøns." In olden days the town was the site for the king's water-gristmill, to which the whole district was "mill-bound."*

*See "Brøns" by Anders Malling, Sognepræst, Brøns, Denmark.

It is this little parish town of Brøns that we are presently concerned with, for there it was the progenitors of the emigrant families and some of their progeny were born and grew to manhood. Its historic old church, dating from the Middle Ages, was the scene of their baptism and confirmation. Their parents---the ancestor, Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else---were married in its church and settled in Brøns in 1819.

The American surnames Bruns and Brons are but variations of the family name which appears in Danish as "Brøns"; a surname formed not from the real name of the ancestor, but from the parish town of that name. Of the four brothers whose families emigrated to the U. S., the descendants of Jens(8), Jef(9), and Mads(13), use the Anglicized form (Bruns), while the descendants of Elias(10) use the variation Brons. Hence the general title Bruns-Brons-Brøns Genealogy.

The posterity of the ancestor in the U. S. is represented by the descendants of the four brothers named above. A fifth brother, Anders(12), died in Denmark without issue. Jef(9) died in Denmark also, but his widow and children emigrated to the U. S. Two of the ancestor's seven children, and two of Elias' four children, died in Denmark. Thus the American families have no Danish cousins named Brøns.

The real ancestral name of the families, it will hereafter be seen, is Andersen, but in consequence of the interchange of surnames, the family name of the progenitors of the emigrant families became "Brøns." The ancestor derived the name "Andersen" from his father, whose Christian name was "Anders," from the old custom of children being given a surname formed of their father's Christian name with the patronymic ending -sen. And from the additional custom of adding to the family name a descriptive surname used to distinguish different members of the same family, or individuals of the same name, the name Terp, relating to the place of birth, was added by the ancestor himself as a surname. Several other instances of these old customs will be found in the enumerations that follow. The earliest record of his use of the descriptive surname is in the baptismal record for the second son, Jens(8).

All but one of the ancestor's sons were baptized with a double surname. In four instances, the first of these was the family surname "Nielsen," formed of the father's Christian name, "Niels" with the patronymic ending -sen, in the same manner as the ancestor's, the other "Brøns," a descriptive surname relating to the place of birth and like the first, given to the sons only. One son, Jef(9), was given the family name "Sørensen" rather than "Nielsen"; children of the same family were sometimes given different surnames, other instances of which will also be found in the enumerations. Elias(10) was baptized "Elias Brøns" without the family surname "Nielsen." The lone girl was named "Terp." It has been implied that the name Nielsen would properly have been the real family name for the descendants of Jens(8), Elias(10) and Mads(13), and Sørensen the real family name for Jef's(9) descendants, which may well have been had the brothers not all been baptized with the descriptive surname Brøns. It is true, however, that Jens(8) was called "Nielsen" in at least one official record, and 4 of his 10 children were baptized as "Nielsen." Furthermore, Elias(10) was married under the surname "Nielsen" and 3 of his 4 children were also named "Nielsen." But the other Danish-born children of all the brothers were baptized "Brøns." All the brothers except Elias(10) were married in Denmark under their double surname. Jef(9) appears in one official record as "Sørensen." Today all Danish-born children are given the surname of the father.

6. NIELS²ANDERSEN (Anders Madsen¹), alias Niels Andersen-Terp, youngest son of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, and the common ancestor of the several immigrant families, was born 25 July 1782, in the town of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, and baptized "Niels Andersen" 28 July 1782, in the church at Bramming.Bapt.R. He ("Niels Andersen Terp") died in the town and parish of Brøns, (Hviding District, Tønder County), Denmark, 15 Sept. 1866, Cottager* and Annuitant in Brøns, aged 85-1/4 years.D.R.

(Note- Old traditions have it that the ancestor was a veteran of the Napoleonic wars in Russia---he had been with Napoleon I in 1812 and joined the group that fled to the Black Sea. After seven years absence he returned home to find that a brother had usurped his rightful inheritance of their father's estate, name and, according to one tradition, his betrothed. Angered, he renounced the family; left his ancestral home; went to the west coast of Slesvig, and there settled in the town of Brøns, where he changed his name.)

The ancestor ("Niels Andersen, aged 36, man-servant on a farm in Brøns") married, 12 Feb. 1819, in the church at Brøns, ELSE JENSDATTER NEDERBY (Else, Jens' daughter Nederby - nee Jensen Nederby), aged 23, from Nør Fardrup Parish, maid-servant on a farm in Brøns.M.R. This record and the note hereafter concerning the arrival of the couple in January of the same year, is the earliest record of the families to be found in the town or parish of Brøns.

Else Jensdatter Nederby (var. Nederbye), was born in the town of Kærbøl (var. "Else Jensdatter" died 13 Jan. 1854, aged 57, in the town and parish of Brøns, "Cotter Niels Andersen Terp's wife in Brøns, born in Nør Fardrup, daughter of Jens Nielsen* there," after long-lasting suffering from rheumatism.D.R. and Mall.

Her father, Jens Christensen Nederby, Cottager and joiner at Kærbøl, in the parish of Farup, born in Ferring Parish, Vandfuld District, Ringkøbing County, was baptized 12 Mar. 1769 in the church at Ferring(Bapt.R.), son of Christen Madsen Nederby and Else Pedersen Søndergaard ("Else Pedersdatter Søndergaard") who married 5 Jan. 1762, at Ferring. Jens Christensen Nederby died 14 Aug. 1848, at Kærbøl; buried 18 Aug. in the parish of Farup. "The descriptive name 'Nederby' is the name of a village in the parish of Trans, not far from the parish of Farup; one of the ancestor's of Jens Christensen Nederby might have come from this village to Ferring." After the death of Christen Madsen Nederby (21 Nov. 1771 at Ferring, aged 42 years), "Else Pedersdatter Søndergaard" married, 8 Dec. 1775, Jonas Hansen, in the church at Ferring.Land.V.

Else's parents, Jens Christensen Nederby and Sidsel Sørensen ("Sidsel Sørensdatter") from Farup, married 29 Dec. 1795, in the church at Farup. The latter (Sidsel) was born in Farup Parish, Ribe District, Ribe County, and baptized 1 Oct. 1769, in the church at Farup(Bapt.R.), daughter of Søren Sørensen ("Søvren Søvrensen" in one record) and Birthe Andersen ("Birthe Andersdatter") at Farup, who married 6 Dec. 1760, in the church at Farup. Sidsel was buried 28 Nov. 1811, at Farup; her husband and the below-listed children survived her. Søren Jørgensen Toft at Kærbøl, became guardian to the children. After the death of Sidsel, Jens Christensen Nederby married, 21 May 1812, Else Christensen ("Else Christensdatter") from Kærbøl.Land.V.

*In one or two instances, parochial registers at Brøns show Else (wife of Niels Andersen Terp) as: "Born in Nør Fardrup, daughter of Jens Nielsen." The Landsarkivar at Viborg reported on the discrepancy as follows: "Jens Nielsen was a cottager at Kærbøl, but he does not seem to have had a child Else. To be quite sure of the case, I looked in the record of the settlement of the

Jens Christensen Nederby and wife Sidsel had the following children (surname Jensen).Land.V.:

- i Else Jensdatter, 15 years old in 1811. (b. in Kærbøl, Farup Parish; bapt. 15 May 1796, at Farup.Bapt.R.).
- ii Birthe Marie Jensdatter, 13 years old in 1811.
- iii Elisabeth Jensdatter, 11 years old in 1811.
- iv Christen Jensen, 7 years old in 1811.

Pastor Anders Malling, Sognepræst, Brøns, Denmark, to whom we are indebted for his time spent in the search of the churchbooks at Brøns and his correspondence in the form of certified records and documentary letters, had the following to say concerning the ancestor and his wife:

"They settled in the town and parish of Brøns in 1819. They were married in Brøns Church 12 Feb. 1819---an added note in the register states: 'Both vaccinated 31 Jan. 1819, by Nis Petersen in Uldrup, but it was without effect as they both had had natural smallpox.' They therefore came in January. As their first child was born a month after the wedding, they knew each other before and came to Brøns in company with one another to found their home in a new place. He took the name Terp, as I had all along thought, from the little town of that name whereat he was born.

"At their wedding was Mattis (Mathias) Jensen and Lars Willadsen, sponsors. And when their first child (Anders Nielsen Brøns(7), born 16 Mar. 1819; died 19 Aug. 1830) was baptized, the child was presented by Maren (Godmother), Lars' wife from Holmgaard (a large farm in Brøns). Among the godfathers was Mathias Jensen, farmer and innkeeper in Brøns. I conclude thereby, that Else, Jens' daughter, had been in the service of Lars and Maren Willadsen at Holmgaard. Lars was an influential man in the parish and therefore was Else's sponsor (gave her away at marriage), and Maren was Godmother to (presented for baptism) their first child. Niels Andersen Terp worked for Mathias Jensen at the Inn, as the latter was his sponsor (best man) and later one of the godfathers to the first child. It could have been the other way around, that Niels had worked at Holmgaard and Else at the Inn, but it is not likely. At their first child's baptism also, was 'Elsbe, Jens' daughter from Farup,' a godmother also, that could suffice as a sister to Else.

"Niels Andersen Terp and Else, Jens' daughter, had constant communication with her family in Nør Farup.....With his family in Bramming there was no communication, which is in keeping with family tradition."

The ancestor's oldest living descendant is Hans Nissen Brøns, youngest son of Elias(10), born 1871 in Abild, Denmark, and now living in California; one estate after him, when he died 6 July 1829. He left behind him a widow, Lene Christensdatter, but he had no children. I think it to be without any doubt, that Else Jensdatter, is the daughter of Jens Christensen Nederby and Sidsel Sørensdatter." Farup Parish is in North Jutland; variously referred to, as: "Nør Fardrup"; "Nør Farup"; and "Farup," in the records furnished.

of three descendants yet living who were born in the "old country" and one of only ~~two~~ born in Schleswig after it was annexed to Prussia.

Excepting only the son Anders N.(12), and the son Jef S.(9), all the ancestor's Danish-born descendants---rather, all others who did not die young---emigrated to Portland, Me., embracing three sons, two with wives, and the widow of another; nineteen grandchildren, one with wife; and two great-grandchildren. The American families herein enumerated have no Danish cousins of the surname Brøns. Anders N.(12) also came to Portland, but returned to Denmark after a few years and remained there; he had no issue.

(Notes- Research has established that the previously published belief of Niels A. N. Bruns(15) there was a son Søren, was unfounded. "There was not." Mall. "This is not the case; found no one of that name in the parish church-books, and I take it he never existed. I believe, therefore, that Niels A. N. Brøns' memory was confused, since on the other hand, there lived in the parish, not a brother to Jens Nielsen Brøns(8), but a brother to his father-in-law by the name of Søren Nicolaisen Schou, born in Roager Parish in 1794, married in Ballum on 29 Sept. 1822, to Maren, Jes' daughter, died in Ballum, 18 Nov. 1868, and he had three children, born 1823, 1826 and 1830."Nico.

Of the three sons who died in the U. S., the parents are stated as: "Father, Nielson Bruns; Mother, Else Bruns," in the death record for Jens(8); as: "Father, Niels Bruns; Mother, unknown," in that for Mads(13); while in the death record for Elias(10), neither of the parents' names appear.)

He is said to have been in business with Mads in Market Square there, making show cases and piano-dulcimers, and earlier to have been to Australia with Mads. It has been confirmed that Mads at least was in business in Market Square making show cases at one time, and a son of Mads stated his father told him he had been to Australia.

Niels A. N. Bruns(15) informed the compiler in 1920 that his sister Lena m. Rasmus Brodersen, son of Anders' wife, but this has proven to be but partly true, since Rasmus Brodersen who m. Lena(14) was not the son of Anders' wife but possibly her nephew.)

In addition, the confirmation record is in error as to the forename of the mother's father. In this connection, an added note on the baptismal certificate states: "Confirmation register for 1836 shows that 'Jens Nielsen Brøns, in Brøns, son of Niels Andersen Terp and Else, Niels' daughter in Brøns, born 23 Mar. 1820, and baptized 24 Mar., became confirmed in Brøns Church." (As transferred the baptismal certificate is absolutely correct, and now having examined the books twice with a month's interval, it can be stated that there were two mistakes in the above-standing quotes about the confirmation. The year of birth is stated as 1820 but should be 1821. The mother's name is stated as Else, Niels' daughter, but should be Else, Jens' daughter.) "Mall."

The swallows twittering on the roof, the storks clattering in the village, the birds singing high in the old trees, and the warm sunshine on the broad lawn before us with its mixed flower beds. In the noontime when the parents are napping, I like to sit outside in the shady walks below the old Linden. There one can hear the cuckoo calling in the dense foliage, as in the near-by fields the larks rise into the heights with song and from afar comes the clang of scythes in the meadow. Then I imagine there can be no more beautiful place in the World than my Rapstedt." (Page 44)

"Rapstedt is a large and pretty village, sitting in the flat, arid sandy land like an oasis in the desert. In its midst stands the old Laurentius church with its blunt tower. How often I have ascended there and had a wide unobstructed view far into the flat open countryside; no woods, no hills, no lovely seashore. Only flat moor, tilled by industrious farm hands for what it will yield in rye, oats, barley, buckwheat and potatoes. And I looked down on this quiet village, which aside from one highway, is linked to the outside by one railroad and two telegraph wires. Afternoons, a tiny mail-coach wabbles away to Tingleff, and, on the following morning, brings back whatever mail-matter turns up." (Page 52)

"Perhaps this little picture of a summer's day in Ravsted by the Pastor's family some years after Else served there, will be of interest to the family Brøns. It gives a good picture of Ravsted in the days of Jens Nielsen Brøns." Jens.

 *Excerpts from the memoirs of a daughter of a Pastor Jessen serving the Parish of Rapsted about 1880. Translated from the German by the courtesy of Miss Monika Koengeter.

that Knud Christensen (Kirkeby) and wife Margrethe left Rapsted (after 1880) for America, even as Jens Nielsen Brøns(8) did, for their death or burial seem not to be recorded in the churchbooks at Rapsted. They were living at Rapsted as late as 1880, however. Jens.

The churchbooks at Rapsted show the following children were born to the couple at Rapsted(Jens.):

- (1) Christian Nicolaisen Christensen Kirkeby, b. 9 May 1865, d. 8 Oct. 1871.
 - (2) Maren Christensen Kirkeby, b. 15 Oct. 1869.
 - (3) Kirstine Christensen Kirkeby, b. 10 Feb. 1872, d. 11 Nov. 1872. Else Marie Nielsen Brøns(17), was one of the witnesses at this child's baptism.
 - (4) Christian Christensen Kirkeby, b. 14 Sept. 1873.
 - (5) Søren Christensen, b. 24 Feb. 1876. The descriptive surname 'Kirkeby', meaning churchtown, is not appended to this name in the churchbooks.
- iv Søren Nicolaisen, b. 11 Sept. 1840, at Ballum Parish, d. after 1877, unmarried, a sailor on a ship that foundered.

(Notes- Kirstine's name appears as: "Kjestine M. Skov"; "Christine Nielsen"; "Gertrude M. Shaw"; "Christina Anderson"; and "Marie C. Skove" and "unknown", in various records concerning her children in America; a good example of how uninformed grandchildren usually are regarding their grandparents' history.

It had been said that the children of Jens Nielsen Brøns(8) were all called "Nielsen" in Denmark (Mrs. Richard W. Brandt, granddaughter of Jens through the daughter, Else Marie Nielsen Brøns(17), quoting Mrs. Lena Schmedegaard, of Hostrup, Tønder County, Denmark, and Randolph, Mass., who was said to be a sister of Mrs. Brandt's father, Andreas C. Miller). It is true that baptismal records confirm that those children born in Ballum were baptized "Nielsen", but those born at Rapsted were baptized "Brøns". Further, those who were baptized "Nielsen" at Ballum, were confirmed as "Nielsen"; "Nielsen (Brøns)"; or as "Brøns" at Rapsted. Thus the name "Nielsen" did follow the family to Rapsted. "The family seems to be called 'Nielsen' and as coming from Brøns, having got the surname 'Brøns.' "Jens. Jens(8) himself is called "Nielsen" in the baptismal record for the first child at Ballum, but he, as well as all his brothers were baptized "Brøns" and all ten of his children as well as himself emigrated to the U. S. and there the children were naturalized and married under the Anglicized (Bruns) form of that surname, which Jens himself used at Portland, Me.

On 2 Nov. 1854, "Master Joiner Jens Nielsen Brøns and wife Kirstine Marie, nee Nicolaisen" removed from Ballum Parish to Rapsted Parish.Dep.R. There were four children who are not mentioned in the departure record quoted above. These included: Juldine Metteline Nielsen(14), age 5 years 5 months; Niels Andersen Nielsen(15), age 3 years 9-1/2 months; Voldbine Katrine Nielsen(16), age 2 years 3-1/2 months; and Else Marie Nielsen(17), age 9 months. This is the family group that settled at Rapsted, Denmark, in the winter of 1854, one hundred years ago. But as early as the year 1849 when the first child was born at Ballum, Jens the father is there called: "Journeyman Carpenter Jens Nielsen, of Ravsted."* Thus he is placed at Rapsted in the period of the Three Years' war, which no doubt had interfered with his plans and involved himself.

Here in "Ravsted Mark, Ravsted Parish, Slogs herred, Tønder amt," six more children were born to Jens Nielsen Brøns and his wife Kirstine Marie, nee Nicolaisen ("Christine" in most Rapsted records), the last after the area (the Danish duchy of Schleswig) had been occupied by Prussia and Austria (1864), but before it was annexed to Prussia (1866). And here it was (1854-1864 while the area was yet a part of Denmark, 1864-1883 while the area was a part of the German province of Schleswig-Holstein), that "Joiner Jens Nielsen Brøns, small farmer with only a little land---two or three cows," reared his family of five boys and five girls.

During the years 1870-1884, Jens' boys, grown to manhood, fled Schleswig to escape military service under the Germans. All emigrated to Portland, Me., there under adversity to seek their fortunes and found homes and families for themselves. And the girls, realizing that the duties of active life required that they too must leave the shelter of the home, followed the migration to Portland started by their father's brother Mads Nielsen Brøns(13) in 1861. The sons Niels A. N.(15); Christian N.(18); Jens C.(21); Soren H.(22); and Anders N.(23), arrived in the U. S. in 1872; 1878; 1882; 1883; and 1884, respectively, but the individual dates they departed from Rapsted are unknown.

 *Ravsted, the correct Danish spelling, is used only in quotes. The spelling "Rapsted" being that most familiar to descendants is elsewhere used.
 The Danish 'Mark', meaning 'Field', and the name of a location appearing in Rapsted records, may be read "The field belonging to the village Rapsted." 'Slogs herred' is a very old district name; Slog meaning 'snag'; herred a larger district. 'Amt' means about the same as the English 'county.'

The Rapsted Bruns' Ancestral Home

Rapsted, parish town of the Midland parish of that name, the "old country" ancestral home of so many of the Bruns family (the "Rapsted Line"), is situated but a short distance north of the 55th parallel, about midway between the east and west coasts of the Danish South Jutland Province of North Schleswig. Pastor K. Riisberg Jensen, Sognepræst, Rapsted, to whom we are indebted for his time in the search of the churchbooks at Rapsted; his correspondence in the form of certified records and documentary letters; and photographs and history of the Rapsted Brøns' ancestral home, imparted the following information concerning Jens Nielsen Brøns(8) and his Rapsted home:

"Looking northward from the church tower (page 12), Else, Jens' daughter, in the years she was employed at the Parsonage, had a clear view of the Brøns family home, a distance of about five-eighths of a mile from the village. The old homestead is depicted in the larger view (on the following page) in which the house of Jens Nielsen Brøns is seen from the northwest about 1930. The building was put up about 1855, very likely by the dear village carpenter himself. There was a little fenne too, so he has had a cow or two. The building for crops and cattle to the east, standing on a north-south line, is surely not original and may have been added by a later owner. The same cottage as it appears today is pictured (in the insets) with the present owner, Henning Christensen, his wife and daughter.

"Jens' nearest neighbor's house---there was only these two houses there---situated about 165 yards to the north of the house of Brøns, is shown in the pictures on (page 18). It was very surely built by Jens Nielsen Brøns in 1857, and has been exactly like his own house, only a little smaller; this has five windows in the front, while the house of Brøns had eight---rather large for then. A long building, the back was built later. The family lives in the western part---one can just see how far the windows extend---the eastern part is for the cattle.

"In 1883 Jens Nielsen Brøns sold the homestead to farmer Peter Ludvig Hansen of Knivsig, Rapsted Parish, when the land consisted of: "6ha. 12ar. 48mr" (nearly 15-1/2 acres). ("After the Book of the Land in Tønder amt."). In 1896 Peter Hansen leased the place to Hans Peter Jensen from Audum, since when there have been many different owners. Today its present owner, Henrik Christensen, is restoring it, adding to and changing the old building.

"In the summer months, Jens built houses and made all kinds of works in wood belonging to the houses, when most of the farm work may have been performed by his wife and children. And so it was here generally with the village-carpenter and village-smith.

"Ravsted was a rather German-minded village in the days of Jens Nielsen Brøns. The towns of Brøns and Ballum on the other hand had Danish populations, and I therefore believe that the Brøns family (which had its ancestral roots in those towns) had been Danish-minded and perhaps did not feel at ease in Ravsted amongst the German-minded folk after the area (Schleswig) was annexed to Prussia (in 1866). That all of them left Ravsted seems to confirm it. Many others of the Danish-minded youth left the land and went to America and Australia in the years 1870-1900 because they would not serve as German soldiers."

RAPSTED BRUNS' ANCESTRAL HOME
("The house of Jens Nielsen Brøns")

Jens' descendants might find satisfaction in retracing the path of history by some day visiting Rapsted, Ballum and Brøns. He is variously described in Danish records as: "Journeyman Carpenter"; "Joiner and Cottager"; "Joiner"; "Master Joiner"; and "Parcellist and Joiner"; Parcellist translated means: "A farmer with only a little land." He required all his sons to learn the carpentry and cabinetmaking trades.

Jens Nielsen Brøns(8) emigrated to Portland, Me., in 1884, with the youngest son Anders N.(23). On arrival at Portland, he and all his children Anglicized their surname (Bruns). None of the children married in Denmark; all married in the U. S. The daughter Else M.(17) arrived at Portland, Me., in 1872; Jul-dine M.(14) and Voldbine K.(16) probably in 1868/70; and Thomine(19) and Sine (20), sometime prior to their marriages in 1879 and 1881, respectively.

2. JEF³SØRENSEN BRØNS (Niels Andersen-Terp,² Anders Madsen¹), third son of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and his wife Else, of the town and parish of Brøns, and grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and his wife El, of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, was born 25 May 1824, in Brøns, and baptized at home 26 May, in the church at Brøns 4 July, 1824 ("Parents: Niels Andersen and Else, Jens' daughter, Cottagers from the peasantry in Brøns").
Bapt.R. He was confirmed 1840 in Brøns Church.Conf.R.

Jef did not emigrate to the U. S. He ("Jef Sørensen Brøns, workingman, married") died in Brøns 23 Sept. 1889, aged "65 years."D.R. (He probably was the "Jep Sørensen" who was a sponsor at his brother Anders(12)' wedding in Rejsby!).

He ("Bachelor, age 29, of Brøns") married, 11 Jan. 1855, in the church at Brøns, MARIE MØLLER, single, age 29, from Højrup (Høyrup) Parish.M.R. She was the daughter of Mathias M. and Else Miller (Møller).D.R.

In Danish records Jef is variously called: "Farmer"; "Cottager"; and "Workingman." He is said to have fought side-by-side with his brother Elias(10) in the Three Years' war, in which he was wounded. Except for the son Mathias' history, little is known of Jef and the background of his family in Denmark, though the list of children is complete. Inquiry of those who should be informed in the matter elicited no further information regarding him or the early life of the children.

There were five children---two boys and three girls. During the years 1872-1890, his children and widow emigrated to Portland, Me. There all Anglicized their surname (Bruns), but one daughter used the variation Brons in her marriage return. The sons Niels A.(24) and Mathias M.(25) emigrated in 1872 and 1888, respectively, the latter with wife and two children.

*Emigrated to the U. S.

The daughter Else C.(26) probably emigrated in 1880; the daughters Elsie M.(27) and Cecilla(28) sometime prior to their father's death. The elder son, Niels A.(24), emigrated at the age of 16-1/2 years, but the story of his leaving home so young and of how he got to America, appears lost. While the son Mathias M.(25) was actually drafted by the Germans, he was soon rejected. Jef's widow, Marie, nee Møller (Miller at Portland), emigrated in 1890; the daughter Cecilla having been sent back to Denmark for her by the other children then at Portland, it is said. Her death record at Portland, Me., lists her as: "Marie M. Bruns (Jef S. Bruns, husband)" so it is presumed she did not remarry. Of the five children, only the son Mathias married in Denmark; the others married in the U. S.

(Note- Jef's death date and the son Mathias' birthplace having been documented, there is no longer any confusion as to these points. And Jef having been a "bachelor" at his marriage to Marie ("single girl"), leaves no doubt too that Hans N. Brøns(32) was confused in his previously published belief that Niels A. (24) had a half-brother named "Brodersen." This last is confirmed by Hans himself who now asserts that "Anders Brodersen Andersen" (page 8), is the person he had reference to. (It is possible also that the Lawyer Anderson mentioned on page 61, was a descendant of the latter named Andersen.))

Bapt.R. He was confirmed 23 Apr. 1843 in Brøns Church. Conf.R.

On 13 Nov. 1858, in the church at Møgeltønder, Denmark, he ("Elias Nielsen", of Brøns") married HANNA*~~MARIE~~ HANSEN, born in Gallehus, Møgeltønder Parish, 18 Mar. 1833, baptized 23 Mar. 1833, and confirmed 4 Mar. 1849, in the church at Møgeltønder. M.R. She was the daughter of the tailor and cottager Nis Hansen and his first wife, Maren Børichs who died 30 Mar. 1833; they also had a son Hans Nissen Hansen born 13 Jan. 1830. Her father married secondly, Karen Martensen, by whom there were (3) children: Ingeborg, born 24 Sept. 1833; Carl Christian, born 17 Nov. 1835; and Jens Christian, born 23 Jan. 1839. Lands.A.

Elias settled in Brøns, moving to Gallehus in 1861 and later to Tønder and near-by Abild, from where in January 1872, with two small sons and wife Hanna he emigrated to Portland, Me. There he Anglicized his surname (Bruns), but in later years upon leaving their step-parents' home the sons took the variation Brons.

 *Emigrated to the U. S.

Elias fought side-by-side with his brother Jef(9) in the Three Years' war. Following his death at Portland, Me., Hanna remarried. No other children were born to him in the U. S. The eldest son, Niels N.(29) and the youngest, Hans N.(32), came to the U. S. with their parents in 1872.

Mads Nielsen Brøns(13) was confirmed ("Mads Nielsen Brøns") 18 Apr. 1852, in Brøns Church ("Parents: Niels Andersen Terp and Else, Jens' daughter, undertenants in Brøns").Conf.R. But an added note in the record states: "Departure Register shows: '21 Apr. 1853, Niels Madsen Brøns, age 16 years, joiner apprentice, set out for Aastrup in Haderslev.' (The name changed about)."Conf.R.

(Note- As Mads married in Denmark under his baptismal names, it is presumed the name "Niels Madsen Brøns" appearing in the above record, is an error in recording; there is no record of his ever using that name.)

He ("Mads Nielsen Brøns, journeyman joiner in Gammelshov, Agerskov Parish, Nørre-Rangstrup District") married (first), age 20-1/4, in the parish church at Agerskov, 10 July 1857, MAREN*THOMSEN, age 23-1/2, single, of Gammelshov, self-employed in Agerskov, born in Stepping, Denmark, 12 Nov. 1833, daughter of Marcus Thomsen, undertenant in Kolstrup. Sponsors: Farmer Peder Enemark and Joiner Peder Dixen, both from Gammelshov.M.R. Mads married a second time in Portland, Me.

The pioneer in the migration of the Brøns families to America, Mads emigrated to Portland, Me., in 1861, with wife and two small daughters. There he Anglicized his surname (Bruns), since used by the descendants. Nothing further is known of Mads' background in Denmark; he is said to have gone to Australia with his brother Anders N.(12) to "dig for gold" prior to emigrating to the U. S. Of the second generation living, all are from Mads' second family; they know little of his life in Denmark.

There were but two children born in Denmark; twelve others, seven by the second wife, were born in the U. S. The oldest living descendant is Thomas Gildart Nelson Bruns, the first child of the second marriage, born 1888.

*25. MATHIAS¹MARIUS BRØNS (Jef Sørensen Brøns,³ Niels Andersen-Terp,² Anders Madsen¹), second son of Jef Sørensen Brøns(9) and wife Marie, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, and grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, of Brøns, was born 9 (not 10) Aug. 1858, in Brøns (not Skanderborg), and baptized ("Mathias Marius Brøns") 9 Sept. 1858, in the church at Brøns. (Parents: Cottager Jef Sørensen Brøns and wife Marie Møller in Brøns). Bapt.R. He was confirmed 6 Apr. 1873, in the church at Brøns. Conf.R. (Here the parents and name are as stated in the baptismal record). The father is called "Farmer" in Mathias' baptismal certificate prepared in 1874.

*Emigrated to the U. S.

Mathias ("Mathias Marius Brøns") married, 27 Nov. 1883, in the church at Skanderborg, Denmark, MARIE*CHRISTINE BOES, age 31, born in Skanderborg, the daughter of Christian, glazier at Skanderborg.Land.V. The only one of the fourth generation in Denmark to marry there.

Mathias, obviously named for his maternal grandfather, Mathias Marius Møller, emigrated to Portland, Me., with wife and two children, in 1888, via Copenhagen, where the second son, Marinus, himself stated he was born in 1887. At Portland Mathias Anglicized his surname, since used by the descendants.

A shoemaker in Denmark as well as in the U. S., he was "Imparted citizenship out of the mercantile community of Skanderborg on 23 Nov. 1885" for which he paid 12 Kroner. (Citizenship Paper as Shoemaker of Skanderborg). But he was called "Shoemaker Mathias Marius Brøns" as early as 24 Nov. 1879, when he was ordered to appear at "Appenrade" in Schleswig on 18 Nov. 1879, in a draft for the German army; being "Acknowledged unconditionally unfit for service in the army or marines" on 24 Dec. 1879. (Rejection Certificate, dated at Flensburg). Prior to settling in Skanderborg, he was for a time at least, in Ribe; a Testimonial attests to his having paid several small sums there. His father-in-law Boes, glazier, settled one or more bills for him at Skanderborg on 18 Dec. 1889. Two children were born to the couple in Denmark; a third was born in the U. S.

THE SETTLEMENT, GENEALOGY and DESCENDANTS of THE IMMIGRANT FAMILIES

(For a check list of the immigrant persons whose American genealogy and descendants are recorded in the following pages, see page 29.)

I n t r o d u c t i o n

The different persons of the surname Bruns that settled in and about Portland, Me., from 1861 to 1890, were the immigrant descendants of Niels Andersen Terp(6), of the town and parish of Brøns, Hviding District, Tønder County, (formerly a part of Haderslev County in older maps), Denmark, comprising the families of the four sons, Jens Nielsen Brøns(8), Jef Sørensen Brøns(9), Elias Nielsen Brøns(10), and Mads Nielsen Brøns(13), three of whom and the widow of the other were themselves among those who emigrated to Portland. Another son, Anders Nielsen Brøns(12), also came to Portland, but he did not remain; returning to Denmark about 1870, he married and remained there.

The earliest beginnings of the families in America, was through Mads, who with a wife and two small daughters, emigrated to Portland from Gammelshov, Agerskov Parish, in 1861. About 1868/70 he revisited Denmark, which fact probably influenced the others of the families to emigrate to Portland. For his visit was followed, first by the immigration early in 1872, of Elias with wife and two small sons, from Abild. Then at intervals from mid-1872 to 1889 came the three grown daughters and two grown sons---one with wife and two small sons from Skanderborg and Copenhagen---of Jef, followed in 1890 by the latter's widow, from Brøns. And finally at intervals also, from late 1872 to 1884, came the five grown sons and five grown daughters of Jens, and Jens himself, from Rapsted. One, possibly two of the elder daughters of Jens, may have accompanied Mads and his wife on the return trip to the U. S., from their visit to Denmark. Such then were the immigrant groups and individuals from whom are descended the American lines and branches hereafter enumerated.

On emigrating to the U. S., Mads the pioneer Anglicized his surname, which then became "Bruns." Those who came later followed his example and also Anglicized their surname. And excepting the sons of Elias, the immigrant males were naturalized and married under that surname, since used by their descendants. With one exception also, the immigrant single females were married under that name; one daughter of Jef used the variation "Brons" in her marriage return. However, the sons of Elias later took the variation "Brons" when, upon reaching manhood, they left their step-parents' home to found for themselves. Of the males, they and they only, were naturalized and married under the variation since used by the descendants. But school, church and Scandinavian Mission records at Portland, Me., as well as immigration lists (and possibly passenger lists as well), probably will show that Elias' sons were called "Bruns" prior to their widowed mother's second marriage at Portland. Accordingly, the original form of the surname, Brøns, is hereafter not used when referring to the immigrant members of the families, except in quotes.

In all but one or two instances, if not all, the immigrant single members of the families married immigrant persons, generally natives of the home country, Denmark. A few of the intermarrying males had fled Schleswig to escape being drafted by the Germans, even as the "Brøns" boys had. Others came from North Jutland and the islands of Denmark. Hence the many Danish surnames among the allied families.

The sons of Elias migrated west to Iowa with their mother and stepfather, where upon reaching manhood they settled, but eventually removed to Enumclaw, Wash., with their families. The eldest daughter of Jens migrated west also, to Nebraska, where she married and settled. But with these exceptions, all immigrant members of the families settled in and about Portland, Me., including besides Portland, Deering and Stroudwater (which later became a part of Portland), and Falmouth and Scarborough. Since, however, branches of the Brøns families have migrated to California, and other Washington towns and cities, and branches of the Bruns families have migrated to other Maine towns and into many other States.

Some of the immigrant members of the intermarrying families, and a few of the American descendants, also Anglicized their surnames and some of them their Christian names; Kelsen for Kjeldsen, Johnson for Jørgensen, and Miller for Møller, as well as Jack for Jens, Laurence for Lauritz, and Andrew for Anders, are instances. And surnames with both patronymic endings -sen and -son are to be found within the same family; Ebbesen (first generation) and Ebbeson (second generation), and Andersen for some members of a family and Anderson for other members of the same family, are instances. Likewise, several instances of the old custom of children being given a surname formed of the father's Christian name with the patronymic ending -sen, may be found in the histories of intermarrying persons of Danish origin; as: Niels Jørgensen son of Jørgen Jensen, Lars Ebbesen son of Ebbe Larsen, and Karen Andersen daughter of Anders Pedersen.

The immigrant members of the families were plain honest farmers, carpenters, cabinetmakers, or shoemakers. None ever were active in politics or became great in state or nation. Some, however, became successful in businesses of their own, and not a few prominent in their community. Others became respected and successful farmers. On the whole they were Christian men and women of honor and dignity, devoted to their families and respected by their neighbors. All were proud of their Danish origin but loved their adopted country. The men were particularly noted for their strictly temperate habits and industry; all were good providers.

For the convenience of researchers, the American genealogy has been divided into three sections. Section I contains the Bruns genealogy; Section II the Brøns genealogy; and Section III the genealogies of such related families as: Andersen (Pedersen-Andersen, Johnson, and Rosenblad families), Boysen, and Wilhelmsen (Williamson). See page 29 for a check list of the immigrant persons whose descendants are recorded in Part II, and the arrangement thereof.

JENS NIELSEN BRUNS

(1821 - 1892)

Jens Nielsen Bruns, The Immigrant, was a man of small physical stature, but his was a remarkable family of tall strong men and handsome women, further characterized by their mild manners, temperate habits, a pride in citizenship and a deep religious faith. All were very fond of music. His grandchildren idolized him. Mrs. A. Iver Poulsen (Mrs. Laura V. Ebbesen Poulsen) and Lauritz N. Miller, grandchildren, are now the only descendants who have personal memory of him.

SECTION I - BRUNS GENEALOGY

8.JENS NIELSEN BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME.

8. JENS¹NIELSEN BRUNS, (Jens Nielson Bruns), immigrant, of Portland, Me., son of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and his wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, was born 23 Mar. 1821 (not 1819), in the town of Brøns, and baptized "Jens Nielsen Brøns" first at home 24 Mar., in the parish church at Brøns, 23 Apr., 1821.Bapt.R. He was the grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and his wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the town of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Bramming, 30 Oct. 1770.M.R. On emigrating to the U. S. he, as well as his children, Anglicized (Bruns) their surname.

He ("Jens Nielson Bruns") died 28 Feb. 1892, in Portland, Me., aged "72 years 11 months 5 days" (Sic, 70 years 11 months 5 days - born 1821, not 1819*); burial at Forest City Cemetery, South Portland, Me. (Lot F28 - The Carlsen Plot).D.R. He died a widower, survived by his ten children and their offspring, all at Portland, Me., Falmouth, Me., and Herman, Nebr.

On 18 Apr. 1850, he ("Jens Nielsen Brøns"), then a joiner of Harknag, in Ballum Parish, Tønder County, Denmark, married, in the parish church at Ballum, KIRSTINE MARIE NICOLAISEN (not Skov), single, of Harknag, born 28 Oct. 1824, in Vesterende, Ballum, daughter of Christen Nicolaisen and wife Voldborg, nee Hansen.M.R. She did not come to the U. S., but died 25 Jan. 1889, in the City of Schleswig, Germany.D.R. Jens did not remarry.

In November 1854, Jens with wife and four small children born there, removed from Ballum Parish to Rapsted Parish(Dep.R.), Slogs District, Tønder

County, where six more children were born to them. From there, accompanied by the youngest son, Anders N. Bruns(23), he emigrated to Portland, Me., via N. Y. City, disembarking at the latter place on 25 May 1884(Anders' N.R.); the other nine children having preceded them to Portland.

On his arrival at Portland, Jens resided first with his daughter, Mrs. Else Marie Nielsen Bruns Miller (Mrs. Andreas C. Miller), at Falmouth, where he was provided with a warm workshop. But before long he moved into Portland to reside with another daughter, Mrs. Sine Bruns Carlsen (Mrs. Jasper Carlsen), where he also was provided with a good workshop. Having been a Master joiner in Denmark, he soon found employment as a carpenter, and at times worked with his son, Niels A. N. Bruns(15), building contractor at Portland. In later years the son found laths with his father's name on them in a house he was razing at Portland.

In spite of his large family---five boys and five girls---there are but 19 male descendants of the surname Bruns now living to carry on the name; however, through the females the blood flows in many others. The line appears assured, but it is unfortunate that the grandsons in the Niels A. N. Bruns(15) and Christian N. Bruns(18) lines did not have offspring.

Jens' posterity in the male lines is represented by the descendants of the immigrant sons: Niels A. N. Bruns(15); Christian N. Bruns(18); Jens C. Bruns(21); Soren H. Bruns(22); and Anders N. Bruns(23); who arrived at Portland in 1872; 1878; 1882; 1883; and 1884, respectively. In the female lines, by the descendants of the daughters: Juldine M. N. (Bruns) Brodersen(14); Voldbine K. N. (Bruns) Ebbesen(16); Else M. N. (Bruns) Miller(17); Thomine (Bruns) Johnson(19); and Sine (Bruns) Carlsen(20); who were better known after marriage in the U. S., as: "Metta Lena" Brodersen; "Voldbina K." Ebbesen; "Elsa M." Miller; "Tomina" Johnson; and "Sina" Carlsen, respectively.

MARIE (MILLER) BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME.

2. MARIE¹(MILLER) BRUNS, (Marie M. Bruns), immigrant, of Portland, Me., daughter of Mathias M. Møller and his wife Else, of Højrup (var. Høyrup) Parish, Denmark, and widow of Jef Sørensen Brøns(9), of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, emigrated to Portland, Me., in 1890, following the death of Jef, accompanied, it is said, by the daughter Cecilla Bruns(28), who had been sent back to Denmark by the others of the children who also had preceded the mother to Portland, especially to bring the mother to Portland. There she became known as: "Marie M. Bruns." She is not known to have remarried in the U. S., and it is said she did not.

Marie (Miller) Bruns, The Immigrant ("Marie M. Bruns, born in Denmark, the daughter of Mathias M. and Elsie Miller, aged '74 years 2 months,' Jef S. Bruns husband"), died in Portland, Me., 20 Dec. 1899; burial at Stroudwater, Me., in the 'Lot of Mathias Bruns.'D.R.

Jef Sørensen Brøns, the husband, son of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and his wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, was born in the town of Brøns, 25 May 1824, and baptized "Jef Sørensen Brøns", first at home 26 May, in the parish church at Brøns 4 July, 1824.Bapt.R. He was the grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and his wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the town of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Bramming on 30 Oct. 1770.M.R. He did not come to the U. S., but died in Brøns 23 Sept. 1889.D.R.

On 11 Jan. 1855, in the parish church at Brøns, "Jef Sørensen Brøns, age 29, bachelor, of Brøns, and Marie Møller of Højrup Parish, single, age 29," were married.M.R.

There were five children---two boys and three girls---all of whom emigrated to Portland, Me. The line is well-assured. On emigrating to the U. S., she Anglicized her surname (Bruns).

The posterity of Jef and Marie (Miller) Bruns, in the male lines, are represented by the descendants of the immigrant sons, Niels A. Bruns(24) and Mathias M. Bruns(25), including the immigrant grandsons Jens C. Bruns(35) and Marinus J. Bruns(36). And in the female lines by the descendants of the daughters: Else C. (Bruns) Lund(26); Elsie M. (Bruns) Petersen(27); and Cecilla (Bruns) Bang(28).

An undated and unsigned copy of a document (Power-of-Attorney) written in old German script, and among some 15 ancient documents now in the possession of Mathias M. Bruns(25)' son Thomas P. Bruns(191), of North Windham, Me., translated reads in part as follows:

"We the undersigned, namely 1. I the Shoemaker Mathias Marius Brøns in Portland, Me., North America, 2. I the Merchant Niels Andersen Brøns in Portland, Bracket Hill, Me., North America, 3. I the wife of the Farmer Hans Lund in Portland, Bracket Hill, Me., North America, Elsie Lund born a Brøns, living here, 4. I the Servant Sine Brøns, Portland, Me., North America, living here, all children of farmer Jef Sørensen Brøns who resided in Brøns, Province of Schleswig-Holstein, Kingdom of Prussia, confer herewith power of attorney on Nils Peter Lauritsen Lund....." And: "I the undersigned, husband of the aforementioned assignor of power of attorney herein No.3, North America, as husband, sanction the general power of attorney in so far as it is contracted by my wife."

This document was prepared between June 1888 when Mathias emigrated to Portland, and Dec. 1892, when Sine (Elsine Marie(27)), was married, probably soon after Jef's death in Sept. 1889; the latter's widow came to Portland in 1890. In this connection, Mrs. Annie M. Johnson (Mrs. Annie M. Lund Johnson), granddaughter of Jef and Marie, who appears to have more personal knowledge of the family than any other person, explained the document as representing the combined movement of the children to aid the mother after the death of Jef; the daughter Cecilla being sent back to Denmark by the others to bring the mother to Portland. (See also the note, page 21.)

10.ELIAS NIELSEN BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME.

10. ELIAS¹NIELSEN BRUNS, (Elias N. Bruns), immigrant, of Portland, Me., son of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and his wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, was born 29 Mar. 1827, in the town of Brøns, and baptized "Elias Brøns" first at home 29 Mar., in the parish church at Brøns 16 Apr., 1827.Bapt.R. He was a grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the town of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Bramming 30 Oct. 1770.M.R. On emigrating from Denmark he Anglicized (Bruns) his surname, but when his sons grew to manhood and later left their step-parents' home to found for themselves, they took the variation Brons since used by the descendants of the son Niels N. Brons(29); the son Hans N. Brons(32) has no issue.

Elias Nielsen Bruns ("Elias N. Bruns") The Immigrant, died 22 June 1872, in Portland, Me. of typhoid a few months after his settlement there, aged "45 years"; burial at Evergreen Cemetery, Portland.D.R. His wife and two small sons survived him; two other children born in Denmark died there as infants. His line is well-assured.

He ("Elias Nielsen, of Brøns") married, 13 Nov. 1858, in the parish church at Møgeltønder, Denmark, HANNA MARIE HANSEN, born 18 Mar. 1833, in Gallehus, Møgeltønder Parish, Denmark, baptized 23 Mar. 1833, and confirmed 4 Mar. 1849 in the church at Møgeltønder.M.R. She was the daughter of Nis Hansen, tailor and cottager, and his (First) wife Maren Børichs who died 30 Mar. 1833.Land.A.

The couple settled in Brøns, where their first child was born, but removed from there to Gallehus in 1861, and later to Tønder and Abild, Denmark, from which latter place in January 1872, Elias emigrated to Portland, Me., with his wife and two small sons---one an infant, disembarking there on 21 Feb. 1872, where they were met at the pier by Mads N. Bruns(13), brother of Elias, of Portland, who had arranged their passage. At Portland, Elias obtained employment as coachman and gardener for a Mr. Palmer.

Following the death of Elias, Hanna his widow, left with 12-year-old Niels N. Bruns(29)and 1-year-old Hans N. Bruns(32) opened a rooming- and boarding-house at Portland, and the son Niels left school and went to work to help with the family income.

Shortly after Xmas in 1874, Hanna Marie (Hansen) Bruns married, secondly, at Portland, Me., Mikkel Jensen. A girl was born to them which died during its first summer. In Nov. 1876, the family moved to Clinton, Ia., where during the following summer (1877), Hanna died.

Mikkel Jensen married again, and in 1879, moved to Ringsted, Ia., taking Elias' son Hans with him. Hans' brother Niels, however, stayed on in Clinton for a number of years until, following his own marriage, he settled on a farm in Elkhorn, Ia., whereupon he went to Ringsted for his brother Hans and took him back to live with him.

Elias' posterity is represented by the descendants of the son, Niels N. Bruns(29), of Elkhorn, Ia., and Enumclaw, Wash., who came to the U. S. with his parents. The son Hans N. Bruns(32) has no issue. There were no other children born to Elias and Hanna in the U. S.

*School, church and Scandinavian Mission records of Portland, Me., as well as immigration lists (and possibly passenger lists as well), probably will show the sons of Elias were called "Bruns" prior to their widowed mother's second marriage at Portland.

MADS NIELSEN BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME., and DESCENDANTS

F i r s t G e n e r a t i o n

13. MADS¹NIELSEN BRUNS, (Mads Nielson Bruns, Mads Nelson Bruns, Mads N. Bruns), immigrant, of Portland, Me., son of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, was born 14 (not 15) Feb. 1837, in the town of Brøns, and baptized "Mads Nielsen Brøns" 19 Mar. 1837, in the parish church at Brøns.Bapt.R. He was a grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the town of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Bramming, 30 Oct. 1770.M.R. On emigrating to the U. S. he Anglicized (Bruns) his surname.

He ("Mads Nelson Bruns") died 30 Dec. 1915, in Portland, Me., aged "78 years 10 months 15 days"; burial at Evergreen Cemetery, Portland (Lot D No. 147).D.R. His second wife and a large family survived him.

Mads ("Mads Nielsen Brøns"), then a bachelor journeyman joiner at Gammel-skov, Agerskov Parish, Nørre-Rangstrup District, Denmark, age 20-1/4, married first, 10 July 1857, in the parish church at Agerskov, MAREN THOMSEN, single, age 23-1/2, born in Stepping, Denmark, 12 Nov. 1833, daughter of Marcus Thomsen in Kolstrup.M.R. Her mother was Anna C., nee Peterson.Maren's D.R.

She ("Marion Bruns") died 26 July 1910, in Portland, Me., aged "75 years"; burial at Evergreen Cemetery, Portland, in the lot (P24-1/2) of the daughter Anna C. Bruns.D.R. Her gravestone ("Marion T. Bruns 1834-1910") has an error in the inscription if the date of birth given in the marriage record is correct, as it probably is; it is in the same lot as are the graves of the son Nelson A. Bruns (1864-1910); the son Thomas G. Bruns (1866-1882); and the daughter "Lillian T." Bruns (1872-1936). There were seven children, two of whom were born in Denmark. Evidently she divorced Mads.

MADS NIELSEN BRUNS

Mads Nielsen Bruns, The Immigrant, married secondly, at Portland, Me., on 3 Dec. 1887, CHARLOTTE ELIZABETH GILDART, of Elgin (Moncton, in the marriage records for the sons Peter and Paul), N. B.; Rev. Samuel F. Pearson, officiated.M.R. She died at Portland, Me., 10 Oct. 1918. They also had seven children. Thomas G. N. Bruns(42), recalls his father stating: "I have been blessed with the same number of children by each marriage."

Mads emigrated to Portland, Me. via N. Y. City, disembarking at the latter place "on or about 7 Sept. 1861," thence to Portland, where he was naturalized ("Mads N. Bruns") on 6 Mar. 1873.N.R. His first wife Maren, nee Thomsen and two small daughters, accompanied him.

The 1870 U. S. Census Enumeration, Page 47, Cumberland County, Ward 6*, Portland, enumerated 16 Aug. 1870, shows Mads' family on that date as:

Mads and his first wife are said to have made at least one visit to Denmark after their settlement at Portland, probably about 1868/70, when they are believed to have brought back with them, Voldbine K. Bruns(16), and possibly also, Juldine Metteline Bruns(14), daughters of his brother Jens N. Bruns(8).

The pioneer in the migration of the families to America, Mads, described as having been a brilliant man, also was the most colorful character of them all. He not only was one of the first Danes to emigrate to Maine, but was the first of the name (Bruns) to settle at Portland, if not in that State. He is said to have told his son, Thomas G. N. Bruns(42), that he helped Wm. Widgery Thomas, one-time Minister to Sweden, to settle New Sweden, Me.---it was settled 23 July 1870. His family and he went through the great Portland fire of July 4-5, 1866. He aided others of the families to come to Portland and found them jobs. Being appreciative of his citizenship, he named one of his sons for the emancipator, Abraham Lincoln.

*Ward I, in one of two copies of the same enumeration; one copy has the notation: "1 month"; the other: "born in May."

Mads is said to have sailed to Australia with his brother, Anders N. Brøns(12), to "dig for gold"; also to have been in business with the latter in Market Square, Portland, making show cases and piano-dulcimers. In the 1869 Portland Directory, Mads appears as: "Cabinetmaker, 23 Preble St., residence 16 Hammond St." In that of 1875, he appears as: "Maker of show cases, 19-1/2 Market Square, residence 55 Preble St." He was a lumber dealer, with residence at 31 Kellogg St., in 1900. Skilled as a cabinetmaker and pattern-maker, he was employed for a time as pattern-maker at the Portland Co., and the Portland Foundry, both at Portland, Me. He had learned the joinery and cabinetmaking trades in Denmark, having been apprenticed a joiner in Aastrup, Haderslev, at the age of 16 years. (See also Anders Nielsen Brøns(12), Part I).

(Note- Thomas G. N. Bruns(42), eldest son of Mads by the second wife, recalls his father telling him of having been to Australia, and of his having been in business with a partner at Portland at the time of the great fire; that his partner and he were insured in one of the few insurance companies that paid claims, but that his partner collected and vanished, leaving him, Mads, destitute.)

In later years, Mads (called "Mas" or "Old Mas") suffered the loss of a leg. According to himself, the amputation resulted from a bone injury he received at the age of 12 years during the Three Years' war in Schleswig. Mads, it seems, was riding a horse home from the fields one evening, when a detachment of mounted German soldiers appeared at a bend in the road ahead. He jumped from his horse to flee, injuring the leg bone but managing to evade the soldiers. The Germans had banned the display of the Danish flag, but such a flag was sewn into Mads' hat and he was fearful of its discovery by the Germans. Although he did manage to evade the soldiers, he carried an internal sore in the leg through the years until 1904, when it was amputated. He made his own wooden legs; the first, it is said, weighed 22-lbs., the last 2-1/2 lbs. He used to keep "spares" drying behind the kitchen stove.

The children of the first and second marriages were referred to as: "The First Family" and "The Second Family," respectively. Those of the one scarcely knew those of the other. But all descendants in both families have been worthy representatives of the family name, and all have been respected citizens. His line is well-assured. His posterity is represented by the descendants of the immigrant daughter, Else Marie Nielsen (Bruns) Nansen(33), and of the children born in the U. S., hereafter enumerated. The immigrant daughter Anna C. Bruns(34), did not have issue.

The first person of the surname Bruns to be born in Maine, and possibly elsewhere in the country as far as is known to the compiler, was Mads' son Nelson A. Bruns(37), ("Neal L., age 7 years, born in Maine.¹1870 C.E.); born 1864.G.R. The birth record is unattainable at Portland's City Clerk's Office, and the Dept. of Health and Welfare, at Augusta, Me., as are many of the early records. The first of the name recorded in the vital statistics files of the City of Portland, Me., is that of Mads' son Anders (Andrew) N. Bruns(40).

RASMUS and METTA LENA (BRUNS) BRODERSEN, of HERMAN, NEBR., and THEIR

DESCENDANTS

14. JULDINE¹METTELINE NIELSEN BRUNS, (Metta Lena Bruns, Lena Bruns, Madlyn Bruns), came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, about 1868/70, and migrated west to Nebraska. She was born 31 May 1849, in Harknag, Ballum Parish, Tønder County, Denmark, and baptized "Juldine Metteline Nielsen" in the parish church at Ballum, 10 June 1849, the eldest child of Jens Nielsen Bruns(8), immigrant, and his wife Kirstine Marie, nee Nicolaisen.Bapt.R. She was confirmed 23 Apr. 1865, "Juldine Metteline Nielsen(Brøns)" in the parish church at Rapsted, Tønder County, Denmark.Conf.R. Juldine was known to her family as "Metta Lena" or "Madlyn"; to others of the Bruns families generally as "Lena."

Metta Lena Bruns was a granddaughter of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Brøns, 12 Feb. 1819(M.R.), and a great-granddaughter of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Bramming, 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.).Land.V.

She ("Matta L. Brodersen") died 11 Feb. 1914, in the village of Herman, Nebr., "aged 64 years 8 months 11 days."D.R. She and her husband Rasmus were typical American pioneers in the new State of Nebraska.

Metta Lena emigrated to Portland, Me., three or four years prior to her marriage, probably with others of the Bruns families according to her son George, thence to Omaha, Nebr. She Anglicized (Bruns) her surname upon immigration. It is possible she came to the U. S. with her father's brother Mads Nielsen Bruns(13) on the return trip of he and wife from a visit to Denmark, 1868/70, even as her sister, Voldbine Katrine Nielsen Bruns(16), did.

Metta Lena Bruns ("Metta L. Bruns"), The Immigrant, married, 28 Nov. 1874, at Blair, Nebr., at the age of 25, RASMUS BRODERSEN, aged 32, born in Denmark, then of Grant Township, Washington County, Nebr., son of "Chest Brothersen and Mary Tews"; her parents stated as: "Gus N. Bruns and Jeslina M. Nahalegun" in a certified copy of the marriage license and return furnished the compiler; she then of Omaha, Nebr.M.R. Her parents correct names were "Jens Nielsen Bruns (Brøns)" and "Kirstine (Christine) Marie, nee Nicolaisen" as stated in the preceding paragraphs. The mother, baptized "Kirstine Marie" is stated as "Christine Marie" in Rapsted, Denmark, records.

RASMUS¹BRODERSEN, ("Aasmus Brothersen, age 32, of Grant Township, Washington County, Nebr., son of Chest Brothersen and Mary Tews"(M.R.)), came to the area in and about Omaha, Nebr., shortly before 1868 (Nebraska became a State in 1867), where he was employed as a carpenter, having served the trade in Denmark. He died in rural Herman, Nebr., 27 June 1900. All according to his son George.

He was born 4 May 1843, in North Schleswig, Denmark, according to the son. He was not the son of Anders Nielsen Brøns(12)' wife; a belief of Niels Andersen Nielsen Bruns(15), previously published, but possibly was her nephew and grandson of Niels Brodersen, of Kjærbølling, Denmark (See Anders Nielsen Brøns(12), page 9). "He was not her son by either marriage. He is maybe a relative of hers and possibly was born near-by to Ribe."Land.A.

After Schleswig was annexed to Prussia in 1866, Rasmus was drafted into the German army and made to serve for one year, following which he emigrated to the U. S. His was a real American pioneer's family.

Following his marriage, 28 Nov. 1874, at Blair, Nebr., to Metta Lena Bruns

(14), Rasmus Brodersen, The Immigrant, took up 80-acres of land seven miles southwest of Herman, Nebr., on which stood a small one-room log-house finished with cottonwood lumber, for $500. Here the couple founded the home which was to be theirs for so many years. Before long, Rasmus built an addition of one room onto the house, and constructed a straw-barn for the stock. In 1885, looking to the needs of his fast-growing family, he built a new homestead, which is standing and in good repair today, wherein the children were reared. This house is now occupied by descendants of the son James. All the wood and poles for the construction was hauled from the Iowa side of the Missouri River on the ice, about fifteen miles east of the homesite. He is said to have got back home from such a trip just in time to escape the big blizzard of 1888---his wife Lena had performed all the chores---in which a neighbor and his team were frozen to death when only about one-quarter-mile from home. The son George, then a new-born-baby, was carried from the cottonwood-log-house to the new homestead upon its completion in 1885.

As pioneers in the new State, the family endured hardships seldom encountered today. Interesting tales could be told by the son George---the only member of the second generation now living---of the hardships and privations the family endured during the early years there, when as the son related, quite a few Indians were about and others were passing through. Up to the time the latter was eight years old, he said, the children stayed close to the house. The family homestead was located in what is locally called "Rattlesnake Valley" where barefooted, the boys herded cattle and helped with the farm work. One field contained many "rattlers"; George recalled that his brother James killed nine in one day. The footgear of his boyhood George described as "One-buckler-shoes" costing $1.25, worn by most everyone, with "Button-shoes" for Sundays.

According to the son George, to whom we are indebted for the history of his father and much of that of the family, Rasmus Brodersen was one of three brothers who settled in Nebraska. Another brother, Peter, went first to Colorado and finally to Arizona, where he died unmarried. The story of just when and how Lena went to Omaha from Portland, Me., and just when she and Rasmus left their Danish homes, appears lost. Their posterity is represented by the descendants of the children listed immediately below, of whom there were seven.

In 1912, however, they sold out and returned to Herman, Nebr., where he settled on the farm he had left. With the exception of one year at Payette, he made his home near Herman as a farmer. In 1935 he represented Nebraska with other farmers at a National AAA meeting held in Washington, D.C., and was honored as a Master Farmer. In the Spring of 1944, he retired from active life and moved into Herman. NIELS ANDERSEN NIELSEN BRUNS

(1851 - 1922)

15.NIELS ANDERSEN NIELSEN BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME., and DESCENDANTS

F i r s t G e n e r a t i o n

15. NIELS¹ANDERSEN NIELSEN BRUNS, (Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns, Niels A. N. Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark on 28 (himself; "29"N.R.) Sept. 1872, and was naturalized ("Niels A. N. Bruns") at Portland, Me., on 8 Sept. 1880(N.R.), was born in Vesterende, Ballum Parish, Tønder County, Denmark, 17 Jan. 1851, and baptized ("Niels Andersen Nielsen") in the parish church at Ballum, 20 Feb. 1851, eldest son of Jens Nielsen Brøns(8), immigrant, and his wife Kirstine Marie, nee Nicolaisen, who married in the parish church at Ballum on 18 Apr. 1850(M.R.).Bapt.R. He was confirmed ("Niels Andersen Nielsen Brøns") in the parish church at Rapsted, Tønder County, Denmark, on 25 Mar. 1866.Conf.R.

He was a grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Brøns, 12 Feb. 1819(M.R.), and a great-grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Bramming, 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.).Land.V.

On emigrating to the U. S. he Anglicized (Bruns) his surname. He (Niels A. N. Bruns) died in Portland (Deering), Me., 17 July 1922, "aged 71 years 6 months"; burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth, Me.D.R.

Niels A. N. Bruns, The Immigrant, married first, in the First Lutheran Church at Portland, Me., 1 June 1879, KAREN SOPHIE ANDERSEN; Rev. N. J. Ellestad, officiated.M.R. They were said to have been the first couple to wed in that church, which he is also said to have constructed. Karen was born 21 May 1851 (not 13 May 1852), in the village of Skuldelev (Skuldelev pr. Krogstrup), Horns District, Frederiksborg County, Sealand (Sjælland), Denmark, and baptized in the parish church there, 3 Aug. 1851, daughter of Anders Pedersen, farmer in Skuldelev and later of Gamløse, on the Isle of Ourø, (pr. Holbæk), in Isefjord (next to Horns District), and his wife Ane Sofie, nee Olsen ("Olsdatter"). Bapt.R. and Land.C. She emigrated to Portland, Me., shortly after 1872; died in Cumberland, Me. (record at Falmouth), 5 Mar. 1895, burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth, Me. D.R.*

He married secondly, in the First Lutheran Church at Portland, Me., 27 Jan. 1896, CLARA ELIZABETH WILHELMSSEN (Anglicized Williamson), born 23 June 1860, in Mandal, Norway, daughter of Peter Andreas Wilhelmsen, jailer at Mandal, and his wife, Anna Otilie Lebahn Wilhelmsen; Rev. Knut O. Storli, officiated. M.R. Clara emigrated to Portland, Me., 11 Sept. 1894. She had spent some years in Denmark and a few years in England, before coming to the U. S. She died 8 Apr. 1940, at the home of her daughter Helen, in Freeport, Me., aged "79 years"; burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth, Me.*

According to himself, Niels A. N. Bruns(15) having been ordered to appear in a draft for the German army in 1870, he together with Andreas C. Miller (Møller), later the husband of Niels' sister Else Marie Nielsen Bruns(17), and Christian Lausen, friends, escaped from Schleswig (then under German control) and went to Copenhagen. There they obtained work fishing to earn their passage to America. From Copenhagen they made their way to England, where they managed to get aboard the S. S. BUDA, on which among a cargo of sheep, the voyage to Quebec, Cda., was made. Once there, Niels contacted his uncle Mads Nielsen Bruns(13), at Portland, Me., who aided them in coming to Portland. Here Niels and Andreas at least, found employment as stevedores, the former soon obtaining work at the Portland Company where he was known for his feats of strength. Being a skilled carpenter and cabinetmaker, it was not long before he went into business for himself as a building contractor at Portland, in which work he became successful. He was active in that work until shortly before his death. He is said to have been the builder of the First Lutheran Church at Portland.

A man of honor and correct habits; fair in all his business relations; revered by his children and respected by all who knew him; never seen in anger; Niels A. N. Bruns was an outstanding and worthy representative of the family name. In religion a Lutheran; in politics a Republican.

He resided in Ballum and Rapsted, Denmark, and Portland and Deering, Me. His original description of the Bruns families as related to the compiler in 1920, was the direct cause of this genealogy being compiled. Anna his daughter, has said she believes that a Lawyer Anderson at Portland who handled her father's business affairs, was related to her father through his (Lawyer Anderson's) mother, who is believed to have come to Portland from Denmark and married for a second time.

There were four births in each marriage. His posterity is represented by the descendants of the children listed below, but his line will become extinct with the death of the children now living; neither of the sons have issue, but through the daughters the blood now flows in 25 descendants.

He died 4 Aug. 1938, at Falmouth, Me. He is said to have left Denmark to avoid a draft; having to serve and wanting to enlist in the cavalry for which he was told he was too slight of build, and being told he would have to join the engineers, he sailed for the U. S. and soon was a citizen at Portland. Several brothers and sisters also came to the U. S. He was a blacksmith by trade.

Following their marriage, 27 Apr. 1872, at Portland, Ferdinand P. and Volbina K. (Bruns) Ebbesen, The Immigrants, settled on a farm at Falmouth, Me., where he had a dairy (milk) business. Their posterity are represented by the descendants of the six children listed immediately following.

ANDREAS C. and ELSA M. (BRUNS) MILLER, of FALMOUTH, ME., and EUGENE, ORE.,

AND THEIR DESCENDANTS

17. ELSE¹MARIE NIELSEN BRUNS, (Elsa M. Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, 1872/73, was born in Vesterende (not Rapsted), Ballum Parish, Tønder County, Denmark, 27 Jan. 1854, and baptized ("Else Marie Nielsen") 18 Feb. 1854, in the parish church at Ballum, the fourth child of Jens Nielsen Bruns(8), immigrant, and his wife Kirstine Marie, nee Nicolaisen, who married 18 Apr. 1850, in the church at Ballum(M.R.).Bapt.R. She was confirmed 'Else Marie Nielsen') 19 Apr. 1868, in the parish church at Rapsted, Tønder County, Denmark.Conf.R. Called "Lille Elsa."

She was a granddaughter of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819 (M.R.), in the parish church at Brøns, and a great-granddaughter of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the parish church at Bramming.Land.V.

She ("Elsa Marie Miller") died 23 July 1924, in Eugene, Ore., "aged 70 years 5 months 26 days"; resided two miles west of Eugene; burial at Danebo Cemetery. D.R. She was a witness at a baptism in Rapsted on 10 Feb. 1872.Jens.

Elsa emigrated to Portland, Me., unaccompanied by friend or relative, aboard a sailing vessel which limped into Portland harbor long overdue and partly dismasted, after having been given up for lost. She has been described by some of the older women of the Bruns families now living, as having been: "One of the finest of women." When old enough, Elsa was employed at the Parsonage in Rapsted, Denmark. The daughter "Tena" wrote the following anecdotes concerning her mother:

One of her duties at the Parsonage in Rapsted was to ring the church bell, but being small---she was called "Lille Elsa"---she had difficulty getting the bell swinging until a board was attached to the bell-rope for her to jump upon.

She told of her mother warning her children to be on the lookout each Spring for a pair of storks to arrive from their winter home on the Nile, to build their nest in an old wagon-wheel the father had placed for the purpose on the roof of their Rapsted house.

Andreas C. Miller(Møller) courted her at the Bruns (Brøns) homestead in Rapsted, where among a family of five girls and five boys, having a good voice, he would sing while the girls were required to sit and spin linen. And being an apprentice-shoemaker at the time, he made her a pair of slippers as a mark of his affection and efficiency.

Elsa M. Bruns ("Elsie M. Bruns"), The Immigrant, married 19 Sept. 1873, at Portland, Me., ANDREAS CHRISTIAN MILLER ("Andrew Miller"), then of Portland; Rev. Israel Luce, officiated.M.R. The couple celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in the Luthern Church at Eugene, Ore., in 1923.

ANDREAS¹CHRISTIAN MILLER came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, 28 Sept. 1872, and was naturalized ("Andres Christian Miller") 29 Aug. 1884, at Portland.N.R. He was born "Andreas Christian Müller" in Hostrup, Tønder County, Denmark, 14 Mar. 1851 (not 4 Mar. 1852), son of Laust Christian Müller and his second wife Caroline, nee Sørensen, in which marriage also was a daughter Marianna Møller, born 30 June 1853.Land.A. See Mrs. Lena Schmedegaard, page 13, "84 years old in 1954," who it is said, also is a sister to Andreas. He died 6 June 1932, in Yuba City, Calif.; burial at Danebo Cemetery.

The father ("Laust Christian Müller(Møller)") had married first, Ester Maria, nee Greisen, by whom there was a daughter Ester Maria Müller, born 17 Jan. 1849.Land.A.

He fled Schleswig to escape being drafted by the Germans. With Niels A. N. Bruns(15) and Christian Lausen, mutual friends, he went to Copenhagen. The trio later made their way to England, from where among a cargo of sheep aboard the S. S. BUDA, the voyage to Quebec, Cda., was made; thence, with the help of Niels' uncle Mads(13), to Portland. Again with Mads' help, Andreas and his friend Niels obtained employment as stevedores, work which the former soon found "back-breaking" and left to go to work with a railroad construction gang. There in a scuffle with one of the Irish hands, he received a back injury from which he never entirely recovered; the Irishman it appears, had resented a Dane being in the gang.

He is remembered by the wife of the compiler as wearing a long red beard; as being a deeply religious person, playing the organ mornings before going out into the fields. He loved his adopted country and was deeply appreciative of his citizenship. He was a shoemaker by trade.

Following their marriage, 19 Sept. 1873, at Portland, Andreas C. and Elsa M. (Bruns) Miller, The Immigrants, settled on a farm at Falmouth, Me., where he was a successful farmer. In 1908, however, he moved his family to Eugene, Ore., and those of the family who meanwhile had married and settled in or about Portland, Me., soon followed. Their posterity are represented by the descendants of the six children listed immediately following. The male line will become extinct with the death of the son Lauritz, but through the females the blood flows in many descendants.

He married, 21 Oct. 1903, in Falmouth, Me., ANNIE HANSEN, daughter of Niels and Kirsten, of Falmouth, Me., b. 1882, in Falmouth. They celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in 1953. She has three sisters living, viz: Lizzie Aaskov, of Portland, Me.; Josie Petersen, of Westbrook, Me.; and Lillian Manning, of South Portland, Me. Her father is remembered by the wife of the compiler as wearing large gold earrings. We are indebted to him for much of the history of his parents and grandfather, Jens N. Bruns(8).

Lauritz N. Miller, with John G. Robinson, husband of Carolina above, built houses in and about Portland, Me., prior to his moving to Eugene, Ore., in 1911. At Eugene, he purchased a prune orchard, on which property was an old prune dryer. Becoming dissatisfied with the old method of drying, he invented a dehydrater of his own, which was the beginning of the L. N. Miller Dehydrater Co., in which venture he became successful. He added many features to his original invention and is still doing business at the age of 72 years; also runs a dehydrater in the fall on nuts. His branch and the Miller line will become extinct with his death, but through the daughters there are a number of descendants.

18.CHRISTIAN NICOLAISEN NIELSEN BRUNS, of FALMOUTH, ME., and DESCENDANTS

F i r s t G e n e r a t i o n

18. CHRISTIAN¹NICOLAISEN NIELSEN BRUNS, (Christian Nielsen Bruns, Christian N. Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., 23 May 1878, from Denmark, and was naturalized ("Christian N. Bruns") at Portland, Me., on 1 Nov. 1884(N.R.), was born in Rapsted Field,* Rapsted Parish, Slogs District, Tønder County, Denmark, 11 (not 12) May 1856, and baptized ("Christian Nicolaisen Nielsen Brøns") in the parish church at Rapsted, 1 June 1856, the fifth child of Jens Nielsen Bruns (8), immigrant, and his wife Kirstine Marie (Christine Marie in Rapsted records), nee Nicolaisen, who married in the parish church at Ballum, Tønder County, Denmark, 18 Apr. 1850(M.R.).Bapt.R. He was confirmed as baptized in the church at Rapsted, 24 Mar. 1872.Conf.R.

He was a grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819(M.R.) in the parish church at Brøns, and a great-grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the parish church at Bramming.Land.V.

On emigrating to the U. S., he Anglicized (Bruns) his surname. He died at Falmouth, Me., 24 July 1922, but his death seems not to be recorded at Falmouth, Portland, or Augusta, Me.? The first of the children of Jens Nielsen Bruns(8) and wife Kirstine, to be born at Rapsted, Denmark; four others were earlier born at Ballum, Denmark. Like his brothers, he fled Schleswig (taken by Prussia and Austria in 1864, and annexed to Prussia in 1866) to escape a draft for the German army.

*See second footnote, page 14.

Christian N. Bruns, The Immigrant, married, 11 Sept. 1880, at Portland, Me., LOUISA HELGENSTYLE (Helgenstyle in Int.; Holgenstyle in M.R.), of Portland, Me.; Rev. A. S. Ladd, officiated.M.R. She (Louise H. F. Helgenstyle in F.R.) was born 12 Oct. 1854, in Denmark, Europe.F.R. The daughter Clara's marriage record shows the mother to be born in "Germany" as do many records of persons born in the Danish duchy of Schleswig before it was annexed to Prussia; a fact it is well to keep in mind. She outlived her husband; had at least one sister in the U. S.

The couple settled on a farm at Falmouth, Me., where he became a respected and very successful farmer. The Christian N. Bruns farm, a beautiful, well-kept and prosperous farm, will long be remembered as the scene of annual Bruns family picnics, where all the Bruns and related families of Carlsens, Ebbesens, Johnsons, Millers, Lunds and Petersens, as well as the Brodersens from Nebraska on one occasion at least, gathered on Labor Days for reunion.

Christian wore a well-trimmed beard. A skilled carpenter, having learned the trade in Denmark as all his brothers did, he was the builder of the Lutheran Church at Falmouth, Me. He resided in Rapsted, Denmark, and Portland and Falmouth, Me.

His posterity is represented by the descendants of the five children listed immediately following. As the son Jens was without issue, the Christian N. Bruns line will become extinct with the death of the children now living, but through the daughters there are a number of descendants to carry on the blood.

DESCENDANTS

20. SINE¹BRUNS, (Sina Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, before Nov. 1881, was born in Rapsted Field,* Rapsted Parish, Slogs District, Tønder County, Denmark, 11 Oct. 1860 (not 1861), and baptized ("Sine Brøns") in the parish church at Rapsted, 25 Nov. 1860, the seventh child and fifth and youngest daughter of Jens Nielsen Bruns(8), immigrant, and his wife, Kirstine Marie (Christine Marie in Rapsted records), nee Nicolaisen, who married in the parish church at Ballum, Tønder County, Denmark, 18 Apr. 1850(M.R.). Bapt.R. She was confirmed as baptized, in the church at Rapsted, 21 Mar.

*See second footnote, page 14.

1875.Conf.R. She was not given a middle name; generally known as "Sina."

She was a granddaughter of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819 (M.R.), in the parish church at Brøns, and a great-granddaughter of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the parish church at Bramming.Land.V.

Sina came to Portland, Me., from Rapsted, Denmark (in North Schleswig, then under German control), sometime before her marriage, but just how long before is unknown. It is possible she came with her brother Christian in 1878, accompanied by her sister Thomine. Her daughters Julia and Lillian were said to be "The Beauties of the Bruns Families."

Sina Bruns ("Miss Sine Bruns"), The Immigrant, married 12 Nov. 1881, at Portland, Me., as his first wife, JASPER CARLSEN ("Jasper Carlson"), then of Portland; Rev. K. G. Faegre, officiated.M.R.

JASPER¹CARLSEN (Jasper Carlson), who emigrated to Portland, Me., arriving there 25 Nov. 1880, was born in "Ruskjoberg,"* Denmark, 3 Dec. 1854, and naturalized "Jesper Carlsen" at Portland, Me., 6 Sept. 1888.N.R. He died in Portland, Me.

*Possibly meant to be Ruskenbjerg, located north of Nyeberg on the Isle Fyn (1818 map of Denmark), Denmark's second largest island, and not far from Odense, the birthplace of Hans Christian Andersen; the nearest spelling that can be found on any of six maps available to the compiler. But Prior's "Lomme Atlas over Danmark" has a "Rankenbjerg" in Jutland; the nearest spelling therein found to that given in the naturalization record quoted above.

JASPER CARLSEN was said to be born in Staeil, Denmark, the son of Carl Harder, according to information provided his daughter Julia in 1957 by a 90 year old cousin of his then living in Rumford Falls, Maine; Jasper Carlsen's mother was also born there.

a brother (V. Jensen) at Portland.

Following their marriage, 12 Nov. 1881, at Portland, Me., Jasper and Sina (Bruns) Carlsen, The Immigrants, settled at Portland, Me., but also resided in South Portland, Me. Their posterity are represented by the descendants of the three children listed immediately below. Having no sons, his line becomes extinct with the death of the daughter Julia, but through the daughters there are a number of descendants to carry on the blood.

Jasper Carlsen was a carpenter and one of several Danes who gave their services to the building of St. Ansgars Danish Church, at Portland. He had brothers Hans and Sylvester, who came to Portland, Me., also, and settled in near-by Scarborough, Me.

24.NIELS ANDERSEN BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME., and DESCENDANTS

F i r s t G e n e r a t i o n

24. NIELS¹ANDERSEN BRUNS, (Niels Anderson Bruns, Niels A. Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, 19 June 1872, and was naturalized ("Niels Anderson Bruns") at Portland, Me., 7 Sept. 1878(N.R.), was born 11 (not 12) Dec. 1855, in the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, and baptized ("Niels Andersen Brøns") 10 Feb. 1856, in the parish church at Brøns, the first child of Jef Sørensen Brøns(9) and his wife (immigrant widow) Marie (Miller) Bruns (9), who married 11 Jan. 1855, in the church at Brøns(M.R.).Bapt.R. He was confirmed as baptized, 10 Apr. 1870, in Brøns Church.Conf.R.

He was a grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819(M.R.), in the church at Brøns, and a great-grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770, in the parish church at Bramming(M.R.).Land.V.

On emigrating to the U. S. he Anglicized (Bruns) his surname. He ("Niels Anderson Bruns") died 19 May 1931, at Portland, Me., "aged 75 years 5 months 7 days"; retired.D.R.

He emigrated at the age of 16 years 6 months, presumably to escape later being drafted into the German army; the Danish duchy of Schleswig wherein he was born having been annexed to Prussia in 1866. But the story of the boy leaving home so young and with whom or by what means he came to the U. S., appears lost. Inquiry of those who should be informed in the matter elicited no further information regarding his early life.

For many years, Niels A. Bruns was a coal and wood dealer at Portland, Me., where he was in partnership with a Mr. Johnson, operating under the name of "Bruns & Johnson." Eventually he bought out Mr. Johnson and carried on the business alone until his retirement, when a son took over. He was called "merchant" as early as 1889, at least (page 34). A worthy representative of the family name; under adversity at Portland he became a respected and successful merchant. He is said to have very closely resembled his uncle, Mads Nielsen Bruns(13), in his physical features. The compiler had a very brief acquaintance with him.

Niels Andersen Bruns ("Niels A. Bruns"), The Immigrant, married at Portland, Me., 11 Dec. 1878, IDA AMELIA PETERSON (Ida Peterson in Int. 3 Feb. 1878; Ida Petterson in M.R.), of Portland, Me.; Rev. N. Ellestad, officiated. M.R. She was born in Sweden, Europe; some records concerning her children show the mother as born in "Denmark" which is incorrect. Her full name appears in the second marriage record for the son, Niels Albert Bruns(151). Except that she probably had a niece at Portland, also, nothing further is known of her background. The family resided in Portland and Deering, Me. Their posterity are represented by the descendants of the first four children listed immediately following. His line is well-assured.

25.MATHIAS MARIUS BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME., and DESCENDANTS

F i r s t G e n e r a t i o n

25. MATHIAS¹MARIUS BRUNS, (Mathias M. Bruns, Mathias Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, 11 June 1888, and was naturalized ("Mathias Bruns") at Portland, Me., 26 Oct. 1896(N.R.), was born 9 (not 10) Aug. 1858, in the town and parish of Brøns (not Skanderborg), Denmark, and baptized ("Mathias Marius Brøns") in the parish church at Brøns, 9 Sept. 1858, the second child of Jef Sørensen Brøns(9) and his wife (immigrant widow), Marie (Miller) Bruns (9), who married 11 Jan. 1855(M.R.), in the church at Brøns.Bapt.R. He was confirmed 6 Apr. 1873 as baptized, in Brøns Church.Conf.R.

He was a grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819(M.R.) in the church at Brøns, and a great-grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.) in the church at Bramming.Land.V.

He Anglicized (Bruns) his surname upon emigrating to the U. S. He died 3 June 1940, at Portland, Me., "aged 81 years 9 months 23 days"; burial at Stroudwater, Me.D.R. He outlived his wife.

Mathias emigrated to Portland, Me., with wife and two small children, from Skanderborg, Denmark, presumably via Copenhagen, Denmark, where the youngest of his two immigrant children was born. It was believed by some members of the Bruns families that Mathias visited Portland earlier, then returned to Denmark and subsequently emigrated with his family, but nothing has been found to support this belief.

Mathias Marius Bruns ("Mathias Marius Brøns") married, 27 Nov. 1883, in the church at Skanderborg, North Jutland, Denmark, MARIE CHRISTINE BOES, aged 31, born in Skanderborg, daughter of Christian, glazier at Skanderborg.Land.V. She died ("Marie Bruns, Mathias Bruns, husband") in Portland, Me., 4 Aug. 1936, "aged 84 years 5 months 8 days"; burial at Stroudwater, Me.D.R.

He resided in Brøns, Ribe and Skanderborg, Denmark, and Stroudwater and Portland, Me. He had been drafted by the German army but soon was released as unfit for service. Soon thereafter he was at Ribe and finally at Skanderborg. On their arrival at Portland, the family settled in Stroudwater, where for 60 years Mathias was a shoemaker as he had been in Denmark. Upon his retirement, he moved into Portland to live with his son, Jens Christian Bruns (35). He was the only one of his generation to marry in Denmark.

The posterity of Mathias Marius and Marie Christine (Boes) Bruns are represented by the descendants of the three children listed immediately following; his line is far from assured.

The "Intentions" are recorded under the name "Burns", changed from "Bruns"; the marriage return is not on file at Saco, but both Tom and his wife wrote that they were married in Saco on the date stated. In the Intentions, also, his mother is stated as "Ella Adjutant", born in Denmark; there is a mix-up of records here, for his mother was without any doubt, Marie Christine (Boes) Bruns, born in Skanderborg, Denmark. There were two children.

JENS WALDEMAR and CECILLA (BRUNS) BANG, of LONG ISLAND, N.Y., and HIS

DESCENDANTS

28. CECILLA¹BRUNS, (Celia Bruns, Cecilia Bruns), who came to the U. S., presumably to Portland, Me., from Denmark, before 1889, was born 22 May 1867, in the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, and baptized ("Cecilla Brøns") 16 June 1867, in the church at Brøns, the fifth and youngest child of Jef Sørensen Brøns(9) and his wife (immigrant widow), Marie (Miller) Bruns(9), who married 11 Jan. 1855(M.R.), in the parish church at Brøns.Bapt.R. She was confirmed as baptized, 29 Jan. 1882, in Brøns Church.Conf.R.

She was a granddaughter of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb 1819 (M.R.), in the church at Brøns, and a great-granddaughter of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the parish church at Bramming.Land.V.

Cecilla Bruns, The Immigrant, died about 1950/51, without issue; burial probably in the lot of Niels Albert Bruns(151), at Portland, Me.

It is said Cecilla was sent back to Denmark after the death of the father, by the others of the children of Jef and Marie, especially to bring the widowed mother to Portland.

She married, first, JENS WALDEMAR BANG; resided on Long Island, N.Y. Presumably she divorced Bang. She is said to have married, secondly, HARRY COOMBS. Believed to have gone to California after leaving Long Island. Nothing further is known concerning her, but of Bang, his second wife and his descendants, there is the following knowledge.

JENS¹WALDEMAR BANG, (Walter Bang), said to have been born in Denmark, Europe, and now deceased, married, secondly, ALICE MAY (BRUNS) COLLINS(137), born 25 Feb. 1895(B.R.) at Portland, Me., daughter of Anders Nielsen Bruns(23), ex-wife of Lindley M. DESCENDANTS

33. ELSE¹MARIE NIELSEN BRUNS (Else M. N. Bruns, Marie Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, presumably disembarking at N. Y. City, on or about 7 Sept. 1861 (the date of entry of her father into the U. S. - His N.R.), thence to Portland, was born 18 Aug. 1857, in the town of Gammelshov, Agerskov Parish, Nørre-Rangstrup District, Denmark, and baptized ("Else Marie Nielsen Brøns") 20 Sept. 1857, in the parish church at Agerskov, the first child of Mads Nielsen Bruns(13) and wife Maren, nee Thomsen, who married 10 July 1857 (M.R.), in the church at Agerskov; the mother 23-3/4 years old.Bapt.R.

She was a granddaughter of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819 (M.R.), in the church at Brøns, and a great-granddaughter of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the church at Bramming.Land.V.

She ("Marie Bruns"), Else Marie Nielsen Bruns, The Immigrant, married, 10 Mar. 1876, in Portland, Me., MADS M. NANSEN, of Portland, Me.; Rev. N. Elles-tad, officiated.M.R.

MADS¹M. NANSEN probably was a native of Denmark. The following information was provided by Mrs. Elsie L. Warburg (Mrs. Arthur Christian Warburg):

Child of Mads M. Nansen and wife Else

- i CLIFFORD F., m. Anna Christine Warburg, daughter of John Hanson Warburg and Marie Christine (Gram) Warburg, of West Falmouth, Me. Living in Trenton, N.J.
 Children (Nansen): two boys and one girl.

ANNA C. BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME.

34. ANNA C. BRUNS, who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, presumably disembarking at N. Y. City, on or about 7 Sept. 1861 (the date of her father's entry into the U. S. - His N.R.), thence to Portland, was born in Denmark, probably in 1861 (9 years old in U. S. 1870 C.E.). She was the second child of Mads Nielsen Bruns(13) and wife Maren, nee Thomsen, of Gammelshov, Agerskov Parish, Nørre-Rangstrup District, Denmark, who married in the parish church at Agerskov, 10 July 1857(M.R.). (May have been born "Nielsen").

She was a granddaughter of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819 (M.R.), in the church at Brøns, and a great-granddaughter of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the church at Bramming.Land.V.

Anna C. Bruns, The Immigrant, never married. She died 27 Jan. 1949, in Portland, Me., "aged 85 years 2 months 27 days,* born in Denmark; Father: -----Bruns; Mother: Marian Thompson"; burial at Evergreen Cemetery, Portland (Lot P24-1/2).D.R. She resided with Mrs. Laurence B. Stevens (Mrs. Marion B. Stevens), daughter of Mads Nielsen Bruns(13)' son Anders (Andrew) N. Bruns(40), in 1946.(Portland Directory). She was held in very high esteem by the wife of the compiler and others of the Bruns families.

*Her age at death as given in the record quoted above, does not agree with the year of birth obtained from the U. S. 1870 C.E., wherein she is: "Ann A. Bruns, age 9 years, born in Denmark." It is possible she was born while the family was yet in Denmark enroute from Gammelshov to Copenhagen to embark for the U. S., even as Mathias M. Bruns(25)' son Marinus J. Bruns(36) seems to have been. The Landsarkivet at Aabenraa, Denmark, reported the record of her birth could not be found in any of the parish churchbooks for North Schleswig.

35.JENS CHRISTIAN BRUNS, of PORTLAND and NORTH WINDHAM, ME., and FAMILY

35. JENS¹CHRISTIAN BRUNS, (Jens C. Bruns, Christian Bruns, "Chris" Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, presumably on 11 June 1888 (the date of entry into the U. S. of the father, his N.R.), was born 14 Dec. (not 22 Dec.) 1883, in Skanderborg, North Jutland, Denmark, and baptized ("Jens Christian Brøns") in Skanderborg Palace Chapel, 4 May 1884, the first child of Mathias Marius Bruns(25) and wife Marie Christine, nee Boes, immigrants, of Portland, Me., who married 27 Nov. 1883(Land.V.), in the church at Skanderborg.Bapt.R.

He is a grandson of Jef Sørensen Brøns(9), and his wife (immigrant widow) Marie (Miller) Bruns(9) of Portland, Me., who were married 11 Jan. 1855(M.R.), in the parish church at Brøns, Denmark; a great-grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819(M.R.), in the church at Brøns; and a great-great-grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the parish church at Bramming.Land.V. He was in Skanderborg when vaccinated, 30 Apr. 1887.(Certificate).

On reaching manhood he retained the Anglicized (Bruns) form of his surname taken by his parents on emigrating to Portland. One of three now living who of all the Bruns and Brons families were born in Denmark, was in a nursing home in North Windham, Me., at last accounts. He was a shoemaker at Portland for many years, as was his father before him in Denmark, and in Stroudwater, Me. His line will become extinct upon his death.

Jens Christian Bruns ("Christian Bruns"), The Immigrant, married 2 June 1915, age 31, at Portsmouth, N.H., ALBERTA F. (SAWYER) PLACE, who was born about 1886,

36.MARINUS JEFFERSON BRUNS, of PORTLAND, ME., and DESCENDANTS

36. MARINUS¹JEFFERSON BRUNS, (Reanus Bruns, Reamus Bruns, Jeff Bruns), who came to Portland, Me., from Denmark, presumably on 11 June 1888 (the date of entry of the father into the U. S., his N.R.), was born about 22 Aug. 1887, in Copenhagen, Denmark, according to himself, the second child of Mathias Marius Bruns(25) and wife, Marie Christine, nee Boes, immigrants, of Portland, Me., who married 27 Nov. 1883(Land.V.), in the church at Skanderborg, Denmark. Presumably he was born while the parents were at Copenhagen making arrangements for the family's passage to the U. S.

He is a grandson of Jef Sørensen Brøns(9), and his wife (immigrant widow) Marie (Miller) Bruns(9) of Portland, Me., who married 11 Jan. 1855(M.R.), in the church at Brøns, Denmark; a great-grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819(M.R.), in the church at Brøns; and a great-great-grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770 (M.R.), in the parish church at Bramming.Land.V.

On reaching manhood he retained the Anglicized (Bruns) form of his surname taken by his parents on emigrating to Portland. He is one of three now living, who of all the Bruns and Brons families were born in Denmark; residing at Portland, Me., where he is employed by the Portland Coach Co.; formerly a trolley-car operator.

Marinus J. Bruns, The Immigrant, married first, 1912 in Portsmouth, N.H., JULIA ISABEL SHANE, born in Naples, Me.; divorced in 1929. She was living at Portland in 1946.

He ("Reanus J. Bruns") married, secondly, 15 Sept. 1939 (1931 according to his brother Thomas), aged "47" (?), in Portland, Me., EVA M. (SULLIVAN) LAWSON, born about 1903, in Lancaster, N.H., daughter of James S. Sullivan, born in St. John, N.B., conductor, and Irma (Hodge), born in Concord, N.H.; her second marriage; A. E. Smith, J.P., officiated. M.R. No issue by the second union.

(Note- One Eva May Sullivan married, Lief Olaf Larson, at Portland, Me., 7 Mar. 1919.)

His posterity is represented by the descendants of the daughter, the only child, listed immediately following.

29. NIELS¹NISSEN BRONS, who settled in Elkhorn, Ia., in 1883, and in 1898 removed to Enumclaw, Wash., was born 5 Nov. 1859, in the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, and baptized ("Niels Nissen Brøns") 11 Nov. 1859, in the parish church at Brøns, first child of Elias Nielsen Bruns(10) and wife Hanna

Marie, nee Hansen, immigrants, who married 13 Nov. 1858(M.R.), in the parish church at Møgeltønder, Tønder County, Denmark.Bapt.R. His Godmother was the miller Jacobsen's wife of Brøns, according to his memoirs (See page 23). He died 22 July 1945, in Solvang, Calif., at the home of his daughter Agnes Brons(201).

Niels Nissen Brons was a grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb 1819(M.R.), in the parish church at Brøns, and a great-grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the parish church at Bramming.Land.V.

He came to the U. S. with his parents and brother Hans Nissen Brons(32), from Abild, Denmark, disembarking at Portland, Me., 21 Feb. 1872, where the family was met at the pier by Mads Nielsen Bruns(13), brother of Elias the father. The family resided at Brøns, Gallehus, Tønder and Abild, Denmark, and Portland, Me.; after the father's death at Clinton, Iowa. He was naturalized 23 Mar. 1883, in Clinton.

The father ("Elias N. Bruns") died at Portland, Me., 22 June 1872, a few months after his settlement there. The mother, Hanna Marie, nee Hansen, left with the two small sons---12-year-old Niels and the infant Hans---married secondly, shortly after Christmas in 1874 at Portland, Mikkel Jensen. In Nov. 1876, Mikkel Jensen moved the family to Clinton, Ia., where during the following summer (1877), Hanna Marie (Hansen) Bruns Jensen the mother, died. Mikkel Jensen married again and in 1879 moved to Ringsted, Ia., taking Elias' son Hans with him. In 1884, Niels Nissen Brons went to Ringsted for his brother Hans and brought him back to live with him and his family on his farm at Elkhorn, Ia., where the former meanwhile had settled.

Elias Nielsen Bruns(10) the father, had Anglicized his surname (Bruns) on immigrating to the U. S. as had others of the Brøns families before him. And school, church and Scandinavian Mission records, as well as immigration lists, will also no doubt show that the sons of Elias were called "Bruns" prior to their widowed mother's second marriage at Portland, Me. But when the sons left their step-parents' home to found for themselves, perhaps sooner, they took the variation "Brons" since used by the descendants of Niels Nissen Brons(29); Hans Nissen Brons(32) his brother, has no issue. It is they and the descendants of the former only that are enumerated in this section.

Following the death of the father at Portland, Me., Niels then a lad 12-1/2 years of age faced with great responsibilities in consequence of his father's death, left school and went to work in a shoe factory to help support the family. When the stepfather moved the family to Clinton, Ia., Niels continued to live at home, but following his mother's death the stepfather having married again and moved to Ringsted, Ia., Niels stayed on in Clinton until 1883 when he bought and settled on a farm at Elkhorn, Ia.

In Elkhorn, Ia., 5 Nov. 1883, Niels Nissen Brons, The Immigrant, married IDA CONSTANCE BOYSEN,* born 13 Sept. 1865, in Chicago, Ill., daughter of Paul Nielsen Boysen and wife Adriane, nee Petersen, immigrants. She bore him 13 children, all living today; died 19 Jan. 1919, in Enumclaw, Wash.

Nine children were born to Niels Nissen Brons and wife Ida Constance, nee Boysen, at Elkhorn, Ia. In September of 1898, he moved his family to Enumclaw, Wash., 40-miles from Seattle, where he settled on a farm and where four more children were born to them. It is recalled by the older descendants that James and Frank Brodersen, cousins (sons of Metta Lena (Bruns) Brodersen(14), of Herman, Nebr.), visited the family there in 1911.

*Here the Brons genealogy connects through Niels Nissen Brons(29) above, with the Boysen genealogy at Ida Constance Boysen, which see for her background and lineage.

At the time of his wife's death in 1919, Niels Nissen Brons, then Treasurer of the Farmer's Mutual Insurance Co., at Enumclaw, Wash., a position of trust and responsibility which his qualities as a man, citizen and farmer had earned for him in 1900, stayed on there until 1935 when he moved to Solvang, Calif., to live at the home of his daughter. There he died almost 86-years old.

The Brons family may well be proud of its American ancestor who under adversity made good and raised his children to a condition better than his own. It is difficult to realize with what thoughts Niels, the 12-year old immigrant boy, contemplated the new life and its adventures when in company with his parents and infant brother he disembarked at Portland, Me. But any feeling of enthusiasm he then had had for the new life must have become one of discouragement six months later when the first catastrophe befell the family as it suffered the loss of the father, who had risked his fortune and the future of his sons upon life in the U. S. A sad experience so early in the life of the family. In spite of this calamity and the disheartening loss of the mother five years later, he went on to become a successful and respected farmer, and prominent in his community. On the occasion of his retirement from active life he himself must have felt a just pride in his accomplishments.

In 1923/24 Niels Nissen Brons, accompanied by his daughter Agnes, visited Denmark, the land of his birth. His memoirs, entitled "The Life of An Ordinary Man" and now in the possession of the daughter Agnes, provided considerable genealogical material, some based upon tradition proving to be only partly true, but in general confirming that earlier stated by Niels Andersen Nielsen Bruns(15) in 1920.

The posterity of Niels Nissen Brons(29) and wife Ida Constance, nee Boysen, is represented by the descendants of the 13 children listed immediately following. His line is well-assured.

A farmer; carpenter since 1927, he retired in 1944.

He is a grandson of Niels Andersen-Terp(6) and wife Else, nee Jensen Nederby, of the town and parish of Brøns, Denmark, who married 12 Feb. 1819(M.R.), in the parish church at Brøns, and a great-grandson of Anders Madsen(1) and wife El, nee Lauritsen, of the village of Terp, Bramming Parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, Denmark, who married 30 Oct. 1770(M.R.), in the church at Bramming.Land.V.

Hans Nissen Brons, The Immigrant, now living at Solvang, Calif., is the oldest living member of all the Bruns and Brons families, and one of three now living who were born in "The Old Country." He is also one of only three who were born in the area now known as Danish North Schleswig, after it was taken by Prussia and Austria in 1864; one of two after it was annexed to Prussia. His parents and their family resided in Brøns, Gallehus, Tønder, and Abild, Denmark, and Portland, Me.; also Clinton, Ia., after the death of the father ("Elias N. On 13 Dec. 1942, in Solvang, Calif., to where Hans had earlier moved to be near his brother Niels who died there, Hans Nissen Bruns married, thirdly, MARIE CHRISTINE KING, nee Bruns, his cousin, born 19 Mar. (19 May F.R.) 1891, in Portland, Me.(B.R.), daughter of Anders Nielsen Bruns(23) and wife Hannah Maria, nee Gregor (Grygaard), who married at Portland, Me., 11 Oct. 1889; her second marriage. KAREN SOPHIE (ANDERSEN) BRUNS

ANDERS PEDERSEN, OF SKULDELEV AND GAMLØSE, SEELAND, DENMARK, AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS (ANDERSEN) IN DENMARK AND AMERICA

(The children of Anders Pedersen were given the surname Andersen, formed of the father's Christian name with the patronymic ending -sen. Connects with the Bruns genealogy. Includes related Johnson and Rosenblad families.)

ANDERS PEDERSEN and wife Ane Sofie, nee Olsen ("Olsdatter"), resided in the village of Skuldelev (Skuldelev - Selsø Pastorat pr. Krogstrup), Horns District, Frederiksborg County, Seeland (Sjælland), Denmark, where he was a farmer.Land.C. He was born 4 Apr. 1815, in the village of Skuldelev; baptized first at home same day, in the church at Skuldelev 28 May 1815, son of Gaardmand (farmer) Peder Hansen and wife Ane Sørensdatter (nee Sørensen).Bapt.R. He was confirmed 26 Apr. 1829, in the church at Skuldelev.Andr.

At the baptism of four of his children there was a Frederik Pedersen, a smith in Skuldelev, who could suffice as a brother to Anders Pedersen! This Frederik Pedersen's grandson, also named Frederik Pedersen, now lives in the village of Skuldelev, but he can not impart any information about his "old family"; he is also a smith and trades in farm machinery. And on 6 Sept. 1858 (6 Sept. 1859.Kolp.), Anna Andersen, eldest daughter of Anders Pedersen, returned to Skuldelev from Ourø---to where the family removed in 1856---to be a servant for farmer Søren Hansen; in all probability her father's Father.Andr.

At the baptism of five of the children, one of the godfathers was one Ole Olsen, farmer in Skuldelev, who could suffice as the father or a brother to Ane Sofie Pedersen, nee Olsen, who was born in 1813.Andr.

The churchbooks at Ourø, pr. Holbæk, state that the couple were married in Herslev (at the southern end of Roskilde Fjord), but the date is not given.Kolp.

On 20 Sept. 1856, Anders Pedersen moved his family from Skuldelev to the village of Gamløse, on the Isle of Ourø, in Isefjord, next to Horns District (arriving there 6 Oct. 1856.Kolp.). At this time, he is stated as 41 years old and his wife as 43 years old. The eight unconfirmed children with them, listed below, are stated in the order of their listing, as: 14 years old; 12-1/2 years old; 10-1/2 years old; 8-3/4 years old; 7-1/2 years old; 5-1/4 years old; 3-1/4 years old; and 2 months old, respectively.Andr.("Leaving-list at Skuldelev").

The family left Ourø and returned to Skuldelev in 1860 or before, for at the confirmation of Mariane Andersen in 1860, the parents are stated as living in Skuldelev; obviously she was a maid in Ourø during the time of her confirmation.Kolp. Only the first three children were confirmed at Ourø.Andr.; Kolp. and Lands.C.

It is said his wife took the children and left him; the girls going to work at an early age. The only known photograph of him was made at "Christianhavn." His posterity is represented by the descendants of the eight children hereafter listed, several of whom emigrated to the U. S.

Children of Anders Pedersen and wife, Ane; all born and baptized in Skuldelev, Denmark

(III)BOY.

- iv AUGUST LUDVIG BOYSEN, b. 25 Aug. 1836; d. 189-/190- in Elkhorn, Ia. He m. Beate Birgitte Boysen; had no issue of their own. The couple started an orphanage in Elkhorn, Ia., in the early 1890's, from which they adopted the sisters Katherine Andersen, b. 26 Aug. 1884, who m. and went to Calif., and Anna Andersen, (deceased), b. 1887, who m. and went to Minneapolis, Minn., where Beate Birgitte (Boysen) Boysen had her home for awhile shortly before her death. Said also to have resided in Clinton, Ia., sometime prior to 1876., to where in an adjacent home, Paul Nielsen Boysen¹ moved his motherless children from Chicago, Ill.

*Buried from the Danish Church in Enumclaw, Wash., 18 Jan. (Date and place of birth and date of death documented by item on page 100 in the Churchbook from 26 Nov. 1905 - Danish Church, Enumclaw, Wash.)

v VILHELM BOYSEN, remained in Denmark, where he m. (?); his son Vilhelm, who later went to Canada, was visited in Denmark in 1923/24, by Miss Agnes Brons(201) and her father, Niels Nissen Brons(29), at Møgeltønder.

Paul Nielsen Boysen,¹ The Immigrant, left home at the age of 18-years rather than serve an apprenticeship not to his liking. After his confirmation at Møgeltønder, Denmark, in 1849, his father bound him to a mercantile establishment to learn the business. Soon, however, having decided against following the business as a lifelong occupation, he ran away to sea. On the arrival of his ship in California, he in company with a shipmate left the vessel and obtained a berth aboard one plying between the Orient and the U. S. Prior to 1861 he came to Chicago, Ill., and sailed the Great Lakes until his retirement in 1881. It is said that he and two of his wife's brothers (Adriane Petersen's brothers) invested in a schooner on the Great Lakes which may have foundered on its trial run.

In 1861, at Chicago, Ill., Paul Nielsen Boysen married (first) ADRIANE PETERSEN, born in the summer of 1834, on Chotnabakken Farm, near-by to Farsund, Norway. She died, 10 Dec. 1872, in Chicago, Ill. He is said to have married secondly, (?), his housekeeper at Chicago, by whom there was no issue.

Sometime prior to 1876, he moved his motherless children to Clinton, Ia., and there built a home for them next that of his brother, August Ludvig Boysen, who had settled there, where they could be under the watchful eye of his brother during the months of open navigation on the Great Lakes. After his retirement he himself moved to Clinton, Ia., and there took up painting. From 1883 until his death he made his home with his daughter Ida and her family at Elkhorn, Ia., and Enumclaw, Wash.

At Clinton, Ia., Paul Nielsen Boysen and Hanna Marie (Hansen) Bruns Jensen met and renewed old acquaintances, for both had been confirmed (1849) in the same class in the parish church at Møgeltønder, Denmark! And Ida Constance Boysen, daughter of the former, and Niels Nissen Brons(29), son of the latter and her first husband, Elias Nielsen Bruns(10), were attracted to each other and later married. It is their descendants, principally, that are enumerated in the Brons genealogy.

Adrian Petersen who became the (first) wife of Paul Nielsen Boysen, was one of a family of four children (surname Petersen), viz:

- i ADRIANE PETERSEN, b. 1834 on Chotnabakken Farm near Farsund, Norway, d. 10 Dec. 1872, in Chicago, Ill., the (1st) wife of Paul Nielsen Boysen¹ there.
- ii THOMAS PETERSEN, m. Henriette Antonette Olava Salomine Maalsov; settled in Chicago, Ill., where Ida Constance Boysen, who became the wife of Niels Nissen Brons(29), lived with them after her mother died.
- iii ZAKARIES PETERSEN, m. Lina-----; settled in Chicago, Ill. Had (surname Petersen) 5 girls, of whom Clara and Bell were two.
- iv ELISABETH PETERSEN, lost her 1st husband, by whom there was a girl named Ella; m. 2d, -----Robbinson; settled in Chicago, Ill. Had by the 2d husband (surname Robbinson): Peter, Rena and Tom.

INDEX of the BRONSES, BRØNSES and BRUNSES

RECORDED IN THIS GENEALOGY

The figures before each name denote the year of birth; those figures next after the name denote the page numbers and those in the column after the name denote the consecutive number, where found.

The name in parenthesis after the names of males is that of the wife, after the names of females the surname of the husband; these names do not appear in the Brøns listing, however, unless the marriage took place (in Denmark) under that name. Wives are also listed separately with their husband's consecutive number, identified by "nee" placed before the maiden name.

Pages 1-26 contain the Danish records for consecutive numbers 1-36. For consecutive number 1, see Madsen. For consecutive numbers 1-6, see Andersen, and for consecutive number 6 also, and number 11, see Terp.

Having found the consecutive number, look for the name opposite this number on the page given; where the symbol # appears before the number, the full history of that person and family is to be found under this number appearing in the center of a page (number given below) further on.

The figures before each name denote the year of birth; the figures after the name the page where found. A few of the dates are based upon ages appearing in marriage and death records. The surname is given, followed generally by the first name and middle initials. Surnames with both patronymic endings -sen and -son may be found in the same American family and in records concerning the same person, in a few instances; in such cases the spelling given may not in every instance be the correct one.

Wherever possible married women are listed under their husband's surname as well as their maiden name; identified by "nee" placed before the maiden name in the former instances. And Danish-born persons having a double surname; that is, a family name followed by such descriptive surnames as Skov, Kirkeby, Nederby, etc., are listed under both such names. See also "Additions."

FAMILY RECORD

BRUNS - BRONS - BRØNS FAMILIES
In Denmark And America 1956

ADDITIONAL NOTES FROM PERSONAL MEMORANDA

(To accompany this one copy only for inclusion with the manuscript genealogical records deposited with the Society for the information of its members.)

Lauritsen, not Lauritzen, is said by a reliable Danish source to be the correct spelling of her maiden surname; Lauritzen a variation. "El" possibly is an abbreviation of "Elsine."

ANDERS NIELSEN BRØNS(12); page 7:

No mention of Anders(12) turned up in the Vital Statistics of the city of Portland, Me. under the surname "Bruns"; it is presumed he Anglicized his surname while at Portland with his brother Mads(13), as the latter did. Copies of the city directory were not searched for his listing, either under the name Bruns or that of "Terp" or "Nielsen."

It is believed all persons of the surname "Bruns" listed in Portland Vital Statistics to 1954 have been accounted for; none were found under the surname "Brøns."

MADS NIELSEN BRUNS(13); page 37:

The first mention of Mads(13) at Portland was found in the 1869 Directory, one of only two examined for reference to him under the name "Bruns." The next record is that in the 1870 census. His naturalization record gives the date of arrival at N. Y. City in 1861 as stated. But the period from 1861 when he immigrated, to 1869, is a blank except for the listing in the 1870 census of the first three children "born in Maine", "age 7 years"; "age 4 years"; and "age 2 years" respectively (#37 b. 1864(G.R.); #38 b. 1866(G.R.); and #39 b. 1868). An examination of older directories may disclose other information. And the Scandinavian Mission Records perhaps contain much additional information on the family. Mads(13) did go through the great Portland fire of 1866, that is a certainty, and about 1870 his partner (probably Anders #12 above) skipped out with the insurance money paid as a result of their claim. It is presumed Mads(13) Anglicized his surname immediately upon arrival in the U. S. and not some years later, and that he did not use the surname "Nielsen." The Vital Statistics of Portland were not examined for reference to him under the latter name; it is believed by all that he did Anglicize his surname immediately upon arrival at Portland at least. The great fire referred to above may account for the lack of birth records for the first three children born in Maine, but then those of many others are also missing, particularly when they had resided in what was then Deering which later became a part of Portland.

CONFIDENTIAL: Mads(13) had an unfortunate police experience later in life, a fact which does not affect the enumeration given nor the information imparted, except that it does explain the reason for his first wife divorcing him and an effort on the part of members of his first family and other Bruns families to disown him. Members of his second family did not know of this experience, it is believed.

MRS. BEATRICE MARY (LAWLER) BRUNS; page 112:

She also had brothers: Edmund of South Portland, Me.; Daniel of Westbrook, Conn.; and Richard of N. Y. City.

MARGARET BROWN (SULLIVAN) BRUNS; page 116:

Her parents, and sisters: Mrs. Rudolph Royer of Gorham, Me. and Roberta Wendy Sullivan, attended her wedding.

HANS CHRISTIAN LUND; page 122:

His west-coast relatives may be identified by an examination of his will. It is said he left his property to a nephew there, but that the provisions of the will were successfully contested by the daughter who inherited the farm at Scarborough, Me.

HAROLD O. BRUNS(239); page 147:

Listed as from Worcester, Mass.

JAMES BRUNS(240); page 147:

Listed as from Acton, Mass.

PERSONS NAMED BRUNS NOT PLACED; page 147:

Many other persons named Bruns have been encountered during the research the origin of whom have not been determined. For example, there are about twenty such listed in the Baltimore telephone book. Some of these, it is known, are of German origin and pronounce the name "Broons." Others it is known too, are of the Catholic faith, while the Danish Brunses are, tradition-ally, Evangelical Lutheran. Some, however, may be of Danish prigin, but there is no probability any are related to the Brunses enumerated in this genealogy.

HANS OLAF HANSEN; page 152:

He was commonly called "Ole" by members of the family and close friends, including this compiler, but he has been heard to be called "Robert" by a ~~girl~~ friend, at least.

CARL PETER ANDERSON; page 153:

There is some question, it appears, whether he was not the son of Peter Olaf Anderson, but of the latter's wife, possibly by an earlier marriage.

CLARA ELIZABETH WILHELMSSEN; page 160:

During her stay in Denmark (about 11 years) she was employed at the Odense parsonage as nurse-maid to the Pastor's (O. Hansen) children; her visit to England probably preceded her employment in Denmark.

CHRISTIAN TALLAKSEN; page 161:

He is stated as "Christopher Tallaksen" in the specifications for one of his California houses, a copy of which this compiler has. Called "Christian" by all members of the family, friends and acquaintances, including this compiler.

(To be attached to similar typewritten notes (pages (1) to (3)) sent the New England Historic Genealogical Society with its copy of the genealogy for inclusion with the manuscript genealogical records deposited therewith; not sent to others.)

RASMUS BRODERSEN; page ix (& page 52):

On the same date (12 Feb. 1869) that Rasmus Brodersen embarked at Copenhagen for Chicago, Ill., one "Jacob Brodersen, age 29, of Copenhagen, also embarked there, destination also Chicago, Ill." (See Udvan. C. Letter of 20 July 1956.)

JENS GRYGAARD (John Gregor); page xi (& page 104):

He is believed by his granddaughter, Marie C. Brons(136), to have died about 1922.

This compiler misunderstood the translation from the Danish record. It appears that the child (Ane Sophie Olsdatter) was baptized at home on the day of birth by the midwife (or father) and later was only presented in church--- in this instance by the (Godmother) wife of Peder Hansen in Karleby, and was not rebaptized. In such instances, the Pastor reads the entire baptismal ritual without again actually baptizing the child. Thus, in this case (and possibly five others, #7, page 7; #8, pages 9 & 31; #9, pages 20 & 33; #10, pages 22 & 35; and #27, pages 22 & 123), it is not correct to imply that the child was again baptized in church, but rather was presented in church on the later date stated. Therefore, in this and perhaps the other five instances above-mentioned (an examination of the certificates of baptism for those whose consecutive numbers are given above will determine), the word "presented" inserted before the words: "in church," where they appear in the baptismal record cited, will correct the information there set forth. (See her baptismal certificate, and Andr. 30 Aug. 1956.)

It has been suggested by the translator too, that the word "udflytter" which appears in the Danish record for Ane Sophie Olsdatter, might mean that Ole Hansen, farmer (or Freeholder), had removed from the main buildings of the large farm (became an Annuitant), and not, probably, that he had removed from Herslev parish.

JENS CHRISTIAN BRUNS(21); page 94:

The word "first" appearing in the 8th line, it will be seen, should read "second."

JENS PEDER WALDEMAR ANDERSEN; page 138:

He is known to have had two sisters living in Denmark at the time of his death.

MARIE C. BRUNS(136); page 104:

A cousin, Margaret Hough, is known to have visited relatives in Denmark (possibly some of Lars Pedersen's (page xi) descendants at Holstebro), not many years ago.

NIELS NISSEN BRONS(29); page 135:

All his thirteen children (199-211, pages 137-144) met early in July 1956 at the home of Esther O. Pagliotti (Mrs. James B. (Brons) Pagliotti---one of the thirteen), in Santa Barbara, Calif., for a reunion, their first "get-together" since 1923. Also present was their father's immigrant brother, Hans N. Brons(32). (See news article previously sent the Society and the attached group photograph.)

See o.s.

On its arrival at Enumclaw from Elkhorn, Ia. (12 Sept. 1898), the Brons family resided with the Geo. Bruhn and Johan Johansen families until their own home (3/4-mile southeast of Enumclaw), was finished. The old Brons place is now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. (Anne Elenore Brons-207) V. T. Pedersen.

SORENSEN-FREDERIKSEN, Enumclaw, Wash.:

Miss Agnes Brons(201) has provided the following interesting item concerning the old Danish custom of giving children a surname formed of the father's Christian name with the patronymic ending -sen:

"When we (the Niels Nissen Brons(29) family, from Elkhorn, Ia.) arrived in Enumclaw, Wash. (1898), we found a family living there who had recently arrived from Denmark. The father's name was Frederik Sorensen. But the children were all baptized 'Frederiksen' (Frederik plus -sen), and later when the father had died, this so puzzled the other residents that the widow finally became known as 'Mrs. Frederiksen' rather than Mrs. Sorensen.'" (Presumably, some of the children were baptized in the Danish church at Enumclaw.)

No.16; Page ix, at "No.3; Page 52, 4th par.:" add the following paragraph:

"On the same date (12 Feb. 1869) that Rasmus Brodersen embarked at Copenhagen, destination Chicago, Ill., one Jacob Brodersen, age 29 of Copenhagen, also embarked there, destination also Chicago, Ill."

---Udvandrerarkivet, Copenhagen, Denmark, 20 July 1956

No.17; Page xiv, at "No.15; PEDERSEN-ANDERSEN GENEALOGY, Pages 149/150:" in the 7th line before the words: "in the church of Haderslev," add the word "presented."

(Note- This compiler, it appears, misunderstood the translation from the Danish record. It seems that the child (Ane Sophie Olsdatter) was baptized at home on the day of birth by the midwife (or father) and later was presented not re-baptized, in the church---in this instance by the (Godmother) wife of Peder Hansen in Karleby. In such instances, it is said, the Pastor reads the entire baptismal ritual without again actually baptizing the child. Thus in this case (and also possibly five others: #7, page 7; #8, pages 9 & 31; #9, pages 20 & 33; #10, pages 22 & 35; and #27, pages 22 and 123), it is not correct to imply that the child was re-baptized in church, but rather was presented in church on the later date stated.)

No.18; Page 27, after the words "Tønder County" in the 3d line under "Introduction" add an asterisk (*) and the following footnote at bottom of page:

*See "LANDET BAG DIGERNE --- Hjemstavnsbog for Tønder Amt og By --- Tønder MCMLVI" (Tryk: Th. Laursens Bogtrykkeri, Tønder - Tilrettelægning: C. H. Borch) (Note- This interesting and informative book, in Danish, deals with the culture and history of Tønder County and has many illustrations.)

No.19; Page 36, (and Pages 134 & 146), in the 9th line, delete the words: "Shortly after Xmas in 1874" and substitute: November 7, 1873. After the words: "Hanna Marie (Hansen) Bruns" insert: ("Marie Bruns"). After the words: "Mikkel Jensen" insert: ("Mickkle Jenson").M.R.

Make similar corrections in the date appearing in this (2d) marriage record given also on page 134 ("Hanna Marie, nee Hansen") and page 146 ("Hanna Marie (Hansen) Bruns"); that is, the words: "Shortly before Xmas in 1874" to read: November 7, 1873(M.R.).

No.20; Page 39, following the 1870 Census listing, insert the following:

The first mention of Mads(13) at Portland, was found in the 1869 Directory, one of only two examined for reference to him under the name "Bruns," the next record found is that in the 1870 Census quoted. His naturalization record gives the date of arrival at N. Y. City in 1861, as stated. But the period from 1861 when he immigrated, to 1869, is a blank except for the 1870 Census enumeration of himself and family, wherein four children are stated as "born in Maine"; the ages of the first three of the four children for whom birth records are lacking, are given therein as: "age 7 years" (#37 b. "1864"G.R.); "age 4 years" (#38 b. "1866"G.R.); and "age 2 years" (#39 "age 25" first (1893) M.R.; "age 47 years 1 month 22 days" (1915) D.R.). An examination of older Directories and the Scandinavian Mission records (said to be in a Pennsylvania depository) probably will disclose other information on the family for the years 1861-1869. The great Portland fire of 1866 may account for the lack of birth records in the Vital Statistics at Portland for the first three children "born in Maine," but similar records for many others of the Bruns families are also lacking therefrom, particularly when the residence was in what then was Deering which later became a part of Portland.

No.21; Page 55, at "(1)Janis," add the following child:

(III)HARRY EARL, named for his paternal grandfather.

No.22; Page 55, at "(II)SHAWN," add: d. aged 3-1/2 years, in Los Angeles, Calif., to where the family moved 5 months earlier.

No.23; Page 55, at "(2)Charles," change the spelling of the surname "Ticky" to: Tichy.

No.24; Page 58, at "i RUTH," the names of the boys are: Stanley and Steven.

No.25; Page 58, at "ii CATHERINE," delete the abbreviation "unm" and substitute: m. and has a boy; residing in Fresno, Calif.

No.26; Page 60, at 2d paragraph, add: During her stay in Denmark (about 11 years) Clara was employed at the Odense parsonage as Governess to the Pastor's (Urban Hansen) children.

No.27; Page 64, next after "(III)KAREN ANN," add the following additional child:

(IV)SHIRLEY JEAN, b. 18 Sept. 1956, at Norfolk, Nebr.

No.28; Page 70, at "(vi)DOROTHEA," change the name "Harvey E. McCann" to: John Harvey McCann. (Commonly called "Harvey" it is said he did not know his real first name until the age of 40!)

No.29; Page 94, in the 8th line, change the word "first" to read: second.

No.30; Page 100, at "128. i KRESTINE FRANCES," change the spelling of the first name to: KRISTINE.

No.31; Page 135, add the following at bottom of page:

On its arrival at Enumclaw, Wash. from Elkhorn, Ia., 12 Sept. 1898, the Niels Nissen Brons(29) family resided with the Geo. Bruhn and Johan Johansen families until their own house located 3/4 mile southeast of Enumclaw, was finished. The old Brons place is now occupied and owned by Mr. and Mrs. (Anne Elenore Brons-207) V. T. Pedersen.

All thirteen children of Niels Nissen Brons(29)(Consecutive numbers 188-211, pages 137-144) met early in July 1956 at the home of Esther O. Pagliotti (Mrs. James B. (Brons) Pagliotti---one of the thirteen), in Santa Barbara, Calif., for a reunion, their first "get-together" since 1923. Also present was their father's immigrant brother Hans N. Brons(32).

Miss Agnes Brons(201) provided the following anecdote concerning the old Danish custom of children being given a surname formed of their father's Christian name with the patronymic ending -sen, and the resulting confusion: "When we (the Niels Nissen Brons(29) family) arrived in Enumclaw from Elkhorn, Ia., we found a family living there who had recently arrived from Denmark. The father's name was Frederik Sorensen. But the children were all baptized 'Frederiksen,' and later when the father had died, this so puzzled the other residents that the widow finally became known as 'Mrs. Frederiksen' rather than Mrs. Sorensen."

No.32; Page 139, at "(2)John LeRoy," add another child:

(2)ELAINE KAY, b. 23 Nov. 1956.

No.33; Page 139, at "(5)Rosamond Shirley Elaine," add the following child:

(1)JAMES MARSHALL JR., b. 4 Apr. 1957.

No.34; Page 147, at Note-, add:

Many other persons named Bruns (none Brons) have been encountered during the research the origin of whom have not been determined. For example, there are some twenty such listed in the Baltimore, Md. telephone Directory, and quite a few in the Directory for Glen Burnie, Md. and vicinity. Some of these, it is known, are of German origin and pronounce the name differently. Others, it is known too, are of the Catholic faith, while the Danish Brunses are, traditionally, Evangelical Lutheran. Some, however, may be of Danish descent but there is no probability any are related to the Brunses enumerated in this genealogy.

No.35; Page 154, at "(4)Mariane (Jane)," add: said to have been christened "Yarna."
